RUSS RENEW OFFENSIVE ON THE BESSARABIAN FRONTIER

REPULSED IS CLAIM OF AUSTRIANS

Five Desperate Attacks Made on Teuton Lines in Galicia.

Activity Resumed By Czar's Forces After Few Days' Rest.

Over 5,000 Russians Taken Prisoners, Is Report From Berlin.

Berlin, Jan. 15, wireless to Sayville.—The Russian offensive has been renewed on the Bessarabian front and five important attacks have been repulsed by the Austro-Hungarian troops, according to the Austrian official report, dated Jan. 14, and received here today. The Austrian official statement follows:

"On the Bessarabian front, the Russians have again attempted to break through near Toporoutz and east of Rucinele. Five great attacks failed. The well-directed Austro-Hungarian artillery fire contributed eminently to the repulse of the Russians. Since the beginning of the battle in East Galicia and Bessarabia, the Austro-Hungarian forces of Gen. Pflanzer, Balin and Rothner, have taken 5,100 Russians, including thirty officers. Austro-Hungarian patriots routed Russian field guards near Kapilovka.

On the Italian front, several places near Malborgeth and Rabl were shelled by Italian artillery. Italian airmen have been active in the Trieste district. One bomb dropped in Spirano, but caused no damage.

"In Montenegro, the troops of that country, having abandoned their capital, are in retreat on the whole south and west front. The Austro-Hungarian troops, who are following up the Budanje-Grab-Grahovo, and have entered Montenegro, territory east of Bilico and near Avotac. Near Grabovo, the Austro-Hungarians captured three cannon and their crews, as well as 500 rifles, one machine gun and a quantity of ammunition."

COMPARES AMERICA WITH ALLIES' STAND

London, Jan. 15.—"We must not claim," says the Westminster Gazette in an editorial, "that the American people are on our side in this conflict, but we find it difficult to believe that the great democratic people of the New World will allow their influence to be used to disarm the democratic peoples of the Old World in their struggle for liberty against military domination. They will be the first to break their own history and remember what they said and thought when neutrals expected or demanded that they should break their blockade of the Southern states."

"If at this stage they threw their weight into the scale against us, or tried to deprive us of the principal weapon against the Central powers, they would be doing what they most hotly resented in their own case."

VICTORY FOR ALL NEUTRAL WORD WON BY AMERICA

London About to Declare Blockade of Enemy Ports.

London, Jan. 15.—That Great Britain will soon announce the establishment of actual blockade of Germany and her allies, thereby superseding the condition which had been established by the orders in council, was the statement made today by Americans who have been in close contact with the machinery of the British orders in council in consequence of their acting as representatives of American shippers whose business had been affected by the orders.

A person who can speak authoritatively, and who has acted as a representative of American interests in connection with British prize court proceedings, reviewed the evolution of the orders in council. He said:

"The British government shows an unmistakable tendency now to shift

BRITISH SUFFRAGE LEADER IS AGAIN HELD AT ELLIS ISLAND

MRS. EMMELINE PANKHURST. New York, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the British suffrage leader, was held at Ellis Island immigration station today when she arrived here on the steamship St. Paul, because Federal authorities said she had served a sentence in a British prison. She was similarly detained when she arrived here more than two years ago, but was quickly released and allowed to enter this country.

MUST SAIL FOR HOME

Members of Ford Peace Expedition Given Instruction to Depart.

If They Remain, Will Return at Their Own Expense.

The Hague, via London, Jan. 15.—Gaston Plantiff, personal representative of Henry Ford, announced last night that all members of the peace party must leave on the steamship Rotterdam on Saturday night or pay their own return passage. This caused much disappointment, as some members of the party expected to return whenever they pleased. Mr. Plantiff estimated the expense of the expedition since leaving New York, including the return trip, at $375,000. The cost of keeping the permanent peace board with the expenses of the representatives of neutral nations is expected to reach a total of $1,000,000.

It has not been decided whether the permanent board will meet at The Hague or Stockholm, or alternate between the Scandinavian capitals.

What is hoped to be accomplished. On the eve of the disbanding of the Ford peace expedition and the departure on Saturday of a majority of the American members for New York, Dr. Charles F. Aked, on behalf of the members of the expedition, issued the following statement:

"The American government has made (Continued on page 7, fifth column.)"

GERMANY TO ADOPT MEASURES OF REPRISAL WITH BRITAIN; BREAKS OFF NEGOTIATIONS

SENDS FINAL NOTE THROUGH U. S. EMBASSY

Reply to Proposition of British Government in the Baralong Case.

Declares Great Britain No Longer Desires to Observe Law.

Germany Takes It Upon Herself to Punish for Unatoned Crime.

Berlin, Jan. 15, wireless to Sayville.—In its reply to the British government in the Baralong case, the text of which was made public here today, Germany takes the ground that Great Britain no longer desires to observe the requirements of international law in regard to the German submarines, and breaks off negotiations on this subject. In addition to announcing its decision to take measures of reprisal, the German government rejects Great Britain's proposal for examination by a neutral board of the Baralong incident, and also of three cases in which its charged Germany violated international law in submarine operations. The note was delivered to Great Britain through the American embassy.

PRICE FOUND GUILTY OF MURDERING WIFE

Convicted of First Degree Murder By Jury; Penalty for Same Is Life Imprisonment.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frederick T. Price, a business man of this city, was convicted of the murder of his wife, Mary Fridley Price, member of a wealthy Minnesota family, by a jury in district court here today.

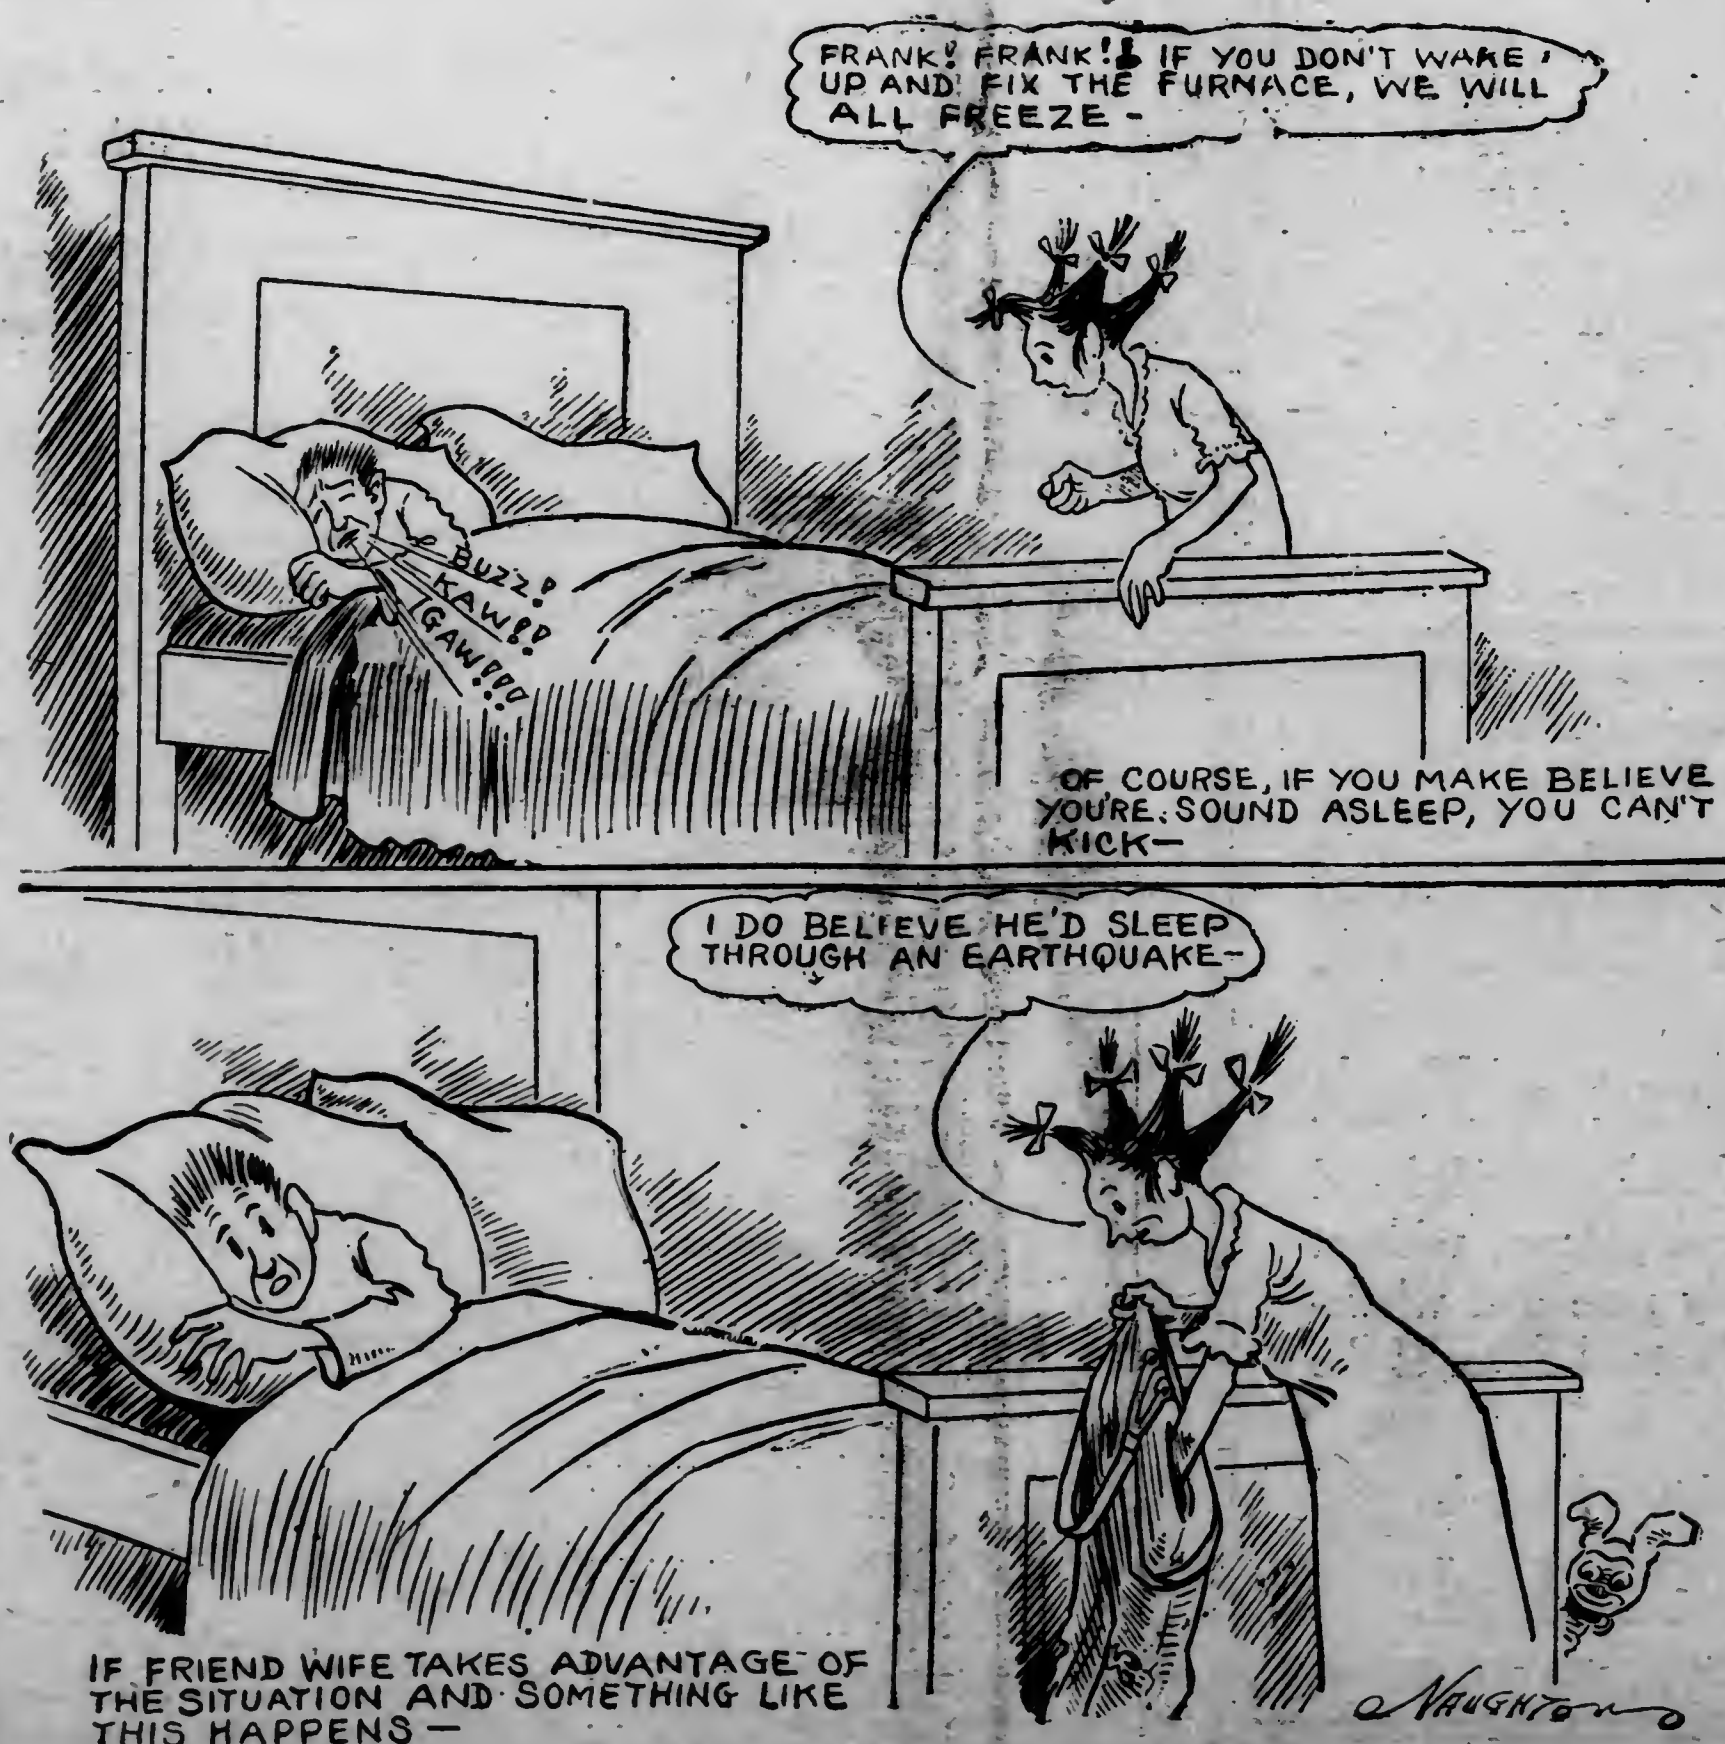

The case was given to the jury late yesterday at the close of a trial covering nearly two weeks.

Under the law the penalty for first degree murder is life imprisonment. M. C. Brady, chief counsel for the defense, was prepared to make application for a new trial on the ground that evidence favorable to the defendant had been discovered during the closing arguments to the jury. The evidence, he declared, would show that the testimony of Charles D. Etchison, chief witness for the state, who swore that Price murdered his wife for her fortune, by throwing her from a cliff and striking her on the head with a rock. Etchison also testified Price paid him a goodly sum of money for his silence.

Crowd at Courthouse. Price, daughter of a prominent Minnesota pioneer. The judge's charge was comparatively brief. The prosecution contended that Mrs. Price was hurled from a cliff by Price, and when he found she still lived, crushed her skull with a rock. The defense has held that the woman fell to her death while trying to save her pet dog from dashing over the precipice, or that in case she was killed, it was at the hands of Charles D. Etchison, a Washington, D. C., traveling salesman, who was jointly indicted with Price and who has been the principal witness for the prosecution.

Jumps From Window Killed. Chicago, Jan. 15.—Mrs. E. L. Frägel, 60 years old, jumped from a second-story window and was killed and several men were injured in a fire today which destroyed a rooming house at 215 Englewood avenue.

COMPREHENSIVE PLAN FOR BELT LINE ROAD IS LAID BEFORE COUNCIL

Union Passenger Stations, Freight Depots and Factory Sites Are Provided For.

Four Track Line Would Connect With Every Railroad Entering the City.

Duluth's terminal problems may be solved and the neck knocked from the railroad "bottle" by the Western Terminal Railway company.

At 9 o'clock this morning, Theodore Hollister, general counsel for the company, a $10,000,000 corporation recently organized in Delaware, walked into Mayor Prince's office and filed a copy of an ordinance granting the company a franchise to use certain streets and alleys for a terminal railway, which will circle the city, crossing and connecting with every railroad which enters Duluth. The ordinance will be presented to the council Monday.

The plans of the company call for a four-track system through the center of the city; union passenger stations and freight depots in the Lake avenue district, in the West end, West Duluth and the steel plant suburbs; a tract of 1,000 acres back of Duluth which will be available for factory sites, and ultimately big docks for handling merchandise.

For many years railroads have found it increasingly difficult to enter Duluth. The Soo road had to blast its way in through solid rock at an expenditure of millions of dollars, and even now its freight facilities are cramped. It is claimed that it would be almost impossible for another railroad to gain entrance to Duluth, as the expense would be so great that no one road would undertake it. The aim of the new corporation is to handle all freight and passenger business for the Duluth terminals. If the plan materializes, it is believed that at least two more railroads will soon enter Duluth, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Grand Trunk Pacific. Both these roads have long had their eyes on Duluth, but the expense of terminals has kept them away. The Milwaukee road has running rights over the Northern Pacific, but assured of terminals, it is believed it would promptly build its own line to the Head of the Lakes.

The ordinance presented today calls simply for running rights over certain streets and alleys. In addition, the corporation will be compelled to buy and condemn large tracts of land for its right of way. All of its future plans hinge largely on the securing of the franchise, and no details have yet been announced. The men behind the project also remain in the background as yet. The officers of the corporation are simply dummy officials, but it is stated that some very substantial backers among Duluth and Chicago (Continued on page 7, first column.)

SHIP STRIKES MINE; ONLY ONE MAN SAVED

Spanish Bayo Sunk By Floating Weapon While Forty Miles Off Coast.

London, Jan. 15.—Only one out of twenty-six members of the crew of the Spanish steamship Bayo were saved when the vessel, on Thursday, was sunk by striking a floating mine, forty miles off the port of La Rochelle. The Bayo was on the way from Huelva, Spain, for La Rochelle. She was owned at Bilbao, was of 2,776 tons, 312 feet long and had been built at Whitby, England, in 1912.

MUSCATINE, IOWA, HAS $200,000 FIRE

Muscatine, Iowa, Jan. 15.—A fire which for a time threatened the retail district of the city early today completely destroyed the B. E. Lilly dry-goods store, causing a loss of approximately $200,000. An explosion which carried flaming brands from the basement to the roof doomed the establishment with the outbreak of the fire.

The chocolate shop, a confectionery, was badly damaged by water.

PRINCE HENRY IS CALLED TO BERLIN

Brother of German Emperor Summoned, Says Berne Dispatch.

London, Jan. 15.—Prince Henry of Prussia has been summoned to Berlin, according to a Central News dispatch from Berne. It is also announced, says the dispatch, that Emperor William's birthday festivities for Jan. 27 have been canceled.

Prince Henry of Prussia is a brother of the German emperor, and the inference probably intended in the news agency dispatch is that he is summoned to Berlin in connection with the illness of Emperor William. What appeared to be an authoritative announcement that the emperor's illness was not serious was contained in a Berlin dispatch earlier in the week.

A wireless message from Berlin today said the emperor had asked that his coming birthday be celebrated quietly and in prayer by the German nation, but that who ever wished to give special expression to his feelings was urged to do so by gifts for the care of the afflicted in the war and of soldiers' families.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The Eastern field of war again resumes prominence with the resumption of the offensive by the Russians in Bessarabia. There has been a cessation of activity in that part of the front for several days. Vienna news reports, however, that the Russian lines have been subjected again to determined attacks, but that five Russian attempts to break through were repulsed by deadly artillery fire.

Austria claims that since winter operations began in Eastern Galicia and Bessarabia, more than 5,000 Russians, including thirty officers, have been taken. The Russians also claim numerous captures, and notable gains of ground north of Chernowitz. The Austrians announce further advances into the interior of Montenegro. The Montenegrins are in retreat, and are suffering from losses in men and guns according to Vienna.

Germany, in replying to Great Britain in the Baralong case, reiterates charges made against her officers in affidavits of Americans on the steamer Nicosian of having refused quarter to members of a German submarine's crew.

The German government declares unacceptable the British offer to submit the Baralong case to a tribunal of American naval officers. If Germany would submit three specified cases of alleged outrages committed by German airmen on the sea to the same court, Germany declares that in none of the cases mentioned were German officers trying to destroy helpless persons.

In view of the British declaration to try the accused Baralong officers, the note announces Germany will adopt measures of reprisal.

SENIORS OF THE CHISHOLM HIGH SCHOOL SEE PLAY; HAVE INTERVIEW WITH ACTOR

Seniors of the Chisholm high school were among those who witnessed the presentation of the "Passing of the Third Floor Back" by the Forbes-Robertson company last evening at the Lyceum. The students visited the actor in a body, being chaperoned by Miss A. Bess Clark, principal of the school. After the performance, an interview was obtained with Sir John Forbes-Robertson. The Chisholm students this afternoon will witness "Hamlet" at the Lyceum.

The expenses incidental to the trip to Duluth will be paid from a fund which was raised recently when the Chisholm high school seniors gave an entertainment and candy sale. The English class will write the senior play this year and the trip to Duluth was made in the hope of getting some practical pointers. The party will return to Chisholm tonight.

Those who made the trip were: Miss A. Bess Clark, principal; Wilbur Hayes, class president; Winnifred Lewis, Mary Sullivan, Grace Gandsey, Bessie Syme, Leta Higbee, Green Higbee, Eva Dumont, Salma Hepola, Florence Neally, Lincoln Kneebone, Albert Papin, William Nissila, Joseph Gzelka, Andrew Talus, Carl Johnson, Alice Berggren, Sidney Lewis, Agnes Loudermire, Leonard Cummings.

This morning they visited The Herald office and watched a modern city newspaper in the making.

LESSONS IN MYSTERIES OF PIE MAKING IN COOKING CLASSES AT BRYANT SCHOOL

One and one-half cents is what it costs the taxpayers of Duluth to give their daughters a lesson in the mysteries of pies, puddings, bread, cake or salads.

At least Miss Mary Closson, supervisor of domestic science in the city schools, says that is the average cost. At the request of Supt. R. E. Denfeld, Miss Closson has figured out what it cost to teach domestic science in eight city schools during last December. The Bryan girls have kept the cost down to .7 cents.

From that estimate was derived the expense per pupil for each lesson in the different schools. Miss Closson's report shows that 569 girls received instruction in ways and means of tickling their future husbands' palates. Girls are becoming more domestic, school officials think, because each semester shows a steady increase in the number of girls enrolled for domestic science work. They evidently have realized that woman's true sphere is the home, as one teacher, not a suffragist, put it.

Here is Miss Closson's estimate of the cost per pupil at each school:

Denfeld high	2 cents
Central high	1.5 cents
Washington	1.5 cents
Cobb	3 cents

NO MORE TRIPS DOWN LAKES ON FREIGHT STEAMERS; RULING FORBIDS IT

Department of Commerce Interprets Law to Even Bar Family of Owner; Develops From Tug Case; Tugs Must Not Carry Passengers.

Local inspectors of steam vessels are at a loss to know whether or not an opinion, just rendered by the legal division of the department of commerce, barring the carrying of passengers on tugs, will apply also to the carrying of passengers on freight steamers. Inspectors at other places, it is said, have concluded that it does.

Should that be the case it will mean the end of the habit a good many people have formed and one which many more have sought to form, to spend their vacations as guests of some transportation company taking "a trip down the lakes." Some years ago several of the lines put the lid on this carrying of passengers and it is believed, most of the vessel owners would welcome a ruling that would forbid it, but according to interpretation of the ruling, just out, even the family of the owner would be barred, and there would be some question as to the right of the owner himself to make such a trip, that being only "practically certain."

Solicitor Thurman of the department of commerce was asked rule on tugs in Baltimore harbor carrying people about the harbor on inspection trips, between docks or to and from vessels. He cited a number of court decisions, some apparently contradictory to his opinion that ships must have passenger ship licenses whether fare is charged or not. He cited others supporting his opinion and quoted rulings of the department of commerce.

No Fare, No Difference.
The particular ruling was given in reply to a request for an opinion that carry people on tugs in Baltimore, the Maryland Transportation company explained that no fare was charged and the people transported on the tugs were friends of the company and were carried only as an accommodation. This did not alter the case so far as the department's view as to whether they were or were not passengers.

Solicitor Thurman said that subterfuge had been used to avoid taking out a passenger license and quoted decisions supporting him for the tugs.

The final decision is that "as a general proposition any person carried who is not connected with the vessel, her navigation or business, is a passenger within the meaning of the steamboat inspection laws."

Interpretation Made.
Interpretation of this phrase, which is the rule in the carrying of passengers on steamship inspectors, are that no vessel not licensed to carry passengers can carry anyone except the crew and those on official business connected with the ship. Under this rule it is held that it is practically certain that the owner or manager of a ship may make a trip down the lakes with his family without violating the law.

On the lakes the tendency has been to carry passengers on tugs, which are not licensed to carry passengers, and a great many of those that carry passengers have been built to make larger crews' quarters.

A tugboat on the lakes have licenses to carry passengers and only high officials of the companies owning them are given passes. It seems now that passenger carrying on bulk freight ships must end by government order, which happens to coincide with the wishes of most managers.

The ruling has been referred to all steamboat inspectors whose duty it is to inspect ships and to collectors of customs whose duty it is to issue clearance papers.

CLEVELAND CLIFFS TAKES OVER BOATS

Will Have Twenty-Two Ships in Fleet During Next Season.

J. A. Paisley of the Valley Camp Coal company, who purchased the Craig, Carter, Davidson & Wallace ships, acted partly in the capacity of agent for the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, which has announced that it has taken over all of the ships.

The steamers Eugene Zimmerman, 3,500 tons capacity; B. L. Wallace, 7,200 tons; J. H. Bartow, 5,500 tons; F. M. Osborn, 3,500 tons; E. N. Saunders, 6,300 tons, and Steel King, 6,300 tons, will be permanently a part of the Cleveland-Cliffs fleet.

The George L. Craig, Thomas Adams, Hancock and Luzon, also bought by Mr. Paisley, will be operated the coming season by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, but at the expiration of the season will be returned to Mr. Paisley.

The fleet operated by the Cleveland-Cliffs this season will consist of twenty-two ships, eighteen of which will be owned by the company.

WANT MORE MONEY FOR BIG LAKE FLEETS

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 15.—Minority stockholders in the Frontier and Niagara Steamship companies, who last week refused to ratify the sale of the four big steamers, James Corriggan, D. B. Meacham, J. J. Munro, Charles Weston and William A. Rogers, to M. A. Hanna & Co. and the Cambria Steel company, say that several offers of more money than that offered by the Hanna people have been received for the boats.

At last week's meeting the directors approved the sale but the minority stockholders opposed it. The question was raised that the proxies held by different directors were not in proper form, and that therefore there was not a quorum present. This led to an adjournment for two weeks, during which time the officers of the two companies will renew their opposition to the sale at the coming meeting, which is scheduled for Feb. 22. The ships of the Frontier Steamship company were sold to M. A. Hanna & Co. at $350,000 each, and the William A. Rogers was sold at $325,000, subject to the action of the stockholders.

Old Master Is Dead.
Capt. Edward Evans died at his home in Chicago last week after a lingering illness that prevented him from working part of last summer. Capt. Evans bought the old City of Duluth, which he renamed the C. W. Jacob. Prior to purchasing the Jacob he was master of the W. W. Ford for many years. He was born in St. Joseph, Mich., in 1859 and began sailing at 14. He was a captain at 25. He is survived by his widow and a son, who was chief engineer of the Jacob.

READY FOR BURNS' DAY

Scots of Duluth Will Celebrate Birthday of Poet.

Fall Program Arranged by Clan Stewart's Entertainment Committee.

A week from next Tuesday, Jan. 25, the Scots of Duluth will celebrate the one hundred and fifty-seventh anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns, Scotland's most beloved poet. The affair will take place under auspices of the Clan Stewart, No. 59, Order of Scottish Clans, at the Spaulding hotel, and the ballroom on the fourth floor will be the scene.

The entertainment committee of the clan has been preparing the program for some time. A part of it has already been published in the Herald. At this time is the complete one.

John Z. White of Chicago will be the chief speaker at the evening. D. Cameron, chief of Clan Stewart, will preside as toastmaster. The affair will open with a time-honored fashion with bagpipe selections by the official pipers of the clan, Robert McWharty, and before the banquet starts, Rev. George Brewer, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will offer the invocation.

Brained Invites Editors.
Brainerd, Minn., Jan. 15.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Chamber of Commerce and press of this city have extended an invitation to the Northern Minnesota Editorial association to hold the next annual business meeting of the winter months here.

Authority on Burns.
Mr. White, the speaker of the evening, will, of course, talk on Robert Burns, and it is said that there are few men in the life and works of the poet than he, for he is recognized as an authority on Burns and his work, and is, besides, an eloquent speaker.

Following the banquet and program, there will be a dance, which will be diversified enough for the disciples of the new dancing cult and for those who like the old-fashioned kind. La Brosse's orchestra will furnish the music.

Program Following Banquet.

ROME CHEERS THE CARDINAL

Mercier's Entrance to Italian Capital is Like Triumph.

He Praises Americans For Their Aid to Belgians.

Rome, Jan. 15.—Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, has arrived in Rome and was received at the station by the Belgian ministers accredited to the Vatican, by Sir Henry Howard, British minister to the Vatican, Monsignor Desanpere, papal master of the chamber, and residents of the Belgian colony. A large crowd of Italians also greeted the cardinal, crying "Viva Mercier, viva Belgium," accompanying him along the route to the Belgian college, where he is stopping.

Prince Colonna, mayor of Rome, and several members of the council welcomed the arrival of Cardinal Mercier and greeted him as the man representing the tragic and heroic history of the city of Rome, of unshakable faith.

The speakers also expressed sympathy with Belgium, "momentarily crushed," and admiration for the Belgian army, the Belgian people and for King Albert and his queen.

Thanks to American.—"What I have done was simply my duty," Cardinal Mercier told the representatives of the Associated Press, while the people of Rome, comprising all classes, received him in a triumphant manner such as no cardinal of any nationality has enjoyed on entering Rome since the fall of the temporal powers.

Cardinal Mercier intends to remain in Rome for a fortnight. He spoke in praise of the American generosity in helping the destitute Belgians, and the immense debt of gratitude felt by his people toward America, adding:

"The Belgians feel very much their humiliating position, but they used to accept charity." The situation of the unfortunate nation, the cardinal explained, was not so terrible now as immediately after the occupation.

PALL MALL GAZETTE IS DEFIANT TO U. S.
Would Make the Blockade Stronger Rather Than Yield At All.

London, Jan. 15.—The Pall Mall Gazette, discussing American press reports regarding the attitude which the United States may adopt with regard to the blockade question says:

"If Count von Bernstorff succeeds in obtaining a quid pro quo for the outward reclamation by Germany of her acts of piracy, and succeeds in inducing the United States as one of Germany's minor, indirect allies in her efforts to rule the world, we may expect fresh attacks upon our interpretation of international law. If President Wilson should elect to walk the road of obligingly constructed for him by Berlin, it is well he should realize where it is going to lead him."

The British empire, which is shedding blood and not ink for the vindication of 'neutral rights,' has reached a stage in the conflict where technicalities will not be allowed to restrain the legitimate use of all its weapons of warfare. Our right to prevent supplies from reaching the enemy is absolute, and if the process assumes fresh dimensions, it is the business of international law to strip them off and not be fettered by the wording of its former recitals."

No British government would dare to relax its grip on Germany now, in defense of interests and on threats of outsiders who are chiefly interested in what profit they may make from the world's agony. The blockade, in future, must be tighter instead of looser, and nothing will impair to it a sterner temper than any external interference."

GRANDMOTHER SAYS:

Horshound or thoroughbred tea for the fever—goose oil and turpentine to rub on for colds and soreness of lungs or throat were the remedies used fifty years ago.

Now newer remedies have taken the place of the old—a tablet of aspirin or a capsule of quinine for the fever without the old bitter tonic; Gossolene to rub on the chest or throat. Instead of the old goose oil and turpentine, gives quick relief, for the congestion, soreness of pain.

For the little ones Baby Gossolene is the best to use when they have a chest cold—just rub on Baby Gossolene, cover with a soft warm cloth and see how quickly they get relief. You can get either Baby Gossolene or Gossolene at any drug store in 25c tubes.—Advertisement.

WILL ADMIT THEIR GUILT

Love of Finery Caused Woman to Become Shoplifter.

Two Forgers Will Plead Guilty to Recent Indictments.

Love of finery, particularly the soft and dainty silks, proved the undoing of Mary Selkama, 30, alleged shoplifter. Police said she helped herself to silken wares and hose from the Glass Block store on Jan. 3 last and she is now ready to admit the charge. The grand jury indicted her for grand larceny in the second degree and today she notified the county attorney's office that she would plead guilty to the charge.

She will be arraigned before Judge Fessler in district court this afternoon for that purpose.

Frank Weller and J. E. Soucy, alleged forgers, have also apparently changed their minds about their guilt. They today notified the county attorney that they would plead guilty to indictments hanging over them and will be given an opportunity to make a statement.

Weller, it is claimed, forged the name of R. J. Carnes on a promissory note for $20 and then initiated the signature of Phil C. Bousha as indorser. This happened, the authorities say, on Dec. 29, last.

Soucy is charged with carrying his share of a still further degree. On Oct. 23, 1915, he is accused of having passed a forged certified check securing $250. The name of the maker, indorser and the certification of the cashier, which the check was drawn, are also said to be forgeries.

On Monday, George W. Butterfield will be brought to trial on a charge of having forged the check of the International Lumber company for $34 on Homer, Tolson, 113 West Superior street. The names of the two purported signers, Rush Beeson, foreman, and George W. Butterfield, are all said to be forgeries.

HURLEY NEWS NOTES.

Two Deaths Reported and Circuit Court Meets.

Hurley, Wis., Jan. 15.—(Special to The Herald).—Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Urquhart were called to Iowa by the serious illness of Mrs. Urquhart's mother.

Mrs. Hans Sappia, aged 29 years, wife of one of the proprietors of the Kentucky Club saloon, died of bronchial pneumonia. Besides her husband she is survived by a son, aged 3 years; a 9-month-old daughter and three sisters of Cloquet, Minn. Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon and interment was made in the Hurley cemetery.

Louis Matten, an Italian, aged 21 years, died at Montreal of pneumonia after an illness of only four days. He was employed as a miner at the Montreal mine. His parents live at Verona and interment was made in the Bessemer cemetery.

Circuit court for Iron county convened at the courthouse this week, with Judge Risjord presiding. The first case heard was that of the State vs. Matt Niemi, charged with rape. Judge Johnson, the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Johnson of Iron Belt, was the complaining witness. Niemi has conducted a saloon at Iron Belt for the past seven years, and formerly conducted a saloon in Hurley. The case went to the jury late Wednesday afternoon, and after being out until daybreak, Thursday morning, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

Jacob Hinkala, charged with assault with intent to commit great bodily harm, pleaded guilty.

Thursday morning the case of the State vs. Louise Baro came up for trial and is expected to occupy several days of the session. The defendant is charged with poisoning a number of persons at Montreal last July. Over twenty witnesses have been summoned by the state in the case. Mrs. Baro is represented by Attorneys L. Ruggles and Frank Lamoreaux.

It is expected that court will not adjourn until the latter part of next week.

Dr. G. Van Stratum spent Thursday visiting at Kimball, Wis.

MILLIONAIRE PREACHER AMONG SPEAKERS AT LAYMEN'S MEETINGS

DR. HERBERT S. JOHNSON.
Rev. Herbert Spencer Johnson, the millionaire pastor of Boston, is well known throughout the Eastern states for his lecturing tours from January, 1906, to March, 1907, and his strong stand against the Congo atrocities and was unofficially representing the Congo Reform Association of the United States.

He takes his place upon the Duluth laymen's missionary movement program on Thursday evening, Jan. 20, with the topic, "Can America Keep Christ?"

DR. CORNELIUS H. PATTON.
Cornelius H. Patton, corresponding secretary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, has been an outstanding figure among missionary leaders.

He served as pastor in many of the important Congregational churches before being called to be corresponding secretary of the American board in 1904. Dr. Patton has paid many visits to the mission field and speaks with authority on the many phases of the subject of missions.

Meyer, to Capt. von Papen: It is as follows: "New York, Dec. 19, 1915.—Dear Captain: Best wishes again on the occasion of your departure. I had occasion yesterday to thoroughly discuss with you the subject of the Congo atrocities, and I am sure that you will find it a most interesting and profitable study."

It was natural, although there was a general agreement on both points, that there was a slight difference of opinion; indeed it could not have been otherwise, especially as we are further cut off from the other side. The Austrian note is, of course, a matter for great concern, and the whole business can scarcely be taken too seriously. The present time has been a very difficult one for those who blindly support him. But we were all of us, I think, in the name of all us for your faithful vigilance and unremitting labors under the most difficult circumstances and to add my own special thanks for your attention to my little problem.

"It is not surprising in view of the fact that the term should have been put to your work and you must carry back to the Congo the same spirit of vigilance and unremitting labors under the most difficult circumstances and to add my own special thanks for your attention to my little problem."

"I will gladly comply with your proposal to the best of my power, and it would be very pleasant for me to receive one from you occasionally, and I do so with much interest. I think, therefore, I am speaking in the name of all us for your faithful vigilance and unremitting labors under the most difficult circumstances and to add my own special thanks for your attention to my little problem."

LECTURES FOR PARENTS ALSO
The Fathers and Mothers Are Wanted at "Safety First" Meetings.

Fathers and mothers and all grown-ups are urged by Commissioner Silberstein to attend the last "safety first" lecture at the old armory this evening.

The older persons need these lectures as much as the children," he said this morning in an address to the youngsters. Each lecture is preceded by a short talk by the safety commissioner, who explains the purpose of the lectures and how the various railroads have gone to this heavy expense in order to educate the public.

The Duluth & Iron Range road, it was announced this morning will send a special train of its employees from Two Harbors to the lecture this evening, while the Soo and Great Northern roads will send special trains from Superior.

H. L. Brownell of the Chicago surface lines, who spoke yesterday and this afternoon, will leave for Chicago late this afternoon and this evening's lecture will be delivered by George L. Wright of St. Paul, chairman of the safety commission on the Omahara road. Motion pictures and special slides showing possible accidents on busy streets, will be shown during the evening.

BIG GAIN IN SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS.
Final figures on the sale of the Red Cross Christmas seals, available early next week, will show that there was a gain of $400 over the sale of 1914, according to Health Director Fahnestock. Returns reach the $1,000 mark, predicted early in the sale by the officials in charge.

EXPLOSION WRECKS U. S. SUBMARINE E-2

Body of One Man Recovered--Seven More Said to Be Dead--Test- ing New Batteries.

New York, Jan. 15.—The United States submarine E-2 was today blown up and partially destroyed in the New York navy yard. The body of one man killed in the internal explosion was recovered and a report to Brooklyn police said seven others were killed.

The explosion was said to have opened up several plates of the craft, several rescue parties which undertook to enter the submarine were driven back by gas fumes.

Several officers who were lowered into the craft were pulled out after becoming unconscious. The one body recovered was found near a hatchway.

All Details Refused.

Newspaper men were barred from the yard, and it was with much difficulty that the report of the explosion could be confirmed through yard officials. All details concerning the accident were refused that the engineers in the navy yard were testing one of the new Edison batteries installed in the craft at the time of the explosion. These batteries were intended to obviate the danger to the crews of submarines from gas fumes. Recently submarines of the E class were reported to have made successful trips with the batteries in use.

Later reports that came from the navy yard were that twenty-seven men had been taken from the hold seriously injured and twenty with slight injuries. They were removed to the naval hospital in the yard.

HEARING ON COUNTY DITCH

The Final Reports Made on Carlton-St. Louis County Project.

Final hearing on the petition for the establishment of the Carlton-St. Louis County Judicial ditch, No. 1, which, if built, will drain approximately 50,000 acres of low land lying in the two counties, is in progress today before District Judge Foster. The hearing was adjourned from last Friday, Jan. 13.

Dutch Engineer Conkey reported in favor of cutting off about five miles of the Carlton-St. Louis county line south and draining the lands in that area in Carlton county by a separate ditch to be established under separate proceedings.

The hearing will be concluded this afternoon. The court, it is believed, will then make an order determining the necessity of the ditch and officially establishing the ditch.

The project will be known as the Carlton-St. Louis county ditch. The cost, as estimated by the engineer, will be $217,000, which will be divided between the Carlton-St. Louis county line and the Carlton-St. Louis county line south and draining the lands in that area in Carlton county by a separate ditch to be established under separate proceedings.

The hearing will be concluded this afternoon. The court, it is believed, will then make an order determining the necessity of the ditch and officially establishing the ditch.

MAN'S RELEASE MAY CAUSE ROW

Immigration Authorities Are Stirred Over Polk County's Action.

Crookston, Minn., Jan. 15.—(Special to The Herald).—A serious clash with the United States immigration authorities may result over the release from the Polk county jail by Deputy Sheriff Thomas Casey of John Kolotelo, an alien, who was arrested at Warroad last October by United States migration inspector Quibb. Kolotelo was forbidden to leave Canada by the Canadian border guard at that time.

After a short time ago he received a letter from his wife, who stated that the family had been frozen in their feet so badly that they had to be taken to the hospital. Kolotelo, who was arrested at Warroad last October by United States migration inspector Quibb, was forbidden to leave Canada by the Canadian border guard at that time.

PRIMARIES CAUSE TROUBLE TO CLERKS

Inquire About Holding Pref- erential Elections at Town Meetings.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 15.—(Special to The Herald).—The presidential preference primaries to name delegates to the various national conventions and to influence candidates for president will be held in connection with the annual town meetings throughout the state in March. The holding of this election was done by the last legislature for economical purposes, but it now looks as if the two would not hit.

In the last two days Secretary of State Schmitt has received inquiries from a number of town clerks wanting to know how the two will be handled. They say that the annual town meeting carries requirements which the introduction of the presidential primary would hamper, and they want to know what to do about it. Mr. Schmitt says he knows nothing beyond what the law requires, and has referred them to the state legal department.

FORMAL REPLY OF CARRANZA AWAITED

Washington, Jan. 15.—Gen. Carranza's formal reply to representation from the United States demanding that he run down and punish the murderers of American citizens at Santa Fe, Mex., still was awaited today, although indirect assurances have been made from him that this would be done.

Through Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, Carranza announced that he had sent troops to capture the outlaws and promised "condign punishment on every participant." The formal reply is expected today.

PERMANENT "SAFETY FIRST" COMMISSION

The city commissioners and representatives of the Duluth Traction company and all the railroads entering Duluth, held a meeting at the Commercial club today at which plans were made for the appointment of a "safety first" commission to consist of prominent citizens and to be a permanent organization. This is in connection with the "safety first" movement being launched at the armory today.

Glenn Lockyer, at the request of Mayor Prince, has called a meeting of adults to be held tomorrow afternoon at the old armory to further the movement.

GENERAL SHERMAN REALLY DID SAY "WAR IS HELL"

Portland Oregonian: History is vindicated, after all, for Gen. William T. Sherman, Civil War leader and hero, really did say "war is hell."

The famous epigram has been quoted all over the world and attributed to Gen. Sherman, but of late years some historians have denied that Gen. Sherman ever said "war is hell." In the course of an interview on preparedness for national defense, Rev. Father Thomas Ewing Sherman of St. Louis, oldest son of Gen. Sherman, said his father made the utterance in a public address, and related the circumstances.

"I do not remember the exact year," said Father Sherman, "but it was in the early 80s, and my father was then in the dress of a military school in Michigan. In the course of his address he told them they had learned the duties of a soldier and would be ready if their country was turned loose and he is armed to keep his cottage from the wolf and the savage, and nations are governed by the same rules as individuals should be kept from it."

"Christ himself said that the strong man when he is fully armed keeps his court, but when the stronger man comes he takes it away. The individual is not strong unless he is armed to keep his cottage from the wolf and the savage, and nations are governed by the same rules as individuals should be kept from it."

"There can be no doubt that he said 'war is hell'." Father Sherman left the Jesuit order.

MIZPAH—A MISSED EXPRESSION.

But for those who do not achieve matrimony that creative force has got to find expression in a different way. "Old maids, the world over, advocate matrimony, haven't you observed that?" she continued, "and in the lead of single women and emphasize the fact that every woman ought to marry. Have children and keep house."

"The phrase comes from the story of Laban and Jacob."

They were both men whose like can often be found in the world today. Laban, Jacob's father-in-law, had treated him unfairly and unjustly, and he had every reason to feel that Jacob would never return to his own country. Jacob was a scheming man, as fruitful in expedience as he was in plans, with him the end usually justified the means.

God told Jacob to return to his own country. His wives, Leah and Rachel, made the preparations for departure hastily. Rachel hid the "images" of her father, Laban, and Jacob and his family, with their flocks and goods, took their departure on the third day that he heard of it. Immediately he pursued them, and overtook them at Mount Gilead. Laban asked Jacob why he had fled. Jacob was wroth, and chose with Laban. Laban demanded his "images." Jacob said he had none. Laban said he was satisfied with the other's behavior, and never felt any concern about it. So they agreed to make a covenant that should bind both to "keep the peace."

They made a heap of stones and "did eat" there. The place they called Mizpah, which signified a watchtower, and it was apparently Laban's idea that, in consequence of the conservation of the place and the covenant now solemnly made and ratified, God would take possession of the heap of stones, and stand on it as on a watchtower to prevent either man from breaking the compact.

The expostulation of Jacob with Laban and their subsequent agreement were told in Genesis with great spirit and dignity, and anyone who reads the story carefully must realize that the Lord was asked to watch between them because they did not trust each other, and were afraid that one might harm the other.

SOMETHING APPROPRIATE.

Philadelphia Telegraph. A citizen of a southern town entered the corner grocery and found the proprietor buried in thought. "What are you thinking about?" he asked. "I'm thinking about the storekeeper's mind."

"Mrs. Jones was just in here," explained the corner groceryman, with a sad sort of a sigh, "and she told me I ought to rename my scales the 'ambulance brand.'"

"She did?" "She" returned the other, wonderingly. "Oh, what of it?"

"What of it?" was the startling rejoinder of the groceryman. "Why, as soon as she had gone I looked up the word 'ambulance' in the dictionary and found it meant to 'lie in wait.'"

Anne Morgan Thinks World Has Place for Single Women—But the Great Financier's Unmarried Daughter Says She Always Advises Girls to Wed.

What Anne Morgan Has Done.

She led the movement for instituting a vacation headquarters for girls.

She established a restaurant for workers at the Brooklyn navy yard.

She built recreation centers and a workers' amusements club.

She fostered the Society for the Prevention of Useless Giving.

She is a leader in the far-reaching projects of social insurance, factory co-operation and other movements.

Indianapolis Star: The Princeton biologist who recently declared that "Single women are the neglected quantities in the progress of mankind—that she is an anomaly, with no place in the scheme of nature," may be right from a purely biological standpoint, but from a far-seeing, broad spirit of this progressive age, wants to gauge a woman by mere laboratory tests? And yet the biologist is right—and he is wrong. The most remarkable single woman in the world says so. She is a leader in the things achieved for her sister women and the broader, constructive social projects in which she is interested. So when a pronouncement on the same subject comes from Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, the world will accept it as an intimate, far-seeing statement concerning interests with which she is completely familiar. So when a pronouncement on the same subject comes from Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, the world will accept it as an intimate, far-seeing statement concerning interests with which she is completely familiar.

Asked her opinion in the matter, the scientist, she said much more, beyond the mere, abstract fact, and showed that, after all, the case was not as despairing as one may be led to believe who wholly accepts the biological measure.

"The woman is happiest, of course," she remarked, "whose creative ability expresses itself in a happy marriage, the making of a home and the rearing of children. That is the normal life. But for those who do not achieve matrimony that creative force has got to find expression in a different way. 'Old maids, the world over, advocate matrimony, haven't you observed that?' she continued, "and in the lead of single women and emphasize the fact that every woman ought to marry. Have children and keep house."

They were both men whose like can often be found in the world today. Laban, Jacob's father-in-law, had treated him unfairly and unjustly, and he had every reason to feel that Jacob would never return to his own country. Jacob was a scheming man, as fruitful in expedience as he was in plans, with him the end usually justified the means.

God told Jacob to return to his own country. His wives, Leah and Rachel, made the preparations for departure hastily. Rachel hid the "images" of her father, Laban, and Jacob and his family, with their flocks and goods, took their departure on the third day that he heard of it. Immediately he pursued them, and overtook them at Mount Gilead. Laban asked Jacob why he had fled. Jacob was wroth, and chose with Laban. Laban demanded his "images." Jacob said he had none. Laban said he was satisfied with the other's behavior, and never felt any concern about it. So they agreed to make a covenant that should bind both to "keep the peace."

They made a heap of stones and "did eat" there. The place they called Mizpah, which signified a watchtower, and it was apparently Laban's idea that, in consequence of the conservation of the place and the covenant now solemnly made and ratified, God would take possession of the heap of stones, and stand on it as on a watchtower to prevent either man from breaking the compact.

The expostulation of Jacob with Laban and their subsequent agreement were told in Genesis with great spirit and dignity, and anyone who reads the story carefully must realize that the Lord was asked to watch between them because they did not trust each other, and were afraid that one might harm the other.

Aberdeen's linen mills are kept busy by war orders.

But, though agreeable to the scientist, she said much more, beyond the mere, abstract fact, and showed that, after all, the case was not as despairing as one may be led to believe who wholly accepts the biological measure.

Forbes-Robertson Company Presents Sermon on Unselfishness.

From "Hamlet" to "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" was the abrupt transition made by members of the Forbes-Robertson company now at the Lyceum.

"Hamlet," as presented by the distinguished English actor and his company Thursday, is a clear cut, intellectual treat, carrying the keen pleasure that a perfect piece of artistry brings. "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" is an appeal direct to the heart. It is a powerful sermon on the value of love and kindness, pleasantly couched with sentiment. It can hardly be classed as a play. It is a study

ONLY FOUR DAYS LEFT IN HERALD CONTEST; SUGGESTIONS COVER MANY SUBJECTS

Elevated Railway for Michigan Street, Minimum Wage and Home for Working Girls, and Lowering of Hill Grades Are Urged.

Only four more days are left in The Herald problem contest, and persons planning to enter their suggestions must do so before next Thursday morning.

Today's entrants in the contest for the best answer to the question "What Would You Do for Duluth?" would build an elevated electric railway on Michigan street, a tunnel under the canal, a free hospital and a home for working girls, provide free transportation for the poor students attending high school, compel the cleaning of sidewalks after snow storms, prohibit the employing of girls under $8 a week, establish a downtown restaurant for working men, lower the grades of Duluth's hills and provide a place for the farmers who come to the city.

In order to relieve the congestion on Superior street, one entrant in the contest would build an elevated railway on Michigan street and remove the tracks on the city's main thoroughfare, and also build a tunnel under the canal in place of the aerial bridge, which, he says, is becoming inadequate. He writes:

"I would do the following for Duluth if I had the power:

"First—In order to relieve the ever-increasing traffic on Superior street, I would build an elevated, double car track on Michigan street from Eighth avenue west to Third, Fourth or Fifth avenue east, where I would turn up on Superior street again. At Eighth avenue west, I would build a tunnel under the canal to or over the Soo railroad property. A railroad would be maintained not to interfere with traffic on Michigan street and to conform with the Lake avenue viaduct.

"Supports or posts would be placed on or just inside of the curb. Third street would be built straight from the track to Superior street. A stair-case would also lead down to Michigan street. There is nothing impossible in the engineering features as these are found in other cities. It would solve the traffic question on Superior street for good and it would entail the least inconvenience, being only half a block from Superior street on a practically level sidewalk. I would try to get the street car company to build it, or, better the city.

"Second—I would build a tunnel un-

WHICH WOULD THE PUBLIC LIKE BETTER

***** ASKS WEATHER BUREAU *****

FREEZE AT ZERO OR 32 DEGS. ABOVE?

If a bill, now before congress, goes through, the people of the United States will have the job on hand of readjusting their ideas of temperatures, for an entirely new system—that is, new for common use—of computing the degrees of temperature will have been established. The weather bureau is eager to learn popular sentiment on the matter.

The bill provides for the establishment of the Centigrade system to replace the Fahrenheit system, which has been in use ever since temperatures were taken in America. The Centigrade system—aside from the work of educating the public in its use and understanding it—is much simpler than the Fahrenheit, and has long been favored by scientists. The only thing that has prevented its adoption has been the difficulty that will present itself if the bill is passed now, the education of the public.

This is the difference between the two, simply expressed: In the Fahrenheit thermometer, the freezing point of water is arbitrarily placed at 32 degrees above zero; in the Centigrade thermometer, the freezing point is indicated naturally at zero, and comparisons of temperatures are made from that point. Water boils at 100 degrees Centigrade and 212 Fahrenheit, making 1 degree of Centigrade equal to 1.8 degrees Fahrenheit.

During the summer, a corresponding change would be made. For instance, the temperature at 4 o'clock this morning was 12 degrees below zero, 45 degrees below the freezing point. Under the Centigrade system, were it in use, the temperature recorded this morning would be 25 degrees below zero; that is, 25 degrees below the freezing point.

The weather bureau officials are neither favoring nor fighting the proposed change, but would like to get the expression of the public as a whole in order that congress may get some idea of what is desired.

It is realized that the change would be confusing to people in general for some time, and that it would take a considerable period to educate them as to the difference.

permitted to learn. Even the names of the officers are kept secret. The members of the court will hold a smoker next Monday evening, and it is expected that some mystery stunt will be staged.

NO MILK FOR GERMAN BABIES, SAYS FRANCE

Declines "for Military Reasons" to Allow Shipments of Condensed Milk.

Washington Jan. 15.—France has declined "for military reasons" to permit shipments of condensed milk from charitable institutions in the United States to Germany and Austria-Hungary for the use of babies of these countries.

Ambassador Sharp at Paris and Ambassador Page at London were authorized recently by Secretary Lansing to inquire if the governments of France and Great Britain would permit such shipments, after the American Red Cross had agreed to undertake supervision of the distribution of the milk to assure its use for the purpose stated.

French government under date of Jan. 13, reports receipt of your inquiry. It states that on account of military reasons it is not willing to authorize shipments of milk to either Germany, Austria-Hungary or the American Red Cross will supervise distribution.

It is assumed that Great Britain will make a similar reply although so far Ambassador Page has not been heard from.

Grand Canal Bursts Its Banks—No Lives Lost.

Athlone, Ireland, Jan. 15.—The Grand canal burst its banks today at Edenderry, in King's county, and houses, crops and cattle were swept away by the torrent which ensued. All water-travel has been suspended and the inhabitants of the outlying districts are cut off from the towns. No lives were lost. The damage is estimated at $2,000,000.

The Grand canal runs through the counties of Dublin, Kildare and Wick, and proceeds west from Dublin to the Shannon river, which it joins near Banagher. The main line is seventy-nine miles long, and its total length, including the numerous branches, is 165 miles.

BREAKING OF DIKES CAUSES HEAVY LOSS

Damage in Northern Holland Greater Than First Reported.

London, Jan. 15.—The damage caused by the flood in Northern Holland is said by the Reuter correspondent to be greater than at first was believed. The great dikes along the Zuider Zee collapsed at several places. Peasants, with their cattle, fled precipitately before the rising waters.

Near Muiden the dike broke at several points before the people realized the dangers. The waters of the Zuider Zee rushed through the gaps with such force as to wash away large sections of the road which runs along the dike.

From North Holland come reports of distress caused by the flood. Considerable damage was done at Volendam and Edam, in Texel and Marken islands, and in the province of Groningen.

THE FAULTY REASONING OF THE MILITARISTS.

We have been asked, by one who would correct the error of our ways, to consider a vigorous war piece written by Charles H.
Grasty and printed in various publications, including the Kansas City Star. We have done so. We find it a very lively, very earnest, very conscientious and very much mistaken document.

This case for a mightier army and navy than most people are willing to consider is based on these assertions: That all Europe hates us; that after the war we shall be very rich and all Europe very poor; that this hate and envy of our wealth are going to lead more or less all Europe to attack us, or at least to try to seize territory in South America that will force us to invoke and defend the Monroe doctrine—which, while he was talking, has been changed to the Wilson doctrine of Pan-Americanism.
Upon these premises Mr. Grasty builds his conclusion: "The only way to be sure of preventing a war between this country and other countries before this war passion has been exhausted is to have a potential army and navy so big and so fit that nobody will dare molest us."

Now giving Mr. Grasty every possible credit of belief in his sincerity and honesty, we submit that this argument, which is an excellent example of its class, is arrant nonsense.

In the first place, we should not take quite at its face value all this talk about Europe hating us. Maybe it does, though we hope not; but even if it does, more hate will not make war. A nation thinking of making war upon us would have to be actuated by something more concrete and profitable than the mere venting of spite because we kept out of the war and didn't favor one side or the other openly.

We shall be rich and Europe poor; but that isn't going to make Europe turn wholly barbarian and start out on a mighty career of rapine and plunder. Things are bad enough, but they are not that bad, and they are not going to be. Europe is pretty well fed up with war now. It is going to be more gorged with it still before the end.
When the end comes, it will have neither the appetite nor the strength nor the money for more war.

Who is going to perpetrate this brigandage Mr. Grasty foresees? England? Not in a thousand years! Germany? Assuming that Germany might want to smash the Monroe doctrine and seize American territory—which we do not believe for a moment—is England going to sit back and see the Monroe doctrine destroyed while it is interested in Canada? People forget that England is about as much concerned in the Monroe doctrine as we are. The fact is,
Mr. Grasty and others who foresee a war of aggression from Europe at the end of the present war are talking tommyrot of the most childish kind.

And if this war has proved anything, it has proved the folly of the idea that any nation can arm so mightily as to cove all other nations with a deadly fear of it. It can arm so mightily as to force other nations to arm more mightily still, and thus provoke war. But peace secured by a greater armament than any other nation can have is a mocking dream. There is no such thing and never will be any such thing. Besides, why should we want the world to fear us?

Mr. Grasty wants compulsory universal military service—conscription in time of peace—and he anticipates what will be said to this: that if we had such an army as he covets, we would be a military nation just like Germany. To this his answer is: "We are not a military nation."

Bless his innocence, can't the man see that that is precisely what he is objecting to and trying to change? Can't he see that such militarism as he proposes could have no other effect—OR PURPOSE—than to MAKE us a military nation? We don't want to be a military nation. We have other and vastly more important things to do—among other things, to teach the world that war is not inevitable, that nations can behave like gentlemen toward other nations and be treated as gentlemen in return, that the American system of fair-dealing beats armament and militarism all hollow.

Follow Mr. Grasty and his leader, Col.
Roosevelt, and you would make this a military nation. You would put it in such shape that the sword instead of just dealing would be its weapon. You would force the world to arm against us as we would draw millions of men out of useful pursuits into the wasteful vocation of war. You would divert billions of dollars out of useful works into the wasteful work of war-making. You would turn a peaceful people into a belligerent and war-like people. You would invite military domination of the business of a democracy, and no democracy can survive that.

Mr. Grasty is talking nonsense, and he gets it from Col. Roosevelt, who is a false prophet who has turned his back on Christ and is teaching from the book of the devil.

It looks as if it would take a livelier song than "Moonlight Bay" to get attention at those political conventions in Chicago this year.

A WISE ACT.

In re-electing Charles P. Craig of Duluth as its president and head of the state fair, the Minnesota State Agricultural society does wisely, and bring credit upon Duluth, upon the state, upon the state fair and upon the society.

The Minnesota state fair is a great institution. It is the greatest state fair in the country, and it has been a greater state fair under Mr. Craig than it was before. It has been not only a better show, but a more representative institution and of vastly greater value as an educational factor.

Mr. Craig brings to the duties of this important office a keen intelligence, practical knowledge, ardent enthusiasm and a tireless energy. His re-election without opposition by a society that sometimes distinguishes itself by turbulence shows a gratifying appreciation of these qualities and of their value to the fair.

Now arises the question whether Medicine Hat isn't in fact a fur cap.

MERRILY WE ROLL ALONG.

Samuel W. McCall is a conservative—that is to say, a standpatter—by birth, heredity, environment, conviction and habit.
Samuel W. McCall—he is a Republican, of course—has just become governor of Massachusetts.

Governor Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts has just sent his message to the legislature, and in it—in the message of this conservative, standpat statesman—are these recommendations:

That a constitutional convention be summoned to revise the state Constitution;
That the state adopt an income tax, with compulsory return of incomes;

That "reasonable restriction" be placed on the hours of labor continuously operated for twenty-four hours;

That legislation be enacted to correct
small loan abuses;

That the state adopt a form of social insurance to protect workers against sickness, unemployment and old age;

That better methods of dealing with unemployment be adopted.

It is true that the recommendations are timid in spots—though nothing could be fairer or finer than the suggestion of social insurance against sickness, unemployment and old age, the three specters that haunt the workingman who dares to think ahead.

But for a conservative, a standpatter, it is very good indeed.
Fancy what would have happened if you had placed that program before Samuel W.
McCall or any other of his habit of thought twenty years ago, ten years ago—or even five years ago!

Beyond doubt he would have had you clapped in a madhouse forthwith.

It helps to mark how fast we are traveling—or, rather, how fast the pressure of public opinion is forcing conservatives to shift their stand.

Sometimes one wonders that everybody doesn't get pessimistic over the carryings on of congress.

A SENSIBLE MILITARY COMMISSION.

The special commission created by the Massachusetts legislature to investigate and report upon the defenses of the state has made a very intelligent report; though it will hardly be pleasing to Col. Roosevelt and other fire-eaters.

To us, the most striking points in the report, which comes from a commission made up of militia officers and prominent citizens of Massachusetts, are these: that it utterly rejects the idea of compulsory universal military service, and repudiates the plan of military training in the public schools.

The commission points out that the compulsory universal service that Col. Roosevelt and others love to talk about would provide a needless horde of something like ten million troops, with officers enough for about two hundred thousand; and that besides being unnecessary, the expense would make it prohibitive.

"If we adopted the much-talked-of Swiss plan," says the commission, "and even made the high allowance of fifty per cent of exemption for physical or other disability, we should have in the country 9,316,886 men trained to arms and liable to service." This number, of course, is utterly out of proportion to any conceivable plan for military preparation.

Military drill in the public schools is rejected because it would be of no military value. The commission finds that it is given in the schools of no country in the world except Australia and Japan. The commission not only refuses to recommend it, but declares itself to be opposed to it.

Physical training in the public schools, however, it earnestly recommends; and in this recommendation surely everybody will agree. Whether the boys and girls are to be cannon-fodder or useful citizens, they ought to be helped to a sound physical foundation during their school years. "Physical training," says the report, "tends to make a boy strong, physically well set up and mentally alert, is the proper preparation for the real intensive training necessary to make a soldier, as it is also the proper preparation for civil life. The overwhelming weight of public opinion favors the greater development of physical training in the schools and the standardization and inspection of such training by some central authority."

The positive recommendations of the commission include the federalization of the state militia, the relieving of the militia from police duty and the creation of a state mounted police for that purpose, college courses of military instruction, etc.

There has been much wild and loose talk about military preparations in this country, and the wildest and loosest has been that which urged military training in the public schools and universal compulsory military service. Neither will ever be seriously considered in this country, and both might as well be dropped. Those who persist in adhering to them merely show their personal unfitness for the serious consideration of the this important subject.

It's really too bad that the sporting season is closed for contests that might give the sport writers a chance to coin the verb "Dar-nelled."

COURTS IN A BAD BUSINESS.

The hope of humanity, when workmen's compensation laws were adopted, was that it was ridding the process of compensating workmen for industrial accidents of the terrible coil of legal intricacy and legal injustice that the courts had burdened it with through centuries of precedent-making.

The purpose of compensation laws is to put the burden of industrial risk upon the industry, where it belongs, and to insure the injured workman automatic and just compensation for his injuries.

According to the New Republic, the process of loading the workmen's compensation system with a new burden of judicial hairsplitting, with its inevitable injustice, has already begun. Says the New Republic:

In the recent Massachusetts case of Ashton vs. the Boston & Maine Railway company (107 N. E. 850), the plaintiff's husband, whose duty it was to make repairs on electrical apparatus, had been killed in the course of his employment by touching a live wire. The Massachusetts compensation act in its liability clauses provides that in an action to recover damages for injury or death resulting to an employee from his employment, the employer cannot plead as a defense that the employee had assumed the risks of his trade. To the ordinary mind no case could fall more clearly within the terms and intention of the act. But the judicial mind is not ordinary. Bringing forward a distinction of recent contrivance between the "contractual assumption" of the obvious risks of an employment, and the "voluntary assumption" of the less obvious ones—a distinction that originated, apparently, with the "progressive" Wisconsin court (142 Wis.
380)—the supreme judicial court ruled that the act was meant to apply ONLY to the less obvious risks. The defendant was free to urge the "contractual assumption" of risk by the stricken employee, not to be sure, as a defense, but still as a matter capable of being shown under a general denial.

Thus the courts—some courts—slay justice by their bloodless twistings of legal casuistry. When the legislature of Massachusetts forbade employers to set up the monstrous defense of "assumption of risk," the legislature unquestionably meant to do away with that rank injustice. And here comes the court, triumphantly dragging it in again in new guise and newly named, to stand between the injured workman and justice. Small wonder that some times the respect we ought to have for the courts turns to contempt.

Judge Gaynor, one time when an infamy of this sort was impending, said that the meaning of the law before the court could not possibly have been made clearer "unless, perhaps, the legislature had added the words, 'This law means what it says.'"

Would it help the courts any, and protect justice from judicial assault, if the legislature adopted the practice of adding to every statute those words for the court's guidance: "This law means what it says?"
Certainly when the legislatures intend justice and the courts construe injustice out of what the legislatures say, something ought to be done about it.

Then there are those political deponents who would have us believe the latest party formation is really an elephant.

THE LURE OF MINING INVESTMENTS.

The small investor is the one chiefly angled for by the vendor of dubious mining stocks. This is not to say that large investors do not get caught some times too, because they do. The same hope of sudden riches that appeals to the human nature in the small investor appeals to the same sanguine streak in the large investor also.

But so little has been done to interest the small investor in safe, certain and conservative investment like bonds and good stocks, that he is likely to think of them as the exclusive privilege of the rich; and so when he has a little surplus for investment, that idea and the delusive hope of turning a small sum quickly into a big one make him easy prey for the utterers of glittering mining "securities." Not that there are not many sound mining investments, too; but the small investor seldom bothers with them. He is caught by the devices of men who look upon mining purely as a basis for selling stock.

John M. Oskison tells a story in the Chicago News that seems not to need any explanation or moral-drawing. It explains itself and its moral is plain.

Three years ago, he says, a group of rich men in this country and Canada organized the Canadian Mining and Exploration company, with a capital of five million dollars, half of which was paid in. Its purpose was to investigate mining propositions, and to exploit and develop those likely to prove profitable. Until the money should be needed for that purpose it was invested in sound standard securities.

Since its organization in 1912 this company has looked carefully into about fifty hundred mining propositions. It did not find a single one worthy of development! So the company is to be liquidated.

It has sold its securities and is returning the subscribed capital to its stockholders.

The company invested $2,321,000 in dividend-paying stocks of established companies, and in interest-bearing bonds. These securities were sold—this was before the recent rise in stock and bond prices—for $2,185,000. But in the time the securities were allowed to accumulate interest and dividends, not only was this loss of $136,000 made up, but enough in addition was taken in to net the investors a little more than five per cent on their investments.

Doubtless many of the mining propositions rejected by this corporation with its large means and its ample facilities for investigation have been capitalized and stock in them sold to the public. Doubtless, too, they have gone the way—or are going the way—of something like ninety-nine per cent of mining speculations: through a curb market flurry into extinction, involving a total loss to the stockholders, and no insurance.

Another thing Mr. Oskison directs attention to: "If an organization of rich men, able to employ the best experts, can't find one promising mine in fifteen hundred investigated, how much chance has the average non-expert investor to win?"

Incidentally, Europe furnishes the best possible lesson that what is needed by the nations of the world is not "preparedness," so much as it is just plain common sense.

DEMOCRACY AND WAR.

There is plenty of proof that democracy is under a handicap in making war. Where it gets from under this handicap it ceases to be democracy, whatever its form.

That isn't an argument against democracy, but an argument for it.
It shows that democracy does not make a business of war, as absolutism always did and always will and always must, and that the quicker the whole world is democratized the better for peace.

Only eighteen more sleeping days for the groundhogs.

"WE," NOT "THEY."

How do you think of your government?
Do you think of it as something alien and above, something or somebody distinct from yourself? Is there in your thought some inheritance from the old relations of monarchy and subject?

Or do you think of your government as something of which you are a part, in the responsibility for which you have a share, no less a share than that of anybody else?
Is it "they" to you, or "we"? It makes all the difference in the world which it is.

The Kansas City Star develops this true line of thought:

In the smaller towns and country districts people say "we" when they speak of governmental action. If the scheme that the court house and got it done at low cost. "We" organized the high school.
"We" pay the expenses of keeping prisoners in the jail.

In the big cities they say "they." "Why do they do this and so?" People wonder when the city government falls down.
It isn't a personal matter with them.
The government isn't their government. It belongs to somebody else.
There is a world of difference in the two attitudes. When the people of the cities get to saying "we" about their cities, then they are going to clean house and take possession.

When people get into the habit of thinking "they" about their government, thus indicating a belief, whether it is expressed or even realized, that the government is somebody else, it is a pretty good guess that the government will be somebody else
—or will belong to somebody else.

When people think "we" of their government, it is a good guess that that government is going to be theirs and never somebody's else.

This is true of all governmental forms, whether it is in town, village, school district, city, county, state or nation. It is true in large measure of world affairs—will be more true of them as time goes on.
A first essential to good citizenship is to get to thinking of government as "we."

Rippling Rhymes

Speeding Years.

How swift the years roll on, my friend, how swift the years roll on!
They come and make their bow and bend, they smile and then they're gone!
Some morning, in the mirror's face, we see a snowy hair; and ere we've time to dye the place, a hundred more are there. But yesterday my locks were brown, and life seemed in its dawn, and now the gray spreads o'er my crown —how swift the years roll on! But yesterday I held a child upon my willing knee; an infant innocent and mild, and beautiful was he; and now in tones of bass he speaks, he's learned to toil and spin, and he has whiskers on his cheeks, and more upon his chin.
Oh, can this be that little child, this man of weight and brawn? How can the two be reconciled? How swift the years roll on! But yesterday my limbs were free from stiffness, pain and ache;
and I could climb the tallest tree, or swim across a lake. But if I walk a block today, my wind and strength are gone; they take me homeward on a dray; how swift the years roll on!

Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph: Secretary Josephus Daniels was discussing a courtroom retort.
"One may be excused," said he, "for feeling a little joy when the man who goes out of his way to make a rude remark, simply to show his wit, receives a rebuke that is as courteous as it is effective."

"A learned scientist was attending dinner, and as cigars were being indulged in one of the guests began to deride philosophy. He went on rudely to express the opinion that philosophy was but another way of spelling fool."

"What is your opinion, professor?" he asked, smilingly. "Is there much distance between them?"
The professor surveyed the boorish visa-vis keenly for a moment, then, with a polite bow, responded:
"Sometimes only the width of a table."

The Idler.

I idle stand that I may find employ,
Such as my Master when He comes will give;
I cannot find in mine own work my joy,
But wait, although in waiting I may live;
My body shall not turn which way I will,
But stand till I the appointed road can find,
And journeying so his messages fulfill,
And do at every step the work designed.
Enough for me, still day by day to wait, Till Thou who formest me findest me too a task,
A cripple lying at the rich man's gate,
Content for the few crumbs I get to ask.
A laborer but in heart, while bound my hands
Hang idly down still waiting Thy commands.

A Gary Dinner and Politics—No. 2

By Raymond.

Washington, Jan. 15.—We have fallen on times when a Gary dinner is spread to make "suggestions" about politics. The other day at one of those feasts there assembled as guests some score of plutocrats whose personal wealth exceeded a billion and who controlled twelve billions, or one-tenth the aggregate wealth of the entire 100,000,000 American people. Perhaps this squad is able to command one-half of the "liquid assets" of the country. The Hon. Theodore Roosevelt was the guest of honor, a gentleman who had spoken rather harshly of certain "mal-factors of great wealth." Wall Street, however, is like Tammany Hall in this—if lacking in gratitude, it yet bears no malice.

There is a good deal of mystery attaching to this latest Gary dinner. Yet we know that there was more business than hospitality in the affair, and about one phase of it all are agreed—it was emphatically anti-Wilson.
He is the man Wall Street is after. What was Roosevelt doing there? He is not a confidence man. But he is a practical man, and that is what made him the guest of honor.

At present it is the greatest concern of the "mal-factors of great wealth" to discover a man to beat Wilson. Justice Hughes has eliminated himself, and besides, his nomination is doubtless a would-be. The other out of the frying pan into the fire. In the White House, Hughes might make himself as obnoxious to balaful big business as Wilson. There are numerous aspirants to the notoriety of running against Wilson as the nominee of the Republican party in 1916;
but compared with Wilson the best of them is as Dobbin to Bucephalus. Wall Street is in search of a man.

It is manifest that "preparedness" is going to be the paramount issue in 1916. Wilson is for a safe and sane and adequate preparedness. Wall Street is for an enormous, extravagant and frenzied preparedness. So is Theodore Roosevelt. Now, Roosevelt is a man. As a bolter he polled 4,119,638 votes for president to 3,484,380 for the regular nominee. In the race in 1912, and in the electoral college he got eighty-eight votes against only eight received by Mr. Taft. Had any other Progressive headed the bolt a mighty different story would have been told.

At present big business is selling enormous stores of munitions of war to one of the belligerent parties to the great war in Europe. That war will not last forever, and doubtless it will be over early in the next president's term. When that war is fought to a finish those American factories that are turning out munitions for the Entente allies will be without customers. Then what is to be done? Nothing simpler—obtain a customer. Have the United States to take the place of the foreign buyer. That is the program Roosevelt is for it, and he sincerely believes in it. It is not corrupt. He is a patriot—according to his lights—and actually believes that the country is in danger if it does not arm to the teeth on land and sea.
He was in 1914, and became superior to all the world on the water as England is in 1916.
Now, Wall Street, as represented at the Gary dinner, cares nothing about the patriotic phase of it. It is a matter of business with Wall Street.

Some of the standpatters are kicking, but Lor, what can a standpatter do without Wall Street? Big business is to your standpatter what the compost heap is to your house fly.
I wish I had the genius to expatiate on this phase of it after the fashion of Dick Yancey, of the Nashville Banner, when discussing the
"gad-fly." There is nothing for a standpatter to do but to take his medicine. And that is what he will do.

And don't you, my brother Democrat, mistake the situation. It is not the drawing that Gary dinner evidences should prevail and Theodore Roosevelt head the G. O. P. again in 1916, it is going to put us all our trumps to beat it.

Take the last transient swell of petty impatience, or of unkind criticism; things which to the unawakened conscience look so small;
to the awakened conscience so large. There is not one that need have taken place. Had I been walking that moment with God, abidment from the sanctifying Spirit's power, I should not have lost temper, I should not have thought unkindly—not only should I not have been impatient, or indulged in needless severity of words. The occasion for the very feeling would have been as if it were not, because neutralized in Jesus Christ.

I should have been true to the spirit for the last few minutes, why should it not be true for the next five, for the present minute? "I Therefore, I, my Father, I am not afraid to pray for the unsympathetic. "Put them in fear." I am not afraid to say, "Make them more humane by teaching them to be more human." I am not afraid to wish them the good gift of Thy chariot-clouds. I know that Thy clouds would enlarge them—give them more driving room. I know that they would draw them farther down the road of humanity, farther up the steep of Calvary.

Shall I not wish such enlargement, my Father, that Thou wishest for Thy foolish heart of mine, alien to love?—From "Day

The Bump Academy

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

Your line of talk won a hearing, but your line of goods lost it.
We gave you a show, not an annual pass—we presented an opportunity, not a franchise.
Words and work each have their place—conversation is a vehicle for ideas, but we couldn't find any riding in yours.
You were inspected before you were rejected. You bluffed—it didn't go—so you must.
If we are incompetent judges of ability, everybody else isn't a fool, and keener minds will appreciate what we overlooked. But since you have regularly received the same verdict of incapacity, why not begin to wonder if you aren't wrong.
Of course you are sincere—conceit and you have talked matters over until you are thoroughly convinced of your exceptional talents.
But Vanity always was a liar—if she ever told the truth it would kill her. Your case isn't hopeless—a few more hard kicks may save you. You must be knocked down often enough to learn how poorly you stand.
Some of us can't be educated except in the Bump Academy.
You mistake the desire to have for the capacity to hold—confuse ambition with efficiency, and any school that teaches the distinction is worth its cost. We aren't prejudiced against you—only against the things that handicap you.
You're green, raw, brash—you leave a bad taste in our experience.
You came to market before ripening into fitness. Mellow, tone down, study yourself, graduate, come back with a better act, and we'll book you. Your critics are not hostile. If you weren't still worth while, nobody would bother to wound and help you.
We intend to cut acquaintance until you mend your ways. Our motives are surgical, we must pain to cure.
We want you to suffer—the correction won't count if it can't hurt your pride.
Your best friend has been your worst. When nobody else has a kind word for you, it is time to stop being kind to yourself.
We grant your mettle—there are pay streaks in your mind, but at present they're cheapened by your faults, and worth little until refined.
You're still a good prospect—that's why we all dig at you.

A Formula for Millionaires

THE easiest way to get a million is to dig it out of your brain. The greatest financial rewards of the immediate future will be found in rag bags, smelter tailings, garbage piles, factory sweepings, sawmill refuse, scrap heaps and by-products. You don't have to move a hundred feet to locate an overlooked opportunity. If you want riches nowadays, stay at home and mine your mind.

The First Lieutenant of Honesty.

WHEN a man can hide his name, he can hide his shame. Every hotel keeper requires his guest to register. Registration is a guarantee of good conduct. People behave where their identities are established. Certainty of detection is a brake upon disorder. When folks know that they can be traced and held to account they watch their conduct. Publicity is the first lieutenant of honesty and morality.

Advertised goods must be right. Their identity is established. The maker's name and mark are fixed in every reader's mind. As soon as a manufacturer has registered his product in printers' ink, he places his merchandise in the same position as when he registers himself at a hotel—it can't go wrong without being found out. Stores and factories that do not advertise are like strangers in a strange town—they'd be far more careful if they were better known.

One Man Can Hang the Jury

AN insistent notion doesn't calculate odds, it upsets them. One earnest man sufficiently convinced of his cause can, by sheer pertinacity, convert or modify the convictions of eleven earnest talesmen. All the big things that ever happened or are destined to be are one-man jobs. Time and again, communities, nations and races have sentenced ideas and ideals to death, but a single unquailing partisan has defended his opinion so nobly that his lone courage rescued it to humanity. The world loses 90 per cent. of human inspiration because the average brain that conceives a big thought so often belongs to a poor fighter. The existence of any radical project will always depend upon the persistence with which its sponsor promotes it.

THE HEEL OF ACHILLES

ACHILLES was bathed in the Styx at his birth, To render him proof against all ills of earth. (Our only concern with the brook at this minute is because Mrs. Whatshername dipped her child in it.) The Augurs declared—and they bored in such lore—That its water would battle-plate him to the core. ("Invulnerable" is the right word, but I'll can it—It's too hard to rhyme and, besides, who could scan it?)

If the lady in question had done as she ort,
He'd be hiring out to this day as a fort.

But his mother unwittingly framed the poor slob. It was dark, she was nervous and bungled the job—It happened she did not entirely seal Achilles in magic—she left out the heel. (She had to hold something or he would have drowned, But with one spot exposed he was not quite hidebound.)

He swallowed her story, hook, sinker and line, Inscribed on his buckler, "All comers for mine." (Why imagine yourself in his place—you should care—With a notion like that hiding under your hair!) He challenged the "big ones," waived color, weight, class, And left their pet limbs scattered over the grass. They banged at his head and they hacked at his middle, But none of 'em guessed where to tackle the riddle, Till an arrow, by accident, cut short his joy—Struck his heel—gave him lockjaw—and killed him at Troy.

Moral:

What happened in Troy would result the same way In Schenectady, if 'twere repeated today. Every struggle in every age has revealed That you don't stand a chance if you aren't well healed.

Innocents Abroad. (Exporter's Edition.)

AN actor can't play another man's part before he is familiar with his lines and make-up. America will never supplant Europe as a world-trader until her business men make a closer study of foreign markets.

Every country has its local peculiarities. The temperamental tropican thinks deeper with his senses than with his mind. Color and decoration, which are trifling matters in the finish of our own wagons and farm implements, are weighty considerations with the farmers of some lands.

Certain West Coast tribes habitually wear cotton cloths of a standard design and refuse to change their taste.

Goods intended for transportation in railroadless mountain countries may not be packed in cartons beyond a size and weight burro or llama can carry a-back. Yellow is a sign of mourning here—green the designation of a holy sect there.

The use of animal fat, either as a preservative or an ingredient, will disqualify merchandise, no matter what its merit or price, where caste or religion has rendered beef or mutton taboo—remember, the Indian Mutiny sprang from serving troops tallow-treated ammunition.

We have much to teach—but much to learn. We generally prefer to tell how to sell, instead of asking the best way.

We are masters on our ground, but too often mastered on strange ground.

American products are honest, efficient and economically produced. Our greatest competition is not with merit, but with information.

Europe is an old world-trader, and wise in the little follies of buff and brown human nature.

The ignorant and primitive are jealous of the petty distinctions which differentiate classes and hotly resent the ridicule of their ideas and disregard of their will.

In some parts of the earth the clock doesn't move more than an hour a day—we are ahead of the times and apt to be correspondingly impatient.

Before our salesmen can wear a welcome path around the globe, they must be educated to their jobs.

If we don't first conform to the methods of European trading, we won't have a chance to reform Europe's markets to an appreciation of our superior wares and ways.

An underdone roast may be preferable to an overcooked joint, but the restaurant that insists upon serving a rare cut, despite your distaste for it, won't get your steady custom.

Give the customer what he asks for—he pays the check.

There are spots all over the universe where the packing and package count before the goods.

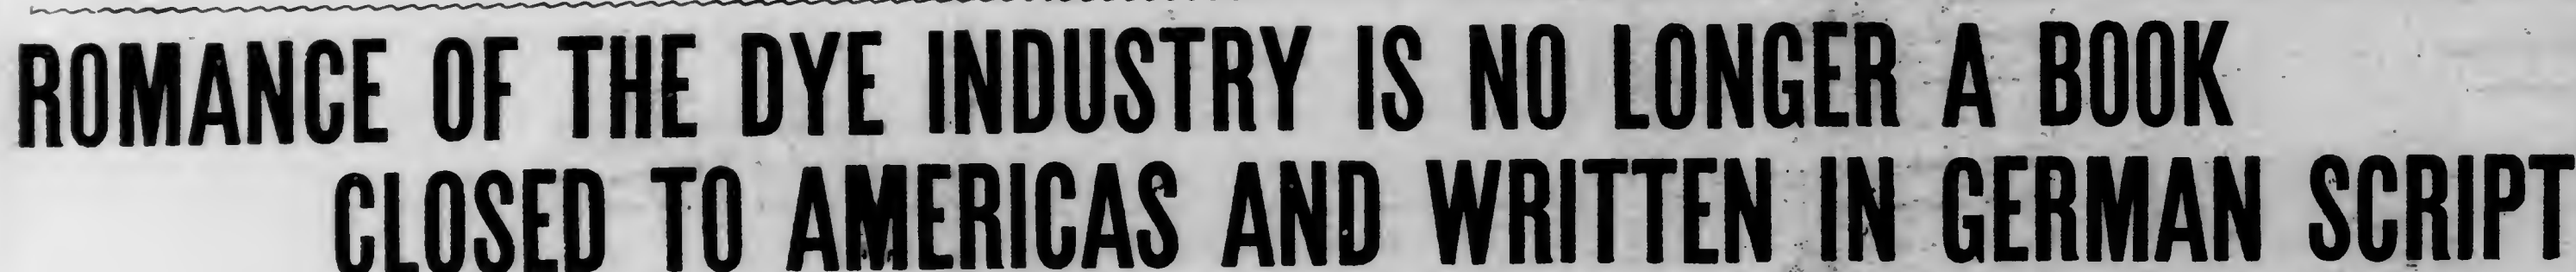

The track of foreign commerce is strewn with sharp prejudices—if we don't drive carefully we won't go far.

COMMENT ON PLAYS AND PLAYERS WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS PROMISE

Scarcely less interesting as a conversationalist than as an actor is Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson.

Forty years of ups and downs in the theatrical profession have given him a broad outlook on life and humanity, and he has a kindly philosophy and a wholesome humor that are refreshing.

"This trip, I have been visiting only the one night stands," he said yesterday afternoon in his room at the hotel. "I resolved not to say farewell to any city twice, and I am keeping that resolve. The result has been that this year I am playing only the smaller cities, for the most part, although I suppose I shouldn't so class Duluth. Actors all bemoan the one night stands, and they have their inconveniences, but one meets many interesting people in the despised 'one night stands.' This country no longer takes its cue from New York, and that is a healthy condition. People out in little old of the way places like Duluth are doing their own thinking, and New York's stamp of approval doesn't mean as much as it did. I found one of the two municipal theaters in America in Bozeman, and a very pretty little theater it was."

"I would like to see the municipal theater movement grow in this country. Many of our theaters, both in this country and England, are filthy dirty, poorly kept up, and have nobody with ideals or ideas to manage them. The drama is a great educational force—how great we are just beginning to realize, and yet it is left on a purely commercial basis. I am not prepared to deliver ready made practical working plans for a municipal theater, but in is just as deserving of attention as a municipal orchestra."

Sir Johnston fell into a reminiscent mood regarding the use of curtains as stage settings for Shakespeare. "Frankly," he said smiling, "I must confess the curtains were adopted at first as an expedient for this tour. I don't know whether I am giving away secrets of my press agent or not, but that is the case, only I am not sorry the expedient was necessary. We had an elaborate scenic setting, but found it impossible to use it in very many of the smaller cities to be visited. I had long wanted to produce 'Hamlet' with merely curtain settings, and we decided to try it. Now I am not sorry we did, for I think the stage picture is most effective, and not obtrusive enough to detract from the play, for after all 'the play's the thing' you know."

Those elaborate conventional settings remind me of a very amusing incident. In London many years ago, they were producing one of Charles Read's novels, and the setting showed the interior of a long jail corridor in perspective. It was very effective from in front, but there was a light over each cell door, and the jailer went along extinguishing those lights. The first one he could hardly reach, but they kept getting lower, and the last one he stooped far over to extinguish. It ruined the setting, for it was ridiculous in the extreme."

Duluth's wintry blasts did not seem to worry Sir Johnston. "Ripping," was his comment on Friday's weather. "Beautiful bright sunlight and the most invigorating dry, fresh air," he said. "Surely you can't complain of winter weather like this."

From Duluth, Sir Johnston will swing through the South and South-east, ending up his American tour with a performance of "Hamlet" at Harvard university.

Duluth will see two much discussed motion pictures next week. At the Lyceum "The Battle Cry of Peace" will be shown for an entire week. It is a motion picture argument of the militarists.

At the Orpheum-Strand Miss Audrey Munson's charms will be exploited under the plea of art.

Ten years have passed since Maude Adams was last seen in New York as Lady Babbie in "The Little Minister." A new generation of playgoers has sprung up since then, a generation who should count it their good fortune that this delightful impersonation has been preserved for them. The piece has been remounted since it was first produced, and Sir James has retouched the lines a bit, but not enough to hurt. Miss Adams has been playing the piece on tour so that her company should be up in their parts when they open here.

After an absence of two years Mrs. Fiske will return to the New York stage Tuesday night, Jan. 18, when she will be presented in a new play in the Gaiety theater. The play is entitled "Erastus," and was written by Marion De Forest on a novel by Helen R. Martin, called "Barnabette." It tells a story of life among the Dutch of Pennsylvania, life that Mrs. Martin knows intimately. Mrs. Fiske will play the role of Susan, an eccentric teacher of elocution from Iowa whom circumstances have landed among the Dutch of Pennsylvania.

ATTEMPTS TO MEET PACIFIST CLAIMS

Photoplay Coming to the Lyceum Portrays Plan for Preparedness.

Pacifists who oppose increasing the army and navy for national defense, will be interested in "The Battle Cry of Peace," the film spectacle which will be shown at the Lyceum theater twice daily, matinee and night, for one week commencing Sunday, Jan. 16. In vivid pictures and through sub-titles those who deny war preparedness are shown a powerful foreign nation invading this country.

The author has deviated far from the beaten path in picture drama building. To drive home his message he shows war in all its brutality and gruesomeness, carrying his theme into two peaceful homes which suffer from the invasion of a foreign army. An observer will not find the happy ending prevalent in most picture productions. If he would see the American soldiers repel the invading forces at the end of the picture, he is doomed to disappointment. The American soldiers do have their lining with the enemy, but suffer a disastrous defeat and how to the enemy, accepting "peace at any price."

There are two and a half hours of startling episodes, picturing realities and fantasies by double photography attended by an inspiring musical score and suitable "effects."

Thrills Patriotic Citizens.

This play is adapted by an American from Hudson Maxims' book, "Defenseless America." Hyphenated Americans will find nothing offensive in the picture, for the enemy comes from a mythical country. The spy in the play, a distinguished looking foreigner, who masquerades as a peace propagandist, is called Emanon, which is read backward stands for "no name," read backward stands for "no name."

To pound home its warning, the Vitaphone company constructed buildings and destroyed them with fire and shell; brought locomotives to demolish them in a special film incident; engaged thousands of men and women to portray invading soldiers and Americans fleeing before the invaders. It took scenes of New York at its height of glory, and the present war and how the poor people of the city are suffering.

Submarines are shown in the distance, and the threat of the clouds which were about to break, are pictured from life.

Shows Maxim Speaking.

In the opening scenes Hudson Maxim addresses a gathering on the necessity of preparedness, pointing out how well prepared the belligerent nations in Europe were for the present war and how poorly equipped this country is in every way. Submarines are shown in the distance, and the threat of the clouds which were about to break, are pictured from life.

Heading the photoplay program is "The Prisoner at the Bar," a three-reel subject. Two excellent comedies make up the rest of the bill.

On Tuesday, "The Battle Cry of Peace," the fourth of the stinging stories, "The Village Dust," in two reels will be added to the program.

The usual extra supper show at 6:35 will be given tomorrow (Sunday) night.

"INSPIRATION" AT ORPHEUM-GRAND

Miss Audrey Munson Will Be Seen in Sensational Photoplay.

"Inspiration," the daring photoplay, will be shown at the Orpheum-Strand Sunday afternoon and night for the first day of its four-day showing. This sensational story of the daring and beautiful artist's model is being shown at the Orpheum-Strand, as it has in all the other cities where it has shown.

The performance will begin at 1 o'clock and run until 6 o'clock afternoons and 7 o'clock in the evenings. It will have the proper musical setting.

The rise to fame and fortune of Audrey Munson, famous artist's model and actress, is the story of many works of art throughout this country and abroad, has been woven into a most masterful and sensational story, "Inspiration." Miss Munson's widely known as the "Panama-Pacific girl" because she posed for many of the pieces of statuary at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Notable among them "The Fountain of Eldorado," by Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, wife of the New York multimillionaire, as well as the statue called "Evangeline," by Daniel Chester French, which has been placed before the home of the immortal Longfellow at Cambridge, Mass.

Miss Munson's model is also the inspiration for the figure of liberty adorning the Maine monument, at the entrance to Central park, in New York city, and numerous other statues and paintings in various museums and public places in many of the large cities.

"Inspiration," in which Miss Munson appears as the leading role, is presented at the Thauhouer studios in New Rochelle, N. Y. Not only does Miss Munson appear in this exceptionally appealing film production, but she personally supervises the preparation of the scenario, which depicts, as closely as possible, her rise from obscurity to one of the most popular and highly paid models known in art circles of this or any other country.

The story, much of the locale of which is laid in New York, deals with Miss Munson's extended stay in the metropolis, where she had to find work, during which she all but starved to death, and then, to secure a fortune, she turned to the stage, which resulted in her securing her first step on the ladder that later brought her international fame.

Throughout the five reels is woven a

William S. Hart as the Virile "Two Handed" Westerner, Bob White, in "Between Men," Who Goes to New York and Whips a Trickster on "Change-Triangle-Key Bee Release."

At the Rex.

heart-stirring love story, which finally results in her marriage to the young genius of the studios who first "discovered" her.

Washington Square, and particularly MacDougal's alley, the Latin quarter of New York, plays a big part in the story of "Inspiration," which deals with the life, particularly the studio life, in the famous artists' colony of the nation's metropolis.

HELEN WARE AT REX.

Emotional Actress Has Joined the Triangle Forces.

Helen Ware, the emotional actress, who has been featured in Frohman productions, had the leading role in the late Charles Klein play "The Third Degree," and has recently starred in "The Revolt." Is a newcomer in the Triangle fold. Miss Ware is supported by Courtney Foote and Teddy Sampson in her first Triangle production, "Cross Currents," opening today at the Rex Beautiful. Courtney Foote became very popular with Rex picture folks from his fine work in Famous Player dramas. Just at present a special interest is attached to lovable little Teddy Sampson, for the news has just come that he is to marry the wife of Ford Sterling, who in the days when Duluth was young, played with the Duluth team, and now is widely known as the "Funny Keystone Man."

A general mix-up ensues when Joe

At the Lyric.

Weber and Lew Fields attempt to be "The Worst of Friends" in tomorrow's Keystone-Triangle. Pretty mermaids, a swimming pool and a beauty shop, all lend their aid to the comical adventures that befall Joe when he wanders into the dressing room of a beauty parlor.

William S. Hart, the "manliest man in pictures," will be at the Rex Beautiful Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

MANTELL AT THE LYRIC.

Noted Star Will Appear on Screen in "The Green-Eyed Monster."

"The Green-Eyed Monster," a William Fox production at the Lyric tomorrow leaves an impression that is unforgettable. Through the story moves Genevieve Hammer, the charming young wife of Stuart Holmes as the husband, and Robert B. Mantell as the jealousy-ridden brother. Mr. Mantell gathers about him a cloak of deep tragedy and registers it. His play of expression is extraordinary. You see cold-blooded cunning, despair, hatred, insane affection, the murderer's triumph and remorse.

The last part of next week two staunch favorites will be at the Lyric. Wednesday and Thursday, Denman Thompson in "The Old Homestead," and Mary Pickford Friday and Saturday, in "The Foundling," the play in which Little Mary broke all previous attendance records at New York's Strand theater, Jan. 2. The calamity howlers who predicted that Miss Pickford's popularity and salary would both wane by 1916 were confounded. The salary is said to be bigger and "Little Mary" more popular than ever before.

At the Sunbeam.

The remarkable series of pictures which began last Sunday with "Forbidden Fruit" at the New Sunbeam theater, will be continued tomorrow with a five-reel film entitled "Concealed Truth" with Gertrude Robinson supported by an all-star cast. Those who saw the picture last Sunday were appraised at the daring treatment of a vital moral problem, and "Concealed Truth," which treats of the secret relations of a married man with a woman "with a past," will be no less daring and candid. The purpose of the pictures, however, is to produce an uplifting effect and not to create simply a useless sensation. One picture will be shown each Sunday, and each film of the series will be complete in itself. In addition there will be a corking good comedy film, "Quits," with Wally Van and a good cast of funmakers.

On Monday and Tuesday there will be shown "The Land of Adventure," a stirring photoplay with Edward Lewis in the star role. By special arrangement Manager Parker will show a two-reel film showing the life of "Dixie Sarah" Bernhardt. Admirers of the famous actress will be pleased to see just how she lives and her chateau and its surroundings.

On Wednesday and Thursday there will be a Griffith production entitled "Fate," and Mae Marsh, the favorite actress in "The Birth of a Nation," will play the stellar role. She will be assisted by Lionel Barrymore, Charles H. Maize and Robert Harron. "Hell of the Dance Hall," a three-act drama with Edythe Sterling in the title role, will be another feature for these two days. Also by special request the Sunbeam will show the local film, "Who Will Be Last," showing Miss Theresa Marotta and Rudolph Shogran, and other well known Duluthians.

On Friday and Saturday Miss Irene Fenwick will be featured in "The Green Clock," a five-reel Kleine-Edison feature picture.

SHORT TALKS WITH SCREEN-STRUCK GIRLS

By Beatriz Michelena.

(Copyrighted, January 1916, by Beatriz Michelena.)

Since this is the first "talk" of my new series, I shall use it as a sort of preface for the ones to follow.

The thing I would emphasize above all others is that motion picture acting is a genuinely worthwhile profession. It is not a mere plaything, as some people think, but a serious and artistic pursuit. It is a profession that can be achieved only by hard work, patience and sacrifice.

There is no short cut, nor smooth, broad road to success in it. There is not always so much as a plainly placed trail. Real ability plus a lot of grit are the only things that may eventually place a girl at the summit.

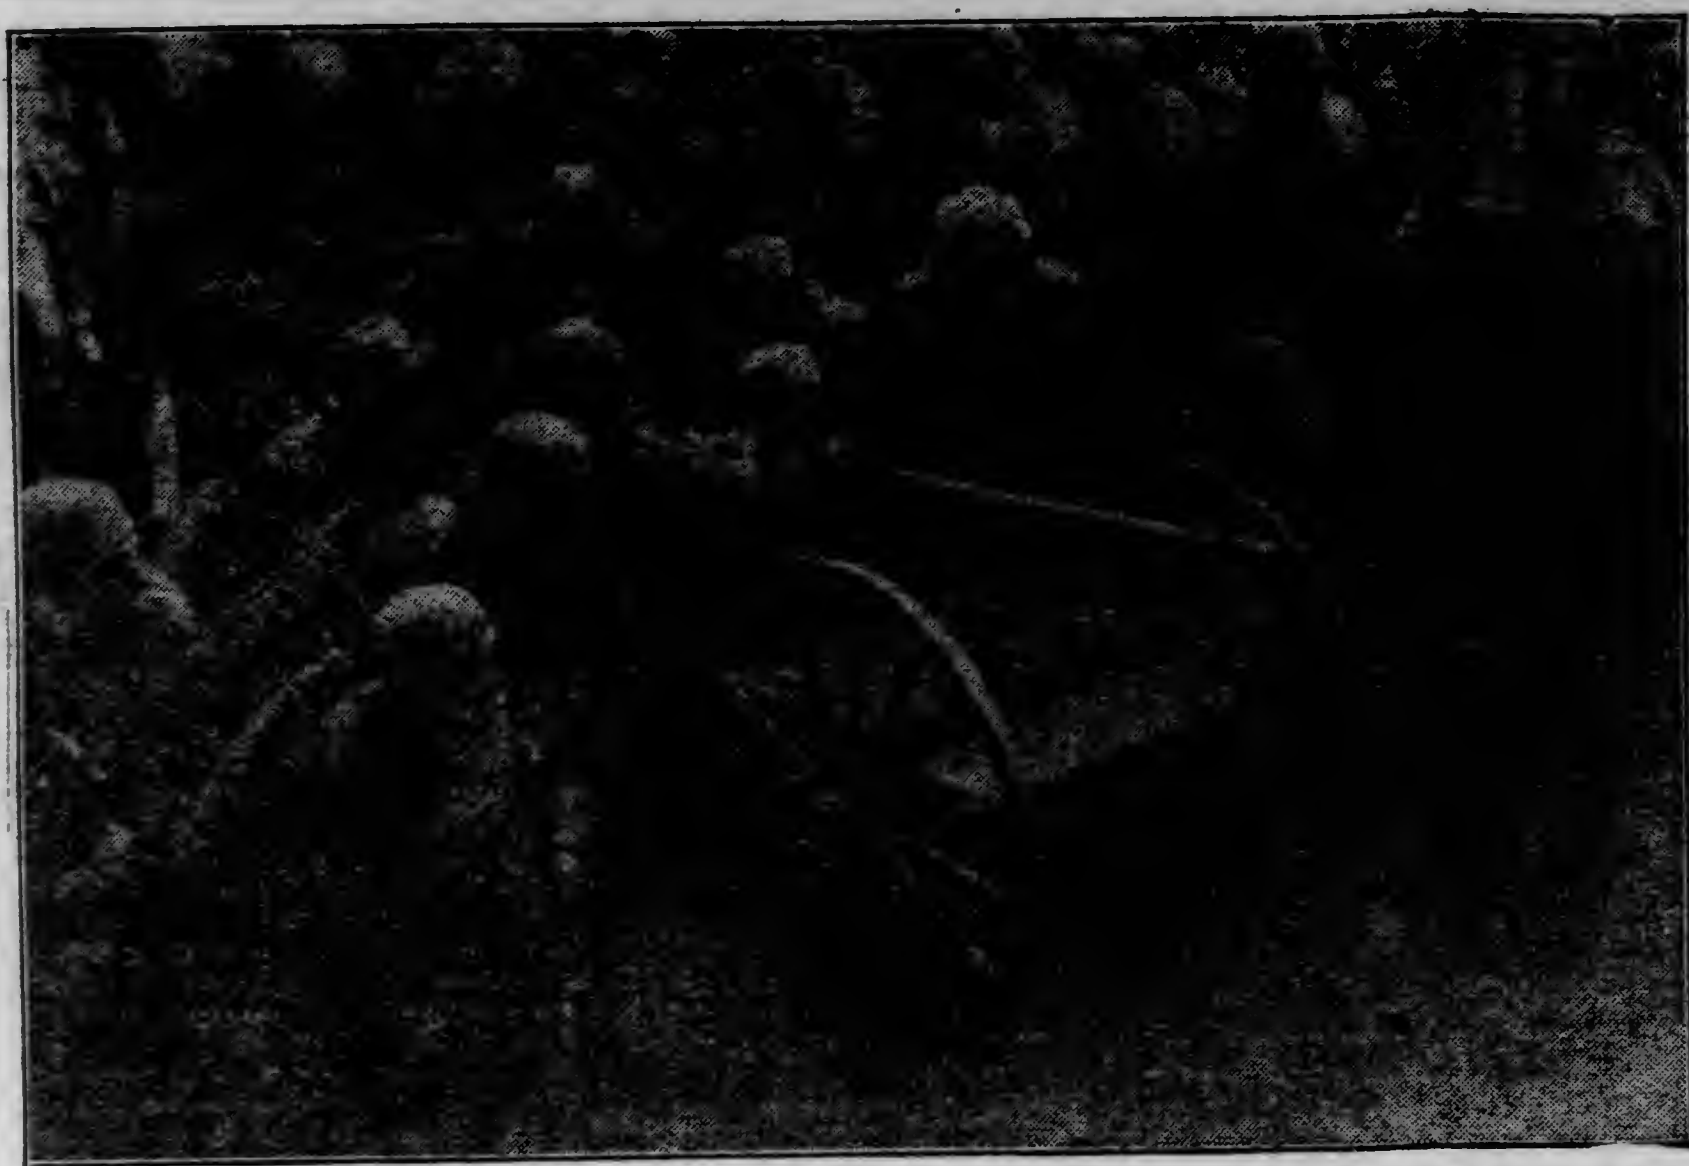

My "talks" are not intended to be mere recipes to an easy success. Observation has convinced me that there is no such thing in the motion picture profession. I shall try, however, to point out some of the difficulties that the "screen-struck girl" is apt to encounter, hoping thereby to help her avoid them, or, if not altogether avoid, at least recognize them when met and therefore be less prone to lose courage.

If a girl has not a good stock of patience and a heart for hard work, I can give her all the advice I have to offer in one short sentence: Don't aspire to be a motion picture actress. The "talks" that are to follow are intended only for girls with ambition, courage and a real American determination.

And now, if my short chat above has made me sufficiently well acquainted with my readers, I have a very particular favor to ask. Please write to me and fill your letters full of questions. I shall try to answer them in my "talks." I may not find space for all, but I shall do my best and they will help me to more definitely appreciate the problems that puzzle the girl who hopes to be a picture actress. These questions will be of real assistance to me. My address is San Rafael, Cal.

GUEST-STARS SUNDAY NIGHTS AT THE "HIP"

Those who are spending a Sunday evening in New York will find rare amusement at the Hippodrome where John Philip Sousa is appearing regularly with his fine band. And that is not all. Charles Dillingham has provided a series of guest stars and one or more famous operatic celebrities appear each Sunday with the march king. This notable list has already included Melba, Emmy Destinn, Alice Nielsen, the incomparable Pavlova and the future promises Julia Culp, Kathleen Farlow, Percy Grainger and other distinguished stars of the concert and operatic stage. New York musical writers pronounce this the most remarkable series of Sunday concerts ever arranged.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Elsie Janis made her first appearance in Hall Caine's new play, "Margaret Schiller," at the Apollo theater, Atlantic City, on last Friday night. After the engagement in Atlantic City the production will move to Washington, and later to New York.

The co-starring engagement of James K. Hackett and Viola Allen in "Macbeth," and other Shakespearean plays will begin on Feb. 7 at the Criterion, New York, which theater has been leased by Hackett, and will be the base of the various new productions he has in hand.

Francis Starr, in "Marie Odile," is establishing a new record at the Standard theater, upper Broadway. Evidently the criticism hurled at this play early in the season has done no harm. David Belasco has accepted a new play, called "The Wanderer," written by Maurice V. Samuels and described as a poetical Biblical play in three acts.

"The Land of the Free," one of the Shubert productions, died after one week of existence. The play deals with war, and is said to be somewhat pro-German. No plans for its revival have been announced.

Richard Carle has been assigned to the principal comedy role in the new play by George M. Cohan revue, which is to be presented at the Astor. Rehearsals are now under way, and the opening is expected to take place late next month or early in March.

Rida Johnson Young has written a new play entitled "Buried Treasures," which has been acquired by Sam H. Harris, and will be produced by the Shuberts. Miss Dorset is but 18 years old and this is her second appearance on the stage. She had a small part in "The Garden of Paradise" last season.

William Elliott has engaged Olive Wyndham for the leading role in "The Great Nation," Elliott, who is co-author of the piece with Marion Crigh-ton, will play opposite Miss Wyndham.

Andreas Dippel has revived "The Spring Maid" and will present it on a tour of the cities in which it has never been played.

A sketch has been prepared in which to launch Tod Sloan, former jockey, in vaudeville. "At Sheephead Bay" is the title of the piece, which is based on an incident at the race track. A. R. De Beer, the author, signed Sloan to play the principal role.

George MacFarlane will be starred by Joseph Brooks in a new play entitled "Heart of the Heather," which tells a story of Scotland at the beginning of the nineteenth century. It is from the pen of Glen MacDonough.

The much heralded and often delayed New York premier of Eugene Walter's "A Plain Woman" will occur on Jan. 17 at the Forty-eighth Street theater, following "The Eternal Magdalene."

"Treasure Island" has made such a hit in New York that a second company will be sent to tour the Middle Western cities. Among the players engaged for the second company are George Pawcett, Arthur Forrest, Geoffrey Stein, Ruby Hallier, Ruth Vivian and Viola Knott.

Margaret Anglin has accepted a new play by Rupert Hughes, entitled "The Perch of the Devil" after Gertrude Atherton's novel.

Agnes Dornette, who gives such a remarkable impersonation of the stately Lancashire lass in "Hobson's Choice" at the Comedy theater, will shortly appear in an important role in a new comedy, which will be produced by the Shuberts. Miss Dornette is but 18 years old and this is her second appearance on the stage. She had a small part in "The Garden of Paradise" last season.

WHY THEY WANT TO CAGE 'EM. Dartmouth Jack-o'-Lantern: "I'll have to get a new typewriter. The paint has all come off this one," said the boss, as he brushed off his coat.

Muslin was first made at Mosul, in Mesopotamia, and was introduced into England in the middle of the seventeenth century.

WEATHER MAN GIVES SOME TIPS TO THE AMATEUR FORECASTERS OF DULUTH

Arrangements for Making Uncle Sam's Forecasts Are Elaborate and Technical, But Layman May Work With Simple Rules.

There are few periods of the year when the public does not look with interest at the weather forecasts as published in the newspaper, posted in public buildings, and displayed from the flag pole of the weather bureau on the hill, but it is probable that at no time is the forecast perused with keener interest than in midwinter, when the possibility of cold waves, snow, and thaw is always at hand.

The making of forecasts by the members of the staff of the United States weather bureau is an interesting study, and is the subject of much curiosity. H. W. Richardson, weather forecaster in Duluth, is perhaps one of the most qualified men in the city when he gets into a gathering, and he is frequently invited to give an address following dinner or on some semi-public occasion on the inner workings of his profession.

The arrangements for forecast-making of the United States weather bureau are elaborate and necessarily technical. The service was not begun until 1870 and Duluth, by the way, was one of the first stations established, being opened Oct. 16, 1870—but as only a small amount was originally appropriated by congress, the start was necessarily modest. In the last forty-five years, however, it has grown to be one of the most important departments of the Federal government.

Established in 1870. In a historical way, it may be noted, that, although the United States furnished the first men, among them Benjamin Franklin, who noticed the progressive character of storms and demonstrated the practicability of weather observations, this country was the fourth to establish weather bureaus. Holland was the first, beginning such a department in 1860; England was second in 1861, and France was third, in 1863.

As to forecasting, the weather bureau gives the following tip to the "common or garden variety" of forecaster, namely, the layman: "When the wind sets in from points between south and southwest and the barometer falls steadily, a storm is approaching from the west or northwest and its center will pass near or north of the observer within twelve to twenty-four hours, with wind shifting to northwest by way of south and southwest. When the wind sets in from points between east and northeast and the barometer falls steadily, a storm is approaching from the south or southwest and its center will pass near or to the south or east of the observer within twelve to twenty-four hours, with the wind shifting to northwest by way of the north. The rapidity of the storm's approach and its intensity will be indicated by the rate and the amount of the fall in the barometer."

Of course that is not all the official weather observer goes by. He has lots of tips by wire from the various observers. Other rules for the ordinary observer are given out for forecasting

the weather by the aid of aneroid barometers, as follows:

Rising Barometer. "A rapid rise indicates unsettled weather."

A gradual rise indicates settled weather. "A rise with dry air and cold increasing in summer indicates wind from the northward; and if rain has fallen, better weather may be expected."

A fall with moist air and a low temperature indicates wind and rain from the northward. "A rise with southerly winds indicates fine weather."

Falling Barometer. "A rapid fall indicates stormy weather."

A rapid fall with westerly winds indicates stormy weather from the northward. "A fall with a northerly wind indicates storm, with rain and hail in summer and snow in winter."

How Bureau Does It. But with the weather bureau, telegraphic observing stations are maintained in all parts of the country. Every twelve hours, at 7:15 a. m. and 7:45 p. m., seventy-fifth meridian, all observers begin their work of observation, each in his respective territory, and recording the weather conditions, each in his respective territory. The sky is observed and the clouds are classified; the barometer is read and corrections are applied to obtain the corresponding reading for sea level, so that all barometers may show the same value for the same place. The direction and velocity of the wind are noted, the rainfall or snowfall, if any, is measured, the current temperature and the extremes since the previous observation are given out for forecasting vation are taken from the several thermometers, in fact all data possible as to weather conditions and phenomena are recorded.

Each observer then condenses the information he has obtained into a telegraphic cipher message of four or five words, and these messages are transmitted to main line telegraphic circuits and are collected at the central office in Washington and are also interchanged between many of the larger cities where forecasters are stationed. These reports are compiled, if the word may be used in this connection, at the Washington office, and the weather maps are constructed from them.

In less than two hours from the time the observations are taken, the results of the compilation are telegraphed back to the various stations, and the maps which are displayed about the city each morning are the result.

The maps are descriptions of conditions existing at the time the observations are taken; the forecasts regarding the probable movements and developments for the time specified. When one considers that records show that the forecasts as compared with the actual weather, the forecast is probably correct 85 per cent, it will be acknowledged, most probably that the weather observer does not fall much below the average human's percentage of error.

NEW STYLE IN FIRES SAYS FIREMAN BLAZES FROM 3 TO 4 P. M.

It is a custom among firefighters to expect the "business" between 8 and 8 p. m., when the tired business man has left his office and is eating, or has finished his dinner.

Fashions in fires have changed, according to Assistant Chief C. V. Wilson, and now the busiest hours of the day, as a rule, are between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon. At least that is what is shown by the fire department's twenty-sixth annual report, which Chief Joseph Randall issued yesterday.

During 1915, the department apparatus was called out forty-two times between the hours of 3 and 4 p. m. It is a better record than that made by any other hour in the twenty-four.

The quietest hours are the wee ones, between 3 a. m. and 5 a. m.

Labor exchanges throughout Britain found work for 1,100,000 people last year.

WILL DISPLAY WHEAT MODELS

Sixty Lines of Cars Will Be Shown at Mill City Show.

Decorations Will Be Lavish; Eight Makes of Leading Trucks.

More than sixty lines of automobiles of every character will be exhibited at the ninth annual automobile show of the Minneapolis Automobile Trade association, to be held in the National Guard armory and its annex Jan. 29 to Feb. 5.

The show will be staged in surroundings more beautifully decorated than any ever known in Minneapolis before. The armory and annex, each of a separate style of decoration, will be veritable bowers of beauty, decorated without regard to expense and in such a setting will be shown every well known make of car, both pleasure and business, and both gasoline and electric driven, and in addition motor trucks, which are now beginning to attract much attention.

Glancing over the list of displays, there will be found eight of the leading makes of motor trucks, a good showing at this time when so many of the truck manufacturers are engaged in the turning out of successful trucks for war duty that they are paying little attention to civilian business. In the pleasure car field there are to be shown no less than fifty lines of gasoline-driven cars and several lines of the well-known electric pleasure drive. The list, and in addition to these there are the exhibits of miniature automobiles of the automobile, the pedal-driven variety, making a considerable exhibit of interest to all youngsters of the land.

Two score exhibitors of automobile accessories form a division which is much larger than any display of accessories outside of the national shows at which members of the motor and accessory associations are only invited to exhibit. The exhibit will in all the complete display for the ninth annual show, which will this year open Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, is so noteworthy as to attract national attention. The exhibit shows other than the national exhibits have been broken and there is indication that the annual exhibit will through force of circumstances, bring business the like of which was never known before.

FORD KEEPS UP HOSPITAL

Staff of Physicians and Surgeons Protects Army

No Fatalities at Ford Plants
During the Last Year.

It is probably not generally known that in order to safeguard the health and lives of the army of Ford employees, totaling on an average of 15,000 per day during the year ending July 31 last, and now running over 24,000, the Ford motor company maintains a well equipped medical department and staff of physicians and surgeons right in the factory itself. The annual report of the medical department has just been made and it shows some very interesting figures. Demonstrating that the Ford employees appreciate and take advantage of the opportunity to have their injuries and bodily ailments promptly treated in a scientific manner, 164,331 cases were treated during the year of this number 86 2-3 per cent were cases of injury, and 33 1-2 per cent, cases of a medical character. The vast majority of accidents were of a minor nature. In fact, during the year there was not a single case of fatal injury in the Ford plant, inasmuch as more than 2,400 individuals are now employed, this showing is extraordinary. On the whole the number of accidents is amazingly small when one considers the enormous number of men employed and compares it with the records of other manufacturing plants throughout the country.

During the year 11,845 men were hired. Each of these men was examined physically first, in order that he be not assigned to work for which he would be unfit physically and that there might not be any danger of any communicable disease.

The medical department makes a point of investigating with great care any requests to be transferred to other departments. It is for this reason that a man is justified in asking to be changed to work for which his physical condition is better suited. And such cases, of course, receive the attention of the medical staff.

This department also sees that the entire huge Ford plant is thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. A provision has also been made for the inspection of the whole factory at that time.

The Ford medical department also has gone very thoroughly into an investigation of tuberculosis. It has been found, for example, that tubercular workmen have improved when employed in the heat and dry atmosphere. Here the warm, dry atmosphere with a humidity which averages about 45 and which is lower than the average of Denver, Colo., offers ideal conditions. The patient is instructed in all hygienic measures and what is still more important, is assured that proper treatment and arrangements will be made to maintain him and his family during his illness and convalescence. A provision has also been made by the medical department to give more care to the cases of any kind, the Ford motor company maintains fifteen beds in the Detroit tuberculosis sanatorium, and the fam-

HERALD'S WEEKLY ROADS BUREAU AND BULLETIN

Washington, Jan. 15.—An interesting statement pertaining to the heavy increase in the numbers of those "Seeing America First," which can be applied particularly to transcontinental motorists over the Lincoln highway, is made in a section of the annual report of the secretary of the department of the interior, Franklin K. Lane. This report shows that more than $100,000,000 formerly spent by American tourists in Europe was divided during the last year among the allied enterprises catering to the traveling public in the United States.

Every Community Shared. It is known that transcontinental travel over the Lincoln highway increased from 300 per cent to 600 per cent, and it is safe to say that every community traversed by this great thoroughfare received its fair share of the money. The rapid development of the Lincoln highway means a great deal, as can be determined from the foregoing statement. With the American people traveling that thoroughly, it will mean keeping this vast sum of money at home and distributing it over a wide area of our own country. Secretary Lane has in mind the economic value of encouraging this home travel, and in his report presents the advisability of a plan to make the beauty spots of the United States more accessible to the pleasure traveler, particularly those in the West, and to continue to attract each year to the natural playground of this country more and more of those American citizens who, in former years, spent their vacation abroad.

Frank Pollock, Carson Lake, Minn., head of the Lincoln highway, the Copper Country via Duluth, Ashland, etc., and returning by the way of Marquette, Grand Marais, and Duluth. Where can I get some good road maps?

The Goodrich Tire company of Akron, Ohio, last summer prepared a series of maps on the routes you have outlined and these are furnished free for the asking. Write to the touring bureau of the company.

A magnificent scenic road of 240 miles long, around the island of Hawaii, has been completed. The entire circuit can be made in two days and is becoming increasingly popular with motorists. It is also rapidly increasing the demand for cars in that part of the world.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—That all the roads of a state cannot be improved simultaneously and that the most used roads are the ones that need improvement, is again exemplified in Missouri, where at Sedalia the Permanent Highway Commission is now engaged in a project to improve the main highway from Sedalia to St. Louis.

Also, since last June, fifty-four persons added to the use of drugs and alcohol have been sent to the Ford general hospital to be treated.

Counting the number of cases of medical treatment accorded by the Ford medical department to the families of Ford workmen, the number of cases treated through this department for the year reach the enormous total of 206,324.

PREFER AUTOS FOR PLEASURE TRIPS

Many Transcontinental Tours By Motor During Last Year.

"Railroads for long pleasure trips are being replaced noticeably by automobiles," says Joseph Peascha, local Franklin agent.

"The summer of 1915 saw many transcontinental tours by motorists, who have gained thereby in interest and far greater amount of scenery than if viewed along the railroad right-of-way. The number of automobiles must be constructed to withstand the unusual stress and wear of road traveling and must embody comfort and ease to insure absolute pleasure to the passenger."

"In making an overland trip all types of roads will be encountered, as it is a well known fact that some states have not progressed as far in road building as others. Good roads would naturally call for good spring construction and the lighter type of cars seem to meet this emergency."

WILL ECLIPSE ALL FORMER AUTO SHOWS

Space Will Be at Premium at Chicago Display Rooms.

So many new developments have been recorded in the progress of the automobile industry during the last year that the 1916 exposition of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, Inc., scheduled for Jan. 22 to 29, at the Coliseum and Haystack armory in Chicago bids fair to eclipse all previous exhibitions.

Under this heading The Duluth Herald is conducting a weekly column of information for automobile motorists. All the information state disposal is yours for the asking. Motorists outside of Minnesota are especially invited to make use of this department.

Road improvement association was recently organized. Thirty cities of the state, including St. Louis and Kansas City, were represented in the meeting. The keynote of which was the great value to the commonwealth of connecting its centers of population and at the same time providing for ultimate attention to the feeder roads which will fit into the most important highways. The Permanent Road Improvement association believes that there should be a logical Federal co-operation with the several states, with Federal money utilized with state money in the building of the postroads which must accept the greatest burden of traffic.

During the past few years many symmetrically designed steel and concrete bridges have been built under plans furnished by the state highway commission throughout Minnesota, which have proved to be decorations to the rural landscape. The effect has been spoiled, however, according to officials of the commission by signs posted on them by country merchants, defacing the structures.

Legislation has been introduced to prohibit the posting of signs on any bridges in the state. In the meantime the commission will call on boards of county commissioners and road supervisors to stop the practice.

The Huron, S. D., Commercial club has invited to automobile tourists, 963 commission to send speakers to a good roads convention to be held there Feb. 2 and 3. The speakers will be a state engineer, or one of his assistants will go. Township officials, supervisors and road overseers will be delegates to the sessions.

"Since the practice of employing prisoners on highways was adopted in Arizona, three years ago, the advantages of the system have become increasingly apparent," states Gov. George W. Hunt in a letter to the national committee on prisons and prison labor.

As a means of securing good roads in Virginia, Fairfax county is installing the old toll gate system. The various states of the Union expended $172,683,000 for good roads in 1915 as compared with $167,334,000 in 1914.

Since August when Yellowstone park was closed to automobile tourists, 963 cars carrying 3,513 people, made the trip through the park.

Thousands of Owners Discuss Speedway Events of Coming Season.

Indianapolis Issues Entry
Blanks at New York
Auto Show.

New York, Jan. 15.—Perhaps no subject was of greater interest among the thousands of automobile owners gathered here during the automobile show than the coming season's speedway races. During the automobile show, the Indianapolis Motor speedway, the first built in the United States, issued its entry blanks for its sixth annual international sweepstakes race to be held in Indianapolis Tuesday, May 30, 1916.

The distance for this year's race is 300 miles. The opportunity to get rich "quick" is more potent for 1916 than ever before for the driver who is able to capture first place at Indianapolis, New York, Chicago and other speedways.

The Hoosier event will start at 1:30 p. m. and is for class "A" cars, non-exceed 300 cubic inches piston displacement, over or under maximum weight 2,500 pounds.

The management of the speedway, namely, C. G. Fisher, president; A. C. Newby, first vice president; F. H. Wheeler, second vice president; J. A. Allison, secretary and treasurer, and C. Myers, general manager, have already opened the speedway's offices on North Capitol avenue, Indianapolis, are busy preparing for the coming carnival of speed which will initiate the new year's racing season.

It is interesting to note that every car must show a speed of at least eighty miles per hour in the official speed trials of one lap of the track in order to be eligible to start in the race. These speed trials are to be held on May 26 and 27. A ruling of the committee is that the American Automobile association, which will be enforced, declares that not more than three cars of any one make may start in any one speed event as a factory or team entry. Two additional cars of the same make may start, provided they are entered by individuals having no connection with the factory team, but are bona fide private entries. In event of more than five cars of one make being entered, the fastest five in the official speed trials shall be eligible.

Notable among the important features which characterize the latest Cole eight, the model 880, which was first shown at the New York automobile show—are the counterbalanced crank shaft and aluminum pistons.

The first thing that the Cole company intended to enter its already efficient eight-cylinder motor by incorporating these two additional improvements, was given in last October, when the chief engineer of the Cole Motor Car company, Charles S. Crawford, announced in an address on the eight cylinder engine before the Indiana section of the Society of Automotive Engineers that these two features already had been given a most thorough test.

Ninety pleasure cars and electric and ten motor trucks will be on exhibition at the second annual automobile show to be staged at the new armory during the week of Feb. 7-12, judging from the entries already received by W. Every automobile dealer in Duluth has entered the automobile show, according to reports from the officials of the Duluth Automobile Dealers' association.

Leonard McNamara received word that the old Studebaker chassis, which was on exhibition at New York, cannot arrive here in time for the local show. He was assured of its arrival here some time this winter.

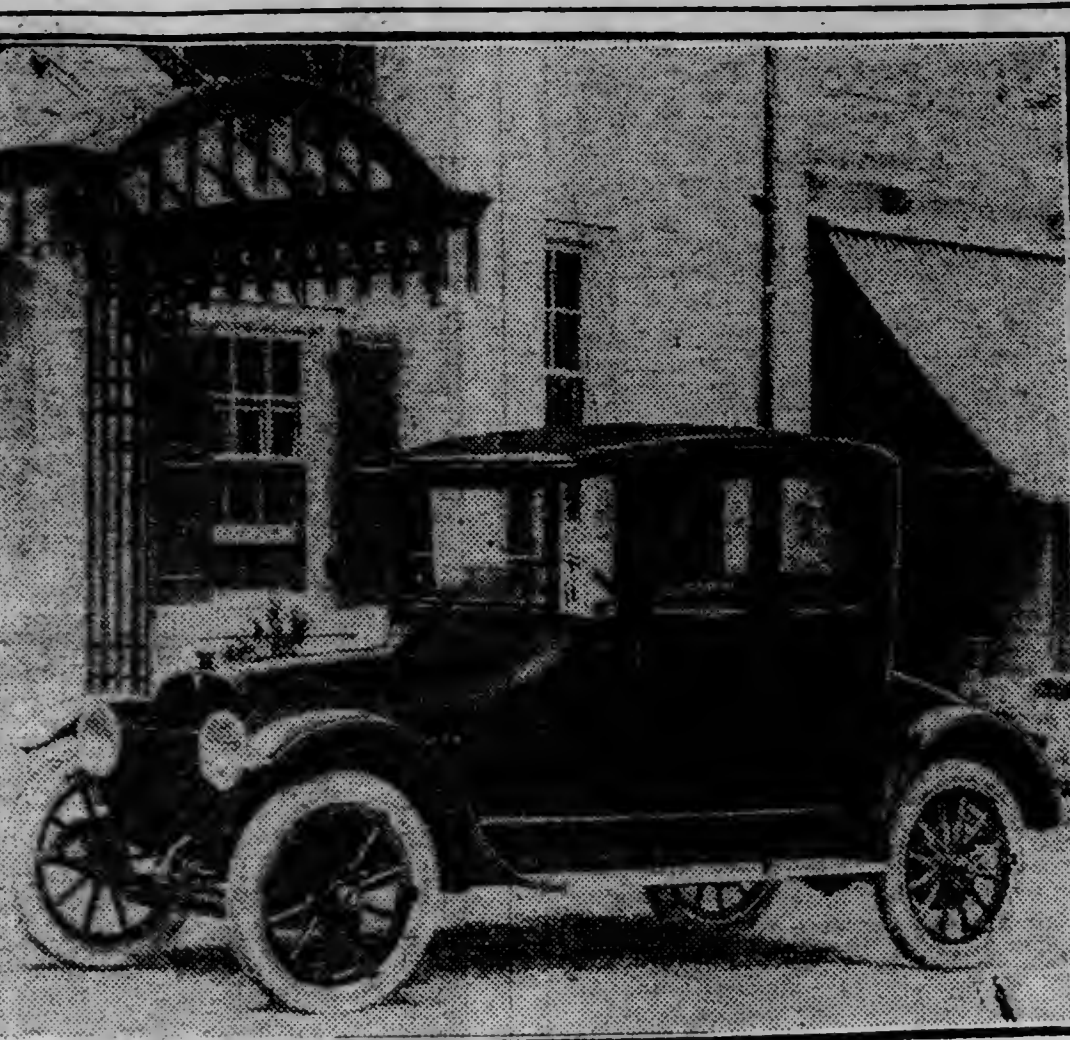

The Packard factory has promised to send the armored automobile which was on exhibition at the San Francisco fair.

Three Oakland models and a winter Dodge will be shown by the Whitney Motor company.

Manager Daly will leave for the Chicago show on Jan. 24 and after remaining there for the week will visit the show in Minneapolis before returning home.

NEW SEVEN-PASSENGER HUDSON "SUPER-SIX" STARTLES MOTORDOM

COUPE MODEL OF NEW HUDSON "SUPER-SIX."

The new, seven-passenger Hudson "super-six," just announced at the New York show, has startled the motor world.

The motor is no larger than last year's motor, but the power has been increased by 80 per cent. The best power heretofore effectively produced by a six-cylinder motor of this capacity was about 46-horse power. The new Hudson "super-six," effectively uses 6-horse power. Yet the new motor is strictly conventional in every feature. It is simply an advance on the present type of standard motor, with the addition of the new discovery of the Hudson engineers. This discovery is each of the new development of the motor developed power. The motor developed 84-horse power as in old type sixes, leaving the immense margin of 76-horse power to be utilized in driving the car.

The local representative of the Hudson company has done his best to reach the apex in the new car, both in open and closed models of which there are six. The car has new body lines. The radiator is higher. The line of the car sweeps in an unbroken curve direct from the radiator to the back of the rear seat. The windshield is slanted. The car has the dividing cowl on the back of the front seat. All the upholstery is in genuine grain leather.

A new vacuum feed system with the supply tank in the rear of the car, and the feed tank beneath the cowl, has been developed specially for the Hudson "super-six." Also a new carburetor has been developed which is a marvel of inventive skill. Only one chassis is furnished for the "super-six," but on what is known as the bodies, the phaeton, the touring sedan, the cabriolet, the limousine, the town car and the roadster. Prices range from $1,375 for the phaeton to $2,500 for the limousine and the town car.

Demonstrators and sample cars are already being shipped and every assistance given of prompt delivery.

The local representative of the Hudson is Fred G. Kleyn.

Wheeler, second vice president; J. A. Allison, secretary and treasurer, and C. Myers, general manager, have already opened the speedway's offices on North Capitol avenue, Indianapolis, are busy preparing for the coming carnival of speed which will initiate the new year's racing season.

THE AUTOMOBILE AND THE BOY

By HUGH CHALMERS

The motor car business, as a whole, is no longer a business of inflated profits. Manufacturers today pay their dividends by resorting to large quantity production. The profit per car is a very small item.

Many people get the wrong impression from reading figures of big sales. The sales have grown big of necessity. In order to produce cars at the present quality and price standards the makers have given the people the advantages that come with increased production. The benefits of savings effected have come to the buyers of automobiles alone.

I venture the assertion that most standard automobile manufacturers today are making less money per car than at any previous time in their history. The business continues big because the demand is big.

Almost every man in this country cherishes the hope that some day he will own an automobile. Baseball continues the great American sport because the boys of eight, ten and twelve years know the names of most of the players and therefore the interest in baseball for the next generation or two is assured.

The same rule applies to automobiles. Almost any boy of ten or twelve can tell you the name of every car that passes in the street. These boys are the prospects for automobiles fifteen years from now. It is largely on account of their interest that automobile manufacturers feel warranted in doubling their manufacturing facilities and increasing their equipment.

If there is a mechanical trend to the boy whose father owns a car he will have every bit of its lore at his tongue's end. I know boys of twelve years who can reel off a series of engineering facts about the principal American automobiles that would dumbfound a S. A. E. member.

There are dozens of little chores about the home garage that will interest the boy and keep him out of trouble. Let him learn to drive, and he will give him a sense of responsibility and importance.

I have noticed with interest the enthusiasm of the lucky boy who gets to go to the New York or Chicago show. He fits from one exhibit to the next, eyes sparkling, catching every detail. He sizes up the newest arrivals, makes his comparisons and places them definitely in his mind. And, after all, his judgment is by no means so immature as one might suppose.

One of the best evidences of the American boy's interest in the automobile is the way he follows the latest thing. Investigation has shown that a number of the best-selling automobile books, catalogs and other literature come from the small boy who wants to keep posted on these matters.

There is no question but that the family is influenced directly, or indirectly, in the purchase of their new car by the verdict of the boy.

NOTES FROM THE FACTORIES

Willis-Overland, Inc., as has been previously announced, has been organized under the laws of Virginia to take over the marketing of the products of the Willis-Overland company.

The stock in the new corporation is entirely owned by the parent company and its officers and directors are all from the active official staff of the Willis-Overland company.

The change has been made for the greater convenience of the general sales department in carrying out some new selling plans. Heretofore Overland executive sales work has been concentrated at and restricted to the home office at Toledo.

In the future it will be handled on what is known as the zone plan with thirteen zones and zone managers all reporting to the general sales department in charge of H. B. Harper as general sales manager and Joseph McEluffee as assistant sales manager at Toledo.

Dodge Bros., Detroit, have just completed their first year as manufacturers of motor cars and the record established is unique even in this amazing industry.

The first completed car rolled out of the plant in December, 1914, and actual shipments started in January.

With the close of the first year Dodge Bros. merely state that the public has "bought more than $35,000,000 worth" of their cars. Nothing is said of profit. The announcement is made that the demand, which has always been ahead of production, remains unabated.

The exterior construction work of the new several new buildings now being erected for the Fisk Rubber company at Alhambra, Pa., is nearly completed. With the new structures the Fisk company has twenty-nine acres of floor space and is ready to meet the manufacture and distribution of tires, the capacity in automobile casings alone being increased to 15,000 a day.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the H. H. Franklin Manufacturing company, an increase of $1,000,000 in common stock was authorized. The previous authorized issue of preferred stock which was resold last July remained at $2,600,000.

The new stock issue is for the purpose of taking care of the expansion of the company's plant and general extension of the business. It will be financed entirely within the company's own capital stock now stands at $2,600,000.

YEAR MEMORABLE ONE FOR AUTO MEN

Enormous Profits Made
Despite Cut in Car
Prices.

The year 1917 has gone into the records of automobile manufacturers and holders of motor car company securities as a most memorable one. The year was marked by profits on an unprecedented scale, despite sharp reductions in prices of cars, by production totals averaging almost double those of the preceding year, and by increased distributions to stockholders and phenomenal advances in the market prices of automobile stocks.

The demand for passenger cars in the country has been a steady one, surpassing the expectations of the most optimistic, and the war threw on the American automobile manufacturer the burden of supplying the world with motor cars.

In the early part of the year, the demand from the belligerent nations of Europe for vehicles resulted in a complete change in the character of our exports. In the early part of the year, a stream of trucks and other commercial vehicles in the year ended June 30, 1917, were the times those of the preceding twelve months, and exports of passenger cars were 25 per cent of those of 1916. In the more recent months the demand for American passenger cars from central America, South America, Australia and the Far East has assumed proportions and indicated possibilities which give basis to the prediction that the American automobile manufacturer will become the dominant factor in the motor car trade of the world, especially in low priced machines.

Holders of the automobile stocks have reaped a rich harvest in the past year. Dividends, initial and increased, have been the feature of the period, and extra dividends have been distributed in certain cases.

The stocks of the four companies listed on the New York Stock exchange have had record-breaking advances in the past two months. The extreme range of price movement in these issues is shown in the following table:

RAPID STRIDES IN RACING DURING THE LAST YEAR

The year 1917 will go down in racing history as epochal. Dreams of years become reality, and in race after race drivers hurled their speed creations about the big saucers at a rate of more than ninety miles an hour.

In 1916 the best previous record of 87.8 miles per hour was raised to 105.4 miles per hour—a difference of 17.6 miles. In no year since automobiles racing first began has there been such a rapid stride.

The first race ever held was in Chicago in 1895. Two wheeled power-buggies started a run to Waukegan and return on a cold November day over streets crusted with snow. The 70 miles were traveled in 9 hours and 20 minutes at the tremendous rate of 7.5 miles per hour. The startling fact was not the speed, but that the power buggies would run at all.

That was the insignificant start—but from then until 1904 there was a rapid increase in the speed attained each year. A French race in 1895 developed speed of 14.9 miles per hour over 740-mile course. The French kept ahead of the American inventors in perfecting the gasoline engine until 1905, Lancia in 1904 driving a Fiat in the Florio cup race at 72 miles an hour.

Then for ten years it seemed that motor racing had reached a dead level. Between 1904 and 1914 there was only an increase of six miles per hour, and not until Eddie Pullen urged his speedy Mercer over the Corona, Cal. track in 1914 at the rate of 87.8 was there any perceptible development.

Since that time records have fallen thick and fast. Ralph De Palma in his Mercedes started the ball rolling in Indianapolis on Decoration day by averaging 89.4 for 100 miles. Less than a month later Dario Resta, at Chicago, eclipsed that record by averaging 97.5 miles per hour and on last Labor day Gil Anderson made the mark still better by driving 350 miles at 102.5. In a match race, held early in October at Sheepshead Bay, Resta again raised the mark to 106.4 for 100 miles.

The past year, however, witnessed a complete reversal. Close followers of the drivers and their records were the first to notice that there were fewer accidents and far less tire changes. Non-stop records jumped from 250 miles to 500 miles. Considering the speed at which the cars were driven, the absence of accidents is remarkable.

REFUGEE CHILDREN IN FRANCE

How the Government and Individuals Are Taking Care of Thousands Orphaned By the War.

(Exclusive Service, the Survey Press Bureau.)

Where in the news of battles and slaughter that comes from Europe today is there room to tell what is happening to the refugee children who have been orphaned by the war? How are they being cared for, by relatives, by friends, by societies? Mrs. Ernest P. Ricknell, who went to Europe after her husband, director of the Rockefeller War Relief commission, has returned and now tells of some of the work she saw in France for refugee children.

"The most spectacular work with children in Paris," writes Mrs. Ricknell, "is that at St. Sulpice, where little refugees and orphans are received by the hundreds and afterwards turned over to other agencies or placed in homes and colonies."

"It is a stirring experience to see a thousand or more little ones come rushing into the great dining room at St. Sulpice when the hour for the evening meal arrives. They come in groups of twos and threes, the older leading the younger, sometimes a little boy of 3 carefully guiding his sister of 2, but all happy for warm, wholesome food is at hand."

"Finally they are all seated at the table. No there comes a little boy crying because he can find no place. The black bread he picks up and tucks him in. There is much laughter and happy chatter as the soup is served. Each child begins to eat as soon as his plate is filled. Look at that dear baby at the end of the bench! She bravely tries to fill her spoon, but it will tip over and all the soup is spilled before it reaches her mouth. She smiles, licks the spoon and tries again. The caretaker tells me she will feed the baby when the children are all served."

"The policemen of Paris feel that the work at St. Sulpice is peculiarly their own. They started and supported it until it grew so large that outside help was required. Another organization in Paris is called the National Association for Orphans of the War. Originally it took motherless children whose fathers had gone to the front. More recently it has also cared for those whose fathers have died on the battlefield. The society now has 2,000 children which it maintains in various parts of France in colonies of from ten to twelve, each group cared for by a war-widow who often has one or two of her own little ones in the colony. The government partially supports this work by means of a small subsidy."

"The work, however, which perhaps makes the strongest appeal is that for the Flemish, French and Alsatian children of the frontier whose parents have been killed or driven into exile, whose homes have been destroyed and who, though they may not all be the children of soldier heroes, are the innocent victims caught by that dreadful tide of battle continually advancing and receding, along the French and Belgian border."

who are reaching forth a helping hand to these friendless children, who are not looked after by any other organization and who are not provided with aid by any government. Mrs. Cooper Hewitt is honorary president; August Jaccard president; Mrs. Robert Woods Bliss, wife of the secretary of the American embassy in Paris, vice president; and Frederic R. Coudert, of Coudert Brothers, New York, treasurer. The executive committee consists of Mr. Jacques, Mrs. Jules, the Countess Pierre de Viel Castel, formerly Miss Ripley of America, Mrs. William H. Hill and Mrs. Frances G. Hill of Boston.

"The first charges of the committee were some 200 children from Belgium who had been made homeless by the bombardment of their town. Coudert secured the loan of a seminary situated in Yvetot, Normandy, where the children were given shelter. Later when this was needed for a hospital the children were removed to the Chateau Grosbois, not far from Yvetot. The work thus inaugurated by Mr. Coudert was taken over by the committee which then came into existence."

"Many demands soon began coming to the committee for relief agents who were responsible for the placing of orphaned and evacuated children from the invaded districts. Among the requests was one from a mother who acted as mayor of Soissons during the German occupation. She asked the committee to take eight children, whose mother had been killed in their presence by the bursting of a shell in the cellar of their home."

"Through the co-operation of the Order of St. Vincent de Paul, many of its Paris institutions were opened to the committee as temporary shelters. Upon their arrival, perhaps twenty-four hours of travel, the children are taken at once to one of these receiving stations where they are thoroughly washed, their clothing cleaned and each child supplied with absolute necessities. Then they are taken to the colony where they are under the care of Flemish or French sisters according as the children are Flemish or French. The committee now has about 1,000 children and applications are received every day. "At Versailles we visited the colony of 'Les Clarisses' where twenty little girls are living in part of an old convent which faces a wonderful garden. The children were at dinner, but arose as we entered and sang Tipperary for us in English and also a Flemish anthem. They probably did not understand what the words of Tipperary meant as they took out a Flemish, but they liked the music. I was especially attracted by three very beautiful little girls, one of whom had dark eyes and hair and was told that both their father and mother had been killed by shells when their town was bombarded."

"I wish you could read the story which the sister superior has written of the wanderings of this little band, of the barns which they lived in during winter with no covering at night except the straw, with no fire, how their feet and hands were frozen and how they lived upon the scraps of bread, meat and vegetables thrown away by the army, how their legs began to swell and spots to appear on their bodies because of the cold, how one of the sisters died and several of the children became ill and finally they were rescued by the committee and now are recovered and at work studying, sewing and knitting at the old convent of Les Clarisses."

"There are said to be more than 3,000 children in France along the border line in Belgium and Alsace for whom some provision must be made. The committee wishes to care for at least 5,000 of these children of the frontier this winter and can only do so through the help of the sympathetic Americans who have already given so liberally to suffering Belgium in the past."

MORE THAN 4,000 TRUCKS ON FARMS.

It is estimated that more than 4,000 American farmers are now using motor trucks. This is a very large number of the total number of trucks sold in the United States. These vehicles have nearly all been bought within the last two years, and they are now being used to a great extent in the production of food and other necessities of life. The position greatly strengthened by a recent canvass of the Kiesel company.

Outselling Any Other Car of Its Size —Virtually Two for One

Here is the value—now even greater—which has dominated the automobile market for the last eight months—steadily, overwhelmingly.

Here is the car with a performance record of unapproached magnitude—more than 60,000 in every-day service in the hands of owners.

Never before has the purchaser had so well founded, so emphatic, so conclusive a popular value-verdict to tell him which car to buy.

Yet we reduced the price and improved the car.

It has better upholstery.

The electrical control box on the steering column is operated by buttons instead of switches.

And it has the very latest en bloc type motor with a smooth flow of abundant power and an exceptionally fast "pick-up."

Present conditions are unusual—prices for materials are soaring.

Though we guarantee that the price for this model will never be lower, we must reserve the right to increase it at any time.

Now is the time to order your car either for immediate or future delivery.

See us and make your arrangements now.

DANGERS OF CROWDED CARS

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

The street and railroad cars have not sufficient air space for ventilation to permit of the carrying of more passengers than they can seat.

The over-crowding of our passenger transportation vehicles is an important factor in spreading the grip and the so-called colds that have terminated so seriously of late with the old and young.

If we did not stay up so late at night we might breakfast earlier and walk to and from our places of work. Every well man and woman leading a sedentary life should walk five or six miles a day in the open air assuming an erect carriage and swinging the arms freely.

We can get for days without food and water, but the moment air is cut off from our lungs we begin to struggle for that life-giving element. If it is not restored the person dies in minutes instead of days. From this we may get a true measure of the relative importance of air to life and how to maintain health we must breathe air that has not been robbed of its oxygen by another person just having used it. We must breathe in air free from poison given off from the bodies of those crowded in poorly ventilated places and particularly must we avoid air loaded with germs of grip, tuberculosis, pneumonia and other diseases.

When compelled to submit to the evils of crowded civilization during grip and pneumonia seasons it is well to go your doctor to write a prescription for a good disinfection solution to rinse the mouth and throat with several times a day. It has been demonstrated that there are many pneumonia germs in the mouths of those suffering from the grip.

EIGHTH EXPLOSION AT DUPONT PLANTS

Acid House at Gibbstown
Blows Up, Injuring Five Workmen.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 15.—An acid house at the plant of the Dupont Powder company, at Gibbstown, N. J., blew up last night, injuring five men, two of them probably fatally. It was the eighth explosion at the Dupont plant, within the last three months with a total of thirty-nine deaths and injury to twenty persons.

The building in which last night's accident occurred was of brick and iron construction and was known as the nitrate of ammonia crystallizing house. It was here that nitra was transformed from the crystal to liquid form to be used in the manufacture of dynamite. The structure was completely demolished at an estimated loss of $25,000. Officials of the company declared it was the first time they had an explosion of this kind. They said it probably was caused by gas which had formed in the process of transforming the nitrate crystals. S. B. Landis, representing the company, stated the plant is carefully guarded and that there is no reason to suspect that the blast was due to other than natural causes. Edward Bubb, superintendent of the plant, and Isaac Gibson were the most seriously injured. It is feared neither will recover.

HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Central Pupils Prepare for First Semester Examinations—Two Editors of the Spectator Resign—Wallace Cup Contest Coming Soon—Miss Currie Wins Prize in "Original Idea" Contest.

The students of Central high school are on the home stretch of the first semester, there being but one more week of work before the final examinations for the first half of the school year. Most of the students, especially the ones who have been somewhat backward in their work thus far, are grinding hard at their studies, and social and other activities are left temporarily in the background.

The examinations will begin on Wednesday of the following week. The schedule of examinations, as announced by Principal Young, is as follows:

Wednesday, Jan. 26,
12:15 to 2:30 p. m.—English.
Thursday, Jan. 27,
8:30 to 10:15 a. m.—History and economics.
10:15 to 12 a. m.—German, cooking and commercial arithmetic.
12:15 to 2:30 p. m.—Mathematics.
2:30 to 4:15 p. m.—French and biology.
Friday, Jan. 28,
8:30 to 10:15 a. m.—Physics and chemistry.
1:15 to 12 a. m.—Latin.
12:15 to 2:30 p. m.—Physiology and salesmanship.
2:30 to 4:10 p. m.—Agriculture, commercial geography and art.

Members of the physics department of the Science club met in the assembly hall following the close of school Tuesday and chose officers for the ensuing term. Those elected are: Cecil Ricketts, president; George Lawson, vice president; Mary Mendenhall, secretary; Ben Rasmussen, president of the program committee; Chester Marshall, publicity manager; T. F. Phillips, head of the science department of the school and instructor in chemistry, will act as faculty adviser of this branch of the organization.

The organization meeting of the chemistry department was held last night and will probably take place next week. The two clubs hold separate meetings during the first week of each month, and during the second week a joint meeting is held. W. H. Allenworth, instructor in the physical laboratory, will preside at the joint meetings.

With the close of the first semester the members of the two departments at their first joint meeting next month.

The second sale of Zenith slips will take place during the week of Feb. 7 to 14. The first sale, thus making the total 1,200 merely within the school. It is expected that there will be a large sale among the alumni and business men of the city, and this should make up for the large loss by the resignation of previous Zenith board members.

Work on the Zenith is advancing rapidly, according to Editor Garon. All drawings are due to be turned in by the first of next month, and other material is coming in at all times.

Reports have been circulated around school concerning the resignation of two members of the Spectator staff. With the close of the first semester two of the editors will step out and the positions left vacant by these resignations. Jacob Garon, news editor, and Lawrence Moore, editor-in-chief, will sever connections with the newspaper when the first semester ends.

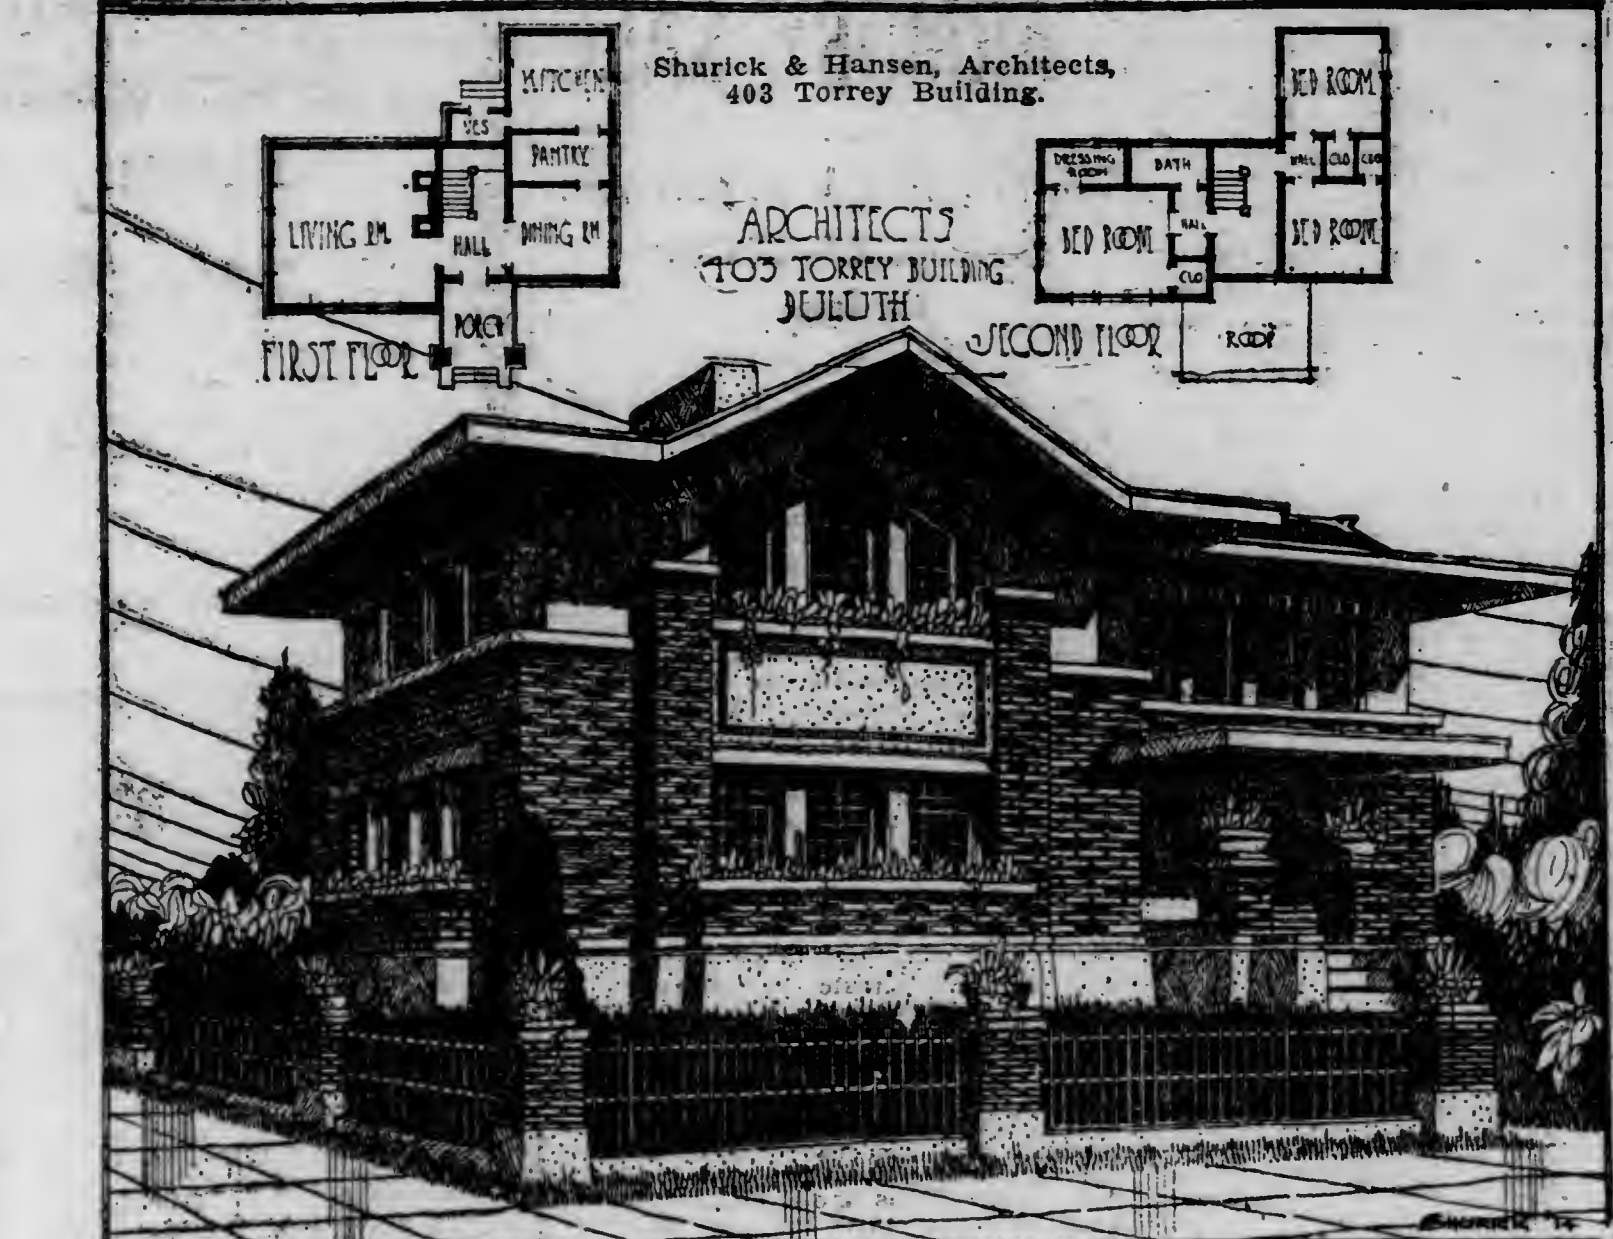

The question of filling the positions left vacant by these resignations is already causing some discussion. At the beginning of the year Jacob Garon, Willard Thorp and Lawrence Moore, the three head editors, were selected by Principal Young and the English members of the faculty. These three editors then met with Mr. Rasey, the faculty advisor of the paper, and selected their staff from the very near future. The vacant positions will be filled has not as yet been determined, but it will probably be done by the same method employed at the beginning of the year. One of the positions will probably be filled by Sam Goren, at present the paper's exchange editor.

Changes in the makeup of the staff has not yet been determined. A meeting will be called in the very near future to discuss the reorganization of the paper.

What to Do for Itching Skins

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment, that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is, the Resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, put up in the form of Resinol ointment and Resinol soap. This proved so remarkably successful, that thousands of other physicians have prescribed it constantly for over twenty years.

Resinol usually stops itching instantly, healing the eruption quickly, unless it is due to some serious internal disorder. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap can be bought at any drugstore, and are not at all expensive. Write for free sample, Dept. 6-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

to the person in school who suggested the best original idea for the improvement of the 1916 annual.

Miss Currie's idea was that the Zenith should be the eyes of the school of the 1916 graduates, that is, that under the pictures of the seniors their signatures should come together with a personal writeup.

The Zenith board was flooded with ideas, and the two best, those of Miss Currie and Miss Dorothy Bates, were put up for a 50-50 decision. The faculty judges, Lee C. Rasey, Leonard Young, Wilhelm Case and Miss E. Carey, decided in favor of the former.

The members of the sophomore debating trio were victorious in their debate with the Athenaeum team yesterday afternoon in the assembly hall. The sophomore team supported the affirmative of the national defense question, while the Athenaeum team was made up of William, Sebastian, Wilfred James and Sylvia Meyers.

By a unanimous decision of the judges the Duluth Central high school debating team, composed of Jacob Garon, Max Goldberg and Emanuel Cook, was last night awarded the decision over the Minneapolis North high school trio in one of the most interesting high school debates ever held in the Duluth arena.

The question debated was the State High School League topic: "Resolved, That the Armament of the United States is inadequate and should be substantially increased." The winning Duluth team supported the affirmative and the judges all commented on the excellent work of the Zenith City speakers.

The judges of the affair were Registrar E. B. Pierce and Profs. S. G. Pattison and C. A. Hedger of the University of Minnesota, the latter declaring that it was the best high school debate that he had ever listened to.

The victory of the local trio last night promises that the season will be probably the best that a local team has ever experienced. The best high school teams in Minnesota will be defeated by the Duluth team, accompanied by the Duluth team, and appeared very well pleased.

VICTORY FOR THE ALLIES PREDICTED BY PALMER

Germany Lost War at the Marne, Says "A. P." Correspondent.

Aviators Most Important—Advocate of Big American Navy.

Predicting victory for the allies and calling the war a commercial transaction, without heroes, Frederick Palmer, noted war correspondent, lecturer, traveler and writer, lectured before a large audience at the First Methodist church, Third avenue west and Third street last night.

"When the Germans were before Paris," Mr. Palmer declared, "said that the army which won the battle of the Marne would win the war, I have not changed my mind."

For nearly twenty years Mr. Palmer has been a reporter, whose beat is the world. He prefers the title reporter to journalist or newspaper man, and he has seen more actual war than any other living member of his profession.

Covering a war means little more to him than covering a fire does to the average reporter. He covered the Greco-Turkish war in 1897; the Spanish-American war of 1898; the Philippine insurrection a year later; the Russo-Japanese war of 1904-05, in which he was with General Kuroki's army in the Balkan revolution of 1912-13.

Mr. Palmer's "assignments" led him into the Boxer uprising in China, around Cape Horn with the American

RIFLE NOT OBSOLETE IN MODERN WARFARE

Frederick Palmer, war correspondent, last night exploded the theories that rifles were obsolete in the present European death struggle.

Through recent lectures, and in war "movies" Duluthians have been told that the rifle has been superseded by machine guns and hand-thrown bombs. "The rifle is far from obsolete," Mr. Palmer said. "The German sharpshooters may allow you one minute if you are 1,000 yards away from their trench. If you are 500 yards away ten seconds will be plenty."

"The war many of the trenches are in France, scarcely 75 or 100 yards apart, to put your head and shoulders in a trench for a minute means that you'll get a bullet through it."

"The only neutral ground in Europe is the narrow strip between trenches. No human could live there for a minute, but the birds fly down and sing merrily as the rifles and guns roar out their messages of death. Rabbits even have been known to run along between fires."

NO PROTEST TO BRITAIN ON SOLDIER'S REMOVAL

Washington, Jan. 15.—Removal of Albert Clark, a private in the United States army, from the American steamer Santa Marta at Jamaica is not expected to result in a protest from the state department. Officials said that as the removal occurred in British territorial waters and Clark was released after a brief examination, the British authorities apparently had acted within their rights.

The principle that any nation may detain for examination any suspected alien in its territory or territorial waters has long been established in international law. It is pointed out by officials that such removals have an entirely different status from those occurring on the high seas.

BANQUET FEATURES GREEK NEW YEAR

Duluth, Superior and Range Towns Join in Celebration.

Greek residents of Duluth, Superior and several of the range towns celebrated their New Year's day yesterday with a banquet in the club rooms of the Alexander Greek society at 213 West Superior street.

The Virginia delegation brought a special Grecian orchestra and the afternoon was enlivened with a program of Greek music. About 100 were present at the celebration.

In the evening the Greeks observed the beginning of their new year with a dinner for the members of the household and their friends.

WEST DULUTH STUDY CLASS OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB AT THE WEST DULUTH LIBRARY.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock. The subject is "South America." All who are interested in the subject are invited to attend.

TO ADVISORY COUNCIL.

Delegates From West Duluth Royal League Lodge to St. Paul.

Poonhontas council, No. 319, and West Duluth council, No. 256, Royal League, will be well represented at the annual meeting of the advisory council to be held in St. Paul on Jan. 24. Three will represent the former and two will represent the latter.

The Poonhontas council members who will attend are Mrs. T. E. Olsen, a member of the advisory council and the only woman in the state on the advisory council. Mrs. Henry Ford, archon of the local council, who will go as alternate delegate, and Mrs. J. Murray, regular delegate, who is now residing in St. Paul. Archon of the West Duluth council, will attend as delegate.

West Duluth council, and Thomas R. S. Smith, archon of the West Duluth council, will attend as alternate delegate. The delegation expects to leave the latter part of next week for the Twin Cities.

RECOMMENDS PARKING FIFTY-NINTH AVENUE

In a letter to Mayor Prince, Adolph Anderson, deputy building inspector, recommends a combined parking and roadway for Fifty-ninth avenue, from Raleigh street to the D. M. & N. tracks. Mr. Anderson is a property owner in that vicinity and personally interested in the improvement, he states.

This parkway in the center of the street will be about forty feet in width. The street could take the place of the proposed public park in Central avenue.

It is Mr. Anderson's plan to pave Fifty-ninth avenue, which is 100 feet wide, a distance of sixteen blocks, each side of the curb and leave about 10 feet of the center for a public park. The cost, he states, will be about $100 for a 25-foot lot.

With the Curlers.

Curlers at the Western curling rink played two games last evening. Dr. H. S. Brown, from Melvin Olson, won a score of 9 to 3, and T. F. Wieland lost to W. M. Evers, 7 to 9.

Prize games will be played this evening by members of the club who propose to enter the bonspiel of the Northwestern Curling association which will open Monday at the Duluth Curling rink. The club will have a representative of seven or eight rinks at the bonspiel.

Merritt Church Service.

"Things That Matter Most" will be the subject of a sermon tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. J. L. Lillio, pastor of the Merritt Memorial M. E. church. Forty-ninth avenue west side of Halmy street. The Sunday school will be held at 10 o'clock.

Give House Party.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Erickson, 621 North Central avenue, entertained a house party last evening at their home for a number of their friends. Five hundred was played at four tables following which the hostess served a dainty luncheon. The honors were won by Mrs. E. W. F. Boerner, Mrs. A. G. Swanstrom, Mrs. E. J. Aman, T. F. Olson, E. J. Aman and Carl Swanstrom. The guests were: Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Boerner, Mrs. A. G. Swanstrom, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Olson, Mrs. Carl Swanstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Skomars, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott J. Aman, Mrs. B. J. Ross, Jr., of Sour Lake, Tex.; Miss Georgina Ross and Miss Hulda Hanson.

West Duluth Briefs.

Dr. F. S. Houchens has been appointed night surgeon at the Duluth steel plant. He will assist Dr. O. S. Olson, who has charge of the company's infirmary during the day.

Mrs. Frank M. Ashley, 135 North Sixth street, was held up by a burglar last Wednesday afternoon for the Ladies Aid Society of the West Duluth Baptist church.

Watch repairing, Hurst, West Duluth, 1415-14th avenue, will be open from 8 o'clock evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Elder of Morgan Park to organize a Presbyterian church in the neighborhood. Several prominent church workers will attend.

Victrolas and records at Spencer's. Easy payments if desired.

The Battle Cry of Peace.

Do you want to learn the truth about our army, navy and coast-guard? Germany possessed about a thousand aeroplanes at the beginning of the war. China has an area of a million and a half square miles, and a population of 300,000,000.

West Duluth Study class of the Twentieth Century Club at the West Duluth library. The program will begin at 8 o'clock. The subject is "South America." All who are interested in the subject are invited to attend.

TO ADVISORY COUNCIL.

Delegates From West Duluth Royal League Lodge to St. Paul.

Poonhontas council, No. 319, and West Duluth council, No. 256, Royal League, will be well represented at the annual meeting of the advisory council to be held in St. Paul on Jan. 24. Three will represent the former and two will represent the latter.

The Poonhontas council members who will attend are Mrs. T. E. Olsen, a member of the advisory council and the only woman in the state on the advisory council. Mrs. Henry Ford, archon of the local council, who will go as alternate delegate, and Mrs. J. Murray, regular delegate, who is now residing in St. Paul. Archon of the West Duluth council, will attend as delegate.

West Duluth council, and Thomas R. S. Smith, archon of the West Duluth council, will attend as alternate delegate. The delegation expects to leave the latter part of next week for the Twin Cities.

RECOMMENDS PARKING FIFTY-NINTH AVENUE

In a letter to Mayor Prince, Adolph Anderson, deputy building inspector, recommends a combined parking and roadway for Fifty-ninth avenue, from Raleigh street to the D. M. & N. tracks. Mr. Anderson is a property owner in that vicinity and personally interested in the improvement, he states.

This parkway in the center of the street will be about forty feet in width. The street could take the place of the proposed public park in Central avenue.

It is Mr. Anderson's plan to pave Fifty-ninth avenue, which is 100 feet wide, a distance of sixteen blocks, each side of the curb and leave about 10 feet of the center for a public park. The cost, he states, will be about $100 for a 25-foot lot.

With the Curlers.

Curlers at the Western curling rink played two games last evening. Dr. H. S. Brown, from Melvin Olson, won a score of 9 to 3, and T. F. Wieland lost to W. M. Evers, 7 to 9.

Prize games will be played this evening by members of the club who propose to enter the bonspiel of the Northwestern Curling association which will open Monday at the Duluth Curling rink. The club will have a representative of seven or eight rinks at the bonspiel.

Merritt Church Service.

"Things That Matter Most" will be the subject of a sermon tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. J. L. Lillio, pastor of the Merritt Memorial M. E. church. Forty-ninth avenue west side of Halmy street. The Sunday school will be held at 10 o'clock.

Give House Party.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Erickson, 621 North Central avenue, entertained a house party last evening at their home for a number of their friends. Five hundred was played at four tables following which the hostess served a dainty luncheon. The honors were won by Mrs. E. W. F. Boerner, Mrs. A. G. Swanstrom, Mrs. E. J. Aman, T. F. Olson, E. J. Aman and Carl Swanstrom. The guests were: Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Boerner, Mrs. A. G. Swanstrom, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Olson, Mrs. Carl Swanstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Skomars, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott J. Aman, Mrs. B. J. Ross, Jr., of Sour Lake, Tex.; Miss Georgina Ross and Miss Hulda Hanson.

West Duluth Briefs.

Dr. F. S. Houchens has been appointed night surgeon at the Duluth steel plant. He will assist Dr. O. S. Olson, who has charge of the company's infirmary during the day.

Mrs. Frank M. Ashley, 135 North Sixth street, was held up by a burglar last Wednesday afternoon for the Ladies Aid Society of the West Duluth Baptist church.

Watch repairing, Hurst, West Duluth, 1415-14th avenue, will be open from 8 o'clock evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Elder of Morgan Park to organize a Presbyterian church in the neighborhood. Several prominent church workers will attend.

Victrolas and records at Spencer's. Easy payments if desired.

The Battle Cry of Peace.

Do you want to learn the truth about our army, navy and coast-guard? Germany possessed about a thousand aeroplanes at the beginning of the war. China has an area of a million and a half square miles, and a population of 300,000,000.

Laugh When Films Show Accident, But Lesson Strikes Home.

Nearly 6,000 Pupils Have Learned the "Safety First" Rules.

Watch the children get on and off street cars in the future. Watch them cross the streets and see how carefully they avoid accidents.

Nearly 6,000 school children from all parts of the city heard the "safety first" lectures at the old armory yesterday afternoon, this morning and this afternoon. Although they laughed whenever persons posing in the motion pictures were struck by street cars or automobiles, to show the dangers on streets, they were impressed, nevertheless. Their carefulness in crossing the thoroughfares after leaving the armory this noon reflected this impression.

Two long reels of films, showing many kinds of accidents, the working of the machinery of street cars, hospitals, were exhibited to the children, while scores of newspaper clippings, photographs, telling of traffic accidents, were explained by H. L. Brown, safety inspector of the Chicago railroad, who is conducting the meetings here for the local railroads.

"Look out and you will never get hurt," Mr. Brown told his youthful listeners this morning. "Don't be careless. Keep cool; be careful and you will always avoid accidents."

During the presentation of the motion pictures and stereoscopic slides, Mr. Brown explained the various scenes in detail, telling the children that this "safety first" movement in Chicago, where all the pictures were taken, has reduced the accidents to children from 100 per cent in the last three years. His talk, he said, has been delivered to 40,000 children in Chicago during that time.

The Inspector Wants Steel Company to Account For New Buildings.

Would Also Have Law Providing For Sworn Statements.

That the Minnesota Steel company has long since reached the $10,000,000 limit provided for in the permit taken out in 1910 and that it should be compelled to obtain permits for all future construction work, so as to show the city's exact growth in building lines, is the recommendation of Building Inspector Kieley in his annual report submitted to Mayor Prince this morning.

Inspector Kieley points out that the steel company built residences at Morgan Park last year, costing $211,000, and other buildings the year before valued at $1,500,000, for which no permits have been taken out. By adding these to the city's total for each year, Inspector Kieley would be materially increased, he states.

In addition, the building inspector would have special legislation compelling prospective builders to make sworn statements as to the exact cost of the buildings to be erected. These costs, he states, are greatly minimized in order to evade the taxes. He supports his contention by showing that more permits were issued during 1915 than in 1914, but that the total cost for last year was less than it was the year before.

The conclusion of all divisions connected with building, as was recently pointed out by Mayor Prince, is recommended by Inspector Kieley. More attention should be given to restricted residences, he states, in order to protect these owners, who are being crowded out by cheap store buildings in the vicinity.

The city's growth in population is reflected, he reports, by figures since April 1st, showing a reduction of 6 per cent in vacant dwellings, 14 per cent in vacant stores and 31 per cent in other buildings.

The figures for the department's work during 1915 were published in The Herald on a previous date. A total of 1,816 permits issued for construction work estimated at $2,144,464.

GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS IN OLD TIME FORM

COLD WAVE NOW OVER MIDDLE WEST STATES; MAY REACH FLORIDA

Line of Zero Temperatures Reaches as Far South as Ohio River.

Cincinnati Has First Zero Weather; Temperature 4 Below.

Rains and Light Snows Prevail Over the East and South.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The cold wave overpassing the country east of the Mississippi today had forced the freezing line down to the middle of the Gulf of Mexico coast, and the line of zero temperatures as far south as the Ohio river. Rains and snows, mostly light, prevailed over the East and South, and sleet has been experienced as far south as Mobile. Continued cold weather is promised for tonight and Tuesday in the Atlantic states, with a cold wave in the South, extending into Central Florida. Warmer weather will follow in the interior east of the Mississippi.

Coldest Day at Indianapolis.—The coldest day of the season was recorded here today, with a temperature of 3 degs. below zero. A high wind from the west made it seem much colder.

First Zero Weather.—Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 17.—The upper Ohio valley experienced its first zero weather of the winter last night and today. The government thermometer registered 2 degs. below zero.

Four Below at Cincinnati.—Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 17.—This city experienced its first zero weather of the winter last night and today. The government thermometer reported that the temperature dropped to 4 below zero last night and was 2 degs. below at 8 o'clock this morning.

Coldest of Winter.—Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 17.—The mercury was 4 degs. below zero, according to the official thermometer here this morning, the coldest of the winter. It is the first zero weather of the season in Northern Ohio and was borne in by a thirty-six mile north wind. The lake last night, which made the cold very intense. Two fatal accidents due to the weather occurred here during the night.

Cold at Dallas.—Dallas, Texas, Jan. 17.—The coldest weather of the winter with the temperature 30 degs. above zero was reported today from Texas and Brownsville. Ample warning had been given to growers, however, and extensive damage is not feared.

SERBIAN GOVERNMENT LOCATES AT BRINDISI

Rome, Jan. 16, via Paris, Jan. 17.—The idea of locating the Serbian government in Brindisi has been abandoned. The Serbian government will have headquarters at Brindisi for some time. Premier Pashitch, Ljubica Jovanovich, minister of the interior, M. Drachkovich, minister of public works and a number of other government officials are at Brindisi.

BRITISH PUSH TURKS BACK

Ottomans Retreat to Within Six Miles of Kut-El-Amara.

Second Defeat for Turks in Mesopotamia in Few Days.

London, Jan. 17.—Announcement was made in the house of commons today that the Turkish forces in Mesopotamia have fallen back to within six miles of Kut-El-Amara.

The announcement was made by J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India, who said the Turks had retreated as the result of another British victory. The Turkish position at Kut-El-Amara, he said, was carried on Saturday by the British.

BECOMES CHIEF OF STAFF TO SIR DOUGLAS HAIG

GEN. LAUNCELOT KIGGELL.

Gen. Launcelot Kiggell has become chief of staff to Sir Douglas Haig, succeeding Sir William Robertson. He saw active service in the South African war and has served recently as director of staff duties at the war office.

THINK YOUTH IS NOT SANE

Will Try to Prove Irving Updike to Be Mentally Unbalanced.

Arrested, Charged With Plot to Murder Parents and Sister.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Efforts to show that Irving Updike, arrested last night, charged with a plot to kill his father, Furman D. Updike, his mother and his sister, is not sane will be made by the Chief of Police Lee of Oak Park, he said today. Herbert Updike, who helped the Oak Park police trap his brother, is at liberty to leave the police station at any time, according to Lee.

"At the hearing I am going to try to prove that Irving is not sane," said Lee. "I do not think that he is mentally well balanced. He has had too much time to think. He doesn't work, and as a result he has been using his mental faculties too much and his muscles too little."

Furman D. Updike, according to the police, retired from business some time ago, but still holds stock in the Updike Flour mills of Minneapolis and Omaha and in the Updike Lumber company of St. Louis.

MONTENEGRO ASKS FOR PEACE; GRANTED BY AUSTRIA-HUNGARY

SURRENDER IS UNCONDITIONAL MANY AMERICANS ARE LEAVING MEXICO; OTHERS SEEK SAFER LOCATIONS

Announcement Made By Count Tisza to Hungarian Parliament.

Montenegrins Are to Get Territorial Rights in Scutari.

This in Exchange for Cession of Mount Lovcen to Austria.

Berlin, Jan. 17, wireless to Sayville.—The Overseas agency announced today that Count Tisza, Hungarian premier, had announced that Montenegro had asked for peace.

Montenegro was asked unconditionally to lay down her arms and she accepted, the premier declared, according to the News agency report.

Offers Separate Peace.—Rome, Jan. 17, via Paris.—Austria, according to a press dispatch from Athens is reported to have offered a separate peace to Montenegro on the following terms: Austria engaged to guarantee Montenegro all territorial rights in Scutari in exchange for the cession of Mount Lovcen to Austria.

Official announcement was made by the Montenegrin authorities on Saturday that Montenegro had never adhered to or intended to adhere to a separate proposal of peace or to any armistice with Austria.

WITHOUT TELEPHONE SERVICE AT DIXON, ILL.

Dixon, Ill., Jan. 17.—All the telephones in the Dixon system were out of service today because of a fire which destroyed the local telephone plant and for a time yesterday morning threatened the business district. The property loss was estimated to amount to $30,000.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 17.—The national horse show and the Western livestock exposition opened here today and will continue through the week.

Mormon Colonists Arrive From Chihuahua; Many More Due at El Paso.

Large Number Concentrate at Torreon Under Protection of Troops.

Carranza May Be Held Responsible for Loss of Eighteen Americans.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 17.—Twenty-five Mormon colonists from the state of Chihuahua arrived here late last night aboard a train from Casas Grandes. Others, it was stated, were coming on a train from Parral later.

Gen. Gabriel Gavia, commander at Juarez, said that the body of Jose Rodriguez, which was to be brought to the border to prove to Americans that he had been executed as one of the leaders of the bandits who massacred eighteen mining men, would not arrive until tonight. The train bearing it was delayed by a wreck according to Gavia.

Another Train Due.—The relief train which left here several days ago for bringing to the border Americans and other foreigners, it was stated, was expected to arrive today.

STREET CAR RUNS AWAY; THREE HURT

Score of Others Bruised When Motorman Loses Control at Burlington.

Burlington, Iowa, Jan. 17.—Three people were seriously hurt and a score bruised and shaken up, when a street car containing thirty-five passengers got beyond the control of the motorman and dashed down Agular street, an eight-block grade, Sunday. The foot of the hill is a curve and the car left the rails, dashed across the street and down a ten-foot embankment, overturning, rendering it necessary to chop holes in the car to release the passengers. None of the injured will die.

RUSSIAN COMMANDER BEGINS OFFENSIVE IN THE CAUCASUS

ANNIVERSARY OF BEN FRANKLIN CELEBRATED

Philadelphia, Jan. 17.—The 210th anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin was celebrated here today. Students of the University of Pennsylvania, which he founded, and advertising men from all sections of the country were leaders in the celebration. Special exercises were held in the public schools and other institutions.

A banquet will be held tonight under the auspices of the Poor Richard club, at which many prominent men are expected to deliver addresses.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., HAS $150,000 FIRE

General Russ Offensive Over 100-Mile Front Fast Growing in Magnitude and Importance.

Ottomans Admit Withdrawing Advanced Posts But Claim to Have Inflicted Severe Losses on Czar's Army.

London, Jan. 17.—Russian operations in the Caucasus are growing in magnitude and importance, judging from official reports. The announcement yesterday that a Russian offensive along a 100-mile front had begun, was followed today by the statement from Constantinople that Turkish forces have withdrawn their advanced posts at some points several miles, after delaying the Russian advance for a week. Previous Turkish reports had claimed repulse of determined Russian assaults, and the infliction of great loss upon the Muscovites.

Military observers have been expecting for some time developments of a notable character in this region. When Grand Duke Nicholas was relieved of the command of the main Russian armies and sent to take charge in the Caucasus, it was intimated in the imperial order announcing the change that additional attention would be given the operations on that front.

The move is doubtless in conjunction with the British operations in nearby Mesopotamia, and the Russian activity in Persia.

LOW STRONG FOR DEFENSE

New Yorker Favors Administration's Plan for Preparedness.

Opens Annual Meeting of the National Civic Federation.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The National Civic federation opened its sixteenth annual meeting today with prominent civic welfare workers from throughout the country present. Subjects for discussion included preparedness, immigration, government regulation of private industry and other problems. The women's section of the federation opened a separate two days' meeting.

National preparedness was the feature of today's program, which was given over largely to presentation of committee reports.

Seth Low, New York, president of the federation, sounded the first note on preparedness, when, in his opening address, he declared that if the United States is to prevent the "antagonisms and hates of Europe and its age-long tradition of empire" from finding lodgment on this continent after the war, it must be "by the strength of our own right arm, and by the willingness to die for what is certainly precious to ourselves and for what we believe to be no less precious to humanity."

Mr. Low said he favored the administration's defense program, not being (Continued on page 5, third column.)

ENDEAVORING TO REACH AGREEMENT

Mine Union Officials Hope to Complete Arrangements for Wage Conference.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 17.—While delegates to the biennial convention of the United Mine Workers which opens Tuesday were gathering here today from different parts of the United States and Canada, officers of the union were endeavoring to reach an agreement with coal operators from the Central competitive bituminous district for a wage conference after the convention adjourns.

The Central competitive districts are made up of the Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania soft coal fields. The mine owners in these districts formerly had a four-state agreement with the union miners, but it was abrogated several years ago, since which time each state concluded its own contracts with the union employees. At a conference here today between the officers of the union and representatives of the operators, efforts were made to bring about a new interstate agreement.

Leaders from various districts in town appear optimistic with regard to the mining situation. Agreements expire in many states this spring, but the leaders express themselves as confident of negotiating new contracts without much trouble.

Turks Withdraw.

Berlin, Jan. 17, wireless to Sayville.—After delaying for a week, the advance of strong Russian forces in the Caucasus, the Turks have withdrawn their advanced posts several miles at some points, according to the Turkish official statement today received here from Constantinople.

The statement follows: "In the Caucasus the Russians repeated their attacks against Turkish positions on both banks of the Araks, suffering heavy losses, especially in the district between the Araks and the Hind valley. Here Turkish advanced posts retired some kilometers after having delayed strong enemy forces one week."

Regarding operations in Mesopotamia the statement says: "There has been intermittent artillery fire near Kut-El-Amara."

Russian Statement.

Petrograd, via London, Jan. 17.—An official statement given out yesterday by the Russian war department says: "Caucasus. In the course of the fighting Jan. 14 we captured twenty Turkish officers and more than 400 men; a quantity of war and engineering material and provisions; one heavy gun and seven other guns and eight machine guns."

"Persia. In the fighting at Kangavar, half way between Hamadan and Kermanshah, we took many prisoners. The enemy abandoned many dead on the battlefield. Our losses were insignificant."

"The Russian official statement gives the first official intimation that the Germans are fighting with the Turks in Persia."

SPANISH STEAMSHIP SENT TO THE BOTTOM

Twenty-Seven Members of Crew of Belgica Reported Saved.

London, Jan. 17.—The Spanish steamer Belgica has been sunk. Twenty-seven members of the crew were saved.

The last mention of the Belgica in available maritime records notes her arrival on Dec. 12 at Heysham, England, from Sagunto, Spain. The steamer was owned by the International Navigation company of Bilbao. Her gross tonnage was 2,105.

AUSTRIA MAKES VERBAL PROTEST

Complains to American Ambassador of Occupation of Corfu By British.

Berlin, Jan. 17, wireless to Sayville.—"The Austro-Hungarian government has entered a verbal protest with the American ambassador at Vienna, Frederick C. Penfield, against the occupation by French and British detachments of the island of Corfu, which is a flagrant violation of the London treaties of 1863 and 1864," says the Overseas agency.

"The Austro-Hungarian government points out that Great Britain and France have again manifested their disregard of the general principles of international law. The American ambassador has been asked to communicate the protest to Great Britain and France."

LIGHTS AND SHADOWS OF POLICE COURT

HELD FOR STEALING ORPHANAGE CASH

Boy Is Accused of Series of Petty Thefts

Louis Decker, a ruddy-checked, 17-year-old boy, sat on a wooden bench in the boys' department at police headquarters yesterday and joked as he told about "stunts" that would have been difficult for an expert burglar.

Police say the boy burglarized an emergency cash box at St. James' orphanage on perhaps a dozen different occasions, taking an aggregate of nearly $200.

Just how the youth succeeded in getting away with the money is not known, although officials at the institution believe he studied the habits of office attendants carefully during the time he was a pupil at the orphanage, and that he utilized this knowledge after leaving the place.

"We think he watched us and waited until we had gone to the chapel," said one of the sisters. "The cash box was pried open several times, and he evidently took a little bit at a time."

The fund is a small one, used for emergencies by officials of the institution. Part of the money taken is said to have belonged to Rev. Fr. Thomas Donoghue, chaplain at the orphanage.

The Decker boy attended the institution for a considerable period, and recently was allowed to leave because he was firmly believed that the Russians were going to win, and he wasn't afraid to say so.

John started an argument with one John Kobron, 28, and John Fith, 35, about the war. Kobron is an Austrian, and he thinks the Germans and Austrians are going to triumph.

One word led to another and finally Kobron struck Rosko on the jaw with the end farthest from the business end of a beer bottle. Rosko's jaw was broken, and physicians said later he was not afraid to say so.

John Rosko is a peace-at-any-price advocate.

Until yesterday he was what some citizens might call a hyphenated American, for he firmly believed that the Russians were going to win, and he wasn't afraid to say so.

John started an argument with one John Kobron, 28, and John Fith, 35, about the war. Kobron is an Austrian, and he thinks the Germans and Austrians are going to triumph.

JUST QUIET CRAP GAME.

But Police Called It Gambling and Arrested Participants.

Tony Godlaski, 26, and Alex Moskevitch, 24, were shootin' craps—a good, old fashioned, nickel-and-dime game, but police called it gambling.

When Detectives Toewe and Bradley strolled through the hall of a rooming house near the corner of Sixth avenue west and First street yesterday, they heard the "bones" click and heard Tony's excited—"Come on, you seven!"

Both men were released in $5 bail after they were brought to headquarters. Tony forfeited his bail by non-appearance today, and Alex was fined $5 and costs, or sentenced to serve five days at the workhouse. He paid the fine.

KISS ARGUMENT WINS.

Wife Makes Up With Husband; Sentence Is Suspended.

"We've kissed and made up, judge," explained Mrs. Joseph Beta, 35, when brought before Judge W. H. Smallwood on a disorderly conduct charge today.

"And if you let me go, judge," the woman continued, "I'll give him an extra kiss as a measure when I get him home."

She was arrested late last night upon complaint of her husband, Joseph Beta, 1921 West Michigan street.

"What was the matter?" the judge asked.

"Oh, hubby came home," she said, smiling.

Police were inclined to the theory that "while the cat's away the mouse will play."

Judge Smallwood couldn't resist her argument about the kisses, however, and suspended sentence.

HAS THREE ALIASES.

Houston, Minn., Authorities Seek Former Duluth Woman.

A woman of many aliases, who is known in Duluth by at least three names, is being sought by lawyers of Houston, Minn., and they want the aid of police of this city.

Chief R. D. McKercher was asked, in a communication which he received today, to institute a search for Marie Mikkelson, alias Marie Gova, alias Mrs. Mary Thomas, a former resident of Duluth.

Under the name Thomas she is said to have been well known here several years ago. She has been left a small amount of property through the recent death of her mother, the letter stated.

The "party" was being staged in the rear room of a restaurant on Lake avenue south, and joviality was at its height when Detectives Roberg and Barber, accompanied by Officer Toewe, stepped inside the room.

Mrs. Clare Moe Erickson, 21, was arrested on a charge of selling liquor illegally, and later released in $100 bail for a hearing Jan. 21.

The place has been under surveillance for some time.

BANK CLERKS CATCH ROBBER

Man, Posing as Expert, Grabs Money at St. Anthony Falls Bank.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Posing as an expert in electrical burglar-proof devices for banks, a man walked into the St. Anthony Falls bank today, snatched up a big bag of money from the vault which he was allowed to inspect and then leaped through a plate glass door when he saw that he was suspected.

The bank's clerical force jumped through the hole he had made, threw him to the sidewalk and held him until the police arrived.

FIVE BADLY BURNED AND THREE MISSING

Result of Fire Which Destroys Syndicate Block at Brandon, Man.

Brandon, Man., Jan. 17.—Five girls were badly burned or otherwise seriously injured and three other employees, a man and two girls, are missing as a result of the fire which swept the Syndicate block here today and destroyed the Dolg, Rankin & Robertson department store, with an estimated loss of $350,000, covered by insurance.

So rapidly did the flames spread that some of the employees of the store were forced to leap from windows. The cause of the fire is unknown.

AMERICAN & IDEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

The fuel economy of IDEAL Boilers is the result of accurately placed fire surfaces, inner flues, and corrugated fire pots which admit the air in proper amounts for the complete combustion of the rich gases from the fuel. Too much or too little air wastes or kills the fire. The construction of IDEAL Boilers gets all the heat out of the fuel you burn—makes the smallest amount of coal produce the maximum volume of heat.

The Labor Savings of IDEAL Boilers depend upon their generous fire pots, which hold sufficient fuel to last, without shoveling coal and refilling, for periods of time from 8 to 24 hours—depending on severity of weather.

Complete and pleasant winter comfort is had without the ever-present thought of lugging coal and ashes and the constant fussing with the fire. These are all forgotten in the smooth, even, and easy operation of IDEAL Boilers, even through blizzards

WILL GET REVENGE ON GREAT BRITAIN

To Obtain Satisfaction for Baralong Incident, Says German Secretary.

Berlin, Jan. 17, wirelessly to Sayville.—Announcement was made in the Reichstag today by Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, under-secretary for foreign affairs, that the German government would "most certainly find ways and means of getting satisfaction for the shocking misdeed" attributed to the crew of the British patrol boat Baralong, which is charged with having killed defenseless Germans from a submarine sunk by the patrol boat. Dr. Zimmermann said that all German parties condemned not only the action of the Baralong's crew, but the reply of Great Britain to the German note respecting the incident.

Herr Nocke, a Socialist member, said he wished to make a protest in the name of his countrymen who are bearing arms, against the attitude of Great Britain.

GRAND FORKS TO RAISE ENDOWMENT

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—An active campaign for the completion of the $200,000 endowment fund that is being raised for Wesley college here was launched among the business men of this city by Bishop Quayle of St. Paul, who, during his recent visit, delivered a series of addresses covering the work of the college, and pointed out the great benefits that accrue to this locality through the fact that the college is established here.

In order to claim a $25,000 pledge by James J. Hill the college must raise $200,000 more, and Grand Forks business men will be asked to do their share towards creating that fund.

UPPER PENINSULA BIRD PRIZES GIVEN

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 17.—The following announcement of winners at the Upper Peninsula Poultry association's chicken show just held here is made by Judge Wise: Grand Sweepstakes prize, a twenty-six piece set of silverware to James Daly of Mohawk; sweepstakes prize, a silver cup to John McCormack of Laurium for his display of White Plymouth Rock; prize of $100 to John McCormack of Mohawk for best display of black; silver cup to George P. Balcom for best display of buff birds; silver cup to John Breckin of Calumet for best display of parti-colored birds.

The president's cup was awarded to Andrew McKean of Calumet for the whites bird, a single Comb White Leghorn winning. The Warren Jewelry cup was won by a Black Orpington pullet belonging to J. A. Daly. The bird scored 85½ points which record is considered remarkable. George P. Balcom received the mackinaw donated by J. C. Hansen for the best display of buff colored birds.

BISMARCK SCHOOL HEAD HAS RESIGNED

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 17.—No little surprise resulted here from the announcement that Charles C. Root, for six years superintendent of local schools, had resigned. At the end of the school year Mr. Root will have finished eighteen years of active school work. He has not decided as to what he will do in the future. Rumor has it that Prof. Root, who is principal of the high school, will succeed Mr. Root in case the resignation is accepted by the school board.

BELGIAN SHIP, AFIRE, IS CALLING FOR HELP

Vigo, Spain, Jan. 16, via Paris, Jan. 17.—Wireless calls for help have been received from the Belgian ship, the Du Lalle which reports that she is 125 miles off this port.

Badger Builders Elect. Madison, Wis., Jan. 17.—The State Master Builders' association, in session here, selected Oshkosh as the next convention place. Joseph Tyrrell, Madison, was elected president and James Metz, Oshkosh, first vice president.

LESS CLOSET ARRESTS. Closed Saloons Appear to Have Lessened Work of Police.

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual report of the chief of police for 1915 again shows a decrease in arrests made under dry conditions. In 1915, the last year the saloons operated, 284 arrests were made. In 1914, the first year under dry rule, the total city arrests were 130, and in 1913, under the same conditions, the number was 128. The state arrests, which do not include drunkenness, are about the same under both conditions, being 48 in 1912; 31 in 1914, and 48 in 1915. The number of city arrests will probably be even less this year as a result of the closing of the Scanlon and all other saloons in the county last November.

Lutheran Minister's Funeral.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many members of the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran denomination of St. Northwest will be here tomorrow to attend the funeral of Rev. O. N. Fosmark, for thirty years pastor of the church at Park Region college, who died here, Rev. H. S. Thorgimson of Grand Forks and Rev. J. Omsion of Williston will be in charge of the service.

La Follette Better.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 17.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, who was forced to temporarily cancel his speaking tour Saturday on account of an attack of the grip, is reported much improved by his physicians.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a teaspoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieves congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless. Advertisement.

SCORES ACTIVITY OF PAVING PROMOTERS

Property Owners Should Think Before Signing Petitions, Says Farrell.

Paving promoters who are endeavoring to influence property owners in the choice of paving materials were criticized by Commissioner Farrell this morning.

"These men," said the works head, "are not content to come here and submit their bids on pavements, but go still further and endeavor to 'influence' the property owners along the streets to be improved."

"The promoters are circulating petitions for their particular materials and are hampering the city in giving the owners the best possible pavement. The city pays for 15 per cent of every pavement and I propose to fight any material that I believe is not suitable for any specified street. I would ask all owners to be careful in signing petitions before they completely understand the conditions."

"The best advice I could give would be to have all property owners postpone judgment and avoid petitions until a meeting of the owners is called and the entire subject is thoroughly thrashed out. At that time they can definitely decide just what materials they want. The city is willing to abide by the decision of a majority of the owners, but not after paving promoters have done their convincing."

The works head pointed out that his paving program for 1916 names the various materials most suitable for the streets to be improved and that the paving promoters are now going about seeking names on petitions calling for their materials, which are not on the lists.

PASSENGER TRAIN JUMPS THE TRACK

Four Seriously and Score Slightly Hurt Near Pisgah, Iowa.

Sioux City, Iowa, Jan. 17.—An Illinois Central passenger train jumped the track near Pisgah, Iowa, today.

Four persons were seriously hurt and a score slightly injured. The seriously injured are: Conductor S. L. Sage of Cherokee, Iowa, internally hurt; Charles Kopp of Primm, Iowa, both arms broken, cut about head and face; was hurled through car window; was killed. Cherokee, Iowa, leg broken. Unknown traveling man.

The accident occurred as the train was approaching a bridge over a creek. One car crashed through the bridge, but landed right side up. All the other cars are reported to be uninjured. The injured are being taken to Cherokee on a special train.

ASSESSMENTS FOR FIRST STREET JOB

Property Owners to Pay $295.07 for Every Fifty-Foot Lot.

Property owners on West First street will have to pay $295.07 for every fifty-foot lot, as the 80 per cent advance assessment on the pavement from Twelfth to Thirtieth avenue west, according to the figures completed this morning by City Assessor Scott. If the improvement costs less than the engineer's estimate, then the final assessment will be greatly reduced. It is pointed out.

The assessor's figures were prepared from the total estimate of $69,426.64 made by the city engineer. The 80 per cent advance assessment is $55,570.11, of which $47,076.61 will be assessed against property to be benefited by the improvement.

City Assessor Scott's figures will be submitted to the city commissioners this afternoon.

SETTLES POGUE CASE.

Great Northern Pays for Hurting Bemidji Man.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 17.—The long-drawn out case of J. P. Pogue vs. the Great Northern railway for injuries has finally been settled.

Mr. Pogue was driving an automobile on Oct. 22, 1909, when he was struck and while crossing the railroad tracks at Wilton after dark was struck by an engine which did not carry a headlight. The car was badly damaged and Mr. Pogue was injured.

Pogue brought suit and was awarded a verdict in the district court here of $3,000.

The railway company secured a new trial and a verdict was returned for Mr. Pogue of $4,000.

The case was taken to the supreme court and after arguing, settlement was made.

BEMIDJI PIONEER EXPIRES SUDDENLY

ONLY THREE DAYS REMAINING IN THE WHAT-WOULD-YOU-DO-FOR-DULUTH CONTEST

Reorganization of Commercial Interests, Abolishment of Saloons, City Hospital, Orphans' Home, Care of Birds and Animals, Playgrounds for Children Are Urged.

The letters received by the "What Would I Do for Duluth" contest editor are full of suggestions today. Among the many things urged for the city are: Reorganization of the commercial interests to stop unnecessary handling of goods and multiplication of profits, the abolishment of saloons and substitution of club and eating houses, the abolishment of private employment agencies, the establishment of a city hospital, the establishment of an orphan's home on a 40-acre tract, the paying off of the city debt.

Would Abolish Saloons.
A local agricultural expert would abolish all the saloons in Duluth and establish various kinds of clubs and tea rooms, reorganize the commercial interests of the city so as to do away with a large number of unnecessary dealers and also improve the docks and harbors and build a line of freighters for the lakes. He says:

"First, if I had the power and could help Duluth, I would abolish all the saloons and do it by a majority of her citizens. Then I would put in place of the saloons healthful places for recreation and entertainment—clubs and tea rooms, rest rooms, club rooms, public gymnasia, baths, auditoriums for free concerts, lectures, debates, night industrial schools, schools of citizenship, indoor games of all kinds, billiards, bowling alleys, etc. I would increase the number of parks and provide playgrounds for children and grownups, swimming pools, public golf links, tennis courts and skating rinks and basketball courts. I would make Duluth people happy and healthy, and prosperity would follow."

"Second, I would reorganize the commercial interests of Duluth that the multitude of small retailers who eke out a precarious existence in their frantic efforts to get the price of their goods would find more profitable and productive employment in other lines of work. I would develop a system of trade that would render economic service, do away with high prices at any one season to be followed by cut prices at another. I would stop duplicating, triplicating and even quadrupling of service thrust upon an over-burdened people. I would create a spirit of good will and mutual helpfulness among all classes in town and out of town that there would be no occasion for sending away for things or services that can be secured from our own people. I would make the vacant land around Duluth upon the market so cheap that more people would build homes in the country and utilize the possibilities of the soil, sunshine, and rain in producing food products for Duluth people. I would build city markets and provide a system of distribution of fresh products that would eliminate existing waste and lower the cost of living for all the people and at the same time provide more wholesome food."

"Third, I would improve our docks and harbors and build a fleet of freighters that would give the people of Duluth and the handling of the work by the Minnesota State Free Employment agency. He says as follows:

"If I had the power, I would abolish summarily all the private employment agencies on Michigan street. It is outrageous for seasonal laborers, whose tenure is indefinite, to have to purchase their jobs. The state free employment office could adequately handle all the business on which these men have been depending themselves. Or the lumber companies could get in the field themselves and operate an employment bureau, as does Smith and the Baiting Lake companies are now doing."

"It would be no hardship now for these agents, in their fur-cold opulence, to wrap themselves around their radiators on busy streets and let the rest of the world suffer. This enactment would relieve the congestion of property owners or residents to remove, or pay the cost of removal of, the snow off their walks a certain number of hours after the cessation of a snow fall."

"The present horse-plov is laughably rural. I would establish a city hospital with a resident staff, wards for emergency and ambulance cases and a free dispensary attached. One needs cases quite too often in our big-hearted city of persons without resources who should be under a doctor's care, and cannot wait a home."

"I would build a municipal show house for children where nothing but high standard pictures would be shown."

"I would buy for the city a park zoo at least a mile up the stream, a mile to the car line, with playground for youngsters as well as for grownups. I would make it something for tourists to talk about."

PLANS FOR RELIEF DAY

Duluth Jews Arrange to Utilize Time Designated By President.

Rabbi Lefkowitz, Heads Committee Appointed to Handle Work.

On Thursday, Jan. 27, the day named by President Wilson as the national Jewish relief day in a proclamation issued last week at the request of the senate, Duluth Jews will start a city-wide campaign for funds to aid the 8,000,000 Jews of Russian-Poland and Galicia, nearly all of whom are penniless and without food or shelter.

At a meeting in the vestry rooms of Temple Emanuel yesterday afternoon, representatives of all the Jewish lodges and organizations in the city met and decided to organize a permanent committee, which will have charge of the collection of all funds until the close of the war. Dr. Maurice Lefkowitz, rabbi of Temple Emanuel, was named chairman and the membership of the committee will consist of the presiding officers of the dozen Jewish organizations in Duluth.

It was decided at the meeting yesterday to hold a general mass meeting in the near future, at which time the extensive subscription campaign will be launched. It is the aim of the committee to invite one or two speakers of national prominence to the meeting and several well-known Duluthians.

This plan was successfully carried out in New York two weeks ago, when the American Jewish Relief Committee launched its 1916 campaign for $5,000,000 and a total of $1,000,000 was contributed in that one evening. Four contributors, Nathan Strauss, Jacob Schiff, Julius Rosenwald and the Guggenheim brothers, each gave $100,000.

Arrange For Mass Meeting.
Another meeting of the committee will be held at the Talmud Torah building, announced when the organization was first formed. A treasurer, selected and tentative arrangements made for the mass meeting.

As soon as the treasurer is named, the committee plans to institute the public subscription campaign, preparing for the relief of the Russian-Polish and Galician, where most of the severe fighting has taken place during the twelve months. In Russia, the Jews have been driven from their homes and, as a result, are wandering about in the open air, without food or shelter. It is estimated that at least 8,000,000 Jews in the war zone are in need of funds.

In urging immediate action for the procuring of more funds, Dr. Lefkowitz painted a grim picture of the condition of practically all the Jews in Russian-Poland and Galicia, where most of the severe fighting has taken place during the twelve months. In Russia, the Jews have been driven from their homes and, as a result, are wandering about in the open air, without food or shelter. It is estimated that at least 8,000,000 Jews in the war zone are in need of funds.

he run up to still higher levels. If they stay anywhere near where they are it is conceded though that the mills will make the largest profits in their histories and that prosperity will rule in every branch of the industry.

Fresh Munitions Contracts.
With inquiries coming in unabated volume, manufacturers are finding themselves still obliged to restrict sales, and foreign consumers are unable to buy all the steel they would like to obtain. Some of the companies are reported to have nearly completed the filling of their original war orders, and they are consequently ready to accept some further business in munitions.

The Crucible Steel company is reported in that connection to have signed a new order with the British government for 12-inch shells, valued at $3,750,000. It is also negotiating with the French government for 12-inch shells, worth approximately $7,000,000.

ZAUF OF WEST DULUTH DEFEATS M'NABB'S RINK

Crack Grand Rapids Skip Defeated in 13 Head Contest By 13 to 12 Score—Ralph Bradley Is Defeated By Donald's State Championship Rink—Catterson Gives Reedal a Great Fight.

Several Duluth rinks were put out of the running early today in the final event of the twenty-third annual bonspiel, the Duluth Curling club event, by some clever playing upon the part of outside rinks.

Donald's West Duluth rink, holder of the Merriam medal, played a strong game against Ralph Bradley's crack rink, taking the local boys down the line 11 to 10. Krauth of Phillips, Wis., won from Walter Hall, another strong Duluth rink.

Enth J. Zauf of West Duluth, one of the crack skips of the Western Curling club, sprang the surprise of the day, defeating Sander McNaab's crack Grand Rapids rink in a 13-head game by the score of 13 to 12. This contest was hard fought all the way through. Zauf lay three in the twelfth end, tying the game after it looked as if the clever Michigan curler had the game won. Then in the final frame Zauf came back and made a great shot and won.

Ron Smith took the veteran John McLeod of Minneapolis down the lane to a 17-to-7 defeat, which came in the light of a 10-10 tie in the first end.

There is but one Canadian rink registered. That is the strong Kenora rink, skipped by G. Hudson. This rink won the Tuckett event at last year's Manitoba curling spiel and is considered one of the rinks that will bear watching throughout the present week of curling.

Moving pictures will be taken of the spiel. These pictures will be distributed all over the Northwest and will show in accurate detail just how a bonspiel looks.

It is expected that play will be on in at least three events before tomorrow. All of the events will be rushed, the draws for four events having already been made.

From present indications the spiel looks like one that is going to develop a lot of strong competition.

GRADE SCHOOL HOCKEY CREATES KEEN RIVALRY

Despite the severe snowstorm and cold weather of last week, several games were played in the grade school hockey league and rivalry among the teams is becoming keener than ever.

In the Senior Eastern league, the Lowell are in the lead with one victory and no defeats, while three teams are tied in both the Junior Western and the Junior Eastern leagues. No games have been played in the Senior Western.

This afternoon the following games will be played:

Junior Western.
Merritt-Monroe, Harrison park.

Junior Eastern.
Lester Park-Lakeside, Forty-seventh avenue east.

Senior Eastern.
Sault-Jackson, Chester park.

This morning the Redmond-Rector Batchelor announced the following standings at the close of play last Saturday afternoon:

N. D. U FOOTBALL SCHEDULE GIVEN
Gets Second Instead of First Game With Minnesota.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The University of Minnesota's award of its second football date to the University of North Dakota, instead of its first date as in previous years, may result in the disruption of athletic relations between St. Thomas college and North Dakota.

It was a great for the Western Curling club curlers of West Duluth, Donald defeated Bradley, and Zauf won from McNaab. There are five West Duluth rinks left in the Duluth event, and the playing of the West Duluth contingent was clearly the feature of the early draw.

The following are the scores in details of the 3 o'clock draw of the Duluth Curling club event:

SWIMMING MEET OPENS IN "Y" POOL

The third annual swimming tournament, held under the auspices of the "Y" department of the Y. M. C. A. in the local "Y" pool for the Central high school students, will be begun this afternoon when the ducks of the senior and sophomore classes will pit their skill against each other.

The tournament is an interclass affair and, in addition to the meet this afternoon, the two highest teams will clash Friday afternoon. The meet is open to all students of Central, whether members of the boys' department or not.

It is expected that the seniors will have the better of the argument, this number of experts on their team.

Some of the events to be run off this afternoon are: 40-yard dash, 40-yard swim, 100-yard swim, 100-yard relay race, 100-yard swim, 100-yard relay race, 100-yard swim, 100-yard relay race.

The team winning the meet will be awarded a banner and the person taking the highest number of points will be presented with a medal.

WILLARD THINKING OVER MANY OFFERS

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 17.—Jess Willard, heavyweight champion pugilist, arrived here today to talk over with Tom Jones, his manager, a number of offers.

Willard was yesterday for a fight between the champion and Frank Moran of Pittsburgh. Jones, Willard's friend, wanted a couple of days to think things over before deciding.

Among the promoters bidding for the battle who waited here to ascertain Willard's decision were Jack Curley, who has made an offer of $30,000 as Willard's share of the proceeds, and the oldfashioned promoter, Al McCoy, who, with Jim Coffroth, would take the fight to Tia Juana, Mexico, and Billy Wellman, representing "Tex" Rickard of New York. If Curley lands the fight, he will present it in New York city.

Willard expects to go to Excelsior Springs, Mo., within a few days to begin preliminary training. He declares he is in first-class condition.

SOCIALISTS DIVIDED ON SALE OF ARMORY

Duluth Socialists are divided in their stand on the sale of the old armory.

A large number of the members of the Duluth Socialist party, while others are in favor of the sale, claim that the armory is a valuable asset of the party and should be sold.

What stand the Socialists will take in supporting Postmaster McKewen's referendum petition will be decided upon at a meeting of the local committee to be held in Forester's hall Wednesday evening.

The feeling against State Senator Jones, who is an active supporter of the referendum, was expressed by the party some time ago, after he had been elected to the state senate.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Lucy Coleman Carnegie, widow of Thomas M. Carnegie, and sister-in-law of Andrew Carnegie, died of pneumonia Jan. 16 at the home of her son, Mr. Oliver C. Hackett, in Waverly, Mass. She was 69 years old.

Mrs. Carnegie's father was a pioneer in the steel industry in Pittsburgh. For many years she was an enthusiastic collector of yachting and she was the first woman to join the New York Yacht club. Her body will be taken to her estate on Cumberland island, off the Georgia coast for burial.

State Senator Charles B. Prouty, shoe manufacturer and well known prohibitionist, died at Spencer, Mass., Jan. 16, after an illness of several weeks. He was counsel for Edwin D. Robbins at the recent trial of the defendant in the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company at New York and he overtook his strength.

Mr. Prouty was 62 years old. He was a former speaker in the Connecticut house of representatives and was

M'WILLIAMS IS LATEST BOAT SOLD

Leaves Capt. Mitchell Without Any Vessels of His Own.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer J. J. McWilliams has been sold by Capt. John Mitchell, manager of the Gratiot Steamship company which owned the ship, to E. F. Smith of the Central West Coal company of Menominee. The price was not given out, but is somewhere under $175,000. It is said a new ship of the same size ordered for delivery next year would cost more than $225,000. The vessel will be used in the coal and ore trade. The McWilliams is a steel ship, 352 feet keel, 45 feet beam and 26 feet deep. She was built in 1895 at the Wheeler yards in Bay City.

The sale of the McWilliams leaves Capt. John Mitchell without any ships of his own. He will continue to operate the three Rogers-Brown ships, the Kennedy, Clement and Agnew. The Rogers-Brown interests also are building a 12,000-ton ship at Coorse.

It does not seem as if the buying and selling of every independent fleet has been sold. The prospects are that at least a half dozen ships will be sold in the next few weeks and buyers have not all been satisfied. Other sales have been closed, but have not been announced.

several conspicuous by their absence, but the Central Athletic association was saved by a big turnout from the business college. Next Friday evening the high school quint faces the hardest game of its schedule when it meets the Virginia high school aggregation. With the same team which overcame Duluth Central last year and almost won the state championship, Virginia will come down here confident of victory. With the local school's crippled team, all they can hope for is a good showing. Coach Blake will work hard with his men all of this week in the hopes of giving the husky rangers a good battle. ## KEONEN IS AFTER CARR

Famous Little Finn Declares He Will Concede Weight to Minneapolis Man.

Waino Ketonen, desiring to wipe his lone Duluth defeat off the slate, today in Chicago issued a broad and sweeping defi to Joe Carr, the tough and ready Minneapolis wrestler, offering to meet the Mill City crack at catch weights and determine which was the better man of the two.

Last season Ketonen offered to meet Carr at 155 pounds ringside and was $250 on the side. Carr tried to temporize over the matter of weight, but the little Finn remained obdurate and refused to arbitrate. The match was finally passed up.

This season Ketonen has been displaying wonderful form. He declares he is wrestling better than ever. Two weeks of daily work with Joe Stecher, Waino declares, have given him complete confidence in himself. Desiring to get Carr on the mat at the recognized middleweight limit, the little Finn has finally decided to meet Carr at his own game and show the fans of Duluth that he is the little wrestling machine of the present age, just as Stecher is the mat maul among the big men of the present day.

Frank La Joy, better known as the "Cub," declared upon receipt of the wire from Ketonen, that he would stand the contest. If Carr is willing to meet the little Finn, the contest will be wrestled here within two weeks, and it should prove one of the greatest of matches.

Carr has been training the present winter for a number of matches. Ever since he injured Ketonen the Mill City husky has been hurling challenges at Ketonen, and yet always backed and wined. Now that Carr has declared that he will permit Carr to name his own conditions, it is up to the Minneapolis boy to come through and give the famous Little Finn an opportunity to show just how great he is and whether he can stand before the bull-like ringer and grueling tactics of one of the strongest grapplers in the world.

MANY BIDDING FOR WILLARD-MORAN

Promoters From All Over Country Make Offers for Bout.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 17.—The probability of the proposed Willard-Moran fight being held anywhere from Madison Square Garden to Lower California, was evident last night when promoters from all over the country arrived in an effort to obtain the signature of Jess Willard, heavyweight champion, to a contract. The announced conference yesterday, afternoon, between Tom Jones, Willard's manager, and Jack Curley, a promoter, was unproductive of finalities.

Curley, it developed, is financing the fight on his own interest and is not representing Sam McCracken and Tex Rickard, as had been announced. Billy Weiland, a New York promoter, arrived yesterday and is handling the McCracken-Rickard interest. It was announced, Barney Oldfield, the automobile racer, also entered a bid for representing Jim Coffroth, the San Francisco manager, and is anxious to have the fight held at Tia Juana, Mexico, in Lower California.

This is purely a business matter and I am going to take the best offer," declared Jones, following his talk with Curley.

MORE LIBERAL TOWARD AMATEURS

Committees Make Recommendations to Intercollegiate Convention.

New York, Jan. 17.—Propositions to be made at the annual convention of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletics of America, here on March 4, for the adoption of a new code of eligibility relative to amateurism, were discussed at a joint meeting of the executive and advisory committees of that organization held here yesterday.

The committees recommended the striking out of article 20 of the constitution, which covers the definition of an amateur, and to insert in its place the amateur rules, acts of disbarment and the pardoning power voted upon and approved at the sports conference held in this city during the final week of December.

With some changes in the phraseology, the new code is virtually the same as those suggested at the last special meeting of these two committees. If the proposed change is adopted by the Intercollegiate A. A. A. amateur athlete, by obtaining permission from the faculty committee of his college to compete as an individual against one or more persons ineligible.

Another clause will permit an amateur to take part in any public competition exhibition as a member of a team which there are one or more members who are receiving pay or financial benefits, by receiving permission from the proper faculty authority. This will give an amateur the right to play summer baseball without violating the amateur rule.

A third clause permits amateurs playing under certain conditions as members of a team against another team, one or more members of which are ineligible to compete as amateurs.

Probably in every case of middle ear infection, or "gathering in the ear," in which the drum ruptures and permits a discharge of matter from the ear, or is landed for that purpose by the physician, there is more or less involvement of the spaces inside the mastoid process.

These spaces communicate with the cavity of the middle ear, and no doubt partake of all inflammations involving the lining of the middle ear. (The middle ear is that portion of the ear within the eardrum which contains a little bone of the ear, and communicates via the Eustachian tube with the back of the nose and throat.)

Of course a fair share of cases of mastoiditis will go on to spontaneous recovery after a few weeks under good care, but the disease is a treacherous one and must be managed by a physician of good judgment. Perhaps half of the cases of mastoiditis will recover without operation and the other half will require operation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

A gland that influences growth. Can you tell me whether there is any such thing as a gland having control over the growth of the body? There is a gland in the body called the thyroid gland, which is increased by feeding a person some gland or glandular extract.

Answer—The thyroid gland, at the base of the brain, exerts such an influence. In animal experimentation, at any rate, the feeding of extracts of thyroid gland produces a markedly rapid growth, in young animals, particularly males. Whether such effects are ever noted in human beings are unable to state. If the individual were undeveloped because of a deficiency of thyroid gland secretion it would perhaps be worth trying.

Chenopodium (wormseed). Kindly advise me whether oil of chenopodium (American wormseed) is considered a safe remedy for hookworm infection and for other intestinal parasites.

Answer—Safer than most vermifuges, and said to be far more efficient. The dose given is five drops in capsule to a child, and drops to an adult, early in the morning, after a light supper and no breakfast. This is given each day for three or four days, and after the dose on the third morning a tablespoonful of castor oil should be taken.

"ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED" AT THE BETHEL HAS DWINDLED FROM 200 TO 20 IN YEAR

One cold dreary night about a year ago a Herald photographer went up to the Bethel and "snapped" more than 200 men, able-bodied but unemployed, more or less comfortably stretched out on the floor of the institution and enjoying their night's sleep. This same photographer was on deck early the next morning and at 6 a. m. snapped the same gang of more than ten score idle men, receiving their portion of the breakfast bill of fare. The men could not find work and were lodged at the Bethel to keep them from freezing or starving.

DISCUSS PROBLEMS OF RURAL SCHOOLS

State Superintendent Will Hold Meetings Here and Elsewhere.

Dr. C. G. Schulz, state superintendent of education, will begin a series of meetings throughout the state on Jan. 27, at which many of the problems of the rural schools, notably the extent to which supervision by the county superintendent should be exercised, will be discussed; and the meeting that will be held in Duluth, as a part of the winter's program, will be on Feb. 16 at the Duluth Normal school. The counties to be served at this meeting will be Lake, Koochiching, Pine, St. Louis, Aitkin, Itasca, Carlton, Carlton and Kanabos. Other counties in the northern part of the state will be served, together with the counties served, as follows:

Jan. 27—Normal school, Moorhead, Minn.; counties of Norman, Traverse, Stevens, Big Stone, Clay, Otter tail, Grant, Swift, Becker and Wilkin.

Feb. 16—High school, Bemidji, for counties of Kittson, Pennington, Red Lake, Mahanomen, Clearwater, Roseau, Marshall, Beltrami, Polk, Hubbard and Cass.

It has been suggested that the county superintendents may increase their value to the rural schools by maintaining a system of office records showing the work of the different schools and by circular letters to the teachers. Of late, however, it has been advocated by educators that the county superintendent, like the city superintendent, should have a number of specialized assistants who can instruct the rural school teachers in their special lines.

It is believed that the plan will be productive of much useful information and actual results, even though it will not make possible at once the appointment of county superintendents.

THIEF RIVER FALLS BLUE LAW AGITATION

Mayor Orders All Places Closed Sunday, Then Changes Ruling.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—There has been considerable speculation here as to the outcome of the orders issued by the new mayor, Dr. F. H. Gambell, regarding the enforcement of the Sunday closing laws.

On Jan. 7, four days after assuming the office, Mayor Gambell issued orders closing all grocery stores, confectioneries, selling groceries, pool and billiard parlors and bowling alleys on Sunday. The order also included moving picture houses maintaining a need, for there is a good demand for laborers, not only in the woods, but in the city as well. The local Bethel head declares that there is absolutely no excuse for men being idle at this time of the year. The lumber camps are sadly in need of men, and at one place there are thirty teams idle because of lack of men to handle them. Calls for men are constantly coming in, he said.

"We have found," declared Mr. Ramsey, "that unusual charity breeds idleness among the men. If the men are given all they want and are not urged to go to work, they become lazy and never care to work for a living."

We are pursuing a different course this year. While we are as generous as possible to those who are unfortunate, we are urging all of them to get work for there is plenty of it. Last year, and the men seem more amenable to the idea of working.

vaudeville performance on Sunday, but this was modified when Manager Morgan of the Lyceum cited a supreme court decision covering the contingency.

Order is Modified. Owing to a request from the mayor's interpretation of the law, the order was modified to cover only the grocery stores pending the opinion of the attorney general. This opinion was received Saturday and favoring the mayor's contention, was considered as making his orders effective. Late Saturday night, the Lyceum hall proprietors showed the mayor a supreme court decision in Minnesota reports, which covered their case and they were officially notified that permission had been granted for them to conduct their places as usual in an orderly manner. The grocery stores remained closed, however, and the confectioners, who handle groceries as a side line, kept open, but posting signs to the effect that "No Groceries Will Be Sold Here Today."

TWO DULUTHIANS ADDED TO BOARD

Butte & Zenith City Mining Company Takes Important Action.

C. O. Baldwin and L. S. Lobb of this city were elected on the board of directors of the Butte & Zenith City Mining company at a meeting of the board held at Butte on Saturday. They succeeded the late William White of Duluth, and John A. Percival, resigned. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mr. E. J. McMahon, who is at present in Butte, in connection with the resumption of operations at the company's mine property.

It is announced that sufficient funds have been realized under the company's refinancing scheme, and that operations will be actively pushed from now on.

Under a contract entered into with the Montana Power company, the electrical power at the mine will be increased to 5,000 volts and considerable new equipment will be installed. The shaft is to be sunk to the 1,000-foot level from which cross-cutting will be done.

The company has decided to employ John D. Pope, formerly general manager of the North Butte Mining company, as consulting and directing engineer in charge of operations.

LIST OF "DON'TS" FOR PREVENTION OF FIRE

Winter fire prevention "don'ts" have been compiled by State Insurance Commissioner S. D. Works. He suggests: Don't put ashes in wooden boxes or barrels. Use metal cans.

Don't throw hot ashes against fences or buildings. Don't fail to burn all rubbish. Watch it and be sure the fire is out before you leave it.

Don't burn rubbish near fences or buildings. Don't permit rubbish, paper or greasy rags to accumulate. Don't use coal oil to start a slow fire.

Don't try to start any kind of a fire with coal oil. It is dangerous. Don't fill a stove while it is hot. Don't fill an oil or gasoline stove after dark.

CANADIAN NORTHERN IS TO CHANGE LINE

Port Frances, Ont., Jan. 17.—It is announced that the Canadian Northern Railway has served notice of intention to apply to parliament for a charter to construct a railway from Port William across the Lake of the Woods to Winnipeg, and thus avoid the necessity of the railway going through Minnesota and paying heavy taxes to this state.

This project has been proposed four times in the last thirty years, and surveys of a possible route across the lake have been made by different companies. Although the scheme involves the construction of bridges and some long deep hills, it is asserted by competent authorities to be practical and not more costly than construction in mountainous districts.

The Canadian Northern company recently has had an engineer in the field making a thorough exploration. It has been found that a line across the lake can branch off the Canadian northern main line at some point on Rainy river, and that the project of another line all the way to the head of Lake Superior.

THIEF RIVER LIKES IT.

New Mail Service to Goodridge Village Pleases All.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Not far from the postoffice department that a satisfactory agreement has been reached with the Minnesota Northern Electric Railway company for the transportation of the mail between this city and Goodridge village was received with great interest here. The mail during the last four months has been carried in every manner possible and the expense has been cared for by Mrs. Jay Payne, postmistress at Goodridge, supported by the business men of the village. It is considered that during the coming year a complete rearrangement of the mail service to the territory east and northeast of this city will be made. The territory is now served by star and rural routes out of this city and the service is cumbersome and entirely unsatisfactory to the settlers.

Thief River Falls Wins. Thief River Falls, Minn., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last Friday night the local five defeated the Ada quintet, 28 to 15, in a rather loosely played game. Under the able coaching of Albert Johnson, the local team is developing fast, and the hopes of the fans are that the team will be the Ninth District champions, and thus be eligible to play in the annual state journey at Carlton college, in Northfield.

THINKS T. R. IS FAVORITE

C. C. Daniels, Brother of Cabinet Member, Is Duluth Visitor.

Believes Wishes of Progressives Have Weight With Republicans.

That Theodore Roosevelt will be the nominee of the Republican party for president is the belief of C. C. Daniels, of the legal force of the Indian bureau, who is in the city to attend United States court. A case that requires the attention of his department is on the docket for this week and Mr. Daniels is here to look after it.

He is a brother of Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, and is a typical Southerner, a man of great speech and gracious manner. That Mr. Daniels is a whole-hearted Democrat by birth, breeding and conviction, nobody can doubt after a few minutes talk with him. Like most Southerners, he has always taken a deep interest in politics, and at the age of 17 started a newspaper in North Carolina, in a county that had been a Republican for several years—actually once a Republican—but from which he had been driven.

At the Spaulding hotel today, Mr. Daniels talked of the political situation that confronts the Republicans. He dismissed the Democratic situation by saying:

"Many people," said he, "make the mistake of saying that Mr. Roosevelt is dead politically. They have said that of Mr. Bryan many times. But when he died, unless we had the obsequies being conducted, you stand at the head of the funeral. Mr. Daniels said that all of the others who are being groomed and boomed for the Republican nomination scarcely count except to get delegations into the convention. He believes that the party will result in the wishes of the progressives being carried out. He said that the former president will be found to be the favorite."

DULUTHIANS RESIST FIRE MARSHAL'S ORDER

Thief River Falls, Minn., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gopher Realty company of Duluth, owners of the building now occupied by Pappenberg & Hensley as a restaurant, has filed notice of appeal from the order of the state fire marshal ordering the building removed from the grounds of the city. The case will be argued in district court, which will sit on Jan. 21, Judge Grinde and Warren presiding.

The building, which is in the center of a block, is one of the oldest in the city. It is situated on the corner of Third and Second streets. It is a two-story building, and is in good condition. It is a fire hazard, and the case will be argued in district court, which will sit on Jan. 21, Judge Grinde and Warren presiding.

SLEEP WALK'S FATAL ENDING

Trapper Wanders Away From Camp Near Lake Nanakin and Perishes.

Companion Misses Him and Finds Body on Ice of Lake.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first tragedy reported in this section as a result of the terrible blizzard of last week became known here when word was received that Joseph Bebeau, aged 35, a trapper, perished on Lake Nanakin north of here, near Cusson. The body has been brought here by the dead man's companion, C. J. Hamilton, and is held at the local morgue pending word from relatives.

Bebeau and Hamilton were sleeping in their camp last Wednesday night on the shores of Lake Nanakin. When Hamilton arose in the morning to find the howling blizzard, his companion was missing. He started an investigation and tracked his companion where he lay on the ice dead. Hamilton thinks Bebeau got up in his sleep in a spell of somnambulism and deliberately walked to his death.

It was cold Sunday. Yesterday was the coldest Sunday on the Mesaba range in years. The local official thermometer registered 32 degrees below at 10 and a biting wind prevailed all day. It is some warmer today, being 10 below at noon, but is still very cold.

Hibbing Shivered Sunday. Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—This has been the longest cold spell of winter weather in good many years, is the opinion of old citizens here, who on Sunday saw the thermometer go 23 deg. below zero.

It was just one week ago Sunday "but the cold spell started and it has not abated yet." The mercury was 20 deg. above the zero mark last week and has been from 20 deg. down to 23 deg. below.

Sunday was one of the coldest days of the winter thus far.

FORMER DULUTH WOMAN PASSES Sister-in-Law of S. J. Cusson Is Called at Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Anna Grace, sister-in-law of S. J. Cusson, general manager of the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company, died at the Cusson home here at 4 o'clock this morning of acute bronchitis and it was formerly lived at Ashland, Duluth and Bay City, Mich., and the body was taken to the latter place today for burial beside her husband, being accompanied from here by Mr. and Mrs. Cusson.

At Chicago the funeral party will be joined by the Hon. J. C. Cusson, attending St. John's military academy at Duluth, Wis., and by Miss Ethel Grace, a daughter, who has been visiting in Peoria, Ill.

Mrs. Grace was born in Bay City, Mich., and ten years ago went to Ashland, Wis., with her sister, Mrs. Cusson, and then to Duluth, Minn., where a few months later came here to live with the Cussons. Two brothers live in Milwaukee.

A musical program has been prepared as follows: (a) "Love Like a Dream," H. O'Dell; (b) "Farewell to Thee," Prof. Henderson's vocal solo, selected, Robin Walker; cello, Martin Hughes of Hibbing; reading, "Romance," (Sheldon) by Miss Rosebud Fortier; song, "Ebb and Flow," (King) by high school sextet.

WATCH SORE THROATS because swollen glands or inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and lung trouble easily follows.

As Nature's corrector of throat troubles the pure cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue; its tested glycerine is curative and healing, while this wholesome emulsion relieves the trouble and rebuilds the forces to resist tubercular germs and avert the weakening influence which usually follows.

If any member of your family has a tender throat, get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion today. Physicians prescribe it to avert throat troubles, overcome bronchial disorders and strengthen the lungs. No alcohol or harmful drugs. Always insist on Scott's.

SEMI-OFFICIAL DENIAL MADE IN BERLIN OF CAPT. VON PAPEN'S CONNECTION WITH ANY PLOTS

NO MONEY FOR CONSPIRATORS IS STATEMENT

Declares Papers Seized From Attache of Purely Personal Character.

Says No Check Ever Paid Werner Horn for Blowing Up Bridge.

Money From Ambassador Solely for the Expenses of His Office.

Berlin, Jan. 18, wireless to Sayville.—A denial that Capt. Franz von Papen, recalled German military attache at Washington, paid money to individuals in the United States in connection with attempts to blow up munitions factories or bridges, was made today by the semi-official Overseas News agency.

The agency's statement follows: "British press reports state that the former German military attache at Washington, Capt. von Papen, had in his possession letters and bank books, seized by the British at Falmouth, which contain evidence that he paid money to persons connected with explosions in munitions factories in the United States, and to other criminals. The Overseas News agency hears from competent authorities that these assertions are not correct.

Rome, Jan. 18.—Four Austrian aeroplanes dropped bombs this afternoon on the city of Ancona. One person was killed. The material damage was unimportant.

CANNOT FIND UPDIKE BOYS

Brothers, Charged With Plotting Against Parents,
Hidden By Police.

Kept From Bondsmen While Investigation Is Being Made.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Prospective bondsmen for Irving and Herbert Updike, who confessed plotting to take the life of their father, Furman D. Updike, wealthy retired broker of Oak Park, were unable to find the young men today.

Police Chief Lee of Oak Park said he did not know where the two had been taken.

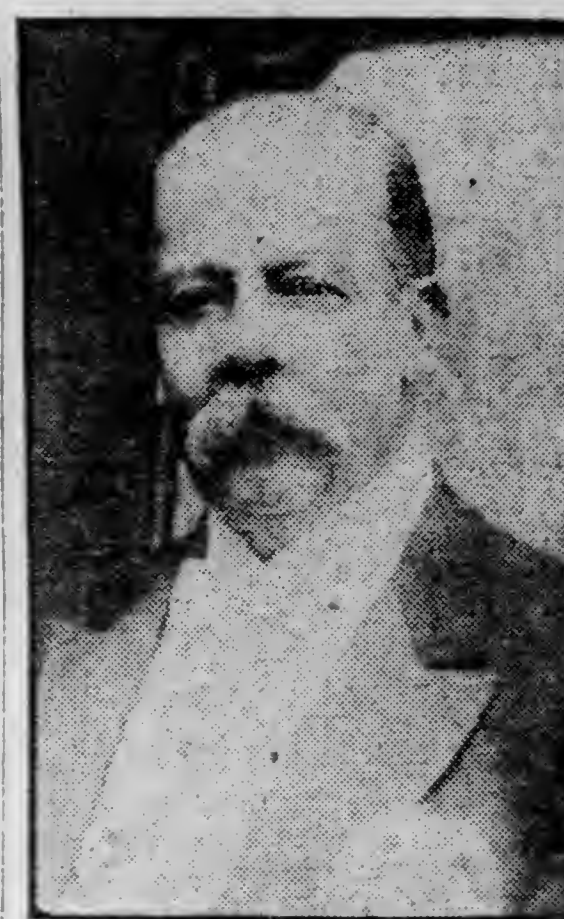

A justice of the peace said he had committed the two to the Cook county jail, but had no knowledge where they had been taken. The county jailer said the young men were not in the jail.

Look Into Confessions.

It was believed they were either held at the Oak Park police station, while the police look more clearly into their confessions.

CANNOT FIND UPDIKE BOYS

Brothers, Charged With Plotting Against Parents,
Hidden By Police.

Kept From Bondsmen While Investigation Is Being Made.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Prospective bondsmen for Irving and Herbert Updike, who confessed plotting to take the life of their father, Furman D. Updike, wealthy retired broker of Oak Park, were unable to find the young men today.

Police Chief Lee of Oak Park said he did not know where the two had been taken.

A justice of the peace said he had committed the two to the Cook county jail, but had no knowledge where they had been taken. The county jailer said the young men were not in the jail.

Look Into Confessions.

It was believed they were either held at the Oak Park police station, while the police look more clearly into their confessions.

ANOTHER BANDIT CHIEF EXECUTED AND HIS BODY DISPLAYED AT EL PASO

Col. Valles, Villa's Most Calloused Executioner, Shot at Juarez.

Killed on Station Platform

Body of Gen. Rodriguez
Also Exhibited to Americans at El Paso.

El Paso, Jan. 18.—Col. Miguel Baca Valles, bandit chief, captured at Palomas, south of Columbus, N. M., was executed at 6 o'clock this morning by a firing squad at Juarez. Two bullets fired at close quarters, penetrated his heart, after he had declared he was not responsible for the robberies of Villa and pleaded to see Gen. Carranza commandant.

Lieut. Col. Enrique Cisneros, who was captured last week with Baca Valles is being marched overland with eight followers caught with him, and according to Mexican officials, also will be placed promptly before a firing squad.

Baca Valles arrived here last night on the train which brought the body declared to be that of Jose Rodriguez, the bandit chief, executed near Madera last Thursday. The two bodies later were taken to the Mexican customs house here to be viewed by Americans, who have expressed doubt as to the identity of the man executed as Rodriguez.

Valles Executed.

Baca Valles, who was known as Villa's most calloused executioner, at Juarez was taken from the box car in which he arrived a few minutes before 6 o'clock this morning.

The officer commanding the firing squad said he had orders to kill and he and a soldier stepped up close to the prisoner's heart. The body was then taken back to the railroad station, where it lay uncovered until after dark on the platform among the men, women and children lying about wrapped in blankets.

IN SUPREME COMMAND OF THE ALLIES' FORCES AT SALONIKI

GEN. SARRAIL.

London, Jan. 18.—Gen. Sarrail, commander of the French forces at Saloniki, is said by Reuters correspondent at that point to have taken over supreme command of the allies' troops, bringing the British expedition under his control.

Troops Land.

London, Jan. 18.—Reports received this morning from German sources state that the enemies have landed forces at Piraeus besides those embarked at Phaleron. The Saloniki correspondent of the Day Mail says that the Allies are continuing to land troops at Orfano, fifty miles northwest of Saloniki.

GOMPERS FOR DEFENSE PLAN

Head of Labor Federation Expresses Views at Civic Convention.

Says Nation, However, Must Be Guarded Against Militarism Evil.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Adequate preparedness for national defense was advocated here today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a speech before the session of the annual convention of the National Civic Federation, devoted to that subject.

While he insisted that military organizations must be democratic and the nation must be safeguarded against the evils of militarism, Mr. Gompers declared that "America's own freedom had been achieved by resistance to tyranny and that pacifists failed to understand that quality of the human race which made men willing to risk their all for an ideal."

Will Fight for Scrap of Paper.

"Men worthy of the name," he said, "will fight even for a scrap of paper, when that paper represents liberty, justice and freedom. There is little progress made in the affairs of the world in which resistance of others is not involved. Though we may realize the brutality of war, though we may know the value of peace, we must know the value of peace."

NEW NOTE AMOUNTS TO ULTIMATUM

If Not Done Within Forty-Eight Hours Action Will Be Taken.

Allies Land Forces at Piraeus as Well as at Phaleron.

Believed to Be Beginning of Attempt to Force
Greece's Hand.

Berlin, Jan. 18, wireless to Sayville.—A note to the Greek government, amounting to an ultimatum, is said by the Overseas News agency to have been presented by France and Great Britain. According to a Sofia dispatch to the news agency, Greece is required to deliver their passports to the ministers of the Central powers within 48 hours, failing which the Entente will take "necessary measures."

To Use Extreme Means.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—Berlin newspapers, according to the Overseas News agency, express the belief that the landed allied troops at Phaleron, five miles southwest of Athens, is considered as supplying proof that the Entente powers intend using extreme means to force the hand of Greece.

The news agency's statement says: "Berlin newspapers commenting on the latest news regarding Greece, are in stating that the Entente seems to have abandoned all regard for Greek neutrality and sovereignty. The landing at Phaleron is considered as proof that the Entente is now going to use extreme means for forcing Greece."

"According to prevalent reports, the Greek government has transferred part of the state archives to Larissa, in Northwestern Greece, where eventually the Greek government likewise will be transferred."

VILLA BANDITS PLAN TO ATTACK JUAREZ

Refugees Arriving at El Paso Report Much Activity on Part of Rebels.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 18.—More than 100 refugees from Parral, Chihuahua, arrived here early today aboard a special train. There were a number of women and children in the party.

The refugees reported that Villa troops are scouring the country taking everything of value that they can find, belonging to foreigners. Some of the refugees asserted that Villa troops are moving southward in small bands to join the forces of Gen. Arguedo, who defeated Carranza forces Jan. 10 at Escalon. They asserted that Arguedo had a plan to attack and capture Juarez. It is said that he has a force of 6,000 men and Villa is reported to be able to muster several thousand others.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The situation in the Balkans has suddenly grown tense from the allied point of view, with the capitulation of the Montenegrins, and it has entered a new critical phase, according to reports through German channels that the Entente powers have demanded that Greece, within twenty-four hours, deliver their passports to the ministers of the Central powers in Athens.

Lack of compliance by Greece would cause the allies to take "necessary measures," declares the Berlin adviser.

The Balkans continue to be one of the chief centers of interest in the war for peace means the elimination of one of the active factors in the military situation there.

Entente interests appear to be watching closely the situation in Albania and recent advices from London declare that adequate forces are now at hand to defend that country. The belief is indicated in these advices that Italy's precautionary measures in Albanian territory have gone far toward safeguarding the future interests of Montenegro, whose military collapse seems to have been considered well-nigh inevitable after the crushing of Serbia by the Teutonic allies.

Little attention so far has been paid in Entente quarters to the reports that allied troops have been landed near Athens, as German press utterances indicate. From German sources comes the additional report that a landing of Entente forces has been made at Piraeus, the seaport of Athens, as well as in the Bay of Phaleron, east of the Piraeus peninsula, about five miles from Athens.

That the Fleischman Yeast company are always striving to provide the interests of the bakers, in the distribution of their bread, is evidenced by the return of the "John Dough" advertising, inaugurated by the Fleischman company which commenced in The Herald on Friday evening.

The "John Dough" advertising, which ran over a year ago in The Herald, proved to be of much help to the bakers in Duluth, and it is felt that the campaign, which is now running, will serve as one of education to the housewives, to let them know that they can obtain bakers' bread which is just as good as they can make in their own kitchen, and which relieves them of all the time and trouble attendant upon baking in their own home.

The Fleischman people, through the various bakers and stores in Duluth, are sending out an illustrated booklet describing "Sixty Ways in Which to Use Bread," that should prove to be a source of much help and information to the women of Duluth.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

In local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, it is swollen, and the sound of the hearing is lost. It is a curable condition. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is a condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness cured by catarrh that cannot be cured by local applications. Send for circulars free.

TWO NEPHEWS OF PIKE LAKE FARMER DECORATED FOR BRAVERY; ONE GETS V. C.

LIEUT. BARRY BROWN.

Horace Mavor, a prominent farmer in the Pike Lake district, has received the announcement from London that two of his nephews have won glory in the trenches of Europe.

A clipping from the London Morning Post, sent to Mr. Mavor by his sister, who resides in London, conveys the information that one of the nephews, Capt. Hugh Barrington Brown, has just been decorated with the Victoria Cross, the highest honor an English soldier can receive, as a recognition of unusual gallantry and good service performed in the trenches during a bombing charge last August. Brown is captain of the First Battalion of the Leicestershire regiment and the clipping from the London newspaper states: "For conspicuous gallantry and good service in the trenches at Hooze between Aug. 2 and 5, 1915, when in charge of a brigade bombing party. He got his party up to the trenches by day under shell fire and remained in them three days during a heavy bombardment. All his bombs were exploded by shell fire, and his party was several times buried and had to be dug out. He has brought his battalion members to a high state of efficiency."

CAPT. HUGH BARRINGTON BROWN.

The other nephew, Barry Brown, is first lieutenant in the Nineteenth regiment of Royal Fusiliers. Although he was not honored quite as highly as his brother, he performed most commendably in command of his troops.

DISEASE THREATENS THE IRISH POTATO FIGHT TO BE WAGED AT SHORT COURSES

A. E. Hostetter, supervisor of county agents, is calling agricultural experts to arms to rescue the Irish potato. Scab threatens the very existence almost of the most valuable and prolific crop of St. Louis county, and Mr. Hostetter will make the fight in behalf of the tuber the chief feature of the short courses for farmers to be held during February.

"For some time," said Mr. Hostetter today, "the Irish potato has been degenerating from scab, and it is imperative that farmers and agricultural agents make a campaign to eliminate this disease. Potatoes are the best crop in St. Louis county, and probably St. Louis county is the banner county of the country in the production of the tuber. The soil and climate are both admirably suited to potato culture. At the short courses this winter the discussion of the potato and potato diseases will be featured, and farmers will be told just what seed to plant, how often crops should be rotated, and other things necessary for the raising of potatoes on the same ground for several years in hard soil. It is aimed to reach virtually all the potato growers in the state through the short courses. Five courses have already been arranged for and at least seven more are being arranged. At the Jackson Farmers' club, the Palo Alto farmers, near Blawie, the Hermantown farmers, for short courses and others are being arranged for the range from the state farm college and Mark Thompson and Fred Ward will be on the lecture program from Duluth. The courses will begin Feb. 1 and will last for two days, the short courses are taking the place of the old farmers' institute. The short courses will be held at various places, and the results are being obtained.

A. H. SMITH'S SON
LOSES HIS LEG

It was stated at the curling club yesterday that Frank Smith, son of A. H. Smith of Winnipeg, formerly of Duluth and one of the best known curling enthusiasts in North America, has lost a leg in the European war.

News of the sad accident came as a distinct shock to the many promoters of the curling club. Many Duluthians know the boy personally, as he went to school here before going with his parents to Winnipeg.

It is said that young Smith has returned to the activities of war despite his terrible misfortune, taking up work in the hospital service. He will be accompanied it is said, by two Canadian soldiers, one of whom has lost a limb in the war.

G. E. LEE.

George E. Lee, the 24-year-old son of M. W. Lee of 2401 East Third street, has been elected to the position of cashier of the First National bank of Duluth, Minn., according to a report from that place.

The young man started as an office boy at that bank and because of his diligent efforts had a rapid rise. At the recent annual meeting of the bank he was promoted to the office of cashier.

the new army during the week of Feb. 7, it was last evening decided to stage the races and carnival on the harbor Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 10, instead of the following Sunday. Should the weather be unfavorable for the races, it was explained this morning, the entire program could be postponed to the other days during the show week.

Ray Buchanan, chairman of the racing committee, announced this morning that a representative of the American Automobile association will be here this week to investigate the proposed race with a view of putting the Federal sanction on the event. In this way, any record made here will stand for the entire country.

The dealers last evening raised $500 as a nucleus of a $1,500 fund needed for prizes to the winners and the expense of bringing some of the racers from out of the city. It was announced today that Ray Buchanan and Banks of Hibbing will both compete with special machines, the former with a 120-horse power Mercedes, and the latter with a special 90-horse power machine. The events will be staged on a three-mile course during the afternoon.

NEFF WILL SPEAK AT CONVENTION

Dentley P. Neff, secretary and sales manager of the F. A. Patrick company of this city, left yesterday afternoon for New York City, where on Friday next he will address the members of the National Dry Goods association in their annual convention at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Mr. Neff will speak on "Maximum Efficiency in Salesmanship." Other speakers of unusual interest on the program of the convention are George W. Perkins of New York who will talk on "A Permanent Tariff Commission," and Amos B. Cheney of New York, who will address the convention on "Public Relations Legislation." According to the advance reports an unusually interesting convention has been arranged and a large number of wholesalers and manufacturers are expected to be in attendance.

SUBURB SEEKS IMPROVEMENTS

The regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of Lester Park will be held this evening at the Lester Park M. E. church. There will be a dinner at 7 o'clock and the meeting will follow. J. P. Ingorsoll, president of the club, will preside.

Several important matters will be taken up at the meeting. The members will consider the "Prosperity day" idea suggested for Feb. 29. Agitation towards obtaining a new schoolhouse will be started at the meeting. The playground question will be taken up and the members will ask for lights for the public rink. They will also attempt to persuade the street railway company to put more early morning cars on the Lakeside line. There will be several outside speakers at the meeting.

New Coming Back.
Park River, N. D., Jan. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—A great many former American farmers who migrated to Canada during the height of the immigration movement several years ago, are returning to the states, according to W. C. Kohnen of Shelby, Mont., formerly of this place.

Mr. Kohnen writes that the trains from Sweet Grass, Alta., are loaded with former American farmers who are returning to the United States, and are looking on homesteads and cheap land of Western North Dakota and Montana.

MEMBERSHIPS WOULD TAKE ARE TAXABLE SECOND PLACEU. S. Supreme Court Refuses to Interfere in Grain Market Decision.Duluth Board Not Involved in Case But Affected By Decision.

The United States supreme court decision made yesterday leaves standing as valid the state supreme court's decision that memberships in the Minneapolis chamber of commerce are taxable under the laws of the state. While the members of the Duluth board of trade, an organization similar to that of the Minneapolis chamber, are not involved in the suit just decided, they are affected by it. The federal court did not pass on the question of jurisdiction.

The Duluth board of trade fought the taxation, but was defeated in the district court, and was appealed to the supreme court. The board bowed to the decision of the state courts. The Minneapolis board of trade, however, began its fight, after the Duluth board had gone ahead and intervened in the Duluth suit. The state supreme court, its attorneys arguing before the supreme court, argued that the Minneapolis chamber started suit in the Hennepin county district court, and carried it up to the state supreme court and, when it lost there, asked the Federal district court for an injunction restraining the Hennepin county officials from collecting the tax. This was denied, and the matter was carried to the Federal supreme court with the result given.

By stipulation all tax payments in Minneapolis were held in abeyance until the supreme court decision should be obtained and will now be payable for the year 1915 to last year and about $30,000 is due. The Duluth board of trade took no such action, but is now paying the taxes with the understanding that if any court decision freed them from such taxes, they would refund back taxes paid. There is, therefore, no for a series of elements to mind.

The tax fight was first started in Duluth and the matter was fought as outlined. The Duluth board declared that outside of its real estate value holdings, which were taxable under the state laws. However they valued their real estate at $500,000, but on that full value since the year they paid on a valuation of $500,000 with no exemption. The board valued about $200,000 of its real estate.

Complaint Filed.
Without waiting on the merits of the case, the supreme court yesterday affirmed the decision of the United States court for the district of Minnesota. The question decided was one of jurisdiction. The United States court in Minnesota dismissed the bill of the Minneapolis chamber on the ground that the amount involved was not sufficient to bring it before the United States court. The bill was taxed $40 and the minimum to bring it within the jurisdiction of the Federal courts is $50.

A sufficient number of members of the chamber of commerce combined to bring the aggregate tax up to the required sum, but the court held that this could not be done and dismissed the bill of complaint. In other words, it was held that each individual must have been damaged to the extent of $50 before the suit could be tried in the Federal courts. The supreme court affirmed the decision of the United States district court and dismissed the bill.

The court did not pass upon the case of the supreme court of Minnesota, in which there are some parties and the same questions were raised.

GIVEN VERDICT FOR JAMESTOWN INJURY

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The jury in the district court in the case of Paul J. Prebik vs. The Fargo Plumbing & Heating Company returned a verdict in favor for plaintiff of $2,500. Prebik, who is an employee of the Fargo company, was injured while working on a new M. E. church at Jamestown. The Fargo company had a heating contract and while Prebik and others were engaged in moving a heavy radiator it fell on him.

James A. Peterson of Minneapolis Files for Lieutenant Governorship.

Taken as Meaning E. E. Smith Will Back Governor and Peterson.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—James A. Peterson of Minneapolis filed his affidavit with the secretary of state yesterday as a Republican candidate for lieutenant governor.

"I am filing," said Mr. Peterson, "in response to requests from prominent Republicans throughout the state."

Mr. Peterson's filing was not unexpected, for he has been groomed for the lieutenant governorship ever since he withdrew from the race for the governorship nomination on the Republican ticket making his withdrawal in the interest of Governor Burquist.

Tough on the Governor.
The conditions of his withdrawal from the try for the head of the ticket instantly made him a Burquist adherent, of course, and his candidacy for the second place is, consequently, looked upon as the conclusion of a Burquist-Peterson combine. In some ways, this is looked upon as being "tough on the governor," for the reason that Mr. Burquist has always avoided combinations, has never been identified with the "machine," and in fact has been opposed to it, but now bumps right into a combination with a man who has been distinctly identified with E. E. Smith, the Republican "boss" in Minnesota for many years.

Mr. Peterson's candidacy for the governorship had the sanction of Mr. Smith, and there is reason to believe, however, that the general boss's active support had he stayed in the race. But it was thought best for party unity to have Mr. Peterson withdraw.

Whether the new turn of affairs means that Boss Smith will back both Burquist and Peterson is not definitely known, but politicians assume, that it does and the campaign will be pursued on that assumption. It looks like an embarrassing complication that Governor Burquist did not invite.

HIBERNIAN LODGES INSTALL OFFICERS

Division No. 6, Ancient Order of Hibernians, and the ladies' auxiliary of the lodge held their annual joint installation at the St. Clement's hall, Twenty-first avenue west and Third street, last night. A. H. Powers, state vice president of the order, conducted the ceremonies for the Hibernians, and Mrs. Sarah Murphy, county president, installed the auxiliary.

The installing officers were assisted by F. L. Ryan of Division No. 1 and Miss Clara Stark. Following the ceremony, short talks on the growth of the order were given by Mr. Powers, Mr. Ryan, Mrs. Murphy and others. The program also included a violin solo by Albert McNamara, reading by John Allen, piano solo by Mary Wade, vocal solo by James Wade, and remarks by Rev. Father Raymond. The officers installed for the Hibernians are: President, Peter Quinn; vice president, George Ryan; recording secretary, L. W. Flood; financial secretary, John Simons; treasurer, L. P. Drohan; sergeant-at-arms, James Sheehan; chaplain, M. J. Ryan; chairman of standing committee, Patrick Hughes; ladies' auxiliary—President, Mrs. Margaret Kelly; vice president, Mrs. Margaret Farley; recording secretary, Mrs. Katharine Daugherty; financial secretary, Mrs. Julia Wilson; treasurer, Mrs. Anna Moore; mistress-at-arms, Mrs. Bridget Hurley; members of the standing committee, Mrs. Margaret Gratto, Mrs. E. J. Ryan, Mrs. Mary Chubb, Mrs. Anna Haden and Mrs. Johanna Anglin.

CITY MUST PAY MORE FOR OIL

The city will have to pay just about twice as much for its road oil this year as it did a year ago. Only one bid was entered on furnishing the city with road oil and when opened this morning, showed an increase of 100 per cent over a year ago. The Standard Oil company, which received the contract last winter, on its bid of 2 cents and a fraction per gallon, this year asks 5.21 cents a gallon. As the city requires about 200,000 gallons for use on the streets and boulevards next summer, the oil will cost $10,420, according to the estimate. Commissioner Farrell has not decided whether or not he will accept the bid.

SEEK FUNDS IN DULUTH FOR Y. M. C. A.

Superior business men are canvassing Duluth for subscriptions to their Y. M. C. A. fund.

Yesterday several teams of business men visited Duluth in an effort to swell the fund to pay for the Superior structure. About $40,000 has already been raised. It is reported.

NELSON INTRODUCES BILL FOR SNELLING

From The Herald Washington Bureau. Washington, Jan. 18.—Senator Nelson today introduced a bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the conversion of Fort Snelling into a military academy to be equipped and maintained like the West Point academy.

Beltrami Convention. Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Beltrami county Democrats will hold a convention here on Jan. 25 to elect a delegate to attend the state convention at St. Paul. The call has been issued by R. E. Fisher, secretary of the county committee.

DREW KNIFE IN FIGHT WITH POLICE

Two policemen had a rough and tumble fight with a negro who drew a knife and attacked one of them last night. Finally, after rolling about in the middle of Lake avenue near Railroad street, the negro, who gave his name as Walter Griffith, 28, was disarmed and brought to headquarters. Two charges were placed against him in police court today, one of assaulting Miss Anna Bass, 22, also colored, and the other of using obscene and abusive language, and threatening to kill Patrolman Danahy. Griffith was sentenced to pay a $50.00 fine or serve sixty days in jail. He was held in $100 bail for a hearing on the other charge, to which he entered a not guilty plea.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work—Advertisement.

STRANGE BEDS HIS SPECIALTY

Strange beds seemed to be the specialty of Euclid Morrisseau, 18, who police are holding at the city jail on a burglary charge.

On Duluth's coldest night recently, Morrisseau slept beneath a locomotive at the Northern Pacific Garfield avenue roundhouse. Since then he has slept in boxcars. Once in awhile he slept in a bed at his home.

On Jan. 14, however, police say he slept on a shelf in a confectionery store at 1221 West Superior street, which is conducted by Charles Ato. In fact, they say Morrisseau tucked himself up out of sight on this shelf during the early part of the evening and slept until 12:30 or 1 o'clock.

After his nap, they claim, he jumped down, searched the store for valuables and broke out, taking with him four solitary dimes, all the cash register contained.

Police Sergeant "Jack" Hunter arrested the boy yesterday after a short investigation, in the course of which he learned that a lad answering Morrisseau's description had been "hanging around" for some time. Since his arrest the young man, has confessed, the police say.

He will probably be arraigned this afternoon for a preliminary hearing on the burglary charge.

BOY IS BOUND OVER.

Louis Eckert Must Stand Trial for Series of Thefts.

Louis J. Eckert, the 17-year-old boy who succeeded in stealing $140 from his teachers at school, a little at a time, was arraigned before Municipal Judge W. H. Smallwood yesterday for a preliminary hearing on a grand larceny charge.

Eckert, a smiling, ruddy-cheeked little chap, is believed to be responsible for a series of burglaries at St.

James orphanage, where he formerly was a student. Waiting until the sisters and instructors were at chapel, he would enter the room where the emergency cash was kept and pry open the metal box, according to police. He evidently used to advantage his knowledge of the habits of persons in charge of the institution, it is said.

He waived examination on the charge and was held to the grand jury in $250 bail.

MOTHER SEEKS LOST SON.

Knife River Woman Enlists Aid of Duluth Police.

Since Christmas day Mrs. C. H. Royce of London Crossing, Knife River, has been worrying about her son, Frank Littlefield, and today she came to Duluth to enlist the aid of the police. "He went away the Monday after Christmas," she told Lieut. N. U. G. Terry at headquarters this morning, "and I have only heard from him since."

"He was going up to Sawyer camp 6, and if something has happened to him, I want to know it. I've been lying awake nights wondering what was happening to him. If he is dead, I want to know and without money in weather like this."

"If he is all right, I wish he would write. He hasn't been well, though, and I'm afraid."

Police are going to communicate with Sawyer in an attempt to locate the missing son.

"SHOVEL OR GO TO JAIL."

Police Issue Ultimatum; Will Intern Lazy Property Owners.

Property owners who have left their family snow shovel in the cellar up to this time had better get busy.

Seventy-four sections of sidewalk which are icy or snow-covered have been listed by the police in the last two or three days, and Capt. A. G. Fiskett has announced his intention of checking the list over with the plan of making arrests.

"We will pick out two or three of the worst ones," he said, "and have warrants issued. They will be more test cases, but more prosecutions will follow if sidewalks are not properly cleaned."

This action by the police has grown out of a recent determination by Safety Commissioner Silberstein to enforce Duluth's old "snow" ordinance.

Patrolmen and sergeants on Superior, Michigan, First and Sixth streets, and on South First avenue east, made the first reports.

MAKES AFTERNOON CALL.

Chief of Police Finds Beer Served Instead of Tea.

Chief of Police R. D. McKeercher is not English, and it goes without saying that he has no sympathy with the Englishman's habit of having tea at 4 o'clock every afternoon.

Nevertheless, accompanied by Capt. A. G. Fiskett, the chief went calling about "tea time" yesterday afternoon at the hotel where a party of four, including a woman, was staying.

David Henry, a negro, was in charge of the place, and around him in convenient places, the officers alleged, they found three cases of beer and two jugs of whisky, instead of innocent tea.

The negro was arrested for running an unlicensed drinking place, and forfeited $100 bail when he failed to appear in municipal court yesterday.

Mrs. Clara Moe Erickson, 31, arrested on a similar charge Saturday night, is held in $100 bail, and will be heard Friday afternoon.

Forward's auction sale draws for miles around Duluth. Come get some good things at your own price.

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Most thin people are victims of malnutrition—a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are, when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can probably best be accomplished by using a Sargol tablet, which is a perfect and safe combination of six splendid assimilating elements with which nature mixes with the food to turn the sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect has been in many cases reported remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty pounds in a single month are no mere information. The action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by every drug store and with every Sargol package comes a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Sargol is recommended only as a health-builder and while excellent results in cases of nervousness, indigestion, and general weakness should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.—Advertisement.

Other troubles that may be caused by iron deficiency are weakness and vainly longing for iron. Their real trouble is lack of iron. If you have iron deficiency, your blood has no power to change food into living tissue. Does your blood tell you any good: you don't get the strength out of it. The iron deficiency is the cause of all these dangerous symptoms disappear. I have seen dozens of nervous, irritable, and restless people, who were troubled and even triple their strength and energy after taking iron. There is no other sign of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in iron deficiency. Iron is the key to health.

NOTE. Nuxated Iron recorded above by Sater, is one of the newer compounds from European sources. It is a very pure, well assimilated, does not irritate the teeth, make the tongue black, and does not cause the most potent remedy in nearly all forms of iron deficiency, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. It is the best of all iron compounds. Nuxated Iron that they offer to fortify blood, is a very poor preparation. It is a man or woman under 60 who lasts long and healthy, who has not been ill in the last week or two, who is not nervous, who does not get tired, who is not irritable, who does not at least double your strength and energy in two weeks.

LEGISLATORS NOT ELIGIBLE

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank A. Day of Fairmont has taken the position that members of the legislature or others holding state office cannot serve as delegates under the presidential preference primary act or be a candidate for presidential elector. These positions, which are entirely honorary, may be passed upon at the primary to be held March 14.

Mr. Day holds that delegations to the national convention and presidential electors are spoken of as offices in the law regulating the filing and selection of candidates. He says the corrupt practices act also designates them as such, and a few members of the legislature have in mind the position of delegates to one of several conventions. Mr. Day's interpretation of the law will be received with interest.

"It seems clear that a delegateship is an office within the meaning of the law," he says in his paper, the Fairmont Sentinel, "and it must necessarily follow that a member of the legislature is ineligible as a candidate for such position."

Society Ladies Adopt New Hair Curling Method

Since the introduction of liquid silimene in this country, it has become quite "the proper thing" among society women, who have readily adopted it in place of the destructive curling iron. The waves and curls acquired by the new method are far more natural in appearance, and the hair is of course glossier and prettier than could be if the life were cooked out of it.

The liquid is pleasant to use, being neither greasy nor sticky. It is a simple thing to apply with a clean tooth brush at night when the hair is down. The body wave effect is achieved in all that one could wish for. It costs little to use liquid silimene, as a few cents from the drugstore will keep it out for weeks.

BOARD IS IN PRECIPITANT

Paving Assessments Must Come From Overtaxed General Fund.

Will Pay When It Petitions for Pavement; Not Otherwise.

Special legislation will be necessary to solve the school board's financial problem, if the state supreme court reverses a recent district court decision exempting the board from paying assessments.

City officials say the school district should be made to pay assessments on all paving abutting school property, and board of education directors say they should not. A friendly suit, started by the city, resulted in a victory for the board, but an appeal has been taken to the supreme court.

"If the supreme court reverses that decision, the board will be in a predicament," said C. Francis Colman, chairman of the finance committee, today.

"It makes no difference to the taxpayer, for in one case he pays directly through the city and in the other he pays indirectly through the school district, but it makes a big difference to the city and the school district."

"Payments of assessments must come from the board's general fund," Mr. Colman explained, "and that fund is now overtaxed with teachers' salaries, janitors' salaries and repairs to buildings."

"The amount which we can raise for the general fund is limited, and we have reached the limit. Consequently, we don't want to spend extra money for paving assessments, when our attorney tells us it is illegal."

"When the board signs a petition for paving, it will pay its share of the cost, but if the supreme court rules that we must pay for all work of that kind, instead of the city, we will have to seek relief by a legislative act which will give us power to raise more money."

"The city is in a similar position, I understand. It is the playground problem all over again, in a slightly different light."

H. J. Granin, a member of the committee, agreed with Mr. Colman's statement.

"During the last ten years," he said, "property assessments have accumulated and the city has maintained the school board was responsible for its share of the expense where school property is involved. The school board has no provision for raising $20,000 at one time and should the back taxes be demanded, we would be in a complicated condition."

"SAM" KIELLEY IS THREE SCORE AND TEN

Samuel Kielley, city building inspector, is observing his seventeenth birthday today.

News of his birthday anniversary spread rapidly throughout the city hall this morning, and the building inspector had been the recipient of congratulations from practically every city employee and many of his acquaintances, who dropped in during the day.

Inspector Kielley, who has been a resident of Duluth since 1907, is a veteran of the Civil war, having joined Company A of the Eighth Wisconsin when 15 years of age.

WAGE ADVANCE NOT TO BE HORIZONTAL

President W. J. Olcott and Vice President Postecott Mitchell of the Oliver Iron Mining company and President W. A. McGonagle of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road have returned from New York, where they were attending a meeting of the presidents of all the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel corporation.

House of the Duluth & Iron Range road, who was at the meeting, did not return to Duluth but left New York for California, and is on his way there now. He will spend some time in that state and will not be back in Duluth for several weeks.

President Olcott said that it developed at the New York meeting that the raise in wages among the members of the corporation and to the beliefs of its officers, but that the advance will be made on the basis of efficiency. About 11,000 employees of the corporation in this section will benefit by the raise.

Mr. Olcott said that the gathered officials felt quite optimistic for the continuation of the business that promises to mark the present year.

BOARD OF TRADE ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual election of the Duluth board of trade passed off without any incident today. The ticket of officers and members of standing committees was nominated at the caucus ten days ago stood without change.

The list is as follows: President, W. C. Mitchell; vice president, M. L. Jenks; directors, J. E. McCarthy, J. A. Todd, H. A. Starkey; board of arbitration, F. G. Barnum, W. S. Moore, William Grotz; board of appeals, Thomas Gibson, F. E. Lindahl, H. S. Newell; committee on inspection, J. E. McCarthy, A. M. Prime, Charles F. Haley, M. M. McCabe, H. A. Starkey.

LEG IS CRUSHED BY FALLING TREE IN WOODS

With his left leg badly crushed by a falling tree, Alfred Johnson, a lumberman, was rushed to Duluth on a Canadian Northern train yesterday afternoon, and taken to St. Luke's hospital by the police.

Johnson was working in the camp H. A. Norberg near Shaw, Minn., at the time of the accident, according to police officials. Shaw is a small station between Duluth and Virginia.

Police Sergeant Harry Klein, who is in charge of the case, reported today that amputation of the injured member would not be necessary, although the leg was badly crushed.

BIG BUSINESS IN FORGERIES

George Butterfield, alleged forger and man of many aliases, was given a surprise this forenoon while on trial before District Judge Ensign. He was held for the passing of one forged check, but during the trial Assistant County Attorney Mason M. Forbes introduced one forged check after another, and finally six forgeries were identified as those of Butterfield.

Butterfield was arrested after passing a check for $34 upon Homer Titlow, a Duluth merchant, and the check was drawn upon the International Lumber company and alleged to be signed by Rush Beeson, foreman, and L. L. White, clerk. Mr. Titlow also claimed that Butterfield presented the check to him in payment for a pair of shoes for $5.50. Mr. Reese said that Butterfield cashed the check at the shoe store, and either $10 or $12, all the money in the cash register was taken out. The shoe store and Butterfield promised to return for his change, said Mr. Reese, but he failed to do so.

Testimony was produced to show that Butterfield cashed two forged checks at Kenny & Anker's store, one for $40 and the other for $22.25. In October, 1915, Butterfield cashed a check for $125, signed by Harry Newton.

On Oct. 28, last, Butterfield cashed another forged check, it is alleged, on Duncan Robertson. The check bore the forged name of Charles Lester and was for $125.

The police say that Butterfield was held up for cash and checks and had a supply on hand when arrested. He is said to have had a second set of his trousers and three forged checks are said to have been hidden there. He was arrested at the time of the trial.

Butterfield made his defense, and it is expected that the case will go to the jury late this afternoon.

THREE RINKS REMAIN UNDEFEATED IN SPIEL

Reedal, Hudson's Kenora Rink and the Brewer-Whites Have Each Won Four Games—Naughton Defeats McNabb and Young Wade and Donald Are Beaten.

G. M. Hudson's strong Kenora, Ont., rink, the lone Canadian representative at the spiel, continued its winning streak in today's early draw, winning 2-0 from the Hudson's rink. The rink in the Duluth Curling club event, the win being the fourth straight marked up by the Tuckett trophy holders.

G. B. Reedall of Phillips, Wis., kept pace with the Canadians by winning from S. L. Reichert of Duluth in the Minneapolis Curling club event on a forfeit.

As the Brewer-Whites took Robb of Duluth and defeat lane in the Duluth event this leaves three undefeated rinks in the spiel to date.

One of the upsets of the early morning play was the defeat of the McNabb Grand Rapids rink at the hands of Colle Naughton's crowd. Not only did the curling rangers, combination skips, are, along with this rink has narrowly missed defeat in two of its games, but to date is making one of the real showings of a repetition.

Elmer Whyte and Charles Brewer, combination skips, are, along with this rink has narrowly missed defeat in two of its games, but to date is making one of the real showings of a repetition.

To Wives of Drinking Men

ORRINE is the standard remedy and is everywhere recognized as the successful and reliable home treatment for "Drunk" which it is highly praised by thousands of women, because it has restored their loved ones to lives of sobriety and usefulness, and the weekly wages which at one time were spent for "Drunk" are now used to purchase the necessities and many comforts for home. Any wife who wants to save her husband or son from "Drunk" will be glad to know that she can purchase ORRINE at our store, and if no benefit is obtained after a trial the money will be refunded. Can be given secretly.

ORRINE is prepared in two forms: No. 1, a powder, tasteless and colorless, can be given secretly in food or drink; ORRINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who wish to cure themselves. ORRINE costs only $1.00 a box. Ask us for free booklet.

LUMBERMEN MEET IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—With lumber dealers from all parts of the Northwest present, the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Northwestern Lumbermen's association opened here today. An exhibit of building materials is being shown in connection with the meeting.

Among those who will address the convention are: R. E. Goodman, Goodman, Wis., president of the association; J. C. Morrison, Morris, Minn., president of the Minnesota Editorial association, and Ira Peterson, deputy insurance commissioner of Minnesota.

McGOVERN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—McGovern today announced his candidacy for governor at the September primaries in answer to a call of a large representation of his followers.

The announcement follows that of State Senator Otto Boshard of La Crosse, made from Madison last night.

With the expected candidacy of Governor E. L. Phillips later, the contest for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Wisconsin will be three-cornered.

Just One Application and the Hairs Vanish

(Modes of Today)

A harmless yet very effective treatment is here given for the quick removal of hairy growths: Max enough powdered delectable and water to cover the undesirable hairs, apply paste and after 2 or 3 minutes remove, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. One application usually is sufficient, but to be certain of results, buy the delectable in an original package. Advertisement.

J. E. Kull May Lecture on Weights and Measures

If the Housewives' league can secure the co-operation of the Woman's council of Superior, it is probable that J. E. Kull, sealer of weights and measures of the city of Ashland, Wis., will speak in Duluth and Superior the latter part of February. If Mr. Kull comes, he will illustrate his talk on weights and package foods with a demonstration of the difference in weight in the various sizes of packages, foods.

The members of the Housewives' league decided yesterday not to adopt a constitution.

Young Bachelors Meet

The Young Bachelors' club met last night at the home of Louis Filatrait, 1017 East Second street. The date for the next dance was changed from Feb. 18 to Feb. 25. Arrangements were made for this dance and for the dinner which the young bachelors will give for their young women friends at the Lakewood chateau Sunday. Plans for a sleigh ride are discussed.

Church Meetings

The Woman's Aid Society of the Lakeside Presbyterian church will meet at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the church parlors. The hostesses will be Mrs. F. J. Hattakman, Mrs. J. M. Hall, Mrs. D. Murphy and Mrs. J. Schott.

The Ladies' Aid Society Thimble Bee of the First Methodist church will be entertained in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon by Mrs. A. W. Lingen, Mrs. J. W. Becker, Mrs. S. M. Hattakman and Mrs. J. W. Galvin.

Central Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Edison room.

Orchestra Complete; Twilight Concerts Will Begin Sunday

With the arrival Monday of the last of the musicians who have been engaged by the Duluth Orchestral association for the series of twilight concerts to be given by the Duluth orchestra at the new armory, commencing next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, rehearsals by the complete orchestra were immediately begun under the direction of Fred G. Bradbury and will now be held daily, excepting Sundays, throughout the series.

At the office of the association in the Providence building related subscriptions are being received in large numbers, and Manager J. C. Myron is kept busy with each day's mail bringing in remittances from recent subscribers together with new subscriptions. The seating plan has been made in Buoy's drug store, and a large number of reservations have already been made for the entire series, although with the immense seating capacity of the armory there are still many choice seats to be had in the reserved section. It is expected that before the end of the week these will all be taken.

With the approach of the opening concert interest has become very keen, and it is believed that the armory will be filled to its capacity. It will be remembered that hundreds were turned away last season when the high school auditorium proved far too small to accommodate the crowds, and while the armory has double the capacity, it is pointed out to be filled at each concert.

Bradbury has asked Mrs. Morfield, who is to be the soloist at the first concert, to sing a group of songs in addition to the principal number, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," from "Samson and Delilah," to which she has graciously consented, and it has also been decided to add Mr. Helmer in solo number. He will give Post's "Good-By" as a trumpet solo, which is admirably adapted to this instrument.

In order to insure the acoustic properties of the armory being as nearly perfect as possible, a sound board has been devised, extending from the rear, up over the top of the stage in such a way that the sound will be thrown directly into the auditorium. It has greatly improved the

Relatives of Firemen Help to Reduce Number of Fires

"The women in the homes of Minnesota are assisting the state fire marshal's department during the severe winter weather this year in reducing the number of fires," says Robert Harkadine, state fire marshal.

Apparently the wives, daughters and women relatives and friends of both the paid and volunteer forces of the state are conducting a campaign in their communities for fire prevention. "Our deputies report that in many localities in Minnesota they have been advised that these women, who realize more than anyone else the dangers that their fathers, husbands and brothers are subjected to in fighting fires, are spreading the gospel of prevention. 'The women do not go out into halls and conduct public meetings, but their campaign is conducted quietly. They tell their neighbors of the dangers of having waste material lying about in attics and out-of-the-way places; they watch for any evidence of carelessness on the part of children and especially, at this time of the year, do they watch the stoves and heating plants. All of this has tended to reduce the number of smaller fires in Minnesota so far this winter."

"The result is that there will probably be fewer deaths by fire in Minnesota than ever before."

Frozen feet and pneumonia are the most common results of exposure by the volunteer fire-fighting forces, but the women relatives are the real sufferers, and they are taking the proper steps in the campaign against unnecessary sacrifice of both life and property."

John McCormack and His Audiences

Writers on musical subjects throughout the country have recently testified to the fact that John McCormack, the gifted tenor, who will give a recital at the new armory tomorrow morning, has built up a peculiarly personal relationship between himself and his audiences. One aspect of this is the instant he appears on the concert stage.

So close is the contact between this singer and his listeners that there is an unspoken communion between them. They ask, and he, almost forgetting his program, answers, and even if they are not on the program, they seem to be.

He has, of course, a special lyric gift, that of catching and riveting the sympathetic and delighted attention to the words of his song. He reinforces his natural musical gift with a sort of vocal elocution.

The public wants, above all, ballads of general appeal; and ballads in its own language, and rendered by singers who can make language—word and language—intelligible in song, is Mr. McCormack's theory.

Red Cross Workers Will Meet at Spalding Hotel

The women who are directors of the Duluth chapter of the American Red Cross and all other women who are interested in Red Cross work, will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the sun parlor of the Spalding hotel to make plans to concentrate their efforts to secure better results than could be obtained by many organizations working independently.

The following are the officers and directors of the Duluth chapter of the American Red Cross:

Chairman, W. McGonagle; vice chairman, C. A. Congdon; treasurer, J. W. Lyster. Directors for one year—Mrs. Arthur Barnes, Mrs. Julius H. Barnes, Mrs. M. L. Lyster, W. A. Cant, Gust C. Agnew, Mrs. A. T. Banning, Jr., Wilson G. Crosby, Mrs. J. D. Ireland, Mrs. C. W. Selwood, Mrs. Henry Turish. Directors for three years—G. G. Barnes, Chester C. Congdon, W. A. McGonagle, W. H. Magie, Mrs. Thomas D. ### Federation Year Book Is Sent to 20,000 Minnesota Women

Copies of the new year book of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs have been sent to 20,000 club women of the state. The book contains ninety-two pages, each page of advertisements, which have been inserted for the first time. It is printed in dark brown ink on cream paper and has a brown cover, with lettering in a deeper shade and gilt.

The reports were in type long before Christmas, and Mrs. William T. Coe of Wauzata, president of the federation, hoped to have the book out as a Christmas present, but she was obliged to wait for details concerning the advertising to be worked out.

In addition to the list of state officers, district presidents and chairmen of committees, the book contains lists of the federated clubs of the state, arranged alphabetically according to towns and according to district and county organizations. The list according to towns includes the district, county, name of the club, president and secretary, work the club is doing, number of members, date of organization and date of admission to the federation.

There are seven federated clubs in Duluth: Bryant School Mothers' Garden Flower society, Lester Park Literary club, Linnaea club, Saturday club, Twentieth Century club and Women's Rotary club, with a total membership of 317.

The book contains the following dates for the annual district meetings that will be held this spring: First district—Dodge Center, May 8, 9 and 10. Second district—Fairmont, June 8, 9 and 10. Third district—Le Sueur, April 18. Fourth district—Fertile, April 22. Fifth district—Minneapolis, April 29. Sixth district—Deerwood, May 9 and 10. Seventh district—Montevideo, May 11 and 12. Eighth district—International Falls, May 2 and 3. Ninth district—Thief River Falls, May 4 and 5. Tenth district—Minneapolis, April 28.

PLAYERS IN PANIC.

Mishap of Acrobat Tears Down Curtain at the Grand.

A little comedy stunt not included in the announcements was staged at the New Grand last night that brought forth much merriment and showed just how players pass the time while waiting for their turn on the stage. When the Menot Le Nole troupe, doing an acrobatic wire act, came on, one of the men attempted to climb over four chairs on a slack wire, but the swaying cable precipitated him upon the back of the first chair. He was behind this curtain, amusing himself by the accident. When the curtain dropped, a panic ensued among them all rushing from the stage. Unhappily by the accident, the wire jumper made another attempt against the aid of his associates, and succeeded in making the difficult leap. The Le Nole troupe is a clever troupe of two men and two girls, and they deserved the hearty welcome given them.

Cut This Out

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES.

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrh of the nose, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires a constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease is driven down the air passages towards the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively by the damp made is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your Druggist 1 ounce of Parmit (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the patient prove as the inflammation in the gaseous tubes is reduced. Parmit is used in this way directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a slight tonic action that facilitates the recovery of the patient. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial.

skillfully and sing well while they paint. Van and Mazen sing a number of popular songs, and their duets are full of clever comedy repartee. The Jewell Comedy trio, three young men, have a good song program mixed with a lot of comedy.

Miss Warda Howard and Darwin Kier are starred in a feature photoplay, "The Prisoner at the Bar," which has a strong plot and much heart interest. Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Drew are starred in "By Night of His Right," which is full of laughs. "A Battle of Wits," another good dramatic film, completes the photoplay program.

For today and tomorrow "To the Ville Duist," another of the Stinger stories, will be shown as an added attraction. These stories are proving to be thrillers and are attracting much attention from Grand patrons.

Theater Gossip.

The Chicago Post speaks as follows of "The Battle Cry of Peace," playing at the Lyceum: "The PREPAREDNESS Lyceum. 'The Battle Cry of Peace' is a play of the great need of the preparedness of peace."

spelled P-O-W-E-N. With this statement J. Stuart Blackton, author of the scenario "The Battle Cry of Peace," struck the keynote of the whole situation.

"The Battle Cry of Peace" surely fulfills the every intention of the author, for it portrays a poignant truth in a characteristic way that cannot fail of appreciation. It is not exactly a pretty thought to think of our great, big, splendid New York, with its magnificent and imposing structures, watching like Drucker of old the equally as splendid harbor, crumbling like so much timber before the heavy onslaught of the enemy. It is not a pretty thought to think that the failure of the men and women of our communities to demand of our congressmen a vote for more appropriations for our army, and more especially, perhaps, the navy; it is not a pretty thought to feel that the advocates of peace are not exercising the same best judgment in their nation-wide campaign for such; but J. Stuart Blackton, somehow has struck a timely theme for his scenario that brings home almost too vividly the total inadequacy of our preparedness, without which the nation can be assured of peace and plenty, and peace with honor."

"It sits within one that inevitable spirit of patriotism that is born within one, and while many in last night's audience felt, perhaps, that the horrors of 'unpreparedness' were a bit overdone, it instilled into them a little germ of thought that will gradually assume proportions of magnitude. The photograph of the play is all that could be desired, and the general effect is calculated to please even the most exacting."

"Some idea of the magnitude of the production may be gleaned from the fact that 25,000 National Guard troops, 800 members of the G. A. R., 5,000 horses and 3,000 supernumeraries were skillfully directed by Mr. Blackton."

"Inspiration" will be shown at the Orpheum-Strand tonight and tomorrow for the last times.

"WILL CLOSE" This sensational production, featuring Miss Audrey, the beautiful woman in the world, is proving a record-breaker for attendance at this theater. This picture proved the talk of both Minneapolis and St. Paul when it was shown in Washington square and particularly MacDougal's alley, the Latin quarter of New York, plays a big part in the story of "Inspiration," a masterpiece in five acts, which deals with the life, particularly the studio life, in the famous artists' colony of the nation's metropolises.

Miss Helen Ware, who is the star in

"Cross Currents," a new Triangle-Fine Arts play at the Rex to

"CROSS" day and tomorrow, has "CURRENTS" some interesting things AT THE to say about how motion pictures are produced, which will put the eyes of those thinking life in filmland is easy.

Miss Ware herself is a fearless swimmer and a hardy athlete, but avers she'd fear to do a lot of things she has seen done in the pictures by many actors.

Miss Helen must have been watching Joe Weber take some of those desperate plunges through beauty shop windows, into marmalade pools and over the roofs. Few people ever realize how often these Keystone folks take their lives in their hands.

MANY STAY UNTIL 16

HIGH SCHOOL GROWS

More children leave school when 16 years of age than when they reach the eighth grade, according to R. E. Denfeld, superintendent of city schools.

"At that age they are exempt from the compulsory education law in Minnesota," he said, "and on the whole they are more apt to drop out at that time. Our law is more rigid than that of most states."

TESTIMONY THAT IS NEEDED.

One thing the city will wish to know, of course, before taking any steps toward granting the terminal franchise which has been asked for, is what the traffic committee of the Duluth Commercial club thinks about it.

The traffic committee has been engaged for years in a study of Duluth's relation to the transportation problem. It knows what Duluth has and what it lacks. It knows whether or not the terminal plan fills a long-felt want, or whether it would simply add further complications without benefits.

It is, of course, in a much better position to judge of the merits of the plan than anybody else. Being made up of representatives of the business interests that use railroad terminals most, it is in a position to determine what is best for the city—what this terminal plan should and should not do; what it should get from the city and what it should give the city; whether the franchise asked for should be granted, and if so in what form.

The judgment of this most important branch of the city's many activities is essential as a preliminary to further study of the franchise matter.

Now that the weather has shown what it can do, it should be willing to rest on its present laurels.

"THE BATTLE CRY OF PEACE."

As a motion picture spectacle "The Battle Cry of Peace" is quite interesting and exciting.

As propaganda for the cause of ultra-preparedness, it is a bald appeal to hysteria and senseless panic.

Not much can be said for the mental poise of anybody who lets its appeal, which is absurdly like nurse's "The bogey man'll get you if you aren't good," unsettle his sanity and sway his judgment.

There is reported to be a tendency in some quarters for the snow to drift even as high as the short skirts.

NOT VERY KIND.

France won't consent to let American condensed milk go into Germany for the sustenance of German babies, even though its distribution is supervised by the Red Cross.

Nearly everybody in this country seems to think well of France and to wish her well, even those who have grown rather impatient with Great Britain.

But such an act as this will not help that feeling for every well-wisher of France will wish that France hadn't thought it necessary to make so hard-hearted a ruling as that.

The plan for submarines to carry a milk supply to Germany may mean that the crews will have to add to their daily duties the milking of sea cows.

THE AIR MACHINES IN WAR.

T. R. McMechen, president of the Aeronautical society, declares that the Zeppelin has not proved a military failure in the European war.

"Theoretically," says the New York World, "it has not. It has covered immense distances with safety and eluded destruction with comparative ease. But the notable achievements of the German Zeppelins so far have been in killing and wounding helpless non-combatants. No battleships have been wrecked by them and no armies inconvenienced."

Though there is no branch of military equipment that has witnessed so rapid a development during the war as aeriatrics, there is no branch that has been so complete a disappointment to imaginations that had been incited before the war by fanciful fiction picturing wars in the air.

Whether Zeppelin or monoplane or bi-plane, the air machine has been of large value as a scout; but as a fighting machine it has been a cheap murderer that has more dead babies to its discredit than dead soldiers. Like the submarine, its operations have been those of the bushwhacking assassin. There is something so cowardly about its method of attack that people are apt to forget the real courage it takes to operate it.

But as a scout the air machine has been an invaluable branch of the service. It has made it virtually impossible to undertake large movements of troops to surprise the enemy, because the air machines invariably see and report them. That is one reason—the chief reason, no doubt—why there have been so few surprise attacks in this war.

There is talk now that a great fleet of biplanes is being built in this country that will some time during the winter make a nightly attack from the air upon the great German works at Essen. The biplanes are large, and will carry large crews and large cargoes of explosives, it is said. This sounds like something the air machine can do—if it has luck. But so far the airship has done little but drop bombs on slumbering communities, inevitably killing helpless non-combatants when it killed anybody.

If the air machine and the submarine do not become more respectable figures before the war is over, it is not at all improbable that one of the first discussions that civilization will undertake after the war will be about means to circumscribe their uses in war just as expanding bullets and other barbarous methods of war-making are circumsscribed by the rules governing civilized war—
if there is such a thing as civilized war.

The Chicago News suggests that the members of congress abandon the donkey and the elephant for the present, and substitute the American eagle. There's all right only they shouldn't start the bird to screaming.

ANOTHER GOOD CAUSE.

Thursday, January 27, has been set apart as Jewish relief day by a proclamation issued by the president and approved by the senate of the United States.

On that day, all over the country as well as in Duluth, efforts will be made to increase largely the fund already started for the relief of Jewish war sufferers in Europe.
This is another good cause to which every generous sympathizer with the afflicted may give freely with good conscience.

The Belgians have suffered terribly in Belgium. The Poles have suffered terribly in Poland and Galicia.

But wherever war has swept its consuming flame there have been Jews to suffer; and in many places where suffering has been greatest, oppression and prejudice had rendered the Jews less able to meet suffering than others. Their need is vast, and this country which owes so much to Jewish enterprise and artistry will respond generously to the call.

"The Kaiser has nothing but a bull," is one report. Since when did a bull get into the "nothing but" class?

WILL STAY WHERE IT IS.

The city council acted wisely, we believe, in continuing the water and light department in its present quarters. Until the new city hall is built, no better location can be found; and the reduced rent, made possible by a reduction in the space occupied by the department, is a wholesome economy. When the store front on First street was added to the department's space, it was understood that it was wanted as a showroom. However, it has been used for office and working-room purposes which can as well be met elsewhere, so the abandonment of this part of the building is a wise shift which will save money and inconvenience nobody.

The department will do very well where it is until the new city hall is built, and when that is done all the city departments will be gathered under one roof in a convenient location.

Perhaps the next president will beat Wilson's personally delivered message by having his done into movies.

Rippling Rhymes

The Winter Day.

The leaden clouds were blown away,
the sun got busy overhead; it was a perfect winter day, without a blemish, critics said. The judges who had passed on days, at many a state and county fair, admitted that we couldn't raise a finer sample, anywhere. I walked nine miles, just to inhale the crisp, keen air that braced like wine;
it seemed to render sound and hale these ancient, spavined limbs of mine.
And nearly every man I met was grumbling at that perfect day. "We do not want spring weather yet—it's bad for us," I heard men say. "Such weather will relax the pores, and leave us open to disease, and when again the tempest roars, we'll have rheumatics in the knees. These balmy days are simply snares, designed to kill off human wrecks, and when again the blizzard tears, we'll have lungbagg in our necks." I get discouraged, often-whiles, there are so many jays on earth, who simply won't indulge in smiles, but dish up brine, a jitney's worth. The sun may shine, and breezes sweet as Eden's spicy airs may blow, and still they'll kick with all their feet, and make a specialty of woe.

Our Curious Jury System.

Melville Davison Post in the Saturday Evening Post: A jury must be selected. Ordinally one would think that it would be no trouble to select twelve men to hear a case. But so exacting are the rules that in a capital case of importance it is a matter of the greatest difficulty to get a jury. Hundreds of talesmen are examined. Sometimes this examination goes on for weeks. The whole panel may be interrogated without getting a single juror. It has cost as much as $30,000 in some cases to get a jury. The result of the minute technicality of the rules governing this feature of the game is that cases competent for jury service are sifted down to the most unintelligent, and the administration of justice is thereby turned over to the most ignorant and most irresponsible persons in the community.

When such a jury is selected, the trial finally begins. Everything up to this time has been merely preliminary. At last the game is called to be played before a jury of the most unintelligent persons that the attorney for the defendant has been able to get on it, and before a referee whose sole concern is so to conduct the game that he will not violate any of the rules.

Doomed.

Manchester Guardian: Here is a specimen of Australian lightfulness found in the advertising columns of a Melbourne paper:
"We refuse to supply the Kaiser with—herbal skin ointment. Let him suffer.
Even the thickest skin must feel this."

A Blast From the Valley

By Savard.

Washington, Jan. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. William R. Hearst is very much disgusted, and rails at President Wilson, being assured, as he is moved to say, that the administration is "impractical and ineffectual."
The fact is that it is full of "theories and vagaries of prejudices and impulses of in-congruities and inconsistencies," that it is "of visionary policy, conceived in vanity and confirmed in fanatical obstinacy."

That is rather fine writing and it would be mighty bad for the country if it were something other than political malice and personal envy. Mr. Hearst is the gentleman who sought to buy the Democratic nomination for president in 1912 and failed. In 1912 he sought to control the Democratic national convention and failed, and today he is a thoroughly disgraced and nauseated man.
The scariest sin of the Wilson administration as it looks to Hearst is its genuine democratic policy. It is written that he has the virtues of the Antonines can dispense with the use of force, and so he has the official record of Woodrow Wilson can bear with serenity the railings of the yellowest of the yellowers.

The burden of the latest valley ditty is the tariff. Hearst is as glib of gab when scotting at free trade as any standpatter of the Blue used to be. The tariff is a subject on which the Underwood tariff is far from a free trade measure, and compared with the tariff of England, or Holland, the two most prosperous nations in the world, the tariff of the Old World, the Democratic tariff of 1913
is a monstrously protection. We are living in a free country, and we are not a member of the League of Nations, and we are not Socialists. The wealth of England will pay England's war debt when it is paid, as it will be.

And so in our country the income tax in time of peace has set the masses to thinking about the thing, and if our rich men know which side their bread is buttered they will support the Wilson administration and the Underwood tariff, for as certain as eggs are eggs these are the present bulwarks against Socialism. The tariff is a subject on which the Underwood tariff is far from a free
trade measure, and compared with the tariff of England, or Holland, the two most prosperous nations in the world, the tariff of
the Old World, the Democratic tariff of 1913
is a monstrously protection. We are living in a free country, and we are not a member of the League of Nations, and we are not Socialists. The wealth of England will pay England's war debt when it is paid, as
it will be.

Hearst clamors for reciprocity. The past two years have been an economic factor, has served two purposes in the United States—a toy to soothe the still and a weapon to equip the coming. James O.
Blaine used it in the latter day to convert the robbery of protection. He was very adroit in his management, and abundantly thrilled himself with the argument that protection is knavery; but we must not cease to practice it until our customers become honest enough and sane enough to give us business. Blaine was a great man, and one, and he had contempt for his own preachment, else he would have applied it to our trade with our best customer, England.
It was not an American affair with Blaine, and a shame and a fraud always. There was not a day that Blaine would have advised the tariff on goods from England, and he would have been horrified at any proposal to lay a duty on coffee with a view to covert reciprocity out of Brazil or Venezuela.

Hearst has heard somebody say something about reciprocity, and as no domestic tariff will fall in with his argument, he seizes on reciprocity as a thing with which to rebuke Wilson, the pride and the hope of the Democratic party.

The industries of the country have not been prostrated by the Underwood tariff.
There are no idle factories anywhere. There are higher than ever before. Employment is in the reach of every able-bodied laborer, skilled and unskilled. The bank clearings exceed all records. The streets are full of men. The country is in a state of prosperity. Farmers were never so prosperous.
Miners never yielded so prolifically as now.
The Underwood tariff is the cause of it.
New York is the money center of the world. We are a creditor nation for the first time in our history.

Then what is the use of howling about a beggarly deficit in the treasury entirely due to the loss of German and Austrian markets that are closely blockaded?

Talk about reciprocity! We were going to have it under Ben Harrison when Blaine was secretary of state. Did we get it? Not in your life. We were going to have it under Mr. McKinley, and that grand old man of Iowa, John A. Kasson, negotiated a dozen or so reciprocity treaties. Did we get them?
Not a bit of it. Blaine died in the presidency. Instead, under Harrison we got Mc-Kinley-Aldrich monopoly, and under McKinley we got Dingley tariff. Reciprocity was only invoked to get it on. Then protection got in its work.

Hearst pretends to be a Democrat. It recalls an exclamation of Hearst-Belmont:
"O Allah, Allah, if there was no dying in the case, how the Persians would fight!"
And if there was no principle in the case, what a stupendous Democrat William Randolph Hearst would be!

Hearst would have you believe the Wilson administration is "impractical." The last congress was not of that opinion. It enacted more practical legislation of great importance than any other congress since the Civil War. It was the Congress of the credit, or the blame, for it. For forty years the Republican party had promised a reform in our banking laws. Under Wilson we got it.
The tariff was materially reformed. The trust question was dealt with and is now in conservative report. The national health has been rescued from the clutch of greed by means of the bill to repeal free tolls graft for American shipping through the Panama canal. And that is not all.

Passing the Gravy Around.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: Very properly the man who works in steel is to receive wages at least as high as the man who invests his money in steel derives larger profits.
The steel trade is now at maximum activity.
Output is the greatest on record and since prices are high profits must be large. Indeed the street rings with the chorus of stock market "bulls," who point to enormous price orders as a reason for still higher quotations.

Under these conditions labor demands its own reward. Thus United States Steel leads off with a rate of 10 per cent a week for 150,000 day laborers and a corresponding increase for 90,000 others. This is a good omen, because it is a harbinger of industrial peace. Instead of disastrous strike. Capital may complain that it has just emerged from three years of sad business and is entitled to large profits to put up with its employees, but labor has also emerged from a famine.

Shorter time or complete idleness kept up the savings of many thousands of workmen, so that they, too, are entitled to some of the extra profits of the fat years. "Chairman Gary and the others who control the affairs of the world's largest manufacturing concern deserve credit for taking this view of the case. No business ever yet suffered for playing a fair game with its employees, and passing the gravy around the whole table.

A Test of National Sanity

Editorial in the New York Evening Post.

It is hard to restrain indignation at the sight of an ex-president making a firebrand of himself. But Miss Jane Addams shows us the more excellent way of dealing with her former Progressive chief. She remarks that the colonel "did not talk that way in 1912."
There was nothing of the sort in our platform. And she quietly adds: "It is my sober judgment that he does not speak for any large body of people." That would truly be gall and wormwood to Mr. Roosevelt.
And his inflammatory language about Mexico—inexcusable in any man in a time of crisis like the present and in one who has been president simply intolerable—is so plainly born of his insane hatred of President Wilson that it will be for that reason discounted everywhere. While he rages, sensible citizens will ask him the honorable and lawful course for our government to pursue.

Such a startling and horrible event as the murder of sixteen Americans in Mexico is a test of the good sense of the majority of Americans in the United States. Of course, we have our know-it-alls and kill-or-lose-it men, our senseless and some editors are already at work playing Carranza with their mouths. And an immense partisan an-tismus has been displayed. Clear-sighted men are always on their guard against that when they see distracted gentlemen plunged in grief over their country's "shame."
Mr. Roosevelt or his terrible political humiliation is to turn somebody out of office and take the job themselves. A lot of this is obviously going on now. With a presidential campaign coming on in which the cry will be anything to beat Wilson, we may expect to see his opponents more and more desperate of their dear land as election day approaches. We have to allow for this obvious motive in the midst of the present head-rending crisis about Mexico.
They really represent not anguish but hope—hope of rousing popular sentiment against the administration.

Now, there is no reason for zeal for or against the administration in all this Mexican business. The political fortunes of President Wilson are not close to the hearts of the American people. The question with the citizen is not whether he improves his chances of re-election or injures them, but whether, at a critical juncture, he keeps his head and his hands beneath a president of the United States. They do not want him to be intimidated by blatherers. They do not wish to see him acting halfheartedly in the face of state and world. What they ask of him is, first, care and the use of every official agency in ascertaining the facts, and then dignity and firmness in dealing with the facts according to the law and in a spirit of justice.

Thus far, this is precisely what he has done. He has investigated the Carranza government in the sense of outrage caused by the massacre of Americans in Chihuahua, and urged the immediate running of the criminals. And it happens that this morning we have news, apparently authentic, that two of the generals in command of the murdering bandits have already been caught and executed.

There is, at all events, no doubt that vigorous pursuit of the assassins, or that the government of Mexico will do everything in its power both to punish the criminals and to satisfy the United States.

In such circumstances, what will sober people do? We are not speaking of megalomania and intrigues and bitter partisans, who know no principle of action but their own passions and ambitions. We are speaking of the American citizen, busy with his daily

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

CORRECTS MR. McFADDEN.

To the Editor of The Herald: In your issue of Jan. 14 I read with interest C. A. McFadden's letter under the caption, "Duluth's Champion Cow and Her Record." Mr. McFadden says that a Holstein cow gave 60,000 pounds of milk in a year. He had better look again and correct his enthusiasm, for that was the case. He only tested 2 per cent, and milk buyers would give little or nothing for her milk. Mr. McFadden is mistaken.

THINKS FARRELL MIGHT PUT MILITIA TO WORK

To the Editor of The Herald: With your permission, I would like to make a suggestion in the Open Court. It has been said that the militia were to be trained in the art of trench-digging at the new armory. I have an idea wherein, if put into effect, some thing useful will be accomplished while getting the actual experience, and thereby killing two birds with one stone.

Our board of public works—head, "Best" Farrell, contemplates the construction of a number of sewer ditches the coming season, and no doubt will be glad to entertain any proposition. Col. Resche would see fit to make in regard to actual experience or practice in trench-digging by his men.

Here is hoping they get together. I

POEMS ASKED FOR.

Requests have been received for the following:

"Christine Le Roy" (song), from Mrs. O. Fay, Clouet, Minn.
"And the Wind Does Woo-o-o-o" (by Eugene Field), from L. E. B. Duluth.
"Widow Clancy's Hammock" (song), from John O'Reilly, Duluth.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the poem, "Only Me," from Mrs. Ben R. Upson of Iron River, Wis.

Only Me.

A mother of faith, was being arrayed by her dainty French maid, Beaudette. Her two little girls, in the nursery played.

And one was her darling pride. When a cry from the room caused the "is that you my darling Marie?" But the answer came back, twixt a sob and a sigh.

"No, mama, 'tis only me."

—That was "Only Me."

"Only me, only me," sobbed in a weepy tone.

Wrong from an innocent baby's heart, that felt so much alone.

One had the kisses and kindly words, that was for her darling Marie.

One told her troubles to birds and bees—that was "Only Me."

Close by a white cot one bright summer day.

The mother's heart wakened at last. The life of her baby was ebbing away.

The tears of repentance fell fast. "Now don't you cry, mama; you need not care."

It isn't your darling Marie, that has died. The angels will have love to spare.

A little for only me."

FRED STEVENS MAY GET FEDERAL JOB

St. Paul Man Said to Be Slated for Trade Commission.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 18.—President Wilson is not to insist on confirmation by the senate of George Rublee of New Hampshire as a Republican member of the Federal Trade commission in the face of opposition by Senator Gallinger and is expected to appoint the office former Representative Stevens of New Hampshire.

With Senator Gallinger the opposition to Mr. Rublee is personal. The senator being unwilling to accept him because Rublee fought his election to the senate, says the telegram. "Other Republican senators oppose Rublee on the ground that he is progressive and does not represent the Republican party. The law specifies that the minority party shall have two representatives on the commission. Mr. Rublee failed of confirmation when the other four members of the house and senate were confirmed last year by the senate, but was appointed to the commission by the President during the recess of the senate and has been serving with that body since."

Had Part in Forming Commission.

Mr. Stevens was one of the influential Republicans of the house, and an important member of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, which fashioned the legislation creating the Federal Trade commission.

"I know nothing about it," I do not care to say anything about it," was the comment that Mr. Stevens would make when informed that he was likely to be appointed to the commission.

WIRT, OKLA., HAS DISASTROUS FIRE

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 18.—Fire yesterday destroyed the entire business section and port of the city, including the Wirt, Okla., with a loss of $150,000. Ordered Nineteenth avenue east paved from Fourth to Eighth street.

Authorized the 1916 wage scales for the laborers in the water and light department and the public works division.

City commissioners at the regular council meeting yesterday afternoon accepted the offer of the X. J. Upham company to rent the present water and light department quarters for $5,000, and on motion of Commissioner Merritt, the signing of a five-year lease was authorized.

First reading was given the ordinance granting the Western Terminal Railway company a franchise to build a railroad belt line in Duluth, and on the motion of Mayor Prince, it was referred to the city attorney for report on its legality.

In a communication to the council, City Attorney Samuelson reported the victory of the Seventh street property owners in their fight against the city's plan to retain the walls. The court ruled that $2,016.66 be paid to the city for retaining walls. The court ruled that $2,016.66 be paid to the city for retaining walls.

The city attorney was authorized to settle the claim of Rocco Caputo for $180 under the workmen's compensation act. He was injured on June 23 last, while in the employ of the city.

Gas and water extensions were ordered in Sixty-third avenue west, from Fremont to Pulaski street.

An arc light was ordered on Greyhound road, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues east, and incandescent lights at Eighth avenue east and Grand avenue; Fourteenth avenue west and Fifth street; Ninth avenue west and Sixth street; Forty-fifth avenue east and Cooke street; Thirtieth avenue east and Eleventh street; First alley, between Eleventh and Twelfth avenues east, and two on above Wing road, near well avenue.

Licenses were granted the following: Cigarettes—Philip Dandrea, 4145 West Superior street; auction, Cameron Furniture company, 2110 West Superior street; and pool, Mike Rakovich, 14 Sixth avenue west.

Sanitary sewer outlets to avoid future floods in the Lakeside districts were ordered in Gladstone street, from Forty-eighth to Forty-ninth avenues east, and in Forty-ninth avenue to the lake; Forty-seventh avenue east and Superior street; Seventh alley, from Twenty-eighth avenue east to Wallace avenue, and in Wallace avenue, between the northwest corner of Vermilion road and Wallace avenue, down the street, and in the alley, between Vermilion road to the sewer north of Wallace avenue. They will cost approximately $2,300.

The 1916 wage scale for laborers in the water division and the water and light department was authorized. The complete schedule was outlined in the following table:

Nineteenth avenue east was ordered paved from Fourth to Eighth street. Bids will be advertised for the following estimates of the city engineer: Roadway, $13,717; concrete, $11,232; bitumastic, $2,133; asphalt, $17,678; bitumastic, $18,348, and one-cent concrete, $1,612.

The Democratic county committee was granted permission to hold a meeting in the council chamber on Jan. 31.

Mayor Prince's ordinance establishing new election districts in Woodland and Kenwood park was passed. The ordinance will be opened to the voters at the next election.

Appropriations Made.

The ordinances appropriating $5,000 for a culvert over Miller street, $200 for the purchase of 6,000 paving stones, and $1,000 for the purchase of index of council proceedings were all passed. First reading was given the measure appropriating $4,000 for the

IS GIBBONS GOING BACK? AHEARN IS THE ANSWER

If Ahearn Defeats Mike It Must Be Admitted That the Phantom Is Passe—Gibbons Should Win—Waino Ketonen Matched With Tough Joe Carr.

BY BRUCE.

LET'S start this effusion by stating that Mike Gibbons was the greatest of the modern-day boxers, or, was generally accredited with that distinction by eminent critics throughout the land. When these lines are printed it will possibly be the belief of the majority of followers of the glove game that the Phantom is not going to lose that title.

Young Jake Ahearn, known in Europe as John Bull's Boy, tonight in the spacious St. Paul auditorium will stack against Gibbons for the second time in his career, and the result of the meeting will mean much to both boxers.

A loss for Gibbons, in his own ball-wick, will mean the loss of a tremendous amount of prestige; while, on the other hand, a win will set Ahearn firmly on the highest rung of the middleweight pugilistic ladder.

A win for Gibbons will mean that he is still the premier middleweight in the United States, but one boxer to seriously dispute his claim to supremacy of the world. That boxer is none other than the sensational horse-shoer, Les Darcy.

Like another illustrious horse-shoer, Robert J. Fitzsimmons, who, oddly enough, came from out of the mysterious land of the kangaroo, Darcy has set the pugilistic world pondering over his remarkable career, and has caused many to class him as perhaps the one man who can hold the master hand over the St. Paul flash.

Ahearn will have his try this evening. Gibbons, like Packey McFarland, holds a knockout over the Eastern boxer. Ahearn's adherents have tenaciously held to the claim that Ahearn was but a mere neecee raised down in the effete portion of the country, will suffer the loss of what prestige he has been able to win following his two decisive beatings.

Gibbons has never been knocked out; in fact, it is doubtful if he has ever been really knocked off his feet, though this accomplishment is claimed for Soldier Barfield. There is no suspicion that Mike has a glass jaw. He has taken them on the muzz and remained strong and cool. The boxer can't be said for Ahearn, hence the preponderance of Western ring opinion stacks along with Mike.

There may be a rude surprise. The history of the ring is largely made up of upsets and sudden shifts of the dope. It is a good rule to string along with a champion, and as Gibbons is surely a ten-round no-decision cham-

Champion, there is little doubt but that he will enter the ring the heavy favorite. If Gibbons can't outbox the flash from New York city, then those present are very likely to witness the great boxer shift his tactics and go in and fight, just as he did in the case of Bob McAllister.

McAllister, a lanky, long-armed lad from California, made Mike look sort of bad for four rounds. Then Gibbons, forgetting the frills of scientific boxing, sailed in, got close to the tall Golden State boxer, and slipped over a kayo with his trusty right.

Every man who has ever worked with Gibbons or fought him, convincingly says he has a real punch. It is not known that Ahearn can punch with slumber effects. As Gibbons' status as a boxer has been clearly settled, it would seem that the Apostle gloveman should carry the edge.

But dope, me lads, is a treacherous and uncertain commodity to deal in—Ahearn may spring a real surprise, for some argue that Gibbons is about due for a real surprise.

You won't have long to wait. Tomorrow you will know whether Michael J. Gibbons or Jake Ahearn is the best boxer that this country can trot forth.

Ketonen and Joe Carr. Frank La Joy matched Waino Ketonen, the world's undisputed middleweight champion, and Joe Carr, the great middleweight of Minneapolis, to wrestle to a finish in Duluth, the bout to be staged the first week in February.

Ketonen is perhaps, with the passing of Beell and the retirement of Frank Gotch, the most scientific wrestler in the world. In attack, defense and the knowledge of leverage and every effective hold known to the ultra scientific side of the game, Ketonen is nothing less than a wonder.

The little Finn wrestles with his head as few modern wrestlers are capable of doing. Cool as the proverbial cucumber, quick as a flash to take advantage of an opening, ever alert, this boy has developed wrestling to an art.

Carr is the strongest middleweight in the world. In the matter of brute strength, Carr is a veritable demon. He believes in rushing and mauling an opponent to the point of submission.

Ketonen was beaten by Carr, some three years ago. That match is "he one black spot on the really wonderful record of little Waino. Time and time the little Finn has told his friends he would like to efface that bad showing. It looks now as if Waino is going to have the opportunity he has so persistently yearned for.

It is generally believed that Ketonen is better today than ever before. Working with Stecher last spring before the Curtis match and again in the winter, should have taught Waino the last thing about the game.

Ketonen will have need of all his science, all his vast knowledge of leverage and the appliance of shifting holds, for he is going against a real warrior in Joe Carr, a bull-like athlete who is liable to pick an opponent up and slam him head foremost to the mat at any stage of the game.

GIBBONS IS TO RETIRE

Phantom Will Devote His Time to Managing Brother Tom.

In one of the most remarkable statements ever issued by a fighter, Mike Gibbons today, through his secretary, M. J. McLoughlin, declares that he will retire after fighting Ahearn and Les Darcy, and that he will then give the title to a better man than himself, Tom Gibbons.

The statement declares point blank that Tom Gibbons is the best middleweight in the world and that he is capable of beating Mike right now—that he is "a more vicious and aggressive fighter than Mike."

Mike will take over the management of Tom. Not only this, but the older Gibbons is going to have his ears and nose operated upon, so that "he will look like a normal man."

"Waino is going to have the greatest middleweight in the world today," says the statement. "Other managers have tried to grab him, but Mike, knowing the ability of his brother, has wisely refused to hand him over. Mike will devote his time to managing Tom, and it is believed that Tom will be one of the busiest boxers in the ring."

The belief that Mike Gibbons was getting ready to leave the ring is thus finally made known.

GIBBONS AND AHEARN IN FINE FORM FOR FIGHT.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 18.—Both Mike Gibbons and Young Ahearn were declared to be in excellent condition today for their ten-round, no-decision bout here tonight. Ahearn, weighing about 155 pounds, will have a four-round advantage over Gibbons.

Each professed confidence in his ability to win, while neither seemed to be a decided favorite among the many neutral out-of-town fans who arrived today.

Gibbons won from Ahearn by a knockout in their previous meeting in New York, June 13, 1913.

WEST DULUTH CURLERS SHOW WELL IN BONSPIEL

Young Richard Wade Furnishes One of the Features of the Day By Winning Three Straight Games—Reedal's Rink Is Undeatable and Hudson, the Lone Canadian Skip, Comes Through With Three Wins.

BY BRUCE.

Yesterday's opening day program of the West Duluth annual bonspiel was one of complete surprises, with dope upsets and the overthrow of supposed strong rinks by ones not counted seriously in the running, and hence was a day of days for a curling standpoint.

If the opening day of the bonspiel is a criterion from which to hang an opinion, the big curling day got under way yesterday is going to be one of the best ever staged by the association, from a playing point of view.

Right at the outset came the defeat of Sandy McNabb by Emil Zauf's rink. This was followed by the overthrow of Bradley in the Duluth event by Alex Donald's kid rink. Then close on the heels of these two upsets came the defeat of LaBatt in the Minneapolis rink of Phillips in the Minneapolis event.

There is "Young" Wade and "Old" Wade. Young Wade is but a kid in years but has been curling since 11 years of age. The playing of the youthful skip and his kid rink was clearly the feature of yesterday's sport coming so unexpectedly as it did.

West Duluth shines. Alex Donald's rink came to an unexpected defeat at the hands of Rouny's of Hibbing in the Duluth event. Donald came back, however, in the Minneapolis event and handed A. K. Smith of Superior a beating.

George Reedall's rink went through three draws undefeated. The crack Phillips rink took Thanasan down to defeat in the morning draw, and then Frank Wade in the afternoon draw. Walter gave the Phillips rink a real battle, his only one in the morning draw of the Duluth draw, the breaker-Whites went on and won the two subsequent games, winning from Krauth in the Minneapolis event and beating Thanasan of Hibbing in the afternoon draw of the Duluth event.

After being beaten by Donald in the opening draw, Ralph Bradley's rink came back and won its remaining two games.

Frank Holmes of Superior furnished one of the many surprises of the day by putting the J. D. MacGregor Butte rink out of the Duluth event.

Dinham in International. It was announced today that "Billy" Dinham's strong Duluth rink, which has not been counted upon to enter the spiel, would play in the international event.

Dinham has a crack rink and the play of this lad—looked upon as one of the greatest skips in the Northwest—and the members of his rink will be watched with a great deal of interest. There is but one Canadian rink present, that of G. N. Hudson of Kenora, but if the playing of this rink yesterday was a criterion of what other Canadian rinks might have done, some of the American curlers are rather well pleased that the other Maple Leafers remained in their own territory.

Hudson's rink, winners of the Tuckett trophy at last year's Manitoba curling spiel, won three games, defeating Dunlop of St. Paul in the Duluth, McLeod of Minneapolis in the St. Paul Jobbers and D. B. McDonald of Duluth in the Minneapolis Curling club event.

It was a great day and one that augurs for a great spell and some very close and interesting play.

GIANTS' DEAL OFF; CLOSING FOR CUBS

Hempstead Buys Players From Sinclair; Weeghman Ready for Taft.

New York, Jan. 18.—It was announced last night by President Harry N. Hempstead of the New York National Baseball club that he had purchased Benny Kauff, outfielder; W. A. Fariden, catcher of Newark, and Fred Anderson, pitcher of Buffalo, all of the Federal league.

The deal was made through Harry P. Sinclair, who has held an option on the services of the three players. The money consideration was not divulged.

WILLARD SIGNS UP WITH GURLEY

Champion and Moran Will Mix in New York.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 18.—Joe Willard, champion heavyweight pugilist, was signed by Jack Curley here last night for a fight with Frank Moran of Pittsburgh. The fight, which will be held in New York, will be ten rounds, it was announced. No definite date was set for the match which will be held some time between April 10 and 22.

Curley, who gave out the information regarding the signing of the pugilist, said Willard would get $22,500 and the privilege of 45 per cent of the total of the gate receipts after the state tax had been deducted. The fight papers, Curley said, bore the signatures of both Willard and Tom Jones, his manager.

Following the closing of Willard's end of the match, Curley left immediately to get Moran's signature to a contract. Curley refused to discuss Moran's share.

Curley said that he would post a guarantee of $12,500 with Vardon when he reached New York and also that $20,000 would be deposited in a bank to be paid over to Jones twenty-four hours before the fight takes place.

LEWIS WINS OVER GRAVES FOR TITLE

Welterweight Bout Slow But Rough; Welsh Is Outpointed.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 18.—Ted Lewis of England was awarded a decision over Kid Graves of Cleveland in a slow, uninteresting ten-round boxing bout, billed as for the welterweight championship of the world. Both boxers employed extremely rough tactics throughout the contest.

Lewis outpointed his opponent in the fifth, ninth and tenth rounds. Graves took the seventh. The rest were even.

In the second round Graves butted the Englishman, drawing blood from the mouth. Lewis came back in the next

CUMMINS WOULD HAVE GOVERNMENT MAKE ALL WAR MUNITIONS FOR U.S.

Demands Elimination of Private Profit as Influence for Strife.

Iowa Senator Presents Resolution Asking for Special Committee.

To Inquire Into Feasible Plan for Construction of All Supplies.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Elimination of private profit as an influence for war by government manufacture of all war munitions, was urged in the senate today by Senator Cummins of Iowa, Republican. He placed the proposition before the senate in the form of a resolution, which would authorize a special committee to inquire into the most feasible plan for acquiring and constructing plants to supply the army and navy with all arms, ammunition and equipment, including ships, and to report on the legislation necessary to prevent private manufacture of such products.

War May Come.
"I agree that war may come to this country," Senator Cummins declared, "but if it comes, it must be the result of the calm, dispassionate loyal purpose to meet the awful scourge because."

New York, Jan. 19.—The Greek lines Vasilis Constantin arrived here today from Athens with 300 Serbian soldier refugees and their families on board. As soon as the liner reached quarantine, twenty of the Serbians were taken off and sent to the quarantine hospital. The quarantine physicians declined to make known the nature of their illness, pending further diagnosis.

Most of the refugees were said to be reservists who were living in this country at the outbreak of the war, and were summoned back to the colors. There were also about seven men of the University of Columbia's Red Cross service, who were returning from Serbia.

The physicians later announced that the twenty persons removed were afflicted with vermin of the type that carry typhus, and would be kept under observation.

CASE BUNGLED BY POLICE DEPARTMENT

Head of Cleveland Detective Bureau Resigns as Result.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 19.—Following publication of statements by Mayor Davis that the Cleveland police detective department bungled in handling the murder of Dolores Evans, who was strangled in a hotel last week, Capt. Alfred Walker, head of the detective bureau, resigned today. Police Chief W. S. Howe denied, however, that Walker quit under fire.

Mayor Davis promised a shake-up in the detective force. He has issued a criticism of the bureau for permitting the slayer of the Evans girl to get out of town before being captured.

Louis Blanchetti is now under arrest in New York and has been indicted here for murdering the actress.

GROSS GRAFTING CHARGED TO CANADIAN COMMITTEE

Former Minister of Public Works Tells of Purchase of Shells.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 19.—Charges were made in the Canadian parliament last night by Dr. William Pughy, former minister of public works, against the Canadian shell committee, of which Gen. Bertram was the head before its reorganization. The committee placed orders for shells to the amount of about $300,000,000. The funds were provided by the British government, but the committee was responsible for the shortcomings of its agents.

The action of the committee has produced scandal which is rocking through the country. Conservatives and Liberals join demanding that the govern-

PASSENGERS STILL ABOARD

Not Allowed to Leave Ryndam Which Is Aground at Gravesend.

London, Jan. 19.—The steamship Ryndam of the Holland-American line, is aground at Gravesend. No report has yet been made of the extent of the damages the vessel has received. An examination is being made. In the meantime none of the passengers or crew is allowed to leave the vessel.

The Ryndam which left New York, Jan. 5, with seventy-nine first-class, thirty-four second-class and thirty-eight third-class passengers, as well as mail, for Rotterdam, via Falmouth, was reported in a cable dispatch yesterday, as passing Southend down by the bows, with a list to starboard and as having arrived later at Gravesend. It was added that all the passengers were saved, but that three stokers were killed and four injured in what was reported as an accident. It was not announced. The Ryndam was built at Belfast in 1901, is 540 feet long and 12,527 tons gross. She carries a crew of 200 men.

SANITY OF COLONEL'S NIECE QUESTIONED

London, Jan. 19.—Miss Ethlyn Lalande of New York, who claims to be a niece of Theodore Roosevelt, has been detained by the police for an examination into her sanity. If her relatives in New York will send for her, the police state that they will send her home without proceeding with action to have her committed to an English asylum for the insane.

Miss Lalande came here on war relief work.

SWEDEN HOLDS BRITISH MAILS

Stubborn Controversy Between Two Countries Grows More Intense.

London, Jan. 19.—The controversy between Great Britain and Sweden over the detention of mails has reached an impasse with each side stubbornly refusing to allow its rival's mails to be expedited through the respective countries.

Sweden now is holding an enormous quantity of English mail destined for Russia, while mail is being taken from every Scandinavian liner brought into Kirkwall, Scotland.

Many Novel Features.
Vigorous representations are being made by the diplomats of both countries, but the controversy presents so many novel features that extensive debates may be expected. Neutral diplomatic circles here are more concerned over the detention of mails than any ordinary freight. The neutral countries have not yet controverted this stand, but base their objections on interference and delays to which actual first class postal correspondence has been subjected.

The foreign office here takes the definite stand that a parcel, no matter what class of postage it bears, is no more entitled to protection than is ordinary freight. The neutral countries have not yet controverted this stand, but base their objections on interference and delays to which actual first class postal correspondence has been subjected.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS WITH MONTENEGRO BROKEN

Paris, Jan. 19, via London.—The following official statement was issued today:
"The wireless news of the surrender of the Montenegrin army appears somewhat premature. It is now announced from another source that negotiations between Austria and Montenegro have been broken, the conditions of surrender imposed by Austria having been found quite unacceptable by Montenegro."

"The king, the royal family and the diplomatic corps are about to proceed to Italy."

EMPEROR AT NISH, SERBIA

Kaiser Meets Ferdinand of Bulgaria and Reviews Troops.

London, Jan. 19.—A Reuter dispatch says that Emperor William was in Nish, Serbia, yesterday. According to this information which was forwarded from Nish by way of Berlin, the German emperor met King Ferdinand of Bulgaria at Nish.

The monarchs greeted each other cordially," the dispatch says, "and then reviewed from the citadel a procession of Bulgarian, Macedonian and German troops."

Official announcement was made in Berlin on Sunday that Emperor William had recovered his health completely and had returned to the front.

PRICE SENTENCED TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

No Motion for New Trial to Be Made at Present.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank T. Price, a business man of this city, convicted last Saturday of murdering his third wife, Mary Fridley Price, member of a wealthy family, for her fortune, was sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor by Judge Daniel Nish in district court here today.

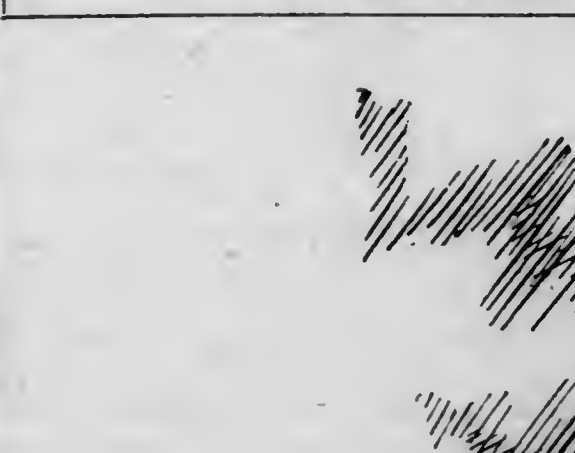

Mr. C. Brady, counsel for Price, said there would be no motion for a new trial made today and he doubted if any of execution of sentence would be asked, as he plans to devote some time to the investigation of newly discovered evidence before trying to obtain a new trial.

The men named in the indictments, on which the hearing here is based, are William H. Hull and George T. Arnold of the Chicago & St. Joseph Steamship company; Harry Pedersen, captain, and Joseph Erickson, engineer, both of Benton Harbor, and Robert Reid and Charles Eckles, government inspectors of Grand Haven.

Wages Increased.
Allentown, Pa., Jan. 19.—An increase of wages ranging from 10 to 15 per cent, was announced today had been given the 2,000 employees of the Northampton plant of the Atlas Portland Cement company near here. The increase becomes effective Feb. 1. The company also operates mills at Hudson, N. Y., and Hannibal, Mo.

GERMAN CASUALTIES TO DATE TOTAL 2,335,768.
London, Jan. 19.—Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under-secretary of war, announced in the house of commons this afternoon that the German casualties as published in the Berlin casualty lists to date total 2,335,768. Of this number, he said 588,956 were killed.

A POLITICAL SALAD DRESSING THAT WON'T MIX.

Montenegro may not have played her final part in the world war, according to an official announcement in Paris today. This states that news of her surrender may have been premature, as it has been learned from another source that the Montenegrin negotiations with Austria have been broken off, the conditions imposed by the Austrian authorities being such as Montenegro could not accept.

Military operations along the various European fronts have been relatively unimportant since the cessation of the fighting in Montenegro, and the halt of the Russians in Eastern Galicia and on the Bessarabian frontier. Paris reports quiet on the Franco-Belgian front and the only mention of activity along the eastern front contained in the current statement from Berlin is that of a German air squadron which attacked Russian storage depots and other military establishments at Zarnopol, Galicia.

Emperor William has recovered from his recent indisposition, according to an official announcement from Berlin last Sunday, which added that he has returned to the front, was in the former Serbian capital, Nish, yesterday, a Berlin dispatch states.

Further news came to hand today of the developments in the Caucasus, where the Russians recently began an offensive over a wide front and admittedly have been making progress against the Turks. Constantinople now announces that the Ottoman armies resisting the Russians have been reinforced and have checked the Russians along the entire front.

Grand Duke Nicholas' forces have suffered severely in the fighting during the last eight days, according to the Turkish statement, which claims the situation is now favorable to the Turks, only slight changes in position having been effected by the Russian operations.

On the other hand, a Petrograd official statement claims that the campaign in the Caucasus is developing favorably to the Russians, who have taken strong Turkish positions with comparatively slight losses, while the Turks suffered severely. Good progress is also being made in the Russian campaign in Persia, Petrograd declares.

Importance is attached to these operations because, although apparently isolated, they are held by many military observers as to be taken into consideration in connection with the British campaign in Mesopotamia, all three movements converging upon the easternmost parts of the Ottoman domain, and throwing a line across the path of any Turkish advance further into the Orient.

Little new light has been thrown upon long-standing in Greece, reports of strongly aggressive movements on the part of the Entente powers, came through German sources yesterday. A London dispatch late last night, however, conveyed a statement by the British foreign office that it had no news confirmatory of the German reports, and that they are believed to be unfounded.

Declares Most of Abandoned Stores Destroyed Before Leaving.

Berlin, Jan. 19, wireless to Sayville.—A new offensive movement has been inaugurated by the Russians to the east of Czernowitz, near the Bessarabian frontier. The official Austrian statement of today says the Russians made four successive attacks at several places, but were repulsed.

Loss at Gallipoli.
London, Jan. 19.—Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary undersecretary for war, stated in the house of commons this afternoon that he thought a quarter or an eighth of the two million pounds sterling attributed in the Turkish reports as the value of the booty left when the British evacuated Gallipoli peninsula, would cover everything left behind.

Mr. Tennant stated that, in the evacuation, the primary object, of course, was to bring the troops away safe and sound. It already had been stated that a considerable amount of stores was abandoned after being destroyed, he said. No doubt more might have been saved by the sacrifice of life, but the common sense and public opinion, he added, would endorse the action of those responsible for conducting the evacuation in such a way as to save the personnel.

The bulk of the stores left behind had been destroyed, he declared.

LETTER THREATENED TO KILL MISS BURGER

Providence, R. I., Jan. 19.—A letter containing a threat to kill Miss Emily Burger and alleged to have been written by Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr, who is on trial for the murder of her husband, Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, was introduced by the prosecution today. George Rooks, Miss Burger's brother-in-law, said that Mrs. Mohr told him she had hired a couple of thugs to kill her husband. Rooks identified a postcard as having been sent to him to keep his sister-in-law away from the doctor.

HEATED DISCUSSION BEFORE COMMITTEE

Washington, Jan. 19.—Heated discussion over the Mexican situation featured the first meeting today of the senate committee on foreign relations, which adjourned without taking action on resolutions providing for intervention or sending troops to aid Carranza in protecting foreign citizens in bandit-infested sections of Mexico.

Senator Borah of Idaho, who urged speedy action, has decided to make a canvass of the senate to determine what support would be given an effort to consider proposals of intervention should the foreign relations committee fail to act on resolutions before the Democratic senators, it was declared, would stand solidly behind President Wilson in the crisis.

The opinion prevailed that none of the intervention resolutions would be reported at present and that a majority of the committee would uphold the president in his determination to give the Carranza government a chance to demonstrate its ability to establish order in Mexico and to punish murderers of American citizens.

LONG BEACH IS NOW AN ISLAND

Long Beach, Cal., Jan. 19.—Surrounded on north, east and west by flood waters, and faced by the Pacific ocean, Long Beach, a summer and winter resort of 40,000 persons, has been temporarily converted into an island, with the industrial sections in the lowlands covered with from three to eight feet of water.

Commuters to Los Angeles were obliged to change cars today and walk single file in a driving downpour of rain over a weakened trestle on the Pacific Electric company's road, while a torrent of tumbling, muddy water roared beneath them.

Jesus Martinez and his eight children were rescued when floods carried away their house.

THE BREWER-WHYTE RINK IS NOW LEADING IN THE SPIEL

Has Won Seven Games to Six Each for Dunlop and Reedal—Race for the Grand Aggregate Is a Pretty One—Bradley Out of Minneapolis Event.

In actual games won, irrespective of forfeits, the Brewer-Whyte rink is leading the field in the Northwest. The Brewer-Whites have won seven games. Reedal of Phillips, Wis., has won six games and Dunlop of Duluth has won six games.

It was announced today as almost a certainty that the Brewer-Whites would withdraw from the International. To date this rink is in every event. It is believed that it will prove impossible to play down in all events without giving up the spiel, so that it is likely that the International will be passed up.

Brewer added to his winning list by defeating Campbell of Eveleth in the morning draw of the Minneapolis curling club event. W. B. Dunlop of Duluth also won his game in the same event, vanquishing the strong Clough Gates rink, 14 to 11.

Dunlop of Minneapolis put Ralph Bradley out of this event. W. W. McMillan of Duluth also put Evered of West Duluth out of the running. McNabb defeated Potnick in the St. Paul and Colle Naughton's rink continued its spurt by beating H. J. Russell's Superior rink. M. P. Flanagan of Hibbing defeated J. D. McGreggor's rink in the same event.

George La Batt of Minneapolis put Charles West's rink out of the International in the only game played in that event early today.

The Grand Aggregate. From this point interest centers around the battle between the Brewer-Whites, Dunlop and Reedal for the grand aggregate. If all of the three rinks go through the day without suffering a defeat, interest will be stirred in tomorrow's play, for it is most unusual for three rinks to travel thus far a homspiel without bumping into a defeat.

A large gallery witnessed the games of last evening. As interest increases with the progress of the spiel, it is believed that a large number of spectators will also be present this evening. Officials of the club want the general

CENTRAL GOLF TOURNEY PREPARATIONS IN MAKING

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—The annual meeting of the Central Golf association will be held here the evening of Feb. 5, according to a call sent out today by Joseph S. Hall of this city, president of the association. Applications for the 1916 tournament have been received from golf clubs at Toledo, and Louisville.

Since the Western Golf association tournament will be held on the Pacific coast, the central meeting will be the most important in this section next summer.

JUMP OFFER FOR THE WILLARD-MORAN MATCH

New York, Jan. 19.—Tex Rickard and Samuel McCracken, who made the original offer of $45,000 for a ten-round bout, have been between Jess Willard, the heavy champion, and Frank Moran, increased that offer today to $45,000. The offer is an agreement with Moran by which his share would be $17,000 instead of $15,000, and Willard would be offered an offer of $32,500, instead of $30,000.

Moran said today that he had accepted the terms offered by Rickard and McCracken, with the understanding that the bout should be indoors next March and until the expiration of that month he would not consider any other propositions to meet Willard.

EXCITING GAMES IN GRADE SCHOOL LEAGUES

PLANNING NEW PLAYGROUNDS

Bigger Program of Supervised Play for Coming Year.

Plans for the playground season next summer were announced this morning by J. R. Batchelor, recreational director.

Ten playgrounds will be opened under official supervision May 1, he said, with nineteen assistant directors in charge. There will be a man and woman directing the children at each playground, according to his program.

Before the close of the school semester in June Director Batchelor plans to organize a grade school baseball league and a volleyball league for girls, so that games can be played throughout the summer months. A monster play festival for the children in the city will be staged some time in July, he said.

The ten playgrounds to be supervised next summer follow: Washburn school, Lester park school, Chester park, Munger school, Franklin school, Washington school, Webster school, Ninth avenue west and Third street park, Harrison park and Irving school. Next summer but three playgrounds were operated under the direction of Mr. Batchelor at Harrison and Chester parks and Fifty-second avenue west.

On July 4 Director Batchelor plans to stage the second annual relay race, the winner of which will receive the Herald trophy captured by the Lincoln school last year. Teams will be organized and entered before the close of the school year in June, he said.

The ten skating rinks now being supervised by the city will remain open until March 1, Director Batchelor said this morning.

HELD UP AT POINT OF GUN

W. J. Lenertz Robbed of Cash and Checks By Highwaymen.

W. J. Lenertz, 11 West Fourth street, was held up at the point of a gun and robbed last night by two highwaymen who evidently had lay in wait for him near the entrance to his residence.

A small traveling bag, containing some checks, and insurance policies was taken by the robbers while the other went through his victim's pockets and secured $25 in cash. One check for $20 which is negotiable also was taken, as was a certificate of deposit in a local bank for $100.

Early this morning Police Capt. A. G. Fiskett arrested Patrick Sheehan, 21, a convictive embezzler in the East Superior street saloon. Sheehan is said to have a police record and is believed to be implicated in the holdup. A charge of highway robbery was placed against him, but it is believed that he is being held merely as a suspect.

He didn't notice the pair of them until I had almost reached the house," Mr. Lenertz told detectives shortly after the holdup. "Just as I turned onto the sidewalk leading to the front door they jumped upon me, and pointed guns at my head."

"I didn't say a word, and they didn't either. I couldn't swear just what weapons were pointed at me, but I believe they were cannon. They looked like it."

Mr. Lenertz is expected to appear at headquarters this afternoon, when he will try to identify Sheehan as one of the two men who held him up.

Other arrests will be forthcoming, police say, as detectives were busy today on clues which may establish the identity of the holdup artists.

TOO EAGER TO PAY HIS DEBT

Prisoner on Trial for Forging Check to Square Accounts.

Eagerness to square a debt of long standing between friends prompted Thomas Egan to adopt peculiar methods of financing the deal, if the story told in Judge Esnig's division of the district court today, where Egan is on trial for attempted forgery, is to be credited.

Egan owed David Paddock $115. How long he had owed it did not appear. But when Messrs. Paddock and Egan met on Dec. 21 last, Egan told for him, if they would stop over to Sam Smith's saloon, 320 East Superior street, where Egan was about to have a check cashed.

The two men went into the saloon and a check for $115 which Egan presented, Paddock received $15 from the remainder of the $35. Smith couldn't spare the cash just then and besides he wanted to see if the check was good.

As soon as the banks opened, Smith, it was testified, called up the City National bank, and found that the paper later developed that the check was a forgery and Egan's arrest followed.

The January grand jury indicted Egan on a charge of attempted forgery. The claim is that the signature of McGillis & Gibbs, signed to the check, is a forgery, and that Egan is the man who forged it, and attempted to pass it upon Smith.

Smith and Paddock both took the stand today to testify against Egan. Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, is prosecuting, and R. J. Fisher is defending.

The next criminal case to be tried is that of the state against Augusto Guizzo, charged with having committed assault in the first degree on Paul Sammas, a fellow workman.

GRANDMOTHER SAYS:

Horehound or thoroughwort tea for the fever—goose oil and turpentine to rub on for colds and soreness of lungs or throat were the remedies used fifty years ago.

Now newer remedies have taken the place of the old—a tablet of aspirin or a capsule of quinine for the fever without the old bitter tea—Gosolene to rub on the chest or throat, instead of the old goose oil and turpentine, gives quick relief, for the congestion, soreness or pain.

For the little ones Baby Gosolene is the best to use when they have a chest cold—just rub Baby Gosolene, cover with a soft warm cloth and see how quickly they get relief. You can get either Baby Gosolene or Gosolene at any drug store in 25c tubes.—Advertisement.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 19.—Beginning at 8 o'clock on Monday, Jan. 19, Frank M. Eddy began a two months' tour showing moving pictures of Minnesota's agricultural and manufacturing scenes and giving free lectures on the state. Fred D. Sherman, commissioner of immigration, said today: "Last year, as an experiment, the board tried out these free illustrated lectures and were agreeably surprised with the results. We find this method of advertising is the most effective of anything thus far attempted for the money. The expense of carrying on these lectures is not great, and so well was the board pleased with last winter's campaign that they decided to put two out this year. Accordingly, beginning at Bowling Green, Ohio, on Jan. 14, John D. Deets of Mankato be-can a similar lecture tour, traveling through Western Ohio and Northern Indiana.

In addition to the free moving picture entertainment and lecture, Mr. Eddy and Mr. Deets carry with them portable exhibits covering a wall space of about sixty square feet, in which samples of grains and grasses, corn, etc., are shown throughout the day.

A battle royal with six contestants in the circle, each blindfolded, will be the closing feature of an athletic contest to be held by the Duluth Street Railway Employees' Athletic association on Monday evening, Jan. 31. Three preliminaries, lightweight, middleweight and heavyweight boxing contests, will precede the principal event of the evening.

The six contestants have already been secured to enter the ring. The names are being held secret as it is not intended to give out these until the night of the affair. The men who have been chosen are said to be big and heavy and have been selected by the committee for their "staying" qualities.

They will remain in the ring for five minutes during the actual time that the battle continues. The five minutes will be divided into five rounds of one minute each. Boxing gloves, the heaviest and best padded, will be used so as to prevent any possible broken noses or badly scarred features.

The preliminaries will begin at 8:30 o'clock. The first lightweight class will be a contest between Arthur Hunter and a contestant who is still to be selected. The middleweight class will be between R. P. Williams and E. R. Jones, and the heavyweight between Dan H. Craven and E. H. Salo.

Admission to the affair will be limited to members of the association, except for a few employees outside of the association, who will be admitted free.

Employees who are late night cars are already asking to be "booked off" for the night, and according to the foreman at the carhouse, there will be plenty of work for the employees on the evening of the contest.

Raymond Smallidge, assistant roadmaster, is in charge of arrangements. James Nelson has been secured as official referee for the bouts. The rounds in all of the events will be limited to one minute and each event five rounds.

AT CHURCH SUPPER

If the "better halves" of the Grace M. E. church congregation expected to see the "mere men" trip up in handling the tray and the "ladies" trip down, they must have suffered keen "disappointment," because the men proved just as adept at kitchen acrobatics as their wives would under similar circumstances.

The women watched with bated breath as their husbands tripped airily around the tables with bowls bubbling over with oyster stew, expecting every moment to hear a crashing of dishes. But no mishap occurred and the annual dinner served by the men's club passed off as a perfect success.

The men served supper to about 300 guests during the evening. James W. Preston was in charge, assisted by a score of members.

BACK OF COLD SPELL BROKEN*Weather Forecaster Says Milder Weather Is Likely for Few Days.

Weather Forecaster Richardson announces that the first annual track of the back of the cold spell has arrived. The cold, he says, is over for the present at least, but the back of winter itself is still intact. The cold has been holding Duluth in its grip for more than a week, and a week ago today the worst blizzard in years hit the city.

There is also a possibility of snow tonight and tomorrow, and he thinks that for a day or two at least there is not much possibility of a return of the rigorous conditions that have existed, as there is nothing in the offering to indicate another cold spell immediately.

Mr. Richardson says that tonight and tomorrow will be milder, and that about the time the temperature will drop tonight will be about 5 deg. above zero. There is also a possibility of snow tonight and tomorrow, and he thinks that for a day or two at least there is not much possibility of a return of the rigorous conditions that have existed, as there is nothing in the offering to indicate another cold spell immediately.

K. P. LODGE BEGINS SERIES OF PROGRAMS
North Star lodge, No. 35, Knights of Pythias, gave the first of its monthly entertainments and banquets at the old Masonic temple last evening. About seventy members were present. James A. Wharton, chancellor, commander, presided as toastmaster. John Norton made an address in which he predicted a greater prosperity for Duluth and an excellent year for the Duluth lodge.

A feature of the program was a solo by Louis Dworshak, who was accompanied by Mr. Hancock. William Coughlan of the Portland, Or., lodge was a guest and entertained with a ventriloquist stunt. The four-voice quartet gave several selections. Motion pictures were shown through the courtesy of the Sanborn theater management.

Rev. Charles N. Thorp, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational church, displayed money raising abilities last night at dinner given for the congregation in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church, for his appeal for more funds for the new building which the Pilgrim organization is about to erect at Twenty-third avenue east and Fourth street, received an instant response to the extent of $2,220.

Mr. Thorp said, during a short talk, following the dinner, which was prepared by the ladies' union under the direction of Mrs. W. A. McGonagle, and served by twelve young men of the church, that less than half the families in the congregation had contributed to the building fund.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG*Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use. Too, you simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.—Advertisement.

brought the subscription, none of which were more than $100 and none less than $10, which raised the building fund to $131,720.

Reports Are Made. More than 250 persons were present at the dinner and the meeting which followed. The meeting was called to order by the pastor at 7:30, following the meal, and the minutes, read by Clerk Brewer Mattocks, Jr., showed that the twenty-seven new members received during 1915, has raised the membership to 515.

Reports also by R. M. Weaver, superintendent of the Sunday school; Lawrence Scott, president of the Young People's society; Miss Esther Bowen, president of the Friends of the Church; Mrs. W. S. Donat, president of the Woman's Missionary society; Dr. A. G. Schulze, president of the Brotherhood; Miss Florence Clark, president of the Philanthropic class; W. S. Horst, treasurer of the missionary and benevolent fund; H. B. Paul, chairman of the mission committee; H. W. Nichols, treasurer of the general fund; and Mrs. W. O. Falk, retiring president of the ladies' union.

Oscar Mitchell, chairman of the board of trustees, spoke of the excellent work done and the fine attendance kept up during the time that the congregation has been without a church home, and thanked the Masons for their voluntary loan of the auditorium to the Masonic temple in which the Pilgrim congregation was allowed to hold services. He also thanked the First Presbyterian church and other churches for their aid.

The plans of the proposed church, the drawing of which was shown in The Herald of last evening, were shown following the meeting, and some suggestions were made for changes, the chief one being for a sub-cellar with boilers and coal bins, for under the present plans, the coal would have to be carried in and ashes carried out.

ROCHESTER MASONS HEAVY FIRE LOSERS
Rochester, Minn., Jan. 19.—The Masons were the heaviest losers by Monday's disastrous fire that destroyed the Masonic temple, formerly the Mayo clinic, and for a time threatened to wipe out the entire block and the adjoining Zumbro hotel and big new Mayo clinic doing a damage estimated at $140,000 with about $90,000 insured.

The Masons lost is about $65,000, one-half insured.

At a meeting held yesterday the Masons decided to rebuild the temple on the former site at an estimated cost of from $50,000 to $75,000. It is to be of brick and cement and will be absolutely fire proof as near as can be. It is uncertain as yet whether a two, three or four-story structure will be erected.

A loss which cannot be replaced is the destruction in the fire of an old Bible used by the lodge for over fifty years. This copy of the Scriptures was presented last century ago by the wives and sisters of Masons and had always been cherished.

The Masons will meet in the Elks hall, until their temple is rebuilt.

PRACTICAL JOKER IS FACING COURT CHARGE
Minot, N. D., Jan. 18.—Arthur Hilleman faces a charge of arson in district court here as a result of the destruction of the Root-Blailey building by fire last week.

Officials allege Hilleman poured kerosene on the trousers of James Westergard, lying intoxicated in the basement of the building. Westergard was burned seriously. Hilleman says he intended to play a prank on Westergard.

That there will be at least 1,200 birds on exhibit at the Duluth poultry show was the opinion expressed by the officials last night at the close of the entries. The show will open next Monday at the old armory, Second avenue east and First street.

Applications have been received from all parts of Minnesota, from the Dakotas, Michigan and Wisconsin. Practically the entire show now being run in Superior will be moved over here, said E. H. Conkey, secretary of the Duluth Poultry association. If there are not upward of 1,000 birds on exhibit I will be disappointed.

L. Guldson, "the man from Oskosh," who is reputed to grow the largest turkeys in the state, entered five of his best birds yesterday.

The Cat fanciers' show is attracting much attention also. Mrs. Agnes L. Atwood, manager of this branch, says that more than forty cats are entered. Feats had been entered from Duluth, Superior, Proctor, Smithville, Chicago and from range and Northwest towns.

EFFORTS TO BLOCK PAVING

Withdrawals of Signatures
From Petition Void Says
Farrell.

Grand Avenue Must Be Improved Sooner or Later.

Efforts to block the proposed paving of Third street from Twenty-eighth to Fifty-fourth avenue west were discussed last night at a meeting of owners opposed to the paving, held at the Morrison school, Fortieth avenue west and Sixth street. Commissioner Bert Farrell told the property owners that the withdrawals from the original petition were found to be void, and that the original petition would have to go through.

The withdrawals were void, he said, because they had not been made prior to the certifying of the petition by the assessor. The assessor had certified to the petition, which, he said, made it legal. The petition contained nearly 30 per cent of the property owners owning more than the necessary 25 per cent of the property.

The commissioner said that Third, as the principal thoroughfare between Duluth and West Duluth, would sooner or later have to be paved. He said that it was his belief that the paving can be laid at an average cost of about $300 per 50-foot lot. Concrete is favored by many of the owners as the best and cheapest material.

According to leading property owners who are favoring the paving, there are only a few of the owners who oppose. Others are on the fence, favoring it one day and opposing it the next.
"There is no question but that the greater number of property owners are in favor of the paving," said Otto Svanstrom, general manager of the Diamond Calk & Horse Shoe company, this morning. "I have attended some of the protest meetings, and there have been a here and there who have been leading the protest. The others have been sitting back saying nothing. I feel certain that half of those owners who have attended these meetings are in favor of having the improvement made and getting through with it."

"This section of Third street, or Grand avenue, as it is often called, is one of the most important thoroughfares in the city. If it is the misfortune of someone to own property on the street who is unable to meet the assessment or stand the advance of progress, he should dispose of it and move to another part. It is just such continual protests against the paving, which is not confined in Duluth to Third street, but to many other sections, that has resulted in this city having so few well-paved streets."

Will Install Officers.

Officers for the West Duluth lodge No. 135, A. O. U. W., and West Duluth lodge No. 85, Degree of Honor, will be installed this evening at Gilley's hall. The ceremonies will be conducted by J. A. Schumacher of this city, past grand master of the Workmen, and Mrs. Elizabeth Schroeder of St. Paul, past grand chief of honor of the degree.

A program of music to be followed by refreshments has been planned following the ceremony. The program will include the grand officers and followers and selections by W. Pritchard, Miss Cora McKinnon, Robert O'Brien,
John Allen, Mrs. E. J. Mieses, Eva Crosby, Ethel Crosby, Winnie Green and Minnie Green.

Morgan Park Curlers Beaten.

Morgan Park visitors at the Western Carling club were given a warm reception by the locals last night. The aggregation skipped by Dr. O. S. Olsen was beaten by a score of 11 to 7
by a fine skipper by T. F. Olsen.

Mothers' Club Program.

The Mothers' club of the Merritt school will entertain at a program at the school Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The program has been arranged under the direction of Mrs.
John Stewart. Mrs. E. D. Kerbs is chairman of the committee in charge of the refreshments.

The program will include selections by the school orchestra under the direction of Miss Clara Goodhand, exercises by pupils, vocal numbers by the Duluth district for the Methodist Episcopal church, will preach next Sunday morning at the Asbury Methodist church, Sixtieth avenue west and Ridgely street. A special program is being arranged by the choir, to include selection by Miss Bessie Warden of Chicago.

Anderson Funeral.

The body of J. H. Alexander, aged 68 years, who died suddenly yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Albert Killett, 112 South Sixty-seventh avenue west, will be taken to Bruno, Minn., on Friday for burial. An autopsy held over the body yesterday evening by Dr. E. J. Judson and Reginald Graham revealed the cause of death to be intestinal trouble.

Mail Carrier Surprised.

Louis Christensen, local mail carrier, was pleasantly surprised last evening by his fellow mail carriers and clerks of the West Duluth postoffice at his home, 520 North Sixtieth avenue west. The occasion was Mr. Christensen's birthday. Mr. Christensen was presented with a handsome token in honor of the anniversary.

West Duluth Briefs.

DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.
Met at noon.
Foreign affairs committee took no action on Mexican intervention resolutions.
Indian affairs committee continued hearing on Ojaga land leases.
Senator Cummins spoke in favor of government armor-plate and munitions factories.

HOUSE.
Met at noon.
Representatives Gardner, Taynauer and Hensley urged rules committee to investigate individuals and organizations urging and opposing preparedness.

FIRST PETITION IS FOR WILSON

Presidential Signatures Are First Obtained By Minneapolis Man.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 19.—The first presidential petition to be filed with Secretary of State Schmah was that of President Wilson, handed in today by Alfred J. Davis, Minneapolis. It carried more than the required number of signatures, which is 600.

The petition is one of several now in circulation. Mr. Davis, according to the leaders, acted as a self-constituted committee in securing the signers, but they are acceptable nevertheless.

Secretary Schmah said the petition was regular in every respect and that President Wilson's name would go on the presidential preference primary ballot to be voted March 14.

Pictures From Everyday Life.

A spicy subject treated in a candid manner is "The Unwelcome Wife," featuring pretty Miss Vivian Prescott, in the "Forbidden Fruit" series next Sunday. "Sins of the Parents" and "A Fool's Paradise" will follow, each complete in itself.

Tamagwa, Pa. Has $170,000 Fire.
Tamagwa, Pa., Jan. 19.—Fire of unknown origin in the business section today caused a loss of $170,000. J. M.
Hadesty & Son, hardware, $80,000, and the Tamagwa National bank, $10,000, were the heaviest losers.

$200,000 Fire in Chicago.
Chicago, Jan. 19.—Fire which early today destroyed the four-story brick building occupied by the George Harrison company, wholesale grocers, did damage estimated at $200,000.

an arm and leg in the fighting at Loos, but whose name she would not give.

Said the singer: "I have never met a free woman once more I thought I never would marry again. A woman with a career seldom marries. It is difficult to find a man to whom I am engaged and who will be my country and I shall be more like a mother. A free woman should have a child. I have none and so my future husband will be my child."

"In married life one of the two parties must be dependent upon the other. I am too rebellious by nature to be the dependent one, so I expect to find my happiness by being the independent one upon me. Of course, I love and respect the man, but for personal reasons cannot mention it just yet. We shall be married quietly in England."

This is of interest to Duluthians who heard Miss Teyte sing before the Maritime Musical two years ago.

Miss Pearson Is Hostess.
Miss Jennie Pearson entertained a number of her friends last evening at her home, 210 West Superior street. Games and music featured the entertainment. Numbers were given by Miss Nelson, Mr. Edlund and Mr. Fremling. A buffet lunch was served during the evening.

Those present were: Mrs. Olga Gustafson, Misses Minnie Nelson, Gertrude White, Nellie Coning, Jennie Pearson. Messrs. Ernest Evanson, Dunstone, Fred Edlund, Will White, Joel Brown, Carl Nelson, Charles Fremling.

How to Cure Rheumatism
Here is a prescription for rheumatism (usually mixed at home) used all over the U. S. for many years and said to be the sure remedy; neutralizes the acid in the blood and gives results after first dose. "One ounce of Toris compound and one ounce of Toris saparilla. Put these two ingredients in half pint of whisky. Use a tablespoonful before each meal and at bed time." Get ingredients at any drug store. #### Surest for Coughs and Colds

Don't experiment on a bad cough or cold. It is very risky. The following formula easily mixed at home makes one of the best and quickest cough remedies obtainable, often curing the worst cough in a day. Pine as medicine is as old as the Bible but here is best form. Half ounce of Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine) and two ounces of Glycerine; mix these in half pint of whisky. Use a teaspoonful frequently as required. (Smaller doses for children.) Be sure you get the genuine Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine), put up only in half ounce bottles, each enclosed in a screw-top case.

Frost Bites, Corns and Sore Feet

Don't endure foot agony. Here is a remedy for quick relief. It works through the pores removing the cause. Two tablespoonfuls of Calocoid compound in warm foot bath gives instant relief for aching and sore feet; corns and calluses are peeled right off. Specially effective for sore blisters, chilblains and frost bites. Genuine Calocoid in twenty-five cent packages at any drug store. The above is published by the Medical Formula Laboratories, Dayton, O.

tion are highly elated at the results attained from the work of the orchestra.

Season subscriptions are coming in rapidly and a large number of seat reservations have already been made. A plan of the seating arrangement having been placed in Boyce's drug store Monday morning.

In addition to the program numbers will be played "Good-bye as a trumpet solo while Mrs. Merrifield will also sing a group of songs which she has used so successfully in recital work in addition to her principal number, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from Beethoven's "Fidelio."

In order that there may be no disappointment in securing choice seats the orchestra association asks that those whom have not already done so make their reservations early as only a limited number of seats are available. Subscriptions have been set aside, these followed by the lowest seats. The remainder of the auditorium will be thrown open to the general admission ticket holders.

The armory will have a seating capacity of 3,500 and judging from the demand for tickets the last few days the big building will be taxed to its capacity.

Events of Interest

Mrs. Charles D. Brewer, 2622 East Superior street, entertained informally at a neighborhood party yesterday afternoon. Bridge was played at four tables.

Mrs. George Brown, 1603 East Second street, will entertain the Culver corps, No. 65, W. R. C. Thimble club, at a picnic picnic lunch will be served.

The Commercial club will entertain Friday evening in the club rooms at a request dinner dance. A table d'hôte dinner will be served at 7 o'clock to be followed by dancing. The time and place of the committee are: Mrs. E. L. Tuohy, Mrs. E. L. Cheyney, Mrs. E. Jacob and Mrs. A. J. Frey.

Mrs. C. L. Lewis, who will leave soon to join her husband in Los Angeles and who will spend the rest of the winter in California, will be the honor guest at a luncheon of twenty given today by the women of the United States church in the church parlors. Mrs. Mae Harg will give some original stories during the afternoon.

Most Popular Tenor

on Concert Stage
John McCormack, who is coming to Duluth on Feb. 8, is the most popular tenor in the world. His music is easily seen by the capacity audiences which he draws wherever he appears. He has won his way to the appreciation of his voice, combined with the wholeheartedness and sincerity with which he sings.

At his next meeting the class will take up Spanish drama and study "The Grandfather" by Garcia Lorca. Miss Cohen as leader. The other readers will be Miss Horstenson, Miss Rosalind Bondy and Miss E. Pearl Preston.

Meeting at the Bethel.

The Women's meeting which will be held at the Bethel at 216 Beck street tomorrow afternoon will be a praise service. L. A. Marvin, who was announced as the speaker, will be unable to fill his engagement. All women are invited.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

The annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian association will take place in the assembly hall at 8 o'clock tonight. Seven members will be elected to the board of directors to hold office for three years. The general secretary will read a report of the year's work and Miss Myra Germond will read the annual financial statement.

Dr. J. D. Budd will give a Victrola grand opera recital at the association building at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Music lovers are cordially invited to hear the recital.

All the girls of the federation of extension clubs are invited to the meeting of the talks on etiquette. It will be on social affairs and will be of interest to every girl. Those who heard the talk given last Thursday night by Miss Edna Moser were most enthusiastic about it. After the talk there will be a gymnasium class under Miss Irene Anderson. The girls are especially asked to come tomorrow night to learn the plans for the federation entertainment to be given in jubilee month. Parts will be assigned and those who would like to help with this entertainment are invited to do so.

The L. W. B. A. club has had two teams in indoor basketball this winter under Miss Olga Hendricks and Miss Leunette Haubner as captains. In the contest for the place, first team Miss Hendricks' team won. Since then Miss Hendricks' team has beaten the other team twice. The third game will be tonight and the first team may be changed after tonight.

Ensign Week Election.

gole, secretary. The board of directors is composed of the officials in addition to the following: J. E. Sherman, A. H. Palmer and E. L. Pearce.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

Theater Gossip.

"The Battle Cry of Peace," at the Lyceum all of this week, is a photo play with a musical accompaniment. It was written and produced by J. H. MASON. The story, based on Hudson Maxium's novel, "The American Venus," is educational in its description of submarines, aeroplanes, torpedo boats and other implements of warfare. It compares America to other countries and shows the comparative size of our army and navy. Hudson Maxium appears, and by means of small models illustrates on the screen the news of the country.

A love theme accompanies Mr. Mason's instructive lecture.

Tonight for the last time "Inspiration" will be shown at the Lyceum. This photo play is proving to be a person delirious with the "inspiration" and has been a record-breaking attraction.

This story of the life of an artist's mother is featuring Miss Audrey Maxium, named the "American Venus." The story is shown with the proper musical setting.

Miss Maxium was the model chosen for the Pan-American exposition statue.

"Cross Currents," with Helen Ware, will have its last showing tonight and also Weber and Fields.

HELEN WARE and WEBER and FIELDS have set up a new CLOSING REX record for comedy in ENGAGEMENT. "The Worst of Friends."

The Rex William S. Hart in "Between Men." The story depicts the fight between men for the hand of a girl—a fight of money, brains and brute strength.

A big smoke stack 200 feet high was bought by the Keystone studio for use in the only troupe of trained vaudeville comedians and comedienne, the Heights and Daring Hearts, on tomorrow's Rex program. Little Betty Anderson delirious death and the "chokes" in the air when navigating such dizzy heights.

Today's performances will end the engagement of the present bill at the Lyceum. The new Grand CHANGE OF BILL is the new Grand NEW GRAND Troupe of acrobatic wire artists; the Jewel Comedy of misanthropic merry makers; Van and Hazen offering songs and pianolope; and Seabury and Price, soprano.

"The Prisoner at the Bar," a three-reel subject heads the photo plays, while Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in "By Right of His Might" hold up the comedy end. The fourth of the new Grand NEW GRAND Troupe of acrobatic wire artists; the Jewel Comedy of misanthropic merry makers; Van and Hazen offering songs and pianolope; and Seabury and Price, soprano.

Heading the photo plays is "The Arrogant," a two-reel subject. A number of other interesting film stories and the Hearst Sell News are included in the program.

STATISTICS PROVE VALUE OF LAYMEN'S MOVEMENT

In addition to a discussion of world movements and world problems, there will be presented to the Laymen's convention this week some statistical reports which will deal with the progress made in this convention area for the last ten years and reflect the benefits of the convention held six years ago.

The claim that interdenominational missions bring deeper interest and larger gifts for home causes is borne out by figures which have been prepared by the statistical committee in charge of John W. Walker. The first report will be presented at the convention showing the figures for each church will be printed and circulated.

Another large church in Duluth contributed $874 to missions and benevolences in America, and in 1914, $4,781. In the face of these increases for benevolent causes, the contributions in the same church for congregational expenses from $2,294 in 1914 to $3,863 in 1915.

Another church of moderate size increased its contributions to foreign missions from $216 in 1914 to $811 in 1915; to missions and benevolences in America from $306 to $1,268, and con-

OLD SETTLER STATE Y.M.C.A. NOW HAPPY AT FARIBAULT

Finds Tanlac After He Had Suffered Eleven Years.

Minneapolis Pioneer Says He Has Recovered His Health.

"We are never too old to learn, are we?" asked Edward Swearingen of 3899 Twenty-ninth avenue, Minneapolis, as he talked to the Tanlac man, yesterday, about the great benefits he had derived from the wonderful reconstructive tonic.

"I have lived in Minneapolis twenty-five years," he continued. "For the last eleven years I have suffered from catarrh of the stomach, kidney trouble and indigestion. I had sharp pains in the back. After eating I was bothered with belching and flatulency. When arising in the morning after a restless night by the way of the stomach, I would cough up mucus. It was mighty disagreeable. I tried many other medicines but not until I bought a bottle of Tanlac did I notice any relief."

"That was only a few days ago, but my stomach has been better, and the sharp pains in my back have disappeared. My appetite is good and I can eat anything I want without suffering any bad effects. You can't imagine how much improved I feel. I sleep better and in the morning I am no longer troubled with mucus in my throat. My catarrh has virtually disappeared and I feel much stronger than I have for years."

"I want to recommend Tanlac because it has done for me what other medicines have failed to do—restored my health. Since I have taken Tanlac and felt its beneficial effects I have been busy telling my friends about it."

"Catarrh of the stomach and kidneys is the most frequent cause of drapetis and Bright's disease," said the Tanlac man, "and catarrhal conditions in the throat often lead to deafness. Frequently the lungs become diseased by the extension of catarrhal inflammation by the way of the bronchial tubes to the lung substance. The condition is best alleviated by such symptoms as the constant coughing up of mucus, fullness of the head in the morning, chronic indigestion in the throat, dull throbbing headache, pains in the pit of the stomach, side or kidneys, no appetite, depression of spirits, nervousness and the constant contracting of coughs and colds."

UNIQUE SCOTTISH RITE CLASS WILL HOLD ANNUAL REUNION

Tomorrow evening the Millennial class of the Scottish Rite will hold its annual meeting at the Masonic temple and make arrangements for the second annual reunion of a series of life reunions to which the members of the class pledged themselves when initiated into the Lodge of Perfection two years ago.

At the meeting tomorrow, the members will select a class president and secretary, together with the reunion committee, which will arrange for the banquet to be held early next month. The present officers are: Calvin F. How, president; F. G. Hanson, secretary; and A. B. Kappin, chairman of the reunion committee, the other members of which are A. L. Kretzler and J. H. Franklin.

The class was organized at the suggestion of F. K. Coe, venerable master of the Lodge of Perfection, when its initiation brought the membership of the Scottish Rite past 1,000 mark. At the organization meeting the members pledged to hold these reunions annually, until but two members survive. The first banquet was held Feb. 12, 1914.

Last year but four members of the class of twenty-five were absent from the reunion, because they were out of the city, and this year the officers expect a complete attendance, the membership being increased to 25 known.

The members of Millennial class, the only organization of its kind in the Scottish Rite body, follow: J. Q. Adams, L. B. Lyden, H. Lykstad, J. T. Landquist, J. R. McKinley, J. C. McDougal, O. W. Olson, Fremar R. Randall, E. H. Stevenson and L. J. Wixcen.

SUNDAY WILL BE CHILD LABOR DAY

CHURCHES AND WOMEN'S CLUBS ACTIVE

Next Sunday will be Child Labor day in Duluth.

The Minnesota child labor committee, through Miss Victoria Ericson, state factory inspector for the department of women and children, is urging Duluth churches and women's clubs to observe this occasion and working for the enactment of laws favorable to the child.

The committee's effort is being made to secure the passage of the Keating-Owen bill to be voted on by the present national congress. The bill prohibits:

The employment of children under the age of 14 years in any one day, or more than six days in any one week, or before the hour of 7 a. m. or after the hour of 7 p. m. of any day.

The state committee says: "The provisions of this bill are humane and just, and are already incorporated in the laws of our state. It is fair to our own manufacturers that they should be forced to compete with men who profit by the flagrant abuse of child labor, with their attendant evils of long hours, low wages, illiteracy and ill health."

Will your church co-operate by observing Jan. 23, Child Labor day, in an appropriate manner, and by writing to the representatives of the United States senators, requesting them to vote for this bill?

You can also further help in this work by becoming a member of the state organization. Membership dues are $2 for organizations and $1 for individuals. We need your money and your co-operation.

The social and industrial committee of the Minnesota State Federation of Women's Clubs is co-operating with the Minnesota department of labor and

FORECASTER RICHARDSON CELEBRATES THIRTY YEARS OF WEATHER MAKING

Thirty years ago today, H. W. Richardson, weather forecaster at Duluth, started to learn the rudiments of temperature manipulation, and he celebrated the anniversary by prescribing for Duluth a break in the cold spell that has been holding the city in its grip for more than a week. Quietly, and with much gratitude, Duluthians in general will probably celebrate the dual event.

Mr. Richardson was a resident of Alliance, Okla., the late President McKinley's congressional district, and was appointed to the weather bureau, then the signal service, in Washington, where he passed through the first stages of "club" service. Later he served in places as he says, too numerous to mention, and has seen service assignments as assistant were in Pittsburgh, Pa.; Nashville, Tenn.; Buffalo, N. Y.; Kansas City, Cleveland, New York city and Columbus.

He was promoted from assistant at Columbus the weather forecaster at Parkersburg, W. Va., and later transferred back to his old station at Columbus, but as chief of the station.

From Columbus, Mr. Richardson was transferred to Duluth, coming here on Aug. 19, 1886, succeeding James Keith, who was transferred to Cleveland, where he remained until his death, about two years ago.

During his residence in Duluth, Mr. Richardson has become one of the best known men in the city, not only because of the conspicuousness of his "trade" but because of his personality.

The association has adopted a new constructive policy," said Mr. Bertrand yesterday. "It might be summarized by saying that the manufacturing interests of America are now seeking the co-operation of the government in building up American business at home and abroad, instead of a policy of opposition which has too frequently marked the government attitude in the past. The manufacturers have adopted the plan of laying their cards on the table."

The old policy of secrecy has gone. In its place is a policy of publicity. They freely state what they want and give their reasons.

"The national association has 5,000 members in the United States, each one a manufacturer. In Duluth we have five members, and expect many more. The association is represented in Washington, and at every state capital, and its purpose is to voice the opinion of manufacturers on every matter of legislation. This is not done by the old fashioned lobby, but openly and frankly. No attempt is made to influence legislation by the old fashioned lobby methods, but we aim to lay the case of the manufacturers before the lawmaking bodies and ask their co-operation."

"The association has taken no stand on the tariff, except to advocate a permanent tariff commission. It has done this for many years. Among our members are many conflicting interests when the tariff is discussed, and they believe the tariff commission is the only fair solution."

"Industrial preparedness is our aim. Preparedness for American industries is just as important as preparedness for the military defense of the country. Whether a man believes in militarism, or preparedness or pacifism, he can not question the need of industrial preparedness. This country must be prepared for the commercial struggle that will come after the war. To be prepared we must have the government standing behind American manufacturers."

DICKINSON YOUTHS ARE GIVEN ANOTHER CHANCE

Dickinson, N. D., Jan. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three local young men were arrested charged with using a brush and paint rather indiscriminately, doing considerable damage to property. Arraigned before the juvenile commissioner, they were paroled, and the two older members of the trio were compelled to bear the costs of the action. The parole stipulates that they must be at home by 8 o'clock every evening.

TAXES COME IN SLOWLY.

Ashland Treasurer Reports Collections Not Promptly Made.

Ashland, Wis., Jan. 19.—City Treasurer W. G. Nohl reports the tax money is coming in rather slowly. Out of the $200,000 or more to be collected only $7,500.00 has been paid up to date. Unless the city council extends the time again this year, as it did in 1915, the payment of taxes, the money must all be in by the latter part of this month. The city treasurer is given until March 22 to make his returns to the county treasurer.

The Ashland Water company paid the largest tax, $10,800, this year. The next four parties or local institutions that pay the highest taxes are: Ashland National bank, $5,130; Northern National bank, $5,265; Thomas Barlow property and income tax, about $3,000; L. K. Baker, property $124.20, income $3,827.83.

Help for Bronchial Trouble and Coughs.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has a wonderfully quick way of soothing and healing the raw, tickling surface of the throat and bronchial tubes. Will C. Richmond, Inglewood, California, says: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has greatly benefited me for bronchial trouble and cough." For coughs, colds, croup, la grippe and bronchial coughs, hoarseness, tickling throat, stuffy, wheezy breathing it acts with wonderful quickness and soothing effect. Sold everywhere.

She and Miss Ericson are endeavoring to have this brought before the voters and before the children of this city on Child Labor Sunday, Jan. 23, and for that reason have sent letters to many of the ministers of Duluth urging that the day be specially observed in the churches, either by a sermon or by a prayer offered in the Sunday school in behalf of the children who toil.

Association's Agent Here Preaching New Constructive Policy.

Manufacturers of the United States are seeking the co-operation of the government instead of its opposition, according to W. M. Bertrand of New York, the field secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers, who is in Duluth today.

"The association has adopted a new constructive policy," said Mr. Bertrand yesterday. "It might be summarized by saying that the manufacturing interests of America are now seeking the co-operation of the government in building up American business at home and abroad, instead of a policy of opposition which has too frequently marked the government attitude in the past. Whether a man believes in militarism, or preparedness or pacifism, he can not question the need of industrial preparedness. This country must be prepared for the commercial struggle that will come after the war. To be prepared we must have the government standing behind American manufacturers."

DICKINSON YOUTHS ARE GIVEN ANOTHER CHANCE

Dickinson, N. D., Jan. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three local young men were arrested charged with using a brush and paint rather indiscriminately, doing considerable damage to property. Arraigned before the juvenile commissioner, they were paroled, and the two older members of the trio were compelled to bear the costs of the action. The parole stipulates that they must be at home by 8 o'clock every evening.

TAXES COME IN SLOWLY.

Ashland Treasurer Reports Collections Not Promptly Made.

Ashland, Wis., Jan. 19.—City Treasurer W. G. Nohl reports the tax money is coming in rather slowly. Out of the $200,000 or more to be collected only $7,500.00 has been paid up to date. Unless the city council extends the time again this year, as it did in 1915, the payment of taxes, the money must all be in by the latter part of this month. The city treasurer is given until March 22 to make his returns to the county treasurer.

The Ashland Water company paid the largest tax, $10,800, this year. The next four parties or local institutions that pay the highest taxes are: Ashland National bank, $5,130; Northern National bank, $5,265; Thomas Barlow property and income tax, about $3,000; L. K. Baker, property $124.20, income $3,827.83.

COMMISSIONER WOULD PROHIBIT THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE IN "DRUNKS"

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the public safety division, would have the Duluth Street Railway company establish a rule prohibiting drunken persons from boarding street cars going to and from Superior.

The safety head claims that a large number of the men arrested here on a charge of drunkenness, especially after midnight Saturday and during the early morning hours of Sunday, come to Duluth from Superior.

"I have noticed this condition ever since taking office last April," said Commissioner Silberstein this morning. "To be fair to Superior, I would prohibit drunken men from boarding cars bound for the other side of the bay. Conditions in Duluth are much improved at the present time, judging from my own observations about the city, and from reports I receive in my office through the police department. There are very few, if any, drunken men on the streets, while gambling and pig-picking are practically wiped out. Disorderly houses have disappeared rapidly and if the law is being violated, it is done so rarely and certainly not by persons living in the neighborhood are unable to detect anything."

Commissioner Silberstein said this morning that he will suggest his plan to the street car company officials in the near future, to learn their sentiment on such a proposition.

The company's rules instruct conductors to turn intoxicated passengers, who become disorderly, over to the police on the first opportunity. This applies to the local lines as well as the Duluth-Superior line.

EQUITY EXCHANGE DECLARES DIVIDEND
Fargo, N. D., Jan. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the annual meeting of the Equity Co-operative exchange here today an accumulative dividend dating back to 1911 of 8 per cent was declared and checks will be issued to stockholders on Feb. 1. While amounting to only $8,600 the dividend shows the Equity concern is making money. This is also shown in the report of President M. Anderson read this morning showing a profit of $53,000 for five months ending Dec. 31, last. Out of this will be paid a debt of $35,000 and with about $8,600 had accounts.

Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, addressed the Equity members. Judge J. W. Willis and J. Enright of St. Paul, representing the Commercial club of that city also spoke at the meeting.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG
It's Easy — If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—simply—A bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.
Dr. Edwards, a well known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.
Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective.
They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.
You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color, 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

WOULD DRIVE OUT KNOCKERS

Silberstein Answers Herald's Question for High School Students.

"If I were answering The Herald's problem question, 'What would you do for Duluth?' I would suggest that all the knockers of the city be driven out of the town and that those remaining unite to make it grow bigger and better," said Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division, in addressing the commercial class at the Central high school this morning.

Speaking on the theme, "How to Be Successful," the safety head told the members of the commercial class always to work in behalf of Duluth. Knocking the town, he told them, will never help, but will retard the city's growth. The advantages of a commercial course were outlined to the pupils, and he urged to set all their own out of their studies.

"It depends on yourselves whether you will be successful or not," he said. "Duluth's growth has been retarded in the past by scores of idlers, who have constantly knocked the city. Every move suggesting growth and expansion has been opposed by selfish citizens and the result is that Duluth's population is far behind what it should be at this time. If I had the power, I would drive these knockers out of the city and then unite those left into one solid force working for the city's constant growth."

WILL ASK FEDERAL BUILDING SOON

If the public affairs committee of the Commercial club adopts the report of its municipal committee at the meeting tonight, it will urge congress to make an appropriation for the early erection of a new federal building in Duluth, on the property purchased some years ago by the government for that purpose, between Fifth and Sixth avenues west on First street.

Before the opening of congress last month, The Herald began an editorial campaign, urging that Congressman Miller be requested by every organization in the city to seek such an appropriation. The result is that many organizations have taken the desired action. The matter came up at the last meeting of the public affairs committee and was referred to the municipal committee.

This noon, that committee met to prepare reports for the meeting of the public affairs committee of the province. The federal building project is one of the matters dealt with, and the committee's report will be submitted to the public affairs committee line up with other organizations in impressing Congressman Miller and the rest of the national legislative body with the necessity of having such an improvement made without delay.

STAYED TEN ROUNDS WITH SAM McVEY

Once upon a time Walter Griffith, a negro porter in a Duluth saloon, was a fighter, and he claims to have stayed ten rounds with "Sam" McVey, famous colored boxer.

"And rather stay twenty rounds than to have another battle with any Duluth cop," Walter said this morning, while he tried to find friends who would help him pay a fine of $105 which Judge Smallwood had assessed him.

If he doesn't find the friends, Griffith is due to spend the next four months in the county jail, so he is looking anxiously.

Anna Bass, also colored, Jan. 18. He knocked the girl down and took $4 from her, according to officers, who then he tried to get away.

Patrolmen Duff and Griffith drew a long, ugly knife. Then he started to run, brandishing the knife. He was later one policeman had a scissor hold on his body, and the other had him by the neck on the arm and with the knife. Then Griffith says he was knocked out. He doesn't remember anything more about it.

The patrolmen remembered the language Griffith had used, however, and when Judge Smallwood heard it today, he sentenced the negro to pay a $25 fine or serve sixty days. A similar sentence was given him yesterday for assaulting the girl.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Indications are that the meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club tonight, will be very largely attended. While it is not settled that the matter of the franchise for the Western Terminal Railway company will come up, it is expected that it will be broached in some form, and as it is, in some respects, the leading commercial question of the city at the present, business men are desirous of hearing it discussed.

The resolution on plans is also due to come up. The Real Estate exchange will make an adverse report.

Dinner will be served at 6:15, the usual hour, and immediately following that the business meeting will take place.

Many affairs are due for discussion, which are of much importance to Duluth as a business center and it is expected that the traffic commission will have some matters of interest and importance to report upon.

The hearing in the matter of the Interstate Railway company's bridge at the steel plant will be reported on the Commercial club having been represented in Washington at the hearing by Secretary H. V. Eva.

During the noon hour today the municipal committee prepared a report to be presented tonight favoring action to urge the early construction of a new federal building.

CITY WILL LOSE BUT PART OF ASSESSMENT
The city will lose only $521.33 as a result of the district court cancelling part of the assessment for constructing the retaining walls in connection with the improvement of Seventh street, from Chester park to the boulevard, near Fourth avenue west, according to City Assessor Scott.

In an opinion handed down recently, the court held that $427.17 of the total assessment, $6,942.73 was excessive and that the proportionate shares should be returned to the applicants. As only a few of the property owners appealed, the remainder paying the assessments, the city's total loss will be but $521.33, Mr. Scott said this morning.

Had all the owners appealed the case, the city would have lost the entire amount, $4,271.37.

"WILL INSTALL," "WON'T INSTALL"

"The officers will be installed tonight" say officers of Duluth home-stead, No. 3131, Brotherhood of American Yeomen.

"The officers will not be installed tonight," said Axel Schmalfield, assistant deputy.

That is where the controversy stood at noon today. The meeting tonight may decide who will be right. H. F. Hanks, foreman elect, and the retiring foreman say that all arrangements have been made to hold the ceremony and that Mrs. Ada Garland, supreme of the order, has been secured to have charge. Mrs. Garland will be in the city this evening to install the officers.

We just got a telegram from the supreme office this morning stating that the installation will be held in regular form," said the foreman.

The meeting will take place at the Macabene hall, 21 North Lake avenue, 8:30 fine or serve sixty days.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS ATTEND MINNEAPOLIS MEETING
R. E. Dendfeld, superintendent of city schools, left last night for Minneapolis, where he will attend the convention of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education.

Mrs. T. J. Davis, chairman of the board of education, committee on schools, with Mrs. J. U. Sebenius and Mrs. C. E. Spring, representing the Duluth Women's council, also will attend the sessions. They left for the Twin Cities on a noon train today.

The weekly meeting of the board of education school committee was postponed until next Wednesday because of the trip.

Each Drink Cost $10.
Duluth sent a prohibition town, but at least three Two Harbors residents wish it was.

Alfred Olson, 28, Matt Elanson, 26, and Emil Hauck, 25, were en route to Two Harbors on the Duluth & Iron Range railroad last night, and they grew thirsty. Accordingly they were drawn to the wash room and had a "wee draw."

Special Officer Christensen caught them in the act and all three forfeited $10 bail for non-appearance in municipal court today.

The three have decided to climb aboard the wagon, if every drink costs them $10.

Lunatic Kills Himself.
Madison, Wis., Jan. 19.—Mrs. Julia Muller, 31 years old, an inmate of the state insane asylum at Mendota for three months, committed suicide by swallowing twelve bichloride of mercury tablets which she took from a medicine packet while the attending nurse was out of the room a few seconds.

Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water in it, pour through sieve and drink upon it, pour through sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

GIBBONS PUTS AHEARN AWAY IN FIRST ROUND

Phantom Crosses Right to Point of Jaw and John Bull's Boy Takes the Fatal Count—St. Paul Man Both Outboxed and Outfights the Highly Touted Briton.

BY BRUCE.

MIKE GIBBONS smiled pleasantly at those assembled. He then scraped his shifty feet in the resin, threw off his carnival robe and awaited the bell for the opening round. The bell rang. Gibbons, following an unusual custom in his own case, tore over at Ahearn. There was a clinch. Ahearn landed a tentative left that merely brushed Mike's face. Gibbons kept fighting and stepping in and out. Coming into a clinch Mike scored with right and in fighting got to Ahearn's face. There was some more sparring. Mike rubbed his nose with his glove. Ahearn worked over near a neutral corner. Ahearn led a left and before those in ringside seats realized it, the New York fighter was falling to the canvas floor, in much the same manner as you see moving picture soldiers fall. It was a right cross, shot across so fast that it flashed through space and landed fairly on the point of Ahearn's chin. One minute and 50 seconds of fighting sufficed to end a controversy as to the relative fitness of Gibbons and Ahearn.

At 10:20 Ahearn climbed through the ropes. The New York boy was accompanied by the loquacious Dan McKetrick and Fireman Jim Flynn. The round of applause that greeted John Bull's boy was drowned out from pit to gallery as Gibbons, tired in a gay carnival robe that had been presented to him by President Louis Hill of the Great Northern railroad, was beheld coming down the aisle to the ring.

To the student of the human countenance it seemed that Gibbons was the more confident of the two boxers. There was not the anxious look to Gibbons that characterized his appearance before the start of the McGorty fight. The Phantom was all smiles—seeming to be all confidence.

Ahearn, for that matter, seemed quite sure of himself, but there was, nevertheless, not quite the cocksure air about him that seemed to fairly radiate from Mike.

Weight Is Very Even.

Ahearn stripped and clambered on the scales, that had been lifted inside the ropes. The Eastern lad weighed 153 3/4 pounds. Gibbons then stepped on the scales and registered 155 1/2 pounds. Both men were well under the stipulated middleweight poundage.

Then the men posed for the pictures, were instructed by Referee Dan McGuigan, and went to their corners. The drone of subdued expectancy that comes before a battle, be it between vast armies or merely two modern gladiators, rose on all sides.

The going rang its shrill signal to hostilities and Gibbons and Ahearn stepped forth to settle the question of fist supremacy.

Gibbons seemed to have his man sized up; seemed to have mentally as well as physically gained the mastery. Ahearn did not try a hard punch. He reached Mike with several light lefts, and it appeared as if Gibbons did not try to avoid them. Once Mike shoved a left aside with his glove. The lefts that landed had no more effect on Gibbons than the fists of a child might have on the face of a hardened individual. All the time it seemed as if Gibbons was sure of himself, sure of winning and that this sureness was based on a definite and well determined line of battle.

There was little in fighting in the first clinch. The second time the men came together Gibbons brought a yell from his adherents by reaching Ahearn with a right to the head and then worked the loop the loop punch to the Briton's face.

Gibbons appeared as fast as lightning and was boxing in superb fashion. He was boxing Ahearn out, and yet seemed to have little fear of the Easterner's punching power.

Mike kept after Ahearn. Then suddenly Ahearn led with a light left and so quick that the movement was followed by comparatively few, Mike stepped in and crossed the beautiful right that has been swung in the last ten years. Those at the ringside could hardly follow the blow. How could Ahearn block it?

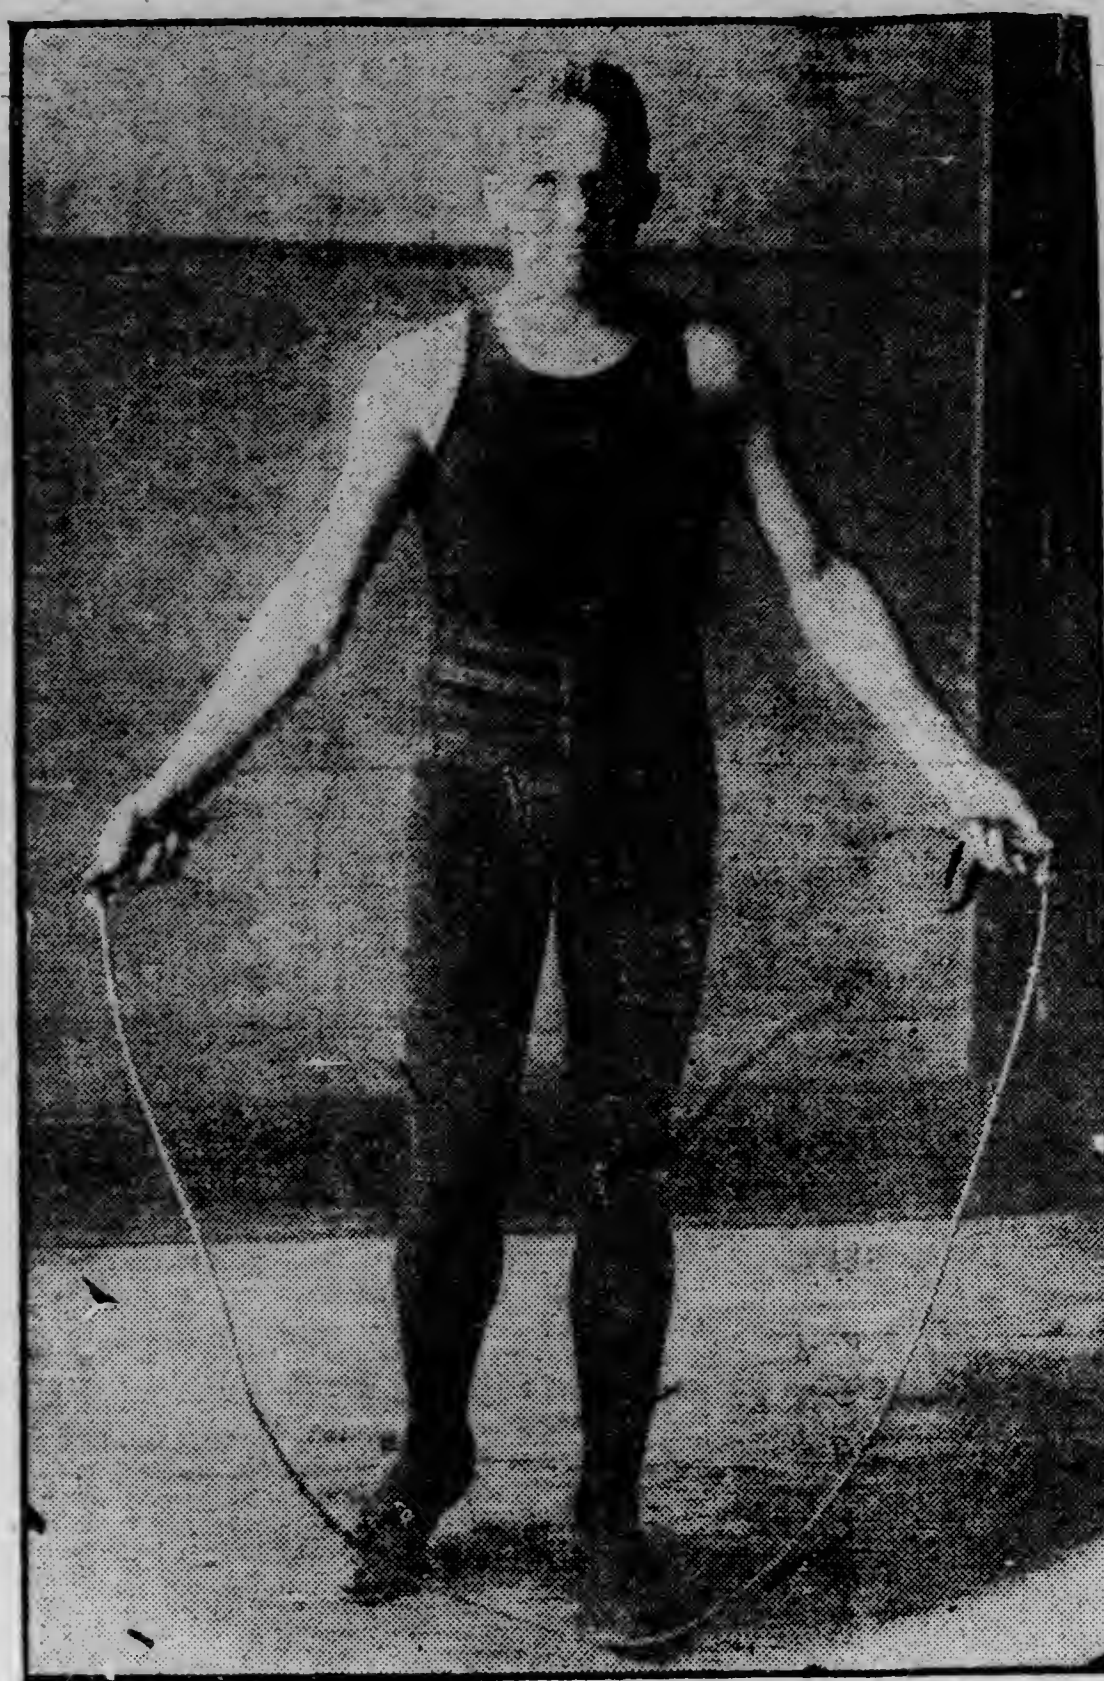

Right on the point of the jaw it landed. At the count of five Ahearn, flat on his back, made one desperate effort to rise. The best he could do was to raise his head six inches from the floor. Then he fell back limply, oblivious to all surroundings. At the count of ten Mike stooped down and picked his defeated adversary up. Ahearn was unconscious and limp, paralyzed from a blow that was shot over by a master of the ring.

The result of the fight disposes of the query as to whether Gibbons can hit. No one who witnessed the fight of last evening will ever doubt but that Mike Gibbons is one of the great hitters of the ring. Ahearn had slight opportunity to show anything. In the short shift of the fight he seemed bewildered by Gibbons. The Phantom was master of the situation and when the time landed, at the first opening, showed why he is held by ring critics to be one of the greatest fighters of all time.

The huge St. Paul auditorium was packed from ringside to galleries. Last night's house was by far the largest that ever witnessed a fight in Minnesota and one of the largest houses that ever turned out for a Western boxing contest.

Another little thing—if Mike Gibbons has gone back, the lapse was clearly not discernible to those present. Dan McKetrick had no alibi. He declared Ahearn was beaten fairly and that he was utterly unable to explain his quick knockout. It was great—great while it lasted.

PHANTOM IS SUPREME

MIKE GIBBONS.

SWIMMERS TO MEET AGAIN

Juniors and Freshmen Will Decide Team to Face Seniors.

Championship of Central High School Will Be Decided Friday.

The second annual meet of the Central high school swimming tournament will be held this afternoon in the "Y" pool. The ducks of the Junior and freshman classes will pit their skill against each other to decide which team will go into the final and championship meet next Friday afternoon against the crack senior team.

Last Monday afternoon the seniors won the first meet over the sophomores by a total score of 64 to 26. The fourth year men will therefore go into the championship event next Friday against the winner of the meet this afternoon. The swimming tournament at Central has been an annual affair for the last three years and some exceptionally good swimmers have been developed. Monday's meet was one of the best that has ever been held by the Central students and it is expected that the championship affair next Friday will bring out the classiest work that has ever been seen in the interclass tournaments.

The students of Central are growing more and more enthusiastic over the prospects of forming a representative school team. The stars of the interclass meets and the school team will dual meets with high schools of this part of the country will be arranged. It is expected that Central could hold her own against the very best of them.

WILL PLAY LAST GAMES

First Round of Intermediate League Schedule to Close.

The last games in the Intermediate basketball league will be played to night at the Y. M. C. A. The Marines will meet the Cubs, the Dormitory Blues will tackle the Laurels and the Peyton Papers will clash with the Business college five. These games will mark the completion of the first round of the league schedule. Some time this week the directors of the league will meet and reorganize the teams for a new schedule. The teams will be strengthened, the schedule improved and the league made better in several other ways.

The most important game scheduled for this evening is the affair between the Peyton and the collegians. The former unit is leading the league at present and although they are in no danger of being displaced, they will have a hard time defeating the crack Business college five this evening. The collegians have not been defeated during the league season but they have lost two games by forfeit and they have thus spoiled their chances of winning the title. The Peyton has a crack team that has won every game played this year.

HARVARD MAN TO TAKE JUNEAU'S JOB

Madison, Wis., Jan. 18.—Regent E. M. McMahon, head of the committee of regents, who has been investigating athletic affairs at the University of Wisconsin, announced this forenoon that the report of the investigating committee would probably not be presented to the regents until late today. Paul O. Whittington, Harvard's '99, will be offered the position, or head coach at Wisconsin, if the board of regents approves the recommendation of the athletic council.

REEDAL'S RINK OF PHILLIPS LEADING BONSPIEL FIELD

Brewer-Whytes and W. B. Dunlop Are Close Behind and Have Not as Yet Run Into Defeat—Hudson's Kenora Rink Is Beaten—Play in International Begun.

At the end of the second day of play in the Northwestern bonspiel, the crack Reedal rink of Phillips, Wis., has seven games to its credit in the march toward the grand aggregate, while W. B. Dunlop of Duluth and the Brewer-Whytes have won six games each and sustained no defeats.

Clough Gates was the first skip to take a game from the Kenora, Ont., rink skipped by Hudson. The Superior rink took the lone Canadian contender down in the Duluth Curling club event, putting the Ontario men out of the running for the grand aggregate prize for the time being.

Curling precedent is strongly against all three of these rinks going through all of today's draws without suffering a defeat. All of the contenders have been toppled over save these three undefeated rinks, and it is seldom that any bonspiel progresses through its third day of play with three rinks unscathed by defeat.

International Event On.

Play began in the international yesterday. Owing to the fact that there is but one Canadian rink entered, this event will be played precisely as the other events, and not in the usual form of opposing rinks representing the United States and Canada.

Billy Dunham was put out of the international by Heinbaugh of Superior, which was in the nature of a surprise. McNabb of Grand Rapids, who has made a rather indifferent showing, won his game, and Bradley came through with a win. The veteran John McLeod of Minneapolis met with a disastrous defeat at the hands of Anderson of New Duluth, which was another of the surprises.

Another unexpected defeat of yesterday was that of the J. D. MacGregor rink at the hands of Tom McGilvray. So far thespiel has been filled with upsets.

The bonspiel has progressed far enough to warrant the decision to play all remaining games on the downstairs ice. The skating rink floor will not be utilized from now on and thespiel will be finished up in good style by Saturday.

Play began in the international yesterday.

SAULT AND HOUGHTON TIED IN HOCKEY GAME

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 19.—(Special to The Herald).—In a game absolutely free from rough checking and marked by brilliant combination play by both forward lines, the Sault, American champions last year, last night tied with Houghton here, 1 to 1. The score stood at the end of the first half 1 to 0 in favor of Houghton, and at the end of the second half, 1 to 1. There was no score in ten minutes of overtime. Houghton played much better than in the games at St. Paul a week ago. Haug of Houghton referred.

Eligibility Questioned.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 19.—Eligibility of Guy Chamberlain, one of Nebraska's chief supporters on the 1915 football team, has been questioned on grounds that he was played three years, as Missouri Valley conference rules are interpreted. C. C. Clapp, chairman of the university athletic board, announced there would be a thorough investigation of Chamberlain's record. It asserted he played one year while a preparatory student, and two as a freshman.

Basketball Boxing

QUINTS PLAY FAST GAMES

Kellys and Fenton-Dubys Win in Brilliant Contests.

Second Set of Games in New Schedule Begun.

Standings in Commercial League.	Won.	Lost.	Per Cent.
Kellys	2	0	1.000
Big Duluths	1	1	.500
Fenton-Dubys	1	1	.500
Northerns	0	2	.000

Some of the best league basketball that has ever been seen at the local Y. M. C. A. was played last night in the Commercial league, both of the games being brilliant contests and the playing fast and clean. This was the second set of games in the new schedule, and as both the Kellys and the Big Duluths had won their first games, the meeting between these two quintes last night was looked upon with great interest. The hardware men put up a great contest and although hard pressed by the fast clothiers, they emerged the winners in one of the best games ever seen at the "Y" by the uncomfortable close score of 21 to 20.

Although the Northerns presented a tough opposition to the Fenton-Dubys, the sporting goods five finally won out by the score of 24 to 17. The game was hard fought all the way and was much closer than the score would indicate.

The playing in the Commercial league is improving all the time and the organization is turning out some crack players. The lineups and score of yesterday's games were as follows: Northerns, 17. Fenton-Dubys, 24. Olson, Fenton, Russell, Burnett, Smith, Beckner, E. Beckner, Back, Wisted, Big Duluths, 20. Kellys, 21. Halenbeck, Fenton, F. Bieglo, Rudnick, Dworshak, Nelson, Solberg, Oliver, Spornick.

GOLF BALLS MAY BE CHEAPER IN SPRING.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Golf balls will be considerably cheaper next spring, it was announced yesterday by a leading dealer. It was stated that an important patent will expire April 11 and five golf chasers will be given the benefit of the royalties saved. The new scale will range, according to estimate, from 25 to 75 cents per ball.

CLAIMS WORLD RECORD.

Aberdeen, S. D., Man Makes Remarkable Showing in Bowling Game.

Aberdeen, S. D., Jan. 18.—Roy Flagg of this city, lays claim to the world's record in bowling, making thirty-six consecutive strikes in a five-game match with Jake Stroth, on the Metropolitan, alyssa yesterday. Flagg finished his game with nine strikes, rolled two perfect scores and made three strikes at the beginning of the fourth game for a total for the three games of 870. His three-game average was 290, and his five-game average 291. The previous record was 868, made by William E. Roach, of Wilmington, Del.

Yankees Refuse to Trade.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 19.—Manager Stallings of the Boston Nationals announced today that it had not been found possible for his club to exchange training camps with the New York Americans. The Braves had arranged for spring quarters at Miami, Fla., but Stallings desired to return to his old camp at Naacoon in New York city, which selected the latter city, refused to make the change, Stallings said.

Army Turns Away Boxer.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 19.—Billy Weeks, a Canadian middleweight champion, was refused permission to enlist in the Canadian army recently because he belonged to the ranks of the married men.

The clever boxer is anxious and ready to take up arms for his country, but he has a wife and two children depending upon him for support and will

EXCELLENT YEAR FOR THE LAKE CARRIERS IS REPORT OF PRESIDENT

Bulk Freight in 1915 Exceeded That of 1914 By 16,256,272 Tons.

Every Month From August Record-Breaker, Says Livingstone.

Loss of Life 831, Including Eastland Disaster, Which Caused 812.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 20.—Despite a discouraging opening, the volume of bulk freight handled on the Great Lakes during the season of 1915 was 16,256,272 net tons greater than that of 1914, according to the report of William Livingstone, president of the Lake Carriers' association, which was submitted at the annual meeting of that organization here today. August, 1915, established itself as the first August in which the movement of ore exceeded $500,000 tons and from that time on every month of 1915 was a record breaker, the fleet moving a total of 27,593,501 tons after the first of August, said Mr. Livingstone.

The report showed that vessel losses during 1915 totaled eleven, of which eight were steamers, one barge, one schooner and one tug. Five cargoes were lost, four of the losses were responsible for four more losses, one vessel went down in collision, one stranded and one was crushed in the ice. Had it not been for the Eastland disaster, the number of lives lost would have been only nineteen. Including the Eastland disaster, 831 lives were lost.

MORE TROUBLES FOR FORD PEACE PARTY

Officials Disappointed By Refusal of Americans to Remain.

The Hague, Jan. 20, via London.—The Scandinavian members of the Ford peace expedition departed yesterday by special train through Germany for Copenhagen by permission of the German military authorities.

KING OF GREECE PROTESTS TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

Resents Action of Allies in Operations at Saloniki. Many Greeks Once in Favor of Entente Now Opposed.

Athens, Jan. 20.—The king of Greece summoned the Associated Press correspondents in Athens for the purpose of making a protest through the press of the United States, which he said was the only forum of public opinion open to him against the recent action of the allies in their operations at Saloniki. In blowing up the bridge at Durrës, in occupying Corfu and other islands which Greece claims.

RYNDAM ONCE MORE AFLOAT

Nature of Accident to Atlantic Liner Is Still Kept Secret.

No One Permitted to Approach or Leave the Steamer.

London, Jan. 20.—The Holland-American line steamship Ryndam which, after an accident resulting in the death of three stokers and the injury of four others, ran aground at Gravesend yesterday, was floated today. The vessel is anchored at Hovehaven.

The Ryndam left New York Jan. 6 for Rotterdam with 151 passengers and a crew of 200 men.

No One Permitted to Approach.

Gravesend, Jan. 20.—The Ryndam is beached on a muddy shoal about five miles below Gravesend. No one is permitted to approach the vessel. Even the ship's officers are not permitted to come ashore, except for the purpose of consulting officials of the steamship company. No life is permitted at night on the deck of the vessel. Apparently there is no prospect that the vessel will be refloated for several days.

The American consul said, after an investigation, that he was satisfied

COAST GUARD TAKES OFF REST OF CREW

Men Removed From Car Ferry With Tremendous Difficulty.

Ludington, Mich., Jan. 20.—Capt. E. E. Pugh and the Ludington coast guard yesterday completed the work of rescuing the crew of the car ferry Perre Marquette No. 19, which grounded Monday night during a storm near Big Point.

The removal of the twenty-four men, who had remained aboard the car ferry was accomplished with-out mishap in spite of tremendous difficulties. Ice high ten feet high lined the shore and after crossing this obstacle, the guardsmen had to battle against a heavy surf and a ten-mile current.

The Perre Marquette No. 19 offers a difficult problem for the workers. She has settled deep in the sand and operations can proceed only under the most favorable weather conditions. Four powerful pumps already have arrived at Ludington.

NO SOLDIERS INJURED IN DOYLES WELLS FIGHT

Washington, Jan. 20.—Maj. Gen. Funston reported today that in the fight between a detachment of United States cavalrymen and Mexican bandits near Doyle's Wells, N. M., Tuesday, none of the soldiers was injured, although they were fired upon by Mexicans and one of their horses was killed.

Senator Smith reviewed the whole history of interference with trade and commerce in the United States while attempting to destroy Germany commercially. He declared that the rights of citizens of the United States and other neutral nations were being recklessly disregarded and emphasized particularly what he denounced as Great Britain's lawless treatment of America's cotton trade.

Discussing the action of the allies in proclaiming cotton as contraband, the senator asserted that cotton had not been used or needed by Germany or her allies in the manufacture of war munitions for more than eight months. He quoted from a statement prepared for him by Howard W. Bible, now in Washington after a trip to Germany, who reported that he had learned through personal investigation that Germany had developed a process for using wood pulp as a cheaper and more effective substitute for cotton in the manufacture of explosives.

APPALLING MAGNITUDE OF DEBTS OF NATIONS AT WAR SHOWN BY VAN HISE

President of Wisconsin University Presents Some Startling Figures.

Call for Three Alternatives, Excessive Taxation, Repudiation or Both.

National Obligations Far Surpass Any Ever Before Known.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—European war debts call for three alternatives, excessive taxation, repudiation or a combination of these two, according to Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin, who discussed "The National Debts of the United Kingdom, Germany and France, and Their Economic Significance" before the National Association of Credit Men here today.

"I am not ascertaining which of these three things will happen," he added. "I am only pointing out the alternatives which are before the nations which have assumed these gigantic burdens."

"Vast industrial changes have occurred during the war under which the governments have assumed far-reaching functions which, in advance of the war, would have been called highly Socialistic. Regulation in Germany extends not only to the control of prices for almost every essential article, but in regard to the distribution of food. To a less extent the same principles

WILL DEMONSTRATE PREPAREDNESS NEED

First Congress of National Security League Meets in Washington.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Hundreds of advocates of national preparedness were gathered here today for the opening of a three days' session of the first congress of the National Security League.

"Among the delegates are men high in official and commercial life, and representatives of patriotic societies and of the leading universities. An announcement by officials of the league today said that speakers would discuss the problem of national defense in order to demonstrate the need of military preparedness to increase public knowledge of the problems involved and to encourage the enactment of adequate defense legislation."

TAKES SLAP AT ENGLAND

Canadian Member of Parliament Speaks of Blunders of the War.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 20.—"If England had not flirted with Germany prior to the formal declaration of war, but had taken a firmer stand with regard to the security of Belgium, and not led Germany at the outset to doubt she would support the Entente agreement," Senator Choquette of Quebec declared in the upper house of parliament, "there would have been no war so far as England and her colonies were concerned."

He opposed the sending of more Canadian troops to the front, adding that if it were true, as Senator Lougheed had said, that there was danger of an invasion of Canada, it would seem the part of wisdom to keep Canadian soldiers at home for defense.

Sensor Choquette declared that even

AUSTRIA'S PEACE TERMS REJECTED BY GOVERNMENT

King Nicholas Sends Note to Italy Officially Announcing Decision and Begins Attack.

Ruler Remains With His Army and Directs Fighting All Along the Whole Front.

Rome, Jan. 20.—Fighting between Austrian and Montenegrin forces has been resumed. Montenegro notified Italy officially of this fact today.

Montenegro's decision was communicated to the Italian foreign office from the Montenegrin premier. The note is to the effect that King Nicholas and the Montenegrin government have rejected all terms offered by Austria and that fighting already has been resumed along the whole front.

King Nicholas remains with his army to organize the defenses of the country.

KING TO REMAIN AT FRONT.

London, Jan. 20.—Sir John Roper Parkinson, consul for Montenegro, today gave official confirmation of the report that King Nicholas of Montenegro and his sons would remain at the head of their troops, determined to fight to the last. Queen Milena, with two of her daughters, the dispatch adds, have reached Italy on their way to France.

BRITISH RELIEF ARMY FAST APPROACHING KUT-EL-AMARA

Gen. Aylmer's Forces Now Within Seven Miles of City.

House of Commons Informed of Mesopotamia Situation.

London, Jan. 20.—Gen. Aylmer's force of British troops was yesterday in close touch with the Turkish position at Esnin and consequently was seven miles from Kut-el-Amara in Mesopotamia, where a British force has been surrounded by the Turks.

Gen. Townshend, commanding the British troops at Kut-el-Amara, reports there has been no fighting at that place.

This information regarding the Mesopotamia theater of war was communicated to the house of commons today by J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India.

Mr. Chamberlain also announced that Lieut. Gen. Sir Percy Lake yesterday took over the supreme command of the Mesopotamia expedition from Gen. Sir John Eccles Nixon, who has been invalided home.

DERBY RECRUITS CALLED TO COLORS

Groups 2, 3, 4 and 5 Are Ordered to Report for Service Immediately.

London, Jan. 20.—Groups 2, 3, 4 and 5 of recruits enlisted under the early Derby plan, were formally called to the colors today, in accordance with the proclamation of Dec. 13. These groups, the first Derby recruits to be called out, composed of unmarried men from 19 to 22 years of age.

To prevent congestion at the recruiting offices, and to cause the smallest possible inconvenience to the men, only the first drafts will actually begin training at once. The others will be summoned on succeeding days.

The men have been warned to report immediately, the recruiting committee having stated that anyone summoned and not appearing will be treated as a deserter.

The number of men in the first four groups, after subtracting exemptions and postponements of service, is estimated roughly at 100,000.

TO PLACE BIG GUNS AT COAST CITIES

Gen. Weaver Tells Plans of the War Department.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Two "emergency situations" as to coast defense—one at New York and another at San Francisco—where enemy battleships with long-range guns could bombard portions of the two cities without danger from the present land works, were described to the house military committee today by Brig. Gen. Weaver, coast artillery chief.

He said the war department's plans contemplated placing 16-inch guns at those ports and that forty surplus 12-inch guns, being remodeled to give them better range, would be placed in various forts.

One of two such weapons, he said, would be enough for any fort, and more than offset long-range guns afloat, since the accuracy of fire of the gun ashore was eight times as great as that afloat.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

London received word today of excellent progress by the British forces advancing up the Tigris to the relief of Kut-el-Amara in Mesopotamia, where Gen. Townshend's army has been beleaguered since a short time after its retreat from the vicinity of Bagdad.

There has been a revival of infantry activity on the western battle front, although evidently on no extensive scale. Berlin announced today that the German lines north of Verdun had been attacked by the British last night along a front of several hundred yards of German trenches. Bulwaria, making several strong attacks which, however, were repulsed.

Today's official statements contain nothing bearing on the battle reported raging on the eastern front, the German statement mentioning only outposts skirmishes and artillery duels. Latest reports from Vienna were that the Russians had renewed their offensive of Czernowitz. Bulwaria, making several strong attacks which, however, were repulsed.

Great Britain formally called to the colors today four groups of recruits enlisted under the early of Derby's plan, the first of these recruits to be summoned. They are estimated to comprise about 100,000 unmarried men from 19 to 22 years of age.

Definite announcement that hostilities between Montenegro and Austria have been resumed, came from Rome today. A note presented to the Italian foreign office by the Montenegrin premier, declared that Montenegro had rejected the terms offered by Austria and that hostilities had been resumed along the whole front. King Nicholas remaining with his army to organize his country's defense.

Greece again is a point of signal interest on the war map, although her territory has not been the scene of hostilities.

King Constantine on Jan. 13 gave the Associated Press correspondent at Athens an interview in which he voiced strong protest against the attitude of the Entente powers toward his country. This interview did not reach this country until today, and in the interim an unnamed high French authority prepared and gave out a reply to the accusations of the king.

There has been a paucity of direct news from Greece during the past few days, but numerous reports from German sources tell of further aggressive action by the Entente allies toward King Constantine's government.

MODERN WORK OF MISSIONS

Christianizing America One of Important Problems for Laymen.

All Denominations Will Confer and Draw Up Annual Policy.

The work of the modern missionary, especially in Christianizing America, was the theme at the forenoon session of the Laymen's Missionary convention now in session at the First M. E. church.

New Mission Fields.—The topic of J. E. Crowther, one of the chief speakers, and he urged laymen to enter new fields as well as the old, and take advantage of the present tide now turning in favor of Christianity in heathen lands.

James P. McNaughton, former missionary in Turkey, who was expected to give one of the best addresses of the convention, has been unable to get to Duluth so far, but is expected today.

Mr. McNaughton is said to be one of the few men now in America who has a comprehensive knowledge of conditions in Turkey, where Christians are said to be in dire peril.

The importance of "Making America Christian" was emphasized by J. O. Randall.

Tonight the theme will be "Waiting Harvest Fields," and an exceedingly interesting program is promised.

Dr. Johnson, the millionaire preacher, will give an address and there will be motion pictures, and the noted singing evangelist, Ernest W. Nafziger, will lead the singing and give solo numbers. Following is the program:

Thursday Night.—The Redeption of Jim, motion picture; "The Men of the Church," "America Keep Christ," Herbert S. Johnson; "The United States as a Missionary Opportunity," Charles E. Burton; "Christ and Modern Social Conditions," J. N. Kildahl.

Friday Morning.—Theme, "Putting the Church on a War Footing"; "Enlisting and Training," Morris W. Chubb; "The Sinews of War," J. B. Trimble; "The Test of Discipleship," Hugh L. Burleson.

Friday Afternoon.—Theme, "Efficient Leadership"; "Organizing for Victory," F. M. Michel and Fred B. Fisher; "The Men at the Front," Herbert S. Johnson.

Denominational Conferences.—The denominational conferences of all the churches represented will be one of the most important features of the Duluth meetings. At this time a policy for each church will be drawn up and will be adhered to for the remainder of the year. The conferences will begin tomorrow at 10 a. m. and continue until 8 p. m. The theme will be "The Specific Task of Each Church."

One of the outstanding features of the laymen's movement is that it is carried on by virtually all the Protestant churches and that each church has its own policy, yet all are working in perfect harmony. Following is the conference program:

Methodist.—First M. E. church, Third avenue west and Third street, in charge of Bishop W. A. Quayle, J. B. Trimble and J. O. Randall.

Presbyterian.—First Presbyterian church, Third avenue east and Second street, in charge of A. R. Kepler and S. Hall Young.

Congregational.—Y. M. C. A., in charge of Cornelius H. Patton, Charles E. Burton and James I. McNaughton.

Baptist.—Y. M. C. A., in charge of Herbert S. Johnson.

Episcopal.—First M. E. church, in charge of H. L. Burleson.

Lutheran.—First M. E. church, in charge of J. N. Kildahl.

Swedish Mission.—First M. E. church, with Methodist denomination.

Wife Seeks Divorce.—Alleging desertion, Georgia Rivard, 27, yesterday afternoon filed suit for divorce against George Rivard, 30, whom she married Sept. 11, 1905, at Munising, Mich. He abandoned her Dec. 28, 1910, she says. Judge Essler signed an order limiting the time in which Rivard may answer to thirty days.

Case Is Continued.—Selection of a jury to try Augusto Guzzo, indicted for first degree assault on Paul Samus on Nov. 27, last, was not resumed this morning owing to the fact that Walter F. Dacey, attorney for the defense, was indisposed and not able to be in court. Six of the jurymen were secured yesterday afternoon and if Attorney Dacey is able to resume court duty this afternoon, it is probable that the others may also be impaneled.

Picture Sale.—Engels' Art store's annual picture sale is now going on. First Ave. west.

Brotherhood Supper.—The Brotherhood of Pilgrim Congregational church will hold supper at the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening at 6:15 o'clock. It will be part of the denominational rally of the Laymen's Missionary movement.

Will Confer With Stockholders.—Edward C. Liedel, who has played a prominent part in the organization of the Western Terminal Railway company, which is now seeking a franchise from the city, left this afternoon for the East to meet several of the stockholders of the company. Mr. Liedel will return in ten days.

Sponser Is Prosperous.—George E. Erickson, editor of the News of Spooner, Minn., was in the city today on his way to Sauk Center, where he will attend the midwinter meeting of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association, which will be held there tomorrow and Saturday. Mr. Erickson says that Spooner is one of the busiest places in the northern part of the state, for the mills are running full time, turning out everything in lumber supplies except ties, for which there is no demand owing to the difficulty of railroads in getting steel rails.

Temple Services.—Dr. Maurice Lefkowitz will preach on "The Better Self" at the regular weekly services at Temple Emanuel, Seventh avenue east and Second street, at 8 o'clock. The sermon is taken from Jerome's play, "The Passing of Third Floor Back," in which Forbes-Robertson appeared here last week. The services will begin at 8 o'clock.

Rotary Club Meeting.—Sixty-four members listened to William Yale tell how to make money in the laundry business at their regular monthly luncheon of the Rotary club held at the Spaulding at noon today. The address by Mr. Yale was the principal entertainment feature.

Wanted In Superior.—Ben R. Johnson, 23, said to be a former bell boy in Superior hotel, was arrested last night on Superior street by Patrolman Westerlund. He was identified by a description which

FLOWERS STILL THINKING IT OVER

Going to File But He Doesn't Know What For.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 20.—Although three well-known Minnesota Republicans have filed for the nomination of lieutenant governor, Republican leaders at the state capital were of the opinion today that the lists are not yet closed. It was said that Speaker H. H. Flowers of the last house of representatives was considering a filing at the job.

Speaker Flowers was in St. Paul yesterday conferring with friends. He admitted that he would again run for a state office, but he was undecided whether it would be the legislature or the head of one of the executive departments. He did not know, he said, whether it would include the lieutenantship.

APPOINTS COMMITTEE ON TERMINAL FRANCHISE

Henry Nolte, chairman of the public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club, today appointed the committee of five decided upon at last evening's meeting of the committee to investigate and make a special report on the matter of the proposed terminal franchise of the Western Terminal Railway company.

It was prescribed at the meeting that the committee should consist of five members who have not served on the traffic committee or the city planning committee, and that the chairman of the public affairs committee should be chairman of the special committee. It was ordered that the special committee should report at a special meeting of the public affairs committee to be called as soon as its report is ready. The committee named today is as follows:

Henry Nolte, chairman; W. B. Getchall, A. Miller McDougall, T. T. Hudson and S. H. Jones.

WILL RESUME WORK AS SOON AS WEATHER PERMITS

CITY FINANCES IN GOOD SHAPE

Bonded Debt Will Be Reduced Further This Year.

The city's financial condition is the best in years, according to Commissioner Voss, head of the finance division.

During 1915 the city's bonded debt was reduced to $3,970,000, while the deficit of $103,000 in the permanent improvement fund has been brought down to approximately $70,000. Within the next three years the council expects to wipe out this deficit, which was caused by the adoption of a special amendment in 1906, making the city pay for storm sewers and interconnections. Because the budget for that year contained no provision for these assessments, the old board of public works went beyond its means, causing a deficit of $103,000.

"The city's finances are in fine shape," said Finance Commissioner Voss this morning, "and during this year we expect to reduce the bonded debt at least $150,000, including the $55,000 water and light certificates held by the Modern Samaritans."

HANNA & CO. BUY FIVE STEEL BULK STEAMERS

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 20.—The Frontier Steamship company and the Niagara Transit company have closed deals for the sale to M. A. Hanna & Co. of Cleveland of five steel freight steamers for $2,020,000.

The boats are the Charles Weston, James Corrigan, Josiah C. Munro, Daniel B. Meacham and William A. Rogers.

CASWELL IS SYSTEMATIC

Adopts Plan to Reach 30,000 Voters Direct—Big Expense.

Hopes to Capture the Country Vote for Cummins.

That one of the most systematic campaigns ever conducted in Minnesota is being pursued in the interests of Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa for the Republican national convention, is shown by the plan started yesterday by I. A. Caswell, Minnesota manager for the Iowa candidate for president.

Besides the printed statement sent out, telling the record of Senator Cummins, and what he purposes to do if made president, Mr. Caswell sent out petitions for nomination signatures to each person addressed.

And it may be added that these petitions, which are held on the outside of the three large cities of the state.

That will mean, at the outset, $1,200 expense for stamps alone, to say nothing of the expense for printed matter.

Sent to All Officers.—The list of those to whom the matter was sent includes all township officers in all the country towns, and village officers and city officers in the smaller cities. These people, Mr. Caswell has figured out, will be on hand at the township elections, which are held on the same day as the primary, March 14, and Mr. Caswell expects to beat out other candidates to this influential class. In a letter to The Herald, he says:

"Mr. Cummins will be strong with the farmers, anyhow, and this will give us a good working organization with them. Say 25 per cent of them will reply and will get a half dozen signatures, this will add to our list. The petitions the country people will receive will not be acknowledged, because that would be too much trouble. But besides, we shall mail petitions with blank acknowledgments to all the county officers and all the country newspaper men of the state. You see we will have to file only one petition with 500 signatures acknowledged, with the secretary of state, and will retain the balance. We will have a large list of interested voters with whom we shall be able to communicate officially, and perhaps with more effect than any one else can, if they should be able to reach the same people—which is, of course, a practical impossibility.

"The plan may not be a very good one, but it is the best we can think of to let the people rule."

Judging Poultry.—The judging of poultry will begin tomorrow at the annual exhibit of the Douglas County Poultry Association. The poultry show is attracting a large number of visitors.

SHOPLIFTER DRAWS THREE MONTHS' TERM

Mary Selkama Is Given Maximum Sentence for Petty Larceny.

Mary Selkama, 30, believed by the police to be an experienced shoplifter, drew three months at the county jail in Judge Fessler's court, as punishment for the crime of helping herself to $18 worth of silk hose and waists from the Glass Block store on Jan. 3 last.

The woman was indicted on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, which carries with it a punishment not less than five years in the state prison. She expressed her willingness to plead guilty to a charge of petty larceny and the prosecution accepted the overtone.

When she came before the court this morning, Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, urged Judge Fessler to give her the maximum sentence, as he believed that a term in jail would be better than a penitentiary sentence.

The woman was arrested two years ago for stealing a muff, but was acquitted.

SCROFULA AND ALL HUMORS GIVE WAY

There are many things learned from experience and observation that the older generation should impress upon the younger. Among them is the fact that scrofula and other humors, which produce eczema, boils, pimples and other eruptions, can be most successfully treated with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

This great medicine is a peculiar combination of remarkably effective blood-purifying and health-giving roots, barks and herbs, which are gathered especially for it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has stood the test of forty years. Get a bottle today—now—from your nearest drug store. Always keep it on hand.

FLIGHT OF SUGGESTIONS MARKS CLOSE OF CONTEST FOR DULUTH'S BEAUTIFUL

Opening Up Superior Street From Uptown to West End, Putting Interurban Tracks Under Bay, Better Lighting System Among Leading Suggestions; No More Letters Will Be Considered.

With a flood of suggestions for civic improvement and social betterment, The Herald's "What Would You Do For Duluth" prize competition came to an end this morning. The winners will be announced later, but no letters received after noon today will be considered.

"Open up Superior street from uptown to the west end," writes one contestant who sees much in store for Duluth if this were to be done. "Action comes the suggestion that all railroad tracks from Superior be put on the new Superior street. He wants a boulevard from the city to the new Cooke state park in Carlton.

Other suggestions include a variety of ideas. Among them are a group of buildings on the north shore of Lake Superior consisting of a summer hotel, rooming house, and an art museum. Another suggests the city install a better lighting system along Superior street instead of depending upon electric signs in the shop windows.

"Wants Warm Weather," Allen Kossett, aged 7, who is attending the Kenwood school, adds his mite to the collection. Here is the way he expresses himself: "I would have a street car to Kenwood Park so that Grampa and I and Brother Howard can go to town. 'I would have nice weather so that I would be warm in school. 'I would have a store like the grocery store here (Kenwood Park Grocery)."

"Grouch" Would Change Charter. One Duluth citizen, who writes under the name "Grouch," who requests that his true name be withheld from publication, has some original suggestions for charter changes affecting the referendum. His letter follows:

"Had I the power to aid Duluth largely, I would amend its charter so that the city could not be put to the expense of a referendum vote on every proposition that might spring from some disappointed or disgruntled individual, who could secure signatures to his petition. I would have the city protected against abuse of the power of the referendum by some bond of reimbursement, should the petitioner lose in the election.

"Also, I would have a smoke ordinance that would work, or I would see that the one we have now is enforced. I would have a law of protection. Had I the power, I would dig a ship canal at some central point on Minnesota Point to serve both Duluth and Superior, and I would see to it that the two existing canals into the harbor. Then I would see to it that any boat line running into the harbor include a line along Minnesota and Wisconsin points covering the two cities.

"Criticism of Lighting System. Duluth's present lighting system is criticized by one contestant who writes as follows: "I would install the city with good lights instead of relying on the storekeepers. Duluth being the poorest lighted city in the state, I would install a public lighting system for the business district for workmen and men. "Third—I would rid the city of the employment shacks which would benefit the laborers of Duluth.

"BOB KATZMAURICE. "Get delivery." "To Lower Living Cost. Better roads into the rural communities are among the suggestions offered by another contestant, who writes as follows: "The letter follows: "If I had the power, the first three things I would do for Duluth would all tend toward one end—to cheapen the cost of living. "First—I would build good roads into the rural districts around us. "Second—I would see that the same roads so as to provide an open season for the settlers for twelve months in the year. "Third—I would create a fund for the purpose of making loans to those who are unable to obtain them from the necessary funds for clearing lands, erecting buildings, etc. "The more we encourage the development of agriculture, the more the farmer will be able to give way to productive soil. This will reduce the cost of living. "AMY LOUISE WALSH. "12 East Fifth street, Duluth."

"Better Markets Urged. Public markets to encourage settlers to bring their produce to Duluth is an idea which one Duluth booster believes should be emphasized. His offering is as follows: "If I had the power to do, or to persuade the people of Duluth to do three things for the common good, it would be as follows: "I would have Superior street from uptown to west end made as straight and level as labor and traffic can make it. I believe the effect of opening this great thoroughfare would be to unite the different sections of the city into a homogeneous whole with a common purpose, as nothing else would. "I would have the city take the initiative in getting the building of a group of buildings consisting of: "First—A summer hotel, where visitors may be entertained in a comfortable and pleasant manner. "Second—A rest-home for professional and business women. Duluth points with pride to her band of capable and intelligent women-workers; women who have helped in the upbuilding of the various city institutions, and I would recognize their services by placing a 'rest-home' at their disposal. This would Duluth be known far and wide, for her philanthropic spirit and loyalty toward her women workers. "Third—A hall of art should make the group complete, where beautiful pictures and sculpture could be enjoyed by rich and poor alike. "These three are my contribution to making Duluth unique among the great cities of the New world."

"FANNY L. COLE. "1005 East Superior street, Duluth, Minn."

"Tunnel Under Bay. Carlton is the hailing place of a man who thinks the all railroads entering Duluth from Wisconsin should come in through a tunnel under the bay. He writes as follows: "If I had the power I would do the following three things: First—I would have all railroad tracks from Duluth tunneled under the bay to Superior. This would improve the harbor. This suggestion also includes the aerial bridge. "Second—I would build a boulevard from Duluth to Jay Cooke state park with ample room for street railway. "Third—I would have a powerful searchlight on top of the hill. This would give good protection to vessels entering the harbor at night. "EMIL NEWQUIST. "Carlton, Minn."

"To Cut Out Tolls. John Owens, well known range pioneer, who lives at Cooke, sends in these suggestions for the betterment of Duluth: "First—Make the Interstate toll bridge as free as Superior street to everybody except railroads and street cars. "Second—I would make it possible for every industrious man with a family to own his own home, if I had to go five miles north or east of the present city limits. I connect them with the city by first-class street car service. "Third—I would request the new terminal company to purchase an additional 1,000 acres to be sold to the railroad company for the same terms as they propose to give the manufacturers. I would safeguard the interests of the industrial class in every way possible. I believe by so doing Duluth's industries would rest on a rock foundation and manufacturing would flourish when conditions are right. I am an employer of armies of wage earners that build great cities and maintain them, and I connect them with the city by first-class street car service. "I am not a real estate dealer."

"Six Mates Are Advanced. Pittsburgh Steamship Company Announces Appointments of Masters. Includes: Captains of Hawgood Fleet and Ships Building.

Six mates were promoted to master of the small ships of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, according to announcement of appointments of captains and mates in the Pittsburgh fleet just made.

Two men retired and the third will take a barge this year. These vacancies with the addition of three new ships, will enable the company to handle a larger tonnage of cargo.

Capt. George A. Bell of the Black retired on a pension. Capt. George A. Bell, who has been in the service of the company since 1890, retired from the line, and Capt. George A. Bell, who has been in the service of the company since 1890, retired from the line, and Capt. George A. Bell, who has been in the service of the company since 1890, retired from the line.

The Doctor's Advice

By Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms of diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood streets, Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name, and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesale.

will be found in the use of plain yellow liniment. Thousands have used it with great success. "Too Large" writes: "I am much too large. I weigh nearly 185 pounds and would like to reduce about 40 pounds."

Answer: Five-grain arbolone tablets are the most reliable, harmless diet reducers have ever used in my practice. They have given satisfaction to scores of my patients. "Office" writes: "If I don't soon get something to make me strong, build me up and give me a new lease on life and ambition I'll not be able to continue my work. I'm overworked, feel weary, and my work and play are all gone. I'm nervous and have a kind of drawing pain at the base of my brain. I am restless and unrefreshed after a night's sleep."

Answer: Your condition appears to be due to overwork, worry, excesses, indigestion or some other such cause. You need a powerful, stimulating tonic and a tonic to make me strong. You will find just what you require in balmwort tablets. I always recommend them for diseased kidneys and they seldom fail to give excellent results.

"Rex" asks: "I cough constantly. How may I overcome this? Sometimes my throat and chest are sore and I have severe colds and hoarseness." Answer: The best thing I can prescribe as a cough medicine and to drive the inflammation out of the system, is a simple syrup made of 25 ozs. concentrated essence mentho-laxene and one pint of pure sugar syrup. This preparation taken regularly should break up a cough and cold and rid the system of inflammation. This is a most economical and effective cough and cold remedy for every member of the family.

"Friend" asks: "What can I take to clear my blood and make it pure? I am constipated and my complexion is bad." Answer: Your system requires a good blood purifier and laxative. I always recommend three-grain sulphur tablets (not pulp). These are laxative, aid digestion, and purify the tone of the blood. "Barber" asks: "Please tell me if there is anything I may use to rid the scalp of dandruff, stop falling hair, itching scalp and promote a natural gloss and color to the hair?"

Answer: The best hair tonic I know of and one I have recommended in my practice several years to stop dandruff, itching scalp and promote hair growth and active. "Crippled" writes: "I am all crippled up with rheumatic pains in my limbs and arms. I can scarcely get around some days. Please help me."

Answer: Your condition is bad but very common. The surest and safest treatment for rheumatism will be found in the following prescription: 4 drams of iodine of potassium, 4 drams of sodium ascorbate, 2 ozs. of cod liver oil, 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort and 5 ozs. of syrup of marshmallows. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again before going to bed.

TO LINK POSSESSIONS BY MEANS OF WIRELESS

Washington, Jan. 20.—One of the final steps toward linking the United States and its foreign possessions together by a great chain of wireless stations was taken yesterday when Secretary Daniels of the navy approved a contract with the Federal Telegraph company for San Francisco for the equipment of the big radio stations now under construction at San Diego, Cal., Cavite, P. I., and Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

Completion of these stations within the next year will pave the way for radio communication from Washington, not only to the island possessions, but to almost any point in the world where there may be receiving plants.

Temple Band Meeting. The annual meeting of the Temple band will be held at the Masonic temple on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and other business transacted. After the business meeting, there will be a rehearsal, at the conclusion of which lunch will be served by the members of the band in appreciation of the program given by them at the installation ceremonies of the White Shrine on Saturday evening last. T. Leonard is president of the organization and C. Arvid Johnson is secretary.

EDUCATORS TO MEET HERE

Superintendents From Eight Counties Will Attend Conference.

Educational Problems Will Be Discussed at Normal School.

County school superintendents from eight counties in Northeastern Minnesota are expected to attend a conference which has been called by the state department of education in Duluth next month. The meeting here will be held at the Normal school on Feb. 16 and will be one of a series of conferences planned by the department throughout the state. The counties to be represented at the Duluth conference are: St. Louis, Lake, Koochiching, Pine, Aitkin, Itasca, Carlton and Kanabec.

In an announcement to county superintendents received yesterday afternoon at the office of N. A. Young, superintendent of the Duluth county schools, C. O. Schulz, state superintendent, gives out the following program to be followed:

- Subjects for Discussion.
- (1) Supervision through county superintendents' office; (a) office records; 1. teachers; 2. pupils; 3. high school board; 4. equipment; 5. compulsory attendance law; (b) circular letters; 1. annual school work; 2. opening of schools; 3. institutes; 4. closing school records; 5. school officers meeting; 6. industrial work; 7. examinations; (c) graduation; 1. standards; (d) inspection reports; (e) state aid blanks.
  - (2) Assistants in supervision.
  - (3) Teachers' institutes.
  - (4) Training of pupils.
- These meetings, says Supt. Schulz, "are called in compliance with the request expressed by superintendents at the last Minnesota Educational association meeting. In fixing the time and place of meeting, the department had in mind not only central location and economy in travel, but also that district teachers' meetings are to be in session just following some of the conferences. Under the law the superintendent is privileged to charge his expenses to the county.
- "Each superintendent will come prepared to take part in the discussion and to present conditions as they exist in the home county, relating to the topics proposed. We wish these conferences to be an opportunity for definite and concrete expression by each superintendent, and to result in an agreement as to some definite action to be taken, especially in relation to rural schools."

KING OF GREECE MAKES PROTEST

he could afford to demolish while the fate of Saloniki is undecided and, while he did not think it probable that Germany could be victorious in the sense that she would conquer the Balkans or Petrograd, he believed that it would be very difficult, if not impossible, to conquer Germany in a military way. If economic exhaustion did not force her to sue for peace.

The interview, through the king was transmitted from Athens on Jan. 13, but was sent out from Paris only on Jan. 18 at 2:46 p. m. On Jan. 18, at an earlier hour, the highest French authority—whereas the part taken by the king was indicated—gave an interview to the Associated Press in reply to the statements made by the Greek king.

Any Parallel Denied.
This authority denies any parallel between the German invasion of Belgium and Luxembourg, and the temporary use of certain points in Greece, which does not constitute an occupation properly speaking, and which use was made for the most part by the treaty obligations which Greece did not fulfill. During the recent months, he added, the Greek government invited Germans and Austrians to violate its neutrality by using the Greek islands and coasts as a base for provisioning their submarines. The charge about the bridge at Demir-Hissar without foundation, the French authority said, and the question of the sympathies of the Greek people proved by their action at the recent elections and their attitude toward M. Venizelos, the friend of the allies.

The authority points out that, while the king declares he cannot demobilize, he forces to add that the allies, at the time at his request to advance money to Greece for the purchase of arms, the king's opinion regarding the result of the war, the authority says, it is pleasant that a sovereign who is so impressed by Germany's strength, should publicly admit that she cannot be the victorious, which shows how right terior; schooner City of Cheboygan, founded in Lake Ontario; tug Barnes, founded, Lake Ontario; steamer D. P. Armour, founded near Erie, Lake Erie; steamer A. P. Wright, burned, Portage entry, Lake Superior; steamer Harold, burned, Nanticoke, Ont.; steamer Majestic, burned, Sarnia, Ont. No lives were lost on the bulk freighters or passenger boats which wrecked. Four lives were claimed when the tug and tugger Junior hit the west breakwater in Cleveland on May 9 and sank. Five lives were lost on each vessel when the schooner City of Cheboygan and the tug F. G. Barnes, founded on Lake Ontario. One life was lost on the tug Sandusky, two on the tug Sandusky and the steamer Thomas Walters.

Important Issues.
"The most important issue confronting the association is the operation of the seamen's bill, which went into effect Nov. 4 last," said Mr. Livingston. "The first effect of the bill was to lower the standard of personnel because obviously, under its provisions, ships had to take on crew members who were not employed at all. The act, too, has met with considerable hostility from those in whose interest it was ostensibly framed."

"The bill has been modified in many respects insofar as it affects deep sea sailing, but such provisions as can be reasonably applied to the lake trade have undergone no modification. It is so confusing a measure that the practical thing would be to exempt the lakes from the provisions altogether and devise a new measure exclusively applicable to the lakes. There is no question but that this association is willing to meet the government more than half way on any reasonable proposition. The business of the lakes is months of the year, and provisions applicable to all-year service cannot be applied to it with success or justice."

Not as Profitable.
Notwithstanding the increase in the volume of bulk freight handled, the season, from an underwriter's standpoint, was not quite as profitable as 1914, owing to the fact that two total losses occurred according to the report. The coal movement during 1915 shows a decrease of 1,061,228 net tons from that of 1914. The grain movement, however, shows an increase of 1,040,000 net tons over that of 1914.

President Livingston announced that excellent progress was being made in the direction of the welfare plan committee. "The results of the plan for 1915 will be made known on a concrete basis," he said. "Comparing the year 1915 with that of 1914, the two years in which operating conditions were practically analogous, we find that the total number of accidents has been reduced over 50 per cent. More significant yet is the fact that accidents due to carelessness during these two years were reduced over 40 per cent."

Special attention was also paid in the report to sanitary conditions and educational work.

APPALLING MAGNITUDE OF DEBTS OF NATIONS

have been supplied in other belligerent nations.

Some May Become Permanent.
"To these radical measures the people will have become, in a certain measure, accustomed by the end of the war, and some of them may become permanent. On the other hand, if these measures are opposed to the best development of the human race, it may be that the galling bonds to which the people assented during the war will be resented after its close.

"The cannot be sure, but we may be sure that the social transformation following the war will be in the direction of the war itself and the unexampled burden of debt upon the people will be at a speed never before approached."

President Van Hise began by presenting estimates of the national debts of Great Britain, France and Germany before the war and at the end of 1915, giving the latter total as $18,415,000,000 for the United Kingdom, $1,775,000,000 for Germany, and $1,031,000,000 for France. He pointed out that these figures did not include the local debts of these nations which, at the beginning of the war, were about $3,335,000,000 for Great Britain, $3,555,000,000 for Germany and $1,775,000,000 for France. He also pointed out that additional loans are in prospect. He added:

Of Great Magnitude.
"The magnitude of these debts will be appreciated when it is recalled that the maximum debt of the United States at the end of the Civil war at that time the most colossal debt to which the nation had ever been subjected was $2,758,000,000, or about one-fourth the existing debts of the United Kingdom or France."

"The new loans are being negotiated on a basis of 5 per cent of interest, and the old loans are being rapidly converted to higher rates of interest. Therefore it is safe to say that the interest charge upon the debts of the three nations is approximately 6 per cent. Consequently the interest charges involve annual interest charges for the United Kingdom of $821,000,000, for Germany, $384,000,000, and for France, $526,000,000."

"Using the above figures, it appears that the debts of the three countries and the interest charges upon them are the following percentages of the wealth and incomes:

	Pct. of Wealth.	Pct. of Income.
United Kingdom	11.58	4.26
Germany	1.99	7.01
France	1.618	7.51

Increase in State Debts.

"In addition to the debts of the debt of the empire of Germany due to the war, there have been great increases in the indebtedness of the German states as Prussia, Saxony and Bavaria. With these added, the man debts would be more than comparable to those of the United Kingdom and France."

"It thus appears that the national debts form one-tenth to one-sixth of the national wealth and that the interest charges are appreciable portions of the entire incomes of the nations. The income of the day laborer will pay only a small proportion of the interest charge and it therefore follows that the income from capital must bear the brunt of the charges. It is safe to say that more than 10 per cent of the income from capital will be required to pay the interest of the national and state debts."

"In the United States there has been a great country regard to high taxes, and especially in regard to income tax. Suppose it were necessary to take 10 per cent of the income derived from your invested capital, simply to pay the interest on the national debt without taking into account the interest on municipal and other local debts and sinking funds and other ordinary debts, and then you would be obliged to pay in addition, taxes for running the expenses of the government, state, and local, you would then be in the situation in which the people of the United Kingdom, Germany and France, even if the war were now to end, and if it cost them one year or a year and a half, as it may possibly do, the above figures will be proportionally increased—certainly by half, and possibly by more than a half."

Boys' Health.
"The equity in the wealth of a nation due to its debt might not be regarded by those who believe in Socialism as a serious matter. If the certificates were equally distributed but while the governments have a mortgage upon more than 10 per cent of the wealth of the nation, the certificates are the favored minority who are fortunate enough to possess the bonds of the country."

"The result is that, relatively, at the end of the war, the rich are richer and the poor poorer. And the absolute physical wealth will be decreased because the money spent on munitions which are wholly destroyed, for guns which rapidly deteriorate, for fighting ships which are of no economic value, is money wasted. Not only have the war materials been destroyed but their consumption upon a colossal scale."

"Probably, however, the larger loss of European wealth has been due to the sale of American securities which have been absorbed by the country, and their replacement by certificates of their debt. The total loss is unknown; but their magnitude is to be measured in thousands of millions of dollars."

"For Russia, Austro-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria, the situation is very similar to that for the United Kingdom, Germany and France; and for some of the smaller nations, such as Belgium, Serbia, and Poland, the situation is immeasurably worse. They are in a war ruin as was never a nation in the past."

"The Federal reserve act took a prominent position among the subjects discussed today at the annual meeting of the National Association of Credit Men. The meeting will adjourn late this afternoon. Federal reserve subjects were discussed by H. Parker Willis, secretary of the Federal reserve board, and by Martin of the U. S. Federal reserve bank, C. W. Allendorfer of Kansas City, John J. McLaughlin of Chicago, C. H. Bosworth, Chicago Federal reserve bank, and H. H. McKee of Washington, D. C.

William K. Calhoun, Chicago, and Beverly D. Harris of New York also spoke.

HOKE SMITH ON ENGLAND

belled to obtain from the United States while the commercial rights of citizens of this country are trampled under foot," he asked the senator.

"Great Britain cannot continue the war without munitions from the United States, Great Britain cannot feed her population without foodstuffs from the United States and other neutrals. Great Britain cannot keep her million and a half people engaged in the Lancashire mills at work sixty days without cotton from the United States."

"The administration has forcefully brought to the attention of Great Britain the rights of citizens of this country. It has been demonstrated that citizens of neutral countries have the right to ship foodstuffs and cotton in unlimited quantities through the neutral ports of Northern Europe to the non-combatant inhabitants of Germany and Austria."

"The lawlessness of Great Britain has increased greatly during the past twelve months. Each day brings new evidence of disregard for neutral rights."

"By firmness, but peacefully, neutrals can easily obtain their rights from the belligerents."

Referring to a statement made by Sir R. Phinlay, of the British parliament in 1911, that no country, however powerful, would incur the displeasure and possibly the ruin of a powerful ally as the United States by putting forward an unfounded claim to treat food brought to Great Britain as contraband of war, Senator Smith added:

Changed Now.
"I wonder what he thinks of the United States now when we submit not only to the seizure of vessels destined to German ports, carrying foodstuffs, but to the seizure of vessels destined to neutral ports, and permit Great Britain, disregarding rules of international law by order from the privy council, to confiscate cargoes of foodstuffs belonging to citizens of the United States, with no proof whatever that they were intended for military or naval forces of Germany."

"Germany and Austria have a population of over 110,000,000 people. It is estimated that perhaps 10 per cent of these are under arms. Certainly over 90,000,000 in these two countries are non-combatants. By every rule of international law, citizens of the United States have the right to ship to these non-combatants for their use, through the neutral ports of Northern Europe, all the foodstuffs they wish to buy. The same is equally true of raw cotton, etc."

"Only a partial knowledge of Austrian and German resources will convince all that these countries have ample internal resources to produce foodstuffs and clothing fully to supply the men under arms. They will also supply the non-combatants to an extent which may bring pinches from want, but will not destroy. To this there may be one exception—young children may die for lack of milk."

Providence, R. I., Jan. 20.—George W. Healey, Dr. Franklin Mohr's negro chauffeur, testifying again today in the trial of Mrs. Mohr and two other negro servants, charged with the physician's murder, told of driving Dr. Mohr to Bristol Ferry on the night of Aug. 28 and how he lost his nerve and continued faster when he reached the spot where Brown and Spellman were waiting in ambush. He explained that another reason why he did not stop was because Miss Florence Ormsby and Miss Martha Wilson, Dr. Mohr's housekeeper, were in the car with the doctor and Florence Burger.

"On the evening of the shooting," Healey said, "Mrs. Mohr asked me why I did not stop Friday night. She said she thought I had gone mad and told me to be sure to stop that night. I said I did not want to. She said, 'Don't be afraid, you are sure it is a holdup.' This was the last chance she had, as she had to drive me home the first of the month. I told her I'd stop. She told me if I got into my car, I could see the car, and I told her I'd stop. She told me if I got into my car, I could see the car, and I told her I'd stop. She told me if I got into my car, I could see the car, and I told her I'd stop."

Healey then told of driving Dr. Mohr and Miss Wilson to Bristol on Aug. 31, the night of the murder.

"When I got to a bush in the road about half past two lights," he testified, "I stopped my car and got out, turned out my headlights and put my headlights on so I could see the engine. Then I heard two shots and I saw Miss Wilson fall back. Miss Burger with his head covered with blood. Then I saw Miss Burger start to get out and she fell into the roadway. I picked her up and carried her to the side of the road. I stopped the first machine that came along and told the people there had been a holdup."

Healey said he purposely stalled his engine on the spot where the shooting took place.

none of the three stokers who were killed was an American citizen. The Ryndam is not badly damaged, and will be repaired as soon as the passengers and cargo are removed. The boats which will take them direct to Rotterdam.

"Probably, however, the larger loss of European wealth has been due to the sale of American securities which have been absorbed by the country, and their replacement by certificates of their debt. The total loss is unknown; but their magnitude is to be measured in thousands of millions of dollars."

"For Russia, Austro-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria, the situation is very similar to that for the United Kingdom, Germany and France; and for some of the smaller nations, such as Belgium, Serbia, and Poland, the situation is immeasurably worse. They are in a war ruin as was never a nation in the past."

"The Federal reserve act took a prominent position among the subjects discussed today at the annual meeting of the National Association of Credit Men. The meeting will adjourn late this afternoon. Federal reserve subjects were discussed by H. Parker Willis, secretary of the Federal reserve board, and by Martin of the U. S. Federal reserve bank, C. W. Allendorfer of Kansas City, John J. McLaughlin of Chicago, C. H. Bosworth, Chicago Federal reserve bank, and H. H. McKee of Washington, D. C.

William K. Calhoun, Chicago, and Beverly D. Harris of New York also spoke.

belled to obtain from the United States while the commercial rights of citizens of this country are trampled under foot," he asked the senator.

"Great Britain cannot continue the war without munitions from the United States, Great Britain cannot feed her population without foodstuffs from the United States and other neutrals. Great Britain cannot keep her million and a half people engaged in the Lancashire mills at work sixty days without cotton from the United States."

"The administration has forcefully brought to the attention of Great Britain the rights of citizens of this country. It has been demonstrated that citizens of neutral countries have the right to ship foodstuffs and cotton in unlimited quantities through the neutral ports of Northern Europe to the non-combatant inhabitants of Germany and Austria."

"The lawlessness of Great Britain has increased greatly during the past twelve months. Each day brings new evidence of disregard for neutral rights."

"By firmness, but peacefully, neutrals can easily obtain their rights from the belligerents."

Referring to a statement made by Sir R. Phinlay, of the British parliament in 1911, that no country, however powerful, would incur the displeasure and possibly the ruin of a powerful ally as the United States by putting forward an unfounded claim to treat food brought to Great Britain as contraband of war, Senator Smith added:

Changed Now.
"I wonder what he thinks of the United States now when we submit not only to the seizure of vessels destined to German ports, carrying foodstuffs, but to the seizure of vessels destined to neutral ports, and permit Great Britain, disregarding rules of international law by order from the privy council, to confiscate cargoes of foodstuffs belonging to citizens of the United States, with no proof whatever that they were intended for military or naval forces of Germany."

"Germany and Austria have a population of over 110,000,000 people. It is estimated that perhaps 10 per cent of these are under arms. Certainly over 90,000,000 in these two countries are non-combatants. By every rule of international law, citizens of the United States have the right to ship to these non-combatants for their use, through the neutral ports of Northern Europe, all the foodstuffs they wish to buy. The same is equally true of raw cotton, etc."

"Only a partial knowledge of Austrian and German resources will convince all that these countries have ample internal resources to produce foodstuffs and clothing fully to supply the men under arms. They will also supply the non-combatants to an extent which may bring pinches from want, but will not destroy. To this there may be one exception—young children may die for lack of milk."

FOR AND AGAINST U. S. LITERACY TEST

Two Sons of Foreign Born Parents Address Committee.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Two sons of foreign-born parents—one a former railroad section hand and the other the son of a track-walker, both now risen to prominence—spoke for and against the literacy test section of the immigration bill today before the house immigration committee.

Vice President Fitzpatrick of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, once a section hand, endorsed it, contending that the foreign literate sought this country principally in times of prosperity, worked for smaller wages than the native-born citizen, and returned to his native shores when times became hard.

"The only difference between Mr. Fitzpatrick and me is that he would close the door that was left open for his father and I would leave it open for others," declared Louis Marshall, the New York lawyer, whose father was a track-walker.

"It is unjust, unfair and un-American," he said, "to require a man to be able to read and write in order to get into this country."

In the event of Germany winning the war, he did not think Canada would be taken by Germany, with the United States, powerful and friendly, as Canada's neighbor. The most that could happen, he said, would be to make Canada independent.

He held that Canada could not be made to pay the overseas forces she had already contributed, inasmuch as the command of the seas had been handed over to the British. Eighty per cent of the first force, he declared, were British.

He added that it looked as if Englishmen came over to join the Canadian forces because Canadian pay was four times higher than the pay of the English army.

Safety in the Home Part of Woman's Daily Duty

Peruna—the Home Remedy

They know it improves the irregular appetite, aids the weakened digestion, soothes and heals the inflamed membrane, relieves the coughs and colds, and corrects all catarrhal conditions wherever located. Forty-four years of reliability have established it as the Ever-Ready-to-Take household remedy.

That's why so many speak well of it. We have hundreds of testimonials like this:

Mrs. James F. Summitt, 1006 E. Elch St., Muscatine, Iowa, writes: "Peruna has cured me. For years I was practically invalid. I was induced to give Peruna a trial, and found very quickly that it was helping me. I am now well and happy. We have a baby now, which we believe is the direct consequence of my improved health. If Peruna had not cured me we should never have had him. I thank God for Peruna. I hope my testimonial will be of benefit to other women who are childless simply because they are in a wretched physical condition. I will never any letter from a woman anxious to know more about my case. I recommend Peruna to every woman who is suffering from any case of Bronchitis. The doctors did not seem to do her any good. She used Peruna and is now well and strong. My husband's health is so much improved by Peruna that he would not be without it in the house."

the best-known leading men and matinee idols on the legitimate stage. Although his father and mother are natives of New York state, Mr. Richmond claims Chicago, Ill., as his "home town" and received his education in the public schools there. He also studied in the Chicago College of Law, but gave up Blackstone to become an actor. Determination with a steadfastness of purpose that would brook no defeat soon established him as an actor of merit and won for him a degree of distinction that attracted attention. His first big parts came as leading man with A. M. Palmer's Stock company, where his versatility, together with his natural talents, attracted the attention of Augustus Daly, who signed him for an engagement as leading man in his famous stock company to play opposite Ada Behan. Mr. Richmond stayed with this organization six seasons, of which he played four in America at Daly's theater and two in London. Then followed three years with the Empire Theater Stock company, and engagements as leading man with such well-known theatrical stars as Annie Russell, Mrs. Langtry, Mary Manning, Blanche Bates, and starring tours in such successful productions as "Captain Harrington," "Callings," "The Revelers," "Bought and Paid For," etc.

Every now and then there occurs some new and substantial indication of the popularity of the growing vaudeville. It is usually revealed by the booking of some big act that could not be seen a year or two ago except by going to the more expensive vaudeville theaters in the large cities. One of these acts is Torcat and Flor D'Alza, presenting the only troupe of trained roosters in the world, which headlines the new bill today at the popular New Grand. Stunning Flor D'Alza trips about, Torcat, the famous French comedian, lifts his brows, utters an order here and there, and the most wonderful trained roosters in the world do the rest. Set into a splendid barnyard scene, these amazing fowls ride bicycles on a tight wire, perform on a ball, execute contortions and acrobatics and do everything but talk and smile. As a finale two cocky little bantams get into a green-padded ring and with miniature boxing gloves go through three rounds, ending with a knockout that brings gales of laughter from their audiences.

Skipper, Kennedy and Reeves, offering a conglomeration of mirth and melody, make the most of their allotted minutes. The Lamplins are comedy magicians, offering something entirely new in their particular line of endeavor. Bandy and Fields offer a diversion in singing and eccentric dancing that is pleasing and enjoyable entertainment.

"The Avenging Shot," a drama with a cast headed by Jack Mulhall and Vera Sisson, heads the photoplay. "The Tricksters," one of the Marguerite stories, and the Hearst-Sells news of interesting happenings the would make up the balance of an exceptional program.

A virile man's story is "Between Men," the strongly dramatic story of William S. Hart, who plays the part of the man of true West. It will be seen at the Rex today and tomorrow. Mr. Hart's performance seems to fit in with the wide, vast endless prairie and the free sweep of the plains. His smile is reminiscent of the golden sunrise of the boundless levels. His frown recalls the rush of maddened cattle and the dust of the trails. And in this story of the fight between men for the hand of a girl—right of money, of brains and of brute strength, William S. Hart will be seen at his best at the Rex today and tomorrow.

As a Triangle-Keystone on today's program, "Dizzy Heights and Darling Hearts," has scores of real laughs. Steeples are blown up, aeroplanes go down, and there are fifty other mixups, not of the familiar sort either.

After you have seen Little Mary in "The Foundling," at the Lyric tomorrow, why a big producing company made her an offer of $5,000 a week to play in features for them. But the little star got an offer that suited her better when the Famous Players, with whom she is now working and from whom she has drawn her widely-famed salary of $2,500 a week, offered to make her a partner in the company, and the Famous Players-Mary Pickford company has been organized to produce plays in which Miss Pickford will star. "The Foundling" will star. The ideal role and the role he publicly made a strong heart-appeal but the pathos is all forgotten when Mary does some "cute" little trick that causes a general laugh. As the cast-away child, as the slave in the home of the cruel woman, little Mary plays effectively on one's heartstrings. If any one watches the scenes where she rescues the pup from the dog catcher and feeds it charlotte roses, without laughing, there is something wrong in the region of his heart.

PUBLICITY FOR DULUTH

Commercial Club Committee, in Report, Reviews Its Work.

Modest but effective, the publicity committee of the Duluth Commercial club is continually at work putting out high grade advertising material, in which Duluth's importance is exploited and her future pictured. The committee's work also has been singularly effective, due, it is declared, to the fact that the committee sticks to the facts, and has plenty of facts to stick to.

In its report, made last evening at the meeting of the public affairs committee, the publicity committee has outlined its work and the results of its efforts. The committee has been busy in the past few months in the preparation of the annual statistical report, and in the preparation of the annual statistical report, and in the preparation of the annual statistical report.

The press bureau of the club continues to be effective. One of the best articles placed recently is to be published soon in a municipal journal. It is a story of the development of Duluth from a small fishing village to a great city, and is a story of the development of Duluth from a small fishing village to a great city.

"The information service of the club has found the demands on it pressing recently. Since the steel plant went into operation, there has been a great increase in the number of inquiries regarding Duluth. Some have evidently come from people interested in Duluth as a place to live, and others from people contemplating the establishment of small businesses in Duluth. Many have related to the opportunity for farming and Duluth's market possibilities. It is interesting to note that the fame of Duluth is spreading and predictions of great growth in the immediate future are well founded."

SIGN LEASE FOR UTILITY OFFICES

Quarters Will Be at Commercial Club for Five More Years.

Despite the eleventh-hour objections of Commissioner Merritt at a special conference of the city commissioners yesterday afternoon, the lease for the rental of the water and light department quarters in the Commercial club building was signed by Mayor Auditor Campbell and Clerk Borgen.

Last Monday Commissioner Merritt introduced a resolution to the effect that the city should not lease the quarters for $3,850 a year, excluding the water and light department quarters, now occupied by Mr. Merritt and Manager Reed. The measure was adopted, but at the conference yesterday the utility head declared that an investigation into the matter was being conducted, and that the main quarters are inadequate to house Manager Reed. The other commissioners refused to vote on the resolution, and the lease was signed.

The lease becomes effective on May 1, when Commissioner Merritt will move into the city hall. The main quarters of the department will be occupied by the water and light department.

NEW CLOUQUET CLASSES.

Superintendent Olesen Will Start Two in Two Schools.

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—In accordance with the plans of future work of the normal training class as outlined by the Williamson of the normal training department before the meeting of the Mothers' club, Supt. Peter Olesen announces that two primary classes will be opened March 1, and that the Washington schools that children living in either end of the city may attend.

Children between 6 years of age before Jan. 1, 1917, may enroll, but the number in each class will be limited to twenty each, the classes will be formed from the twenty that enroll first at each school.

The classes are to be established for the purpose of giving the students taking the normal training course practical teachers' training.

CLOUQUET NOTES.

Cloquet, Minn., Jan. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. C. L. Dixon and daughter, Miss Ruth, spent yesterday in Duluth.

Mrs. George E. Nichols and son, Ned, returned today from a visit with relatives in Superior.

Mrs. W. K. McNair visited in Duluth yesterday.

George Rich, who is checking the camp clerks in the woods, spent yesterday with his family here. Steel announced that two primary classes will be opened March 1, and that the Washington schools that children living in either end of the city may attend.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, MD.

A Doctor's Handicap

The family doctor comes in for his share of abuse from the public rather conspicuously these days of specialization, and though he may deserve much of the criticism heaped upon him, he does not deserve it all. Unfortunately the average patient expects the family physician to divine much of the specialist's work, and the specialist learns through many rounds of examination or test the specialist suggests, regardless of the patient's condition, when the family doctor requires such help. Unless the latter can satisfy the patient that the test is likely to disclose important facts bearing upon the diagnosis and treatment of the condition, it is scarcely tactful to request the patient to have the test made. We have cited instances in this column; any family physician could give similar instances.

Some one asked us recently to define an "internist." It was a difficult query to answer. An internist is a general practitioner of medicine who can and does persuade all of his patients to undergo whatever scientific tests or examinations he may deem helpful in the diagnosis of the case. Often enough the internist, with the aid of his corps of laboratory workers and special assistants, hits upon a diagnosis which has naturally baffled the family doctor. In that event the physician is hailed as a great physician. Had the family doctor been permitted to put the same patient to the expense necessary for such tests as the internist deemed indispensable—well, if this were the rule of practice, we don't think there would be any internists. Specialism in medicine is a great blessing. But at the same time the modern fashion of running around to this and that specialist is doing harm. A good family doctor, one worthy of a patient's confidence, will generally suggest a specialist when he thinks a specialist's services are necessary. The patient, or rather the invalid who picks his own specialist often picks a lemon—if we may be permitted the expression. As a matter of fact the better specialists, not the mercenary ones, do not welcome such patients; they depend upon the cases referred to them by the family doctor for advice or treatment. And when the remarkable financial success of the advertising quack specialist (the all-round specialist in whatever you think ails you) is considered it is evident, we think, that the family doctor is the best judge of a specialist's ability.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Apoplexy Paralysis. Kindly explain the difference between apoplexy and a stroke of paralysis.

Answer.—Apoplexy means hemorrhage into the substance of an organ, usually the brain. A stroke of paralysis is most commonly caused by cerebral apoplexy. Nerve centers in the brain are pressed upon by the blood clot producing paralysis in certain muscle groups supplied from the damaged centers.

Something for Poison Ivy. Please sell me something good for poison ivy eruption.

Answer.—Carbolic acid, 1 dram (teaspoonful); glycerin, 1/2 ounce (tablespoonful); lime water, 1 pint. Pat on with fingers.

Please send me questions pertaining to health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through this column; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will respond to individual cases or make diagnosis. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people residing in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated. (Protective by Adams Newspaper Service.)

NEW BUILDING IS NECESSITY

Public Affairs Committee Urges Need of Federal Structure.

Postoffice Has Far Outgrown Facilities; Statistics Support Claims.

The public affairs committee of the Commercial club last night took action favoring immediate action on the part of congress toward the early construction of a new government building in Duluth.

The municipal sub-committee made an extensive and exhaustive report on the necessity of new facilities for the government work here, showing, by figures, the increase of business, far beyond that calculated by the government officials when the present Federal building was planned. It recommended that the public affairs committee urge upon Minnesota senators and congressmen that appropriation for a new building to be erected in Duluth.

The present Federal building was completed in 1894, the cornerstone having been laid in 1893. The building was prepared about 1890, when the Federal census showed the population of Duluth was 32,116. If there was any anticipation of future growth it was on a very small scale. The growth of the city and the consequent increase in the number of government employees and the departments and the public, until now conditions are such that the present provision is made for larger quarters.

The municipal committee, to which was referred for investigation and report the matter of the need for a new government building in Duluth, beg to submit the following facts disclosed by the investigation.

The present Federal building was completed in 1894, the cornerstone having been laid in 1893. The building was prepared about 1890, when the Federal census showed the population of Duluth was 32,116. If there was any anticipation of future growth it was on a very small scale. The growth of the city and the consequent increase in the number of government employees and the departments and the public, until now conditions are such that the present provision is made for larger quarters.

The railway mail service here should not be separated from the main postoffice as it is at present. The service has fifty-six clerks with headquarters in the postoffice building. It is an office building on account of lack of room in the government building.

The congestion is most marked in the postoffice. It extends to all departments. The requirements of the immigration service uses a jury room, which is forced to vacate during terms of court. The quarters of the United States district court are far from adequate.

The following departments occupy rented offices in downtown office buildings: Railway mail service, United States army recruiting station, marine corps recruiting station, marine surgeon, hydrographic office, referee in bankruptcy. The total yearly expense for rented offices is approximately $20,000.

Approximately 20,000 square feet of space is now used for offices in the present building and about 3,000 square feet is rented. Carefully prepared estimates give the requirements of the United States government departments in the city, with proper allowance for conservatively estimated growth of business, as 60,000 square feet.

The need for a new building in Duluth has been recognized by congress and in 1894 a site was acquired consisting of the south half of the block on the upper side of First street between Fifth and Sixth avenues west and four lots on Second street adjoining Sixth avenue west. The total cost of the site was $27,421.44 and the rentals from the property to date have totaled about $30,000.

This committee believes that congress should make immediate provision for the erection of a new United States government building in Duluth. The appeal is based on the need for adequate service and public convenience, for it is utterly impossible for the various Federal departments to give complete satisfactory service under present conditions.

We believe that Duluth has entered upon a period of progress such as we have not had before. The increase in bank clearings from $10,000,000 in 1910 to $23,000,000 in 1915, the increase in grain receipts from 80,000,000 bushels in 1910 to 127,000,000 bushels in 1915, the increase in harbor tonnage from 38,000,000 tons in 1910 to approximately 45,000,000 tons in 1915, the increase in assessed valuation from $1,000,000 in 1910 to $5,000,000 in 1915, known increases in manufacturing, jobbing and retail trade and progress along all lines are, we believe, only the forerunners of greater progress in the next five years. We believe congress should not overlook the fact that by no expedients can the present inadequate quarters be made to serve for more than the time needed for the completion of a new building.

The United States government is committed to the grouping plan adopted when the new courthouse was completed and it is perhaps needless to recommend that when a new Federal building is erected it should conform in architecture and position to that grouping plan.

We recommend that the public affairs committee urge immediate action by congress and that you forward this report be sent to the Minnesota senators and representatives in congress and to the proper committees of both houses of congress.

*****

Workers are constructing a false ceiling at the new armory to prevent "rainfalls" in the building during the present cold weather. Because of the single roof, the warm air on the inside meets the cold and the water drips to the floor. The new ceiling plan, adopted in such structures, will prevent this in the future.

A Hope Realized
Recently one of our savings depositors drew out $1,000 to use as the first payment on a home of his own. He told us that for years he had been saving with that object in view. When he gets his home paid for entirely he is going to start a savings account again and put into it the money he is now paying out in rent and interest. This is only one of many hopes we have seen realized through savings accounts at the

THE DULUTH HERALD

Published every evening except Sunday by
The Herald Company at Duluth, Minn.
Both Telephone—Business Office, 224;
Editorial Rooms, 1125.
Entered as second-class matter at the Duluth postoffice under the act of congress of March 3, 1879.

OFFICIAL PAPER, CITY OF DULUTH

SUBSCRIPTION RATES—By mail, payable in advance, one month, 35 cents; three months, $1; six months, $2; one year, $4;
Saturday Herald, $1 per year; Weekly
Herald, $1 per year.
Daily by carrier, city and suburbs, 10 cents
a week; 45 cents a month.

Subscribers will confer a favor by making known any complaint of service.
When changing the address of your paper, it is important to give both old and new address.

The Duluth Herald accepts advertising contracts with the distinct guarantee that it has the largest circulation in Minnesota outside the Twin Cities.

The Herald will be glad to have its attention called to any misstatement or untrue statement which may appear in its news, editorial or advertising columns.

THE NEWSPAPER AND THE RAILROAD.

Several bills are pending in congress proposing to make it lawful for newspapers to exchange advertising space for railroad transportation.

This practice, since the anti-pass law was enacted, has been unlawful.

The fact that the anti-pass law stopped it shows the nature of the practice.

It is free passes in disguise, and therefore it should remain unlawful. But they need now pending to make it lawful should be defeated.

The newspaper is a business enterprise.
So is the railroad.

The newspaper should sell its advertising space for cash. The railroad should sell its transportation for cash.

When the railroad wishes to advertise, it should pay for it, just as any other business enterprise pays for its advertising.

When the newspaper man wishes to travel, he should buy a ticket, just as any other individual must do.

There is no reason why newspaper men should receive special privileges from the railroads, and there are a great many reasons why they should not.

The good old days when newspaper men —like statesmen and politicians and officeholders and lawmakers—traveled free on the railroads are gone. They are gone forever, and it is a good riddance.

The newspaper should not put itself under obligations to the railroad or to any other special interest. The railroad should not be allowed to use its commodity in any way, directly or indirectly, to influence public opinion or the mediums by which public opinion is formed.

The honest way, the businesslike way, the way that is best for the newspaper, the railroad and the public, is the way it is handled now, when the railroad pays cash for its advertising and the newspaper man pays real money for his railroad trip.

The bills now pending in congress to permit an exchange of advertising for transportation are one and all attempts to revive the free railroad pass privilege. They seek to revive something that it is better should remain dead forever. They should, therefore, be defeated.

Sometimes one is tempted to make use of the term "congress-ameniana."

THE MILITIA.

Senator Cummins of Iowa, who is a lawyer, proposes to raise the strength of the military establishment of the United States by increasing the National Guard to four hundred thousand men and increasing its efficiency, but it will still be state troops, with forty-eight separate states exercising control each according to its rights.—New York World.

It is true that to enlarge the National Guard without changing its condition and its relationship to the Federal government would not achieve any very great gain.

But it is possible to change the condition of the National Guard and to alter materially its relationship to the Federal government without infringing that provision of the Constitution which, after granting to congress power to provide for "organizing, arming and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States," reserves to the states "the appointment of the officers and the authority of training the militia ACCORDING TO THE DISCIPLINE PRESCRIBED BY CON-GRESS."

Here is ample authority for congress to lay down rules that can be made to result in enormously increasing the numbers and efficiency of the militia, without at all interfering with the technical rights of the state.

Suppose congress provided generous Federal aid for the militia, including pay, but provided also that Federal aid should be enjoyed only by the militia of states complying with Federal requirements. These requirements could be whatever was deemed necessary. They might even include the provision that though state authorities should appoint the officers, they could be selected only from lists filled by the names of those militiamen who have passed Federal examinations.

The government could provide officers to superintend the training of the militia.
It could, if necessary, exact a pledge from every militiaman participating in Federal aid that he will enlist in the Federal service if he is needed. It could oversee and direct the recruiting and training of the state forces. It could weld them into whatever serviceable body of available reserves it set its heart on having.

It is true that the militia varies greatly in the different states, and that while it is fully recruited, well trained and efficient in some states, it is at a very low ebb in other states. But the application of generous Federal aid and wise Federal regulations could soon be made to bring the whole body of militia up to a uniform standard. The militia in states not conforming would of course lose the Federal aid, and if there is any serious public demand for better preparedness, public opinion would soon force such states into line.

One thing the states can do and should do at once, in behalf of the militia, is to relieve it of what is now its greatest handicap—the requirement of police duty to put down strikes. Workmen generally refuse to join the militia because they don't want to be forced to go out and crush strikes, taking the part of the employer against their brother workmen; and what kind of an army would any country have without workmen? The militia ought to be completely relieved of such duties forthwith, in this and every other state. That is an absolutely essential preliminary if anything of real military value is to be made of the militia.

Certain kinds of weather seem almost like a threat against the groundhog's prerogative of sleeping as long as he likes.

THE LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY MOVEMENT.

Duluth is host to the Laymen's Missionary movement, and is entertaining considerably more than a thousand delegates from Northern Wisconsin and Northern Minnesota.

The convention opens with commendable vitality and energy, and we shall hope that it will be very successful and that much good will flow from it.

Certainly there is a large possibility of good in getting laymen actively working at the task of making Christianity less a mere name and more a vital force in the national life. The preachers cannot do it all, though they can do much, and they do what they can with earnestness and in a high spirit of self-sacrifice. But they need help. They need congregations less static and more dynamic; they need laymen who will translate their faith into terms of actual work; they need the very co-operation which it is the purpose of the Laymen's Missionary movement to provide.

Most of the world's troubles would be solved if policies and actions—those of nations as well as of individuals—were shaped in harmony with Christian rules. Insofar as it tends in that direction, the Laymen's Missionary movement is a valuable factor that deserves every possible encouragement.

Now comes another declaration that poverty is the principal cause, "directly or indirectly," of immorality. Maybe it isn't "immorality" if you have money.

A PROMISING NEW INDUSTRY.

It is good news to hear that Capt. Alexander McDougall is about to begin building vessels in Duluth once more and it will seem like the good old times to have him doing it.

While his plans are not elaborate in the beginning, as he contemplates now a comparatively small shipyard to produce one boat during the coming season, it is a beginning; and many a chastened soul can testify that it is far better to begin on a small scale and work up than to start on a large scale and tumble.

Moreover, Capt. McDougall is fertile in ingenious ideas, some of which doubtless he plans to work out here. It need be no great surprise to anybody if the modest beginning described in The Herald last evening should quickly develop into a very large industry that will add a large payroll to the substantial foundation of Duluth's industrial life. At any rate, here's hoping so, and here's success to the new enterprise.

This proposal to tax expatriates is needless in the case of those who have gone to Europe. European nations are attending to the taxing, and doing it better than we have any occasion to.

HOBBSON'S CHOICE ALL AROUND.

President Wilson is going before the country in a series of speeches to explain and justify the program of preparedness he has placed before congress. In these speeches he will, naturally, answer not only those who oppose his plan as too small, and those who oppose it as too large:

The Chicago Herald gets half the truth in this:

Owing to the Democratic dissensions and the partisan favor for special details, it seems probable that the administration plan represents the maximum that can be obtained at this time. It is the part of common sense for all advocates of preparedness to get behind it.

It is the part of common sense for all advocates of preparedness to get behind the president's program because, as the Chicago Herald well says, it "represents the maximum that can be obtained at this time."

But it is also the part of common sense for those who oppose preparedness or over-preparedness to get behind the president's program; because if it fails, there is very real danger that panic or hysteria, deftly fostered by interested parties through vociferous statesmen, magazines, newspapers, motion pictures and so forth, will later bring something infinitely more elaborate and therefore more dangerous and more deadly.

Those who want as much preparedness as they can get should support the president's program because it is all they can get now. And it is enough, too, and to spare.

Those who don't want any preparedness at all or who don't want too much of it, even those who think the administration's program proposes too much, should also get behind this program because if it fails they may later have to reconcile themselves to something a thousand times worse.

Dreaming Dreams

By Sarsgaard.

A writer in the New York Herald, professing imagination and feeling of "militarism," has got hold of the "underground paper" to the effect that an "underground paper" is on foot at the national capital to nominate Champ Clark as the Democratic candidate for president. If Woodrow Wilson should decline the nomination, this is called "preparedness" and it is called that. Wilson is the man to fight against. There is a great big "if" in this speculation. And we may regard it as unimportant.

The Herald writer also relates a story about Mr. Bryan's resignation to this effect: The secretary of state had an interview with the president and demanded to know what Mr. Wilson thought of the one-term plank in the Baltimore platform. The president refused to commit himself, alleging that it was impossible for him to foresee circumstances that might arise. Then Mr. Bryan sought the assurance of the president that the administration would accept him for the nomination; but the president flatly told him that if he declined, his influence would be thrown to Speaker Clark for which they were in 1916, whereupon Mr.
Bryan resigned.

Dame Rumor was awfully asleep and awoke when she wrote that yarn. It sounds like a pipe dream.

Let us look a moment at this one-term plank. Including Woodrow Wilson, three individuals have been chosen to the office of president of the United States in national elections. The first, George Washington, was elected in 1789, and was re-elected in 1792. The second, James Monroe, was elected in 1817, and was re-elected in 1820. The third, Andrew Jackson, was elected in 1829, and was re-elected in 1835.

Since 1840, however, the one-term rule has been strictly observed. Seven presidents have been elected, and only three—Grover Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison and William Taft—were re-elected. Really there were two, but for the election of Mr. Cleveland in 1892 should remove him from the list of re-elected presidents. Seven presidents who have stood for election before the people were not re-elected, and three of these were elected in 1892, 1896 and 1900.

The one-term rule is a good thing. It is the best thing that has happened since the election of senators in congress by popular vote. That is another fact for your Miss
Nancy in politics that is the right thing.

Look at the history a little while. Every time a president has been re-elected, he has been a failure. He has been a failure in the succeeding election except in the case of Franklin Pierce and R. B. Hayes, and Hayes don't count.

Should a man, who has been elected, be allowed to run himself, or if his party should refuse him a renomination, the Democratic party might as well not hold a convention at all. The Constitution provides for the election of senators in congress by popular vote. That is another fact for your Miss
Nancy in politics that is the right thing.

The clamor against a second term is a tiny dab and does not amount to a virile demagog, though we may let it go for a demagog. It is a tiny dab, and a tiny dab is not a great and acceptable president.
President, shall not have a second term. It assumes that the people are not to be trusted to elect a man who has been elected once.
It assumes that the people are not to be trusted
to elect a man who has been elected once.

A Defect in Current Heroism

Editorial in the San Francisco Bulletin.

In ordinary times (supposing that there were such) the successive problems which arise within nations get themselves settled through a clash of various interests and various opinions. The interests are frequently selfish and the opinions biased, but usually different enough to make a conflict, and in the conflict there is generally a little

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

AN APPRECIATION.

To the Editor of The Herald:
It was most gratifying to us, the Guild of St. James, to note in your article of Dec. 11, the details in which you set forth the aims and work of this guild and needless to say, that it was unanimously voted at our last meeting, Jan. 14, that we write a letter of thanks and appreciation of same. It is very encouraging in a work of this kind, which considers the greatest of all charities, to have the interest and co-operation of our papers. It is to them we owe in no small degree our success.
Again we thank you for this and past favors. Very truly,
GEORGE C. SAUVÉ,
Corresponding Secretary.

MORE ABOUT THE COW.

To the Editor of The Herald:
To correct a quite evident error, and also to inform your readers of quite a number of whom seem to be interested, but who are careful not to quote exact figures, I am again writing that those from a recent communication from Howard's Dairyman, probably the best known publication of its kind in the world.

The world's records for the different breeds follow in the order of their importance:

	Pounds Milk.	Pounds Butter Fat.
Holstein—Duchesse Skylark
Ormsby	27,761	1,205
Guernsey—
Murphy Cowan	30,462	931.3
Ayrshire—
24,008	1,098.18
Auchenbrain Brown Jersey—
32,022	917.6
Sophie 19th, Hood's
17,587	939
Red Tilled cow
20,276.6	871.58
Jeau du Luth Beauty
20,276.6	871.58
Brown Swiss—
College Bravura 2nd	19,160	736.16
Shorthorn—
Rose of Glenside	18,075	624.7

I am glad to stand corrected upon the amount of milk given by the world's champion, and only hope that those who were so quick to notice the error will study the above records without regard to the "color scheme." The incorrect amount given in my previous communication was hastened in the incorrectness that happened to be in error. In comparing the different breeds, it should be kept in mind that there are several other Holsteins that have exceeded the records made by other breeds, and several Guernseys besides the record-maker have exceeded the butter fat production of Jerseys and Ayrshires.

To arrive at a true estimate of the duties of a dairyman, it would be instructive to place a steer from the Red Poll milking strain in the best cattle show. Cowards and best wishes for further honor, as well as hope that some day the Jeau du Luth people may be able to give the Guernseys a run for their places. Respectfully,

CIGARETTES AND FIRE.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Some time ago I noticed in The Herald a statement to the effect that a fire was started by a cigarette, carelessly thrown away. Now, I am a cigarette smoker and I remember at the time that I discussed with a friend the possibility of this happening. I offered to do so immediately, but he had done and I based my contention on the following incident.

The summer before last, two friends and I were on a camping trip. After smoking several cigarettes while out on a joint one morning, we got back around noon with only one match left. In trying to light a fire for lunch that last match went out. All I had was a lighted cigarette in my mouth. I put the lighted cigarette to some

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, JAN. 23.

Romans VIII, 2-30; The Spirit of Life, CONNECTION.

We had an account of the new era started with the baptism of the Holy Spirit and Peter's wonderful sermon on the day of Pentecost, when the Spirit's first work was the empowerment of the apostles to speak with power, even in new languages, and the conviction in men's souls of their need of salvation. We pass down the stream of history to read, in the light of the Spirit's further work in the establishment of the kingdom of Christ among men, what Paul says about His work in the Christian people, converted Jews and Gentiles, constituting the church at Rome. Here is something about the vital aspects of the Spirit's relations to and work within the Christian. Keep in mind that it was nearly thirty years later and this great leader had wrought great deeds in the power of God's Spirit and is writing in the light of going to Rome, though he hoped to do so shortly on his way to Spain.

THE LESSON.

Making Us High-Kindred Children of God, 12-17.

"So then, brethren, we are debtors—not to the flesh to live after the flesh; for if ye live after the flesh, ye must die; but if by the Spirit ye put to death the deeds of the body, ye shall live. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are sons of God. For ye received not the spirit of bondage again unto fear; but ye received the spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father. The Spirit himself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are children of God; and if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified with him."

I. BIRTH.—Whatever our natural relation to God, it is true that the channels are choked, the consciousness of sonship gone and the sense of the relation extinct till we are born again by the Spirit of God. Here, then, are four things the Spirit does in making us sons of God—regenerates us; gives us an ambition to be above the best of men; answers our prayers—inspires, interprets and answers prayer. Such prayers are always according to the will of God.

II. Achieving a Glorious End, 28-30. "And we know that to them that love God all things work together for good, even to them that are called according to his purpose; for whom he foreknew, he also predestinated to be conformed to the image of His Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brethren. Moreover, whom he foreknew, them he also called; and whom he called, them he also justified; and whom he justified, them he also glorified."

III. CHRISTLIKENESS.—The future

has always been the history of those who depend on the regenerating power of God's Spirit. The fear of the former bondage is turned into hatred of it and antagonism toward it. The conduct has also been the history of those who endure all the sufferings before us as he did; it is consistent both with its origin in the Spirit and its destiny in its joint heirship with Christ, a whole and therefore a holy life. It is wonderful and inspiring.

II. Helping All Our Infirmitates, 26-27.

And in like manner the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities; for we know not how to pray as we ought; but the Spirit himself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered; and he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the saints according to the will of God.

1. PURPOSE.—It is the purpose of the Spirit to bring us at last to the perfection that we are in Christ as life-saver, teacher, comforter, guide, that is His mission with us and in us. We have infirmities, we are weak. In His purpose He must help our infirmities. That does He do and there is one thing especially that Paul specifies—prayer.

2. PRAYER.—If people can pray aright they are safe. All Christians feel that, if they only know how to pray, they need not be afraid of anything. They need and escape great perils they confront, for among the things that Jesus taught us to pray for is that we be not led into temptation. Here we find our infirmities very stupid, yet very willing, even anxious, to be helped. The Spirit helps in several ways. As God within us interprets our needs and desires, just as a father interprets the wants which a child doesn't understand. More than that, he inspires the desire; and he also purifies the desire. In the heart thus helped comes a longing, often as in what God would express no desire. We have all had such times, when we could only kneel and weep, and say, "Father, Father, I love thee; thou knowest what I need, and I cannot break into singing, or read on and on in the Word of Truth. He makes us perceive by praying in His name, and answers prayer. Such prayers are always according to the will of God."

III. Achieving a Glorious End, 28-30.

"And we know that to them that love God all things work together for good, even to them that are called according to his purpose; for whom he foreknew, he also predestinated to be conformed to the image of His Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brethren. Moreover, whom he foreknew, them he also called; and whom he called, them he also justified; and whom he justified, them he also glorified."

III. CHRISTLIKENESS.—The future

of the child of God is to be "conformed to the image of His Son." That's God's purpose. As a child you will be like the typical member of God's family, the Elder Brother. As the first born of the family Christ sets the pattern and He cannot be satisfied till He sees the long line of sons conformed to the pattern to reach that were you born again by the Spirit, taught, trained, "helped in your infirmities and guided in service to God, it's a great undertaking to make us over into a new likeness, but God cannot undertake less.

2. METHOD.—His way of bringing about is more First He determines it, of course, determines it not impromptu or by impulse, but from the beginning and in harmony with His habit of doing things. Second He takes us through the process of sanctification, which He calls us into the life, then He sets us in a right relation to His law, justifies us. Third He organizes every thing to work in that direction, all working together. "We know," it says, "Yes, we do, for we know Him as our Father and every child should feel that all things in the household are working on his father's hand for the child's good. This is very wonderful. Thank God, thank God, thank God. The 'unity of nature' is not so marvelous as the unity of a race."

3. WHAT THE MATTERS SAY. No man is called to life of self-denial for his own sake. It is in order to a compensation which though sometimes difficult to see, is always real and always proportionate. The well-defined spiritual life is not only the highest life, but it is also the most easily lived. The only cross is more easily carried than the half. It is the man who tries to make the best of both worlds who makes nothing of either.—Drummond.

RELIEF FROM INDIAN L.D.

P. C. Schmidt Hopeful Congress Will Act on Treaty of 1855.

Tells of Remarkable Tribute Paid Governor Hammond By Congress.

After being present in the house of representatives when the death of Governor Hammond was announced, and hearing a remarkable eulogy of Minnesota's former chief executive, P. C. Schmidt, attorney for the Flitger-Brewing company, returned to Duluth yesterday, hopeful that congress will take some action on the Indian treaty of 1855 and remove the restrictions on the sale of liquor in the eastern part of the territory affected, at least.

"My visit to Washington during the last two weeks," said Mr. Schmidt, "was entirely for the purpose of seeing what, if any, relief could be secured from congress relative to the old 1855 Indian treaty. I was cordially received by the officials. Its well-known members of congress went fully and carefully into the development of the country since the treaty was made and believe that the members of congress are fully convinced that, at least, the eastern portion of the territory covered by the treaty is no longer Indian country; that the Indians therein, who so frequently frequent the same; that the strict enforcement of the provision contained in the treaty, which forbids the sale of liquor to the Indians, is not necessary to prevent liquor being furnished to the Indians, and that much encouraged that congress will take action on the Indian treaty, the territory in which no Indians reside or frequent."

"I learned that the members of congress, who come from all parts of the Union, were not unmindful of the conditions prevailing, nor the development of the country; what they have been relying entirely upon the officials and the officials have been relying entirely upon the subordinate officers within the territory. Those with whom I conferred led me to believe that it is not the intention of the government to foster or force prohibition upon the white people within the state, against their will, and their sole and only object is to prevent liquor from being furnished to the Indians within the territory. To this there can be no objection, and I am satisfied in my mind that congress will arrange matters in such a way that the white population within that territory will eventually be permitted to regulate their own affairs regarding the liquor traffic."

"I had the good fortune of being in the house gallery at the time that Congressman Ellsworth from Mankato, successor to our late Governor Hammond, announced the sudden death of Governor Hammond. While I was always a great admirer of the governor and the character of the man, after listening to the eulogies in the house, I admire him even more than I ever did before. It does not occur frequently in the house, when the death of a member or former member is announced, that the speaker vacates his chair, takes the floor and eulogizes in the highest terms possible the character of such member, which was done in the announcement of Governor Hammond's death. In addition to that, Congressman Mann, minority leader in his eulogy, stated that he felt that he had no language at his command to express his admiration for the splendid character of Governor Hammond, and the service that he had rendered not only to the people of Minnesota, but to the nation at large; that it is only men of his character, standing and ability should be cut off at the noon hour of life. These eulogies I shall never forget, and the memory of Governor Hammond will ever be dear to me."

NEW EDITORS FOR SCHOOL PAPER
Spectator Now in Hands of Another Staff of Students.

With the close of the first semester at Central high school there will be several important changes in the staff of the Spectator, the school weekly newspaper. Active school work of the first semester really closes this week, and the new staff had charge of the publishing of this week's issue which makes its appearance today.

There have been four resignations, and the staff has been reorganized, considerably. Jacob Garon and Lawrence

YOU can make a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost if you get from your drug-gist a package of canthox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Your shampoo now ready for use, just rub a little at a time on the scalp and rub briskly. This creates an abundance of thick, white lather that thoroughly dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly, with a softness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that make arranging it a pleasure.

The FIRST Records of Marimba Music

Marimba music is a new sensation to North American ears. Favorite compositions played on the marimba assume a new individuality—the effects obtained are fairly startling.

This little-known Central American instrument was first presented in the United States by the Hurtado Brothers of Guatemala at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, where it speedily became one of the features of the Fair. The Columbia Company is first to present its novel music in record form.

The instrument itself, as pictured here, is over twelve feet long, and has wooden "keys" arranged as in the xylophone. It is played in a manner similar to that of the better-known instrument, but unlike it, each key of the marimba is equipped with a novel "resonator"—a triangular wooden tube that reverberates with tremendous sonority as the key is struck.

Marimba effects are so far outside the musical experience of all but globe-trotters, that in Columbia Double-Disc Records No. A1832 and A1845, old favorites were purposely selected to display the difference of rendering—the first offering Suppe's "Poet and Peasant" and "Pique Dame," the second, Strauss' "Blue Danube Waltz" and "The Three Jewels"—two-step of Moreno.

Listen to these records and note the resonant, booming bass harmonies; the sparkling, vivid "trilling" as the scale is sharply ascended; the new impressiveness or gaiety each passage gains in this unique interpretation—and you will feel the thrill of marimba music at its best. Columbia Records A1832 and A1845—75c, are genuine musical novelties of extraordinary interest.

More, news and managing editors respectively, have resigned, and Sam Gofen has been appointed news editor. Miss Vina Walz resigns from the position of alumni editor in favor of Irving Grover, and the position of sophomore reporter, formerly held by Earl Hanson, will be filled by Eliza Zaczow. The change from the position of news editor left open the position of exchange editor, and this will be taken by Howard King. Harold Bachlin will take up the duties of sports editor, the position formerly held by Lawrence Moore.

The other members of the staff whose positions are not changed are: Willard Thorp, magazine editor; Edwin Pearson, business manager; Galen Pearson, assistant business manager; Alice Cowan, senior reporter and editor of the French section; Evelyn Ahlen, junior reporter; Jake Tulman, freshman reporter; Clinton Brookes and John Miller, artists; Grace Russell, Katherine Birch and Juanita Small, literary editors; Sarah Wellberg and Irving Auld, humorous editors; Beatrice Miller, society reporter; Max Goldberg, debate editor; Lee B. Rasey will remain the faculty advisor.

Academy Teacher Dies.
Portland, N. D., Jan. 19.—Miss Cora R. Holden, aged 26, a faculty member at Bruffat academy here, is dead. Miss Holden came to Portland last October to take up her duties as preceptress and instructor of languages at the academy. She was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Holden, who, with one brother, E. Holden, survive her.

"Pape's Cold Compound" Is the Surest, Quickest Relief Known—It's Fine!

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe, misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs. It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sticky headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. Don't stay stuffy-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine. Don't accept something else "just as good." Insist on getting "Pape's Cold Compound" if you want to stop your cold quickly.—Advertisement.

Hudson Super-Six

The Greatest Car of Any Show

80% More Efficiency

New Limits of Endurance

The World's Record Breaker

A 7-Passenger Super-Six Makes Fastest Time for Touring Cars up to 100 Miles, in Official Tests, Under A. A. A. Supervision

100 miles in 80 min., 21.4 sec. averaging 74.67 miles per hour, with driver and passenger.

The best previous stock car time was made by a car with more cylinders, more cylinder capacity and driver only.

75.69 miles in one hour with driver and passenger.

Some laps were made at 76.75 miles per hour.

70.74 miles in one hour, carrying 5 passengers, with top and windshield up.

The best previous time for stock cars similarly equipped was made by a car with more cylinders, more cylinder capacity, and with two passengers only.

Standing start to 50 miles an hour in 16.2 sec.

All these Hudson records were made with the same stock car, using the same motor, at Sheephead Bay Speedway in November, under supervision of the American Automobile Association.

During these tests the car was driven 1,350 miles at top capacity, at speed exceeding 70 miles per hour, without discoverable wear on any part.

An endurance record seemingly impossible.

Proving the most powerful motor per cubic inch displacement that the world has ever known.

There is hardly a condition where the Super-Six is taxed beyond one-half capacity. And that means vast fuel economy.

This utter smoothness also multiplies endurance. In that Speedway test 1,350 miles were made at top capacity. No other stock car motor ever built has stood an equal test. Years of ordinary driving would not match that strain. Yet the Super-Six came through that test without any discoverable wear. That means endurance far beyond the farthest limits ever known before.

HUDSON NOW SUPREME

The Super-Six makes Hudson the greatest car that's built. Official records prove that beyond possible dispute. And a half mile ride will fix the fact so you never can forget it.

The finest Sixes of the past now confront a like-sized Six which is 80 per cent more efficient. And a Six so economical—so saving of waste—that no lower price is attractive.

Eights and Twelves have been outdone in the objects which they aimed at. No excuse remains for their extra weight, extra cylinders and extra complications.

So the Super-Six, which you'll see at the Show, is the greatest value at any price which the world has ever seen.

SIX LUXURIOUS BODIES

We have made the Super-Six so it looks its supremacy. Six of the finest bodies ever built have been created for it. We have attained in them the farthest limit in luxury and beauty.

And again we have doubled our output. This season's production of the Super-Six will sell for $42,000,000. So we are giving greater value than ever was known in a car above $1,000.

See the Super-Six at the Show. Then prove its supremacy at the first opportunity by taking a ride in our demonstrators.

7-Passenger Phaeton, $1375 at Detroit
Also Roadster, Cabriolet, Touring, Sedan, Limousine and Town Car

HUDSON MOTOR CAR COMPANY, DETROIT, MICH.

A new monarch appears at the Show this year, with records to prove its supremacy.

It is a lightweight Six, simple and economical. No added cylinders or size.

But it shows 80 per cent more efficiency than like-size motors heretofore developed.

It means that a Six—the ideal type of motor—has outrivaled Eights and Twelves. Its records have never been matched.

And this Super-Six is a Hudson invention, controlled by Hudson patents. So, for the first time, an epoch-making feature is found in only one car at the Show.

SMALL, LIGHT, BUT 76 H. P.

The Hudson Super-Six, with this patented motor, remains in the Light Six class. Its cylinders are 3½ x 5—identical with the Hudson Six-40. And its motor follows long-established practice in all respects save one. It involves no experiments whatever.

The legal rating of this size motor is 29.4 horsepower. That's the rating accorded by the Society of Automobile Engineers.

In the best former types this size was made to deliver 42 horsepower at maximum.

The Super-Six delivers 76 horsepower.

That's 80 per cent more than formerly, motor size considered. Thus the Super-Six, for its cylinder capacity, is by far the most efficient motor known.

34 H. P. WAS WASTED

A motor of this size actually creates about 85 horsepower in energy. In former Light Sixes it delivered 42 horsepower. So 34 horsepower was heretofore wasted, as compared with the Super-Six.

That waste lay in vibration, causing friction. We have saved that waste by wiping out vibration.

No extra power is developed, no extra fuel is consumed. Simply by conserving the energy created we attain this vast reserve power.

NEVER SUCH SMOOTHNESS

That 80 per cent of added efficiency comes through added smoothness. One result, at every speed, is quiet, flowing power. You never knew such bird-like motion, such freedom from vibration.

That vast reserve power in a light car creates a marvelous performer. One may creep on high gear and pick up with record quickness. Hills are climbed without effort. Sand and mud present small opposition. One rarely needs to change from high gear.

CALENDAR HAS MANY UNIQUE FEATURES DURING 1916

EASTER VERY LATE—ONE EXTRA PAYDAY

The present calendar year is unique and will offer a number of unusual features. The movable feast, Easter Sunday, will be one of the most interesting of these.

Ash Wednesday and Easter Sunday were established by the council of Nice, A. D. 325, the former always to occur forty days in advance of Easter Sunday, which is fixed by solar and lunar calculations. Easter shall occur, according to the Nicene laws, annually on the first Sunday on or after the first full moon on or after the vernal equinox, which is always March 21. From this it will be seen that the earliest date on which Easter may fall is March 21 and the latest date is April 25.

This year Ash Wednesday will come on March 8 and Easter Sunday, April 23. The next period in which Ash Wednesday will come as late as March 8 is the year 2106 A. D. The year 1916 began on Saturday and will end on Sunday, a happening that seldom occurs and one that gives to the year fifty-two Saturdays. This would occur regularly every twenty-eight years except that the compilers of the Gregorian calendar provided that centuries not divisible evenly by four shall not be leap years. Hence when such a century occurs as did 1900, there is a lapse of forty years between leap years that begin on Saturday and end on Sunday. From this year on the twenty-eight-year period proceeds according to the established rule.

D. H., 1-29-16.

the pastor and his wife will reside at the home of Mrs. E. D. Abbott, 5409 Grand avenue. They will probably stay there for the next two weeks. At a meeting of the ladies' aid society of the church held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank M. Ashley, 135 North Sixtieth avenue west, plans were discussed for holding a public reception for Rev. and Mrs. Ford at the church next Wednesday evening. An informal program will be arranged.

SAVES SON FROM PRISON

Father Refuses to Testify Against Him in Assault
Case.

Youth Gets Maximum Term
at the County Work
Farm.

For being permitted to escape serving a penitentiary sentence, Stanley Androski, 26, 205 South Sixty-sixth avenue west, has no one to thank but the father whom he brutally attacked one day last November, and who was responsible for his arrest and subsequent confinement. Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, today told Judge Fessler in district court.

Young Androski came before the court for sentence this morning, and after being allowed to plead guilty to the crime of assault in the third degree, was given three months at the county work farm. Judge Fessler followed the recommendations of Prosecutor Forbes and gave Androski the maximum sentence as punishment for his offense.

Ties of blood and a forgiving disposition on the part of his aged father saved Androski from being dealt with more severely. Androski offered the court no explanation for his crime, except that he was drunk, and Judge Fessler warned him to keep away from liquor if he did not want to land in state's prison.

On Nov. 29, last, the young man came home in an intoxicated condition and soon afterward became engaged in an altercation with his father, John Androski, 62. Words led to the attack with which the younger Androski was charged. The father in some manner, received a bad cut over the eye and when the doctor was called, five stitches were taken to close the wound. The story which was told to the police at that time by the father and sister, who were the only witnesses to the assault, was that the elder Androski had been attacked with some sharp instrument. When the doctor arrived, he found the elder Androski bruised and bleeding and the son indulging in vile language directed against his father. With the healing of the wound, came a disinclination of the aged father to prosecute his son, and he consented to accepting a plea for a lesser offense. He claimed that there were no extenuating circumstances in favor of the defendant and urged the court to deal with him as severely as the statute would allow.

John D. Jenswold, who appeared as counsel for Androski, told the court that the young man had been addicted to the use of intoxicants and had been sent to the work farm three times for drunkenness and that he was the black sheep in the family.

Talks on South America.

Mrs. N. F. Hugo gave an interesting address last evening before the West Duluth Study class of the Twentieth Century club at the West Duluth library. Mrs. Hugo spoke on "South America." She returned some time ago from a trip through various parts of the continent and gave an interesting account of the people and their habits. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. C. E. Keyes, president of the club.

ROBBED BY MASKED MEN

Bold Daylight Robbery Reported From Steel Plant District.

Highwaymen Threaten Their Victim With Knife and Get $20.

One of the boldest daylight robberies that has taken place in several years occurred at noon today, when two masked men held up and robbed Ely Garber of about $20 in cash on Zimmerman avenue near Commonwealth. The police of New Duluth and West Duluth are searching the district in the hope of catching the highwaymen.

Garber arrived in Duluth last night from Virginia in hope of getting a job at the Duluth steel plant or the Universal Portland Cement plant. He started walking to Gary this forenoon and had gone as far as Zimmerman avenue when he was held up. The two men approached him from in front. Both were well muffled. As their victim approached the two men spread out and got him between them. They grabbed him and one of them pulled out a long ugly looking knife and threatened to kill him if he squirmed or screamed.

After securing the money both men disappeared towards the river, one going in the direction of Spirit Lake while the other went towards Moraga. He was unable to make out the direction of the highwaymen, but they are headed for Superior, and the police authorities there have been notified to be on the lookout for them.

One of the men is described as being short and somewhat stout, while the other is said to be tall and thin. The former wore a short heavy coat while the latter had on a long black overcoat.

After being held up, Garber, badly frightened, hurried back to Holstead's store at Smithville to notify the police. He was unable to make himself understood and it was some time before an interpreter could be secured and his story learned. This

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I had pimples on my face which gradually became worse and worse all the time. They burned and itched and I would wake up often at night and my face would burn dreadfully and it was disfigured for the time being. At first the pimples were in blotches but gradually scattered, and they were red and swollen and also scaled over. Then I got some Cuticura Soap and Ointment. As first I put the Cuticura Ointment on and then I bathed my face with warm water and Cuticura Soap, and I had not used them more than two weeks till I noticed a change and now my face is entirely healed." ## TOM JONES WILL STICK TO CURLEY

Willard's Manager Spurns Rickard Offer; Johnston Makes Big Offer.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 20.—"Rickard and McCracken are out of it; they had their opportunity to get the match and refused to meet our figures," Tom Jones, manager of Jess Willard, heavyweight champion, said here last night. "I've signed with Curley and that ends the matter. Moran's signing does not make a bit difference to us. He is lucky to get a fight with Willard, and Willard does not care whether he fights him or not."

Jones had just returned from Excelsior Springs, Mo., where he and Willard had been residing. The manager said he signed with Curley because the latter offered 45 per cent of the gross receipts and 51 per cent of the moving picture proceeds. Curley guaranteed $25,000 as Willard's share.

Another Big Offer.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Guarantees of $50,000 to Jess Willard for two fights in Madison Square Garden, New York, and of $30,000 to Frank Moran for two contests, were announced here by Jimmy Johnston, manager of the garden. He said he came here to see Jack Curley, who has been negotiating with Willard, but discovered that the latter had gone to Kansas City. Johnston went to St. Paul, expecting to catch Curley on the latter's return here, but found that the latter had departed for the East. His announcement follows:

"I will guarantee Jess Willard $50,000 for two fights, Moran to be his first opponent. Should Willard win decisively, I am to have the privilege of selecting his second opponent. I also will guarantee Frank Moran $30,000 for two fights, the first to be with Willard. Moran to receive $15,000 for his end. If he outpoints Willard, I will place the money in a bank immediately after the men sign articles."

Cross and Burns Win.

New York, Jan. 20.—Leach Cross outpointed Johnny Harvey of New York in seven rounds of a ten-round bout here last night. Cross weighed 135½ and Harvey 134.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 20.—Frankie Burns of Jersey City, N. J., outpointed Johnny Plante of New Orleans in a fifteen-round fight here last night. Burns floored his opponent for the count of nine in the second round.

BITS OF GOSSIP FROM THE ANCIENT CURLER'S DIARY

Charles West's Lead Did Not Know One Turn From Another—Kreidler Curls Because He Owns an Auto—Evered Has a Great Natural Third Man—Sandy McNabb's Old Man Is Het Up.

Wednesday, Jan. 19.—Here I am in my room takin' down notes in my diary about some of the funny things that took place out to the curl today. I never had so much fun since the time a team of horses ran away with my mother-in-law.

Charles West was awfully het up today. He came down the ice, with his nose specs shakin' and gave his lead man hell because he could not get the broom. Chas said Jim Wharton was missin' the broom all the time and he calls him down and jumped over him. Then we all finds out that Wharton don't know no turns, didn't know one turn from another. This rink has played five games together and today was the first time that Chas was teased that his lead didn't know a turn from a selection of one of them foreign operas. We all laughed and Chas he laughed too, and then Jim he laughed.

"I didn't know nothin' about turns, Jim," he says, "I just let her go at the broom. How do you turn them rocks, anyhow?"

Tonight, just as I was comin' away, about 11 o'clock, I see Chas West and Jim Wharton out to the ice a pracin' curl up. Chas was standin' down there a yellin' at Jim.

"This is the out turn, Jim," he would yell. "This is the in turn you rummy." It was the best I ever see'd.

The Reason Is Known.

A lot of the boys was wonderin' why that it George Kreidler was allowed to play with that West Duluth rink. After lookin' at him curlin' no body could answer. Tonight I got to circuin' among the West Duluth boys and they told me. Kreidler owns a automobile and he drives the other boys on the rinks to and fro between the curlin' club and West Duluth. On them late draws this makes it handy. Several times this week Kreidler has gotten the boys out to West Duluth before 11 o'clock. That's why he's on the rink. I couldn't stand out at first why they tolerated him.

He's a Great Third Man.

Old Man Evered of West Duluth tells me he has the best third man in the hull curl. Chris Daugard plays third for him and nature or lettin' him walk before Doneseator Reese got a name for hisself has made a great natural broom holder out of Chris.

You see Chris is bow legged and when he stands with the broom for Evered to shoot, why Evered can look right between his legs, look right straight at the broom forming one of them angles, and figure out his shot. The old man was talkin' with me to night and he says that he couldn't make no shots at all no more unless he has Chris holdin' the broom. Chris is a Dane and has cast his presidential vote for Battlin' Nelson durin' the last two elections.

Got An Early Start.

Emil Zauft was sittin' by the fire lookin' sad and weary when I came out and sit down. We got to chavin' and Chas West and nature or lettin' him play lead for Emil was bookkeeper for a West Duluth rink. When the curlin' craze hit that section of the city, Emil was used to go down and practice with bottles. He got so good he could take a "rummy" shot with a flat jar and clean out a hull head of beer bottles. The fellow who owned the brewery figured it out that it would cost the brewery $8.78 a day to have Fred curl indoors so they went and bought him a membership in the curlin' club.

Old Man McNabb Peered.

Just before I left the rink tonight Sandy McNabb came up and shows me a telegraph from his old man. "What do you think of that?" says Sandy. The telegraph was from his father, John McNabb, and it says, "Cum on home and let me skip your rink. Dad."

Old Man McNabb has skiped rinks when Sandy was playin' hockey from school. He was the real curler down Grand Rapids way and he got all het up when he heard about Sandy losin' so many games. "I bet the old man will give Sandy a good dressin' up when he comes home."

What Does He Think?

This young fellow, A. B. Horner on Sandy McNabb's rink is a boy one of Joe Horner who was one of them greatest athletes that Michigan ever was pestered with. Joe Horner was called the greatest that they ever flunked in the studies room.

Sandy was talkin' with me.

"Yep," he said, "Joe Horner was a great runner and he was one of the best hammer throwers that Michigan ever turned out."

"Why did they turn him out?" I asked Sandy.

"You don't get me," he says. "They didn't turn him out of school. I meant turn out as an athlete."

"He was a great hammer thrower," I says. "What can Art throw?"

"He's great on throwin' the bull," says Sandy.

This Goes to Prove It.

"Kid," says George Reedal's rink is considered the greatest ladies' rink in half of Wisconsin. He is so popular that he's always got a car full of girls. You don't get me. To show you how popular he is, all I got to tell you is that his car is a Ford. The girls down in Phillips like him so well they ride with him anyway.

Miller's Hope Is Gone.

Miller, on Sandy McNabb's rink, cum around tonight just before I was leavin' and says with a long face, that it didn't look like he was goin' to freeze his face.

"I hate to turn down my friends this way," says he, "but the weather man says it's goin' to moderate. Every body in Grand Rapids, includin' the barbers, is lookin' forward to me comin' to curl with 'em. You see, now I got to go and throw the gang down. It ain't my fault, but they won't listen to them explanations."

Miller's old man plays golf in the golf club down there until the first of January and then curls until the last few days in February, and then gets out his golf sticks again. You see, Miller says, you got to overlook the slowness of our rink. We don't have no winter weather as you have. We curl for about a month if we have a real hard winter. The boys has heard so much about our weather that they expect of naturally expects me to cum home showin' the rigors of this climate. They will be all took back when I tells them that it is impossible for even a reckless man to freeze his face in Duluth.

They Couldn't Help It.

Neil Brady's rink of West Duluth won a couple of games today because the other rink forgot. Out in West Duluth they had a "rummy" shot. Neil wouldn't win a game. Neil says he will insist on cashin' bets whether he really won the games or not.

If Your Health Is Poor Your Work Suffers

CONSTIPATION threatens your health every day, every hour that you permit it to persist. To disregard it is to invite disaster, for constipation is the underlying cause of many more serious disorders.

Nujol

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

A PURE WHITE MINERAL OIL

is odorless and tasteless, absolutely neutral, and is not digested or absorbed into the system. It acts merely as a mechanical lubricant.

Nujol is not a drug. Its use will not give quick, temporary relief. But Nujol is a genuine remedy in that it relieves constipation in the most natural way by lubricating the lining of the intestines, softening the intestinal contents, and thus promoting healthy and normal bowel activity.

Write for "The Rational Treatment of Constipation," an informative treatise on constipation. If you cannot get Nujol from your druggist, we will send you a pint bottle prepaid to any point in the United States on receipt of 75c—money order or stamps.

Setting Chess Tourney.

New York, Jan. 20.—Three of the four games adjourned from the first round of the Rice memorial chess tournament were played off yesterday. Jose R. Capablanca of Havana and David Janowski of Paris won their games and tied for the lead with two points each to their credit. They will meet in the third round today.

Racquet Tourney on.

New York, Jan. 20.—The first round of the professional handicap racquet tournament was completed here yesterday. William Newman of New York defeated W. S. Gray of Cleveland, 15-5, 15-14, 15-5, and H. Bowe, Jr. of Chicago, won from Ed Rogers of New York, 15-15, 15-8, 17-14. Each of the winners had conceded an ace to his opponent.

PERFECT SCORE IN RIFLE CONTEST

East Lansing, Mich., Jan. 20.—The Michigan Agricultural college rifle team yesterday made a perfect score of 1,000 points in its match against the United States naval academy. This performance is said to set a new record in contests under the auspices of the National Rifle association of America.

GERMAN PRISONERS CROSS ICE TO U. S.

Calais, Me., Jan. 20.—A situation of international interest developed today when four men, alleged to be German prisoners of war, who had crossed from a detention camp at Amblest, N. S., were captured on the American side of the border. They had crossed the ice on the St. Croix river, two miles above this city, from the New Brunswick shore.

Three of the men had fled to Aver Junction, where they were about to board a westbound train when H. C. Gillis, a United States immigration inspector, arrested them. Another was caught here. Agents of the Canadian government in this city said that formal proceedings would be started at once through the administration at Ottawa and the British ambassador at Washington, seeking the return of the alleged fugitives to Canadian soil.

DON'T

COAST ACROSS A STREET CAR LINE EITHER ON SLEDS OR SKIS

A STREET CAR CAN'T DODGE!

We want to impress this fact upon the children of Duluth, and upon their mothers and fathers as well, at this season of the year.

With the first snowfall, coasting weather is here again, with all its pleasures, and also with its many dangers. Every year brings its toll of accidents, and sometimes fatalities, due to coasting. We want to eliminate that list this year, if it can be done, and it can be if children and their parents will give us their co-operation.

Coasting across street car tracks is inviting a fatal accident. A street car CAN'T DODGE, and when a loaded bobsled comes skimming down an avenue a motorman has little or no warning no matter how careful he may be. The sled is under the fender almost before he can think what to do. Often after a snowfall the rails are slippery, adding to the difficulties of the motorman and making it impossible to stop the car within several times its length.

There is only one rule to follow:

There are countless hills in Duluth suitable for coasting, where the street cars do not run, and where the sport may be enjoyed in safety. We ask the parents of Duluth to see that their children use these hills and only these. It may save you the horror of having a mangled little body brought home to you some afternoon or evening. It may save you from having a child who will be a helpless cripple all his life. You owe it to your child to protect him from this danger. We owe it to the people of Duluth to issue this reminder, and to instruct our motormen to exercise every possible precaution. We have done this, but there is only one sure way to prevent accident, and that is to observe this rule, which is also a police regulation:

Don't Coast Across a Street Car Line Either on Sleds or Skis!

WOULD END DUPLICATIONS

Council Asked By Public Affairs Committee to Re-name Some Streets.

Sub-Committee Reports That Great Confusion Results From Similarities.

Among the reports submitted by sub-committees at the meeting of the public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club last night was one from the municipal committee concerning the duplication and similarity of names of streets and avenues in Duluth, with a recommendation that the matter be submitted to the city commission. It is desired that the city council should take some action to correct the duplication and similarity to avoid confusion, and it was also urged that in changing the names of some of the streets and avenues, the policy of designating them by numbers be adhered to, as simplifying matters. The public affairs committee adopted the recommendation of the municipal committee. The report of the committee follows:

"Four municipal committees have had under consideration the question of the duplication of and similarity in street and avenue names in the city. The matter was referred to the committee by the secretary, having been submitted by a retail merchant, who had marked the confusion caused in his delivery system by the many duplications of names of streets and avenues.

"Investigation disclosed the fact that not all of the confusion and inconvenience falls to the retail merchants. The postoffice and express services are likewise affected, and, in fact, everyone who has occasion frequently to use street addresses feels the effect of the situation.

"In some cases, there is complete duplication, such as Grand View avenue in two widely separated parts of the city; two Martin streets, two Park avenues, two Ray streets and two Thompson streets. In other cases a street and an avenue bear the same name, and many people are careless in writing addresses so that whether the designated thoroughfare is a street or avenue is not disclosed or is incorrectly stated.

"In some other cases there is such similarity as to be confusing, particularly over the telephone. For instance, there is a Gilead, 2-151-2-17 street and a Gilead, 6-1-1-1-1-1 street. There is a Gold street and a Gould street, a Grand avenue and a Grant avenue, a Reis-Ris-1-8 and a Rice-Ris-1-8 avenue, a Victor street and a Victoria street.

"Changes should be made immediately. If greater confusion is to be avoided in the future, changes in the names of some of these thoroughfares should be made immediately. In many cases the duplicated names are given to streets or avenues in places where there is which there has been little building and changes can be made now with much less inconvenience to the public and to the residents on the thoroughfares than if action is postponed until such additions are made in the future.

"Our committee has had prepared from the city directory and other sources a list of the streets and avenues, which should be considered in working out the elimination of duplications.

"We recommend that this list be submitted to the city commission with a recommendation by the public affairs committee of the Commercial club that in condition thereby disclosed be carefully considered and that the names of such streets and avenues be changed so as to correct duplications and confusing similarities. This recommendation stands ready to assist the commission in working out a plan for dealing with the problem.

"Our committee also recommends that in changing street names the general policy of numerical designation of streets and avenues in the city be conforming with the following:

"We also recommend that a beginning be made toward the erection of street name signs throughout the city. Attached to the report was a list showing duplication and similarity in the names of streets and avenues. It follows:

List of Duplications.
Ash street, Bay View Heights; Ash avenue, east and west, fourth south of Superior (Rice's Point).

Bay View avenue, from St. Marie street north to Victoria, fifth west of Woodland; Bay View boulevard, Bay View Heights; Bay View terrace, from Zenith street to Twenty-fourth avenue west, Brookline.

Cascade street, east, west, north and south, surrounding Cascade park; Cascade avenue, from Voss avenue west to Twenty-fourth avenue west, north of Piedmont.

Center street, from dock line north to intersection of Hartman north and St. Paul & Duluth railway, second west of Tony; Center avenue, from Niagara north to St. Marie, third east of Briggs avenue.

Central avenue north and south, formerly Fifty-fifth avenue west, north and south of Main; Central place, from

GREAT CROWD ATTENDS OPENING MEETING OF THE LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY MOVEMENT CONVENTION

THE AUDIENCE AT THE FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

With the First Methodist Episcopal church crowded to the doors, the convention of the Laymen's Missionary movement opened last night. Fully 2,000 persons were present, and 1,013 delegates from Duluth, Northern Minnesota and other points were registered. Bishop William A. Quayle of the M. E. church, and Rev. A. R. Kessler, missionary from China, gave the chief addresses. Ernest W. Nafziger, noted singing evangelist, led the singing and gave several solos, and his work was one of the best features of the meeting.

Rank Well Pleased.
E. D. Rank, who has charge of the local end of the work, is more than pleased with the fine showing of last night and today, and the meetings promise to rank among the best ever held in the United States. W. J. McCabe, chairman of the local committee of laymen, pronounced the program with a few remarks, in which he expressed gratification at the excellent showing in attendance. Probably every church in Duluth was represented in the audience, and all Protestant churches had many representatives. Bishop Quayle, who spoke on "The American Republic as a World Mission," sounded a note of warning to those who criticize the United States and overlook the great benefits to be derived under the Stars and Stripes. His address was well received. In part he said:

"Look America in the face and say something nice about her. Some of this brainless talk about 'grafting' in America makes people think misraie an American idea.

"We should quit trying to find specks on our country and thank God we're here, although it may be hard on the country, but good for us. Wealth has been called our despair and damage and it may not become a minister to talk about it, but America earned her gold with the sweat of her face and the eagerness of her hand.

"American gold and taste is what made that village of New York the center of art. It is America that has made a new use of money and a new decade for cash. Andrew Carnegie has put his funds to a commendable use though ridiculed in public.

Rev. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the First M. E. church, opened the evening service with prayer, and Rev. William M. Gilbert, pastor of an institutional church in Boston, gave an illustrated lecture on "Around the World." The pictures show to great advantage the missionary and hospital work being done in China.

Church and State Separate.
The church and state have operated separately for 100 years and the plan has proved the church does not need the support of the Federal government. A vast amount of money is being spent in gospel work and American people are getting an interpretation of Christianity free from caste.

Rev. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the First M. E. church, opened the evening service with prayer, and Rev. William M. Gilbert, pastor of an institutional church in Boston, gave an illustrated lecture on "Around the World." The pictures show to great advantage the missionary and hospital work being done in China.

Lonely Stranger Attempts Suicide
Plans for entertaining the 2,000 visitors who are expected to be brought to the city next July, when Duluth will be the meeting place of the retail grocers and general merchants of the state, were discussed at some length last evening at a meeting of the Duluth Retail Grocers' association which was held at Lundmark & Franzen's store at 215 East Superior street.

The convention committee will meet again Sunday to make further plans for entertaining the visitors. This committee consists of M. R. Bush, C. B. Nunan, Edward Strange, John Mair, J. O. Johnson, A. M. McEwen, Dave Olson, Charles Franzen and Secretary George M. Peterson.

The annual ball of the grocers will be held next Wednesday at the Auditorium, and the committee in charge reported that all was in readiness for the event. Helmer's orchestra will furnish the music. The committee in charge is composed of John Logan, M. R. Bush, J. M. Roosa, Dave Olson, Edward Strange, A. M. McEwen and Secretary George M. Peterson.

Will Discuss Work for Cadets
Teachers and Superintendents Will Meet in Hibbing Friday.

Practical work now being done in the way of training high school cadets who aspire to positions in the rural schools of the county will be the main subject for discussion at a dinner and conference to be held in Hibbing tomorrow evening at which high school principals, penmanship teachers and superintendents will be present.

County Superintendent of Schools N. A. Young of this city will attend and others from his office who will be present are: Superintendent of Schools M. B. Holmes, supervisor of the schools of the county district, and Miss Lillian Noonan, penmanship teacher. The schools having training departments are located in Hibbing, Ely,

FOR A BAD COUGH
Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh trouble that has been used for many years with great success. Get from your druggist 1 oz. of arabin, 1/2 oz. of glycerine, and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

No more racking your whole throat with a cough! No more sneezing, open air passages of your nose! It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. One trial will convince you. No harm in any form should give this a trial. Advertisment.

At periods in most children's lives they fail to relish their meals and refuse to eat even the delicacies prepared to tempt their appetites. They lack ambition, and growth seems impeded, which causes anxiety and worry.
To compel them to eat is a grave mistake, because nutrition is impaired. Healthful exercise in fresh air and sunshine is important, but equally important is a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion three times a day to feed the tissues and furnish food-energy to improve their blood, aid nutrition and sharpen their appetites.
The highly concentrated medicinal food in Scott's Emulsion supplies the very elements children need to build up their strength. They relish Scott's—it is free from alcohol.

BREWER AND REEDAL WIN THEIR EARLY DRAW GAMES

Dunlop of Duluth Is Defeated By the St. Paul Dunlop--Brewer and Hudson and Labatt and Reedal Scheduled to Meet--Ice Is Soft and Sticky.

At the conclusion of the early draw today in the Northwestern curling tournament, the Brewer-Whites had nine wins to their credit, with Reedal's Phillips, Wis., rink trailing close in their wake with eight wins. W. E. Dunlop of Duluth has six wins and La Batt has five.

Brewer, W. E. Dunlop and Clarence Grace of Superior are in the jewelry in the Minneapolis event. Plotnick and La Batt are also assured of a slice of action cutting in the Duluth Curling club event.

Brewer won handsily in today's early draw against W. E. Dunlop of Duluth. At the end of the sixth end, Dunlop had the Brewer tribe down 6 to 4. The Brewers picked up speed in the next two ends and virtually decided the result of the contest by laying a five head in the ninth frame.

While Brewer was adding to his grand aggregate chances in the Minneapolis event, Reedal was likewise progressing in the Duluth event, making a tough game of a 12 to 10 beating. Bates came strong at the finish and gave the Phillips rink a 10 to 8 victory.

K. B. Dunlop, Paul, somewhat surprised the grand aggregate chances of W. E. Dunlop of Duluth by slipping a 10 to 8 victory on the home rink in the Minneapolis event.

Brewer-Whites Are Strong. Unless the Brewer-Whites show an unexpected slump, they appear likely to be the favorites for the grand aggregate. Brewer is scheduled to meet Hudson of Kenora in the St. Paul tournament event today, and the Canadian skip, rated as one of the best in Canada, may prove a stumbling block.

Reedal and La Batt are to meet in the semi-finals of the Duluth event, and this meeting should produce a real contest.

Brewer may also meet K. B. Dunlop of St. Paul today in the semi-finals of the Minneapolis event. There will be no late draws made for today. The curlers' vaudeville show is scheduled this evening at the Orpheum theater, and this will break into the curling program. As it looks now, there will be curling until late Saturday night.

The ice was bad today. The moderating of the weather made the going soft and clingy.

Following are the complete scores of the morning draw:

DEMOCRATS OF COUNTY WILL MEET
Will Choose Ninety-Two Delegates for Party Conference.

St. Louis county Democrats will meet in Duluth at 8 p. m. Jan. 31 to choose ninety-two delegates to the party's conference to be held at the St. Paul auditorium on Feb. 3.

Harris Bennett, chairman of the St. Louis county Democratic committee, announced the meeting today. He said that it would be a mass meeting, and not to consist of delegates chosen by the county, but that all Democrats are invited to attend and take part.

While the meeting is called primarily to choose delegates to the St. Paul conference, at which the matter of choosing delegates to the national convention will be discussed and determined, there is nothing to prevent the discussion of other matters connected with the ensuing state and national campaign. It is expected that Democrats from all parts of the county will be present.

In connection with this matter, it is learned that letters have been received from some of the leading Democrats of the county, asking for support to have Douglas Greely, Virginia banker, chosen as presidential elector.

NEW PASSENGER RATES INCONGRUOUS
Money Saved By Buying Tickets for Wisconsin Points in Superior.

One of the incongruities of the recent advance of interstate passenger rates--of which there are many, it is said--applies distinctly to the Head of the Lakes, for a person headed for any point in Wisconsin may save a tidy sum by traveling to the Superior side of the bay and buying his ticket there.

A fair sample is the passenger rate to Milwaukee. The fare, under the new rates, put in last Friday at midnight, between Duluth and Milwaukee was $4.08. Between Superior and Milwaukee, both being in the same state, the fare is $7.44, difference for the Duluthian of $3.36. The fare between Duluth and Superior is 15 cents by passenger train and 10 cents by street car, and that going to Milwaukee, a Duluthian can save from $1.49 to $1.64, according to the means of travel.

The same thing applies, proportionately, to all points in Wisconsin. Passenger men here say that the fare to Chicago could be reduced in the same way to Chicago by taking the train at Superior, purchasing to the Illinois line and there rebooking to Chicago.

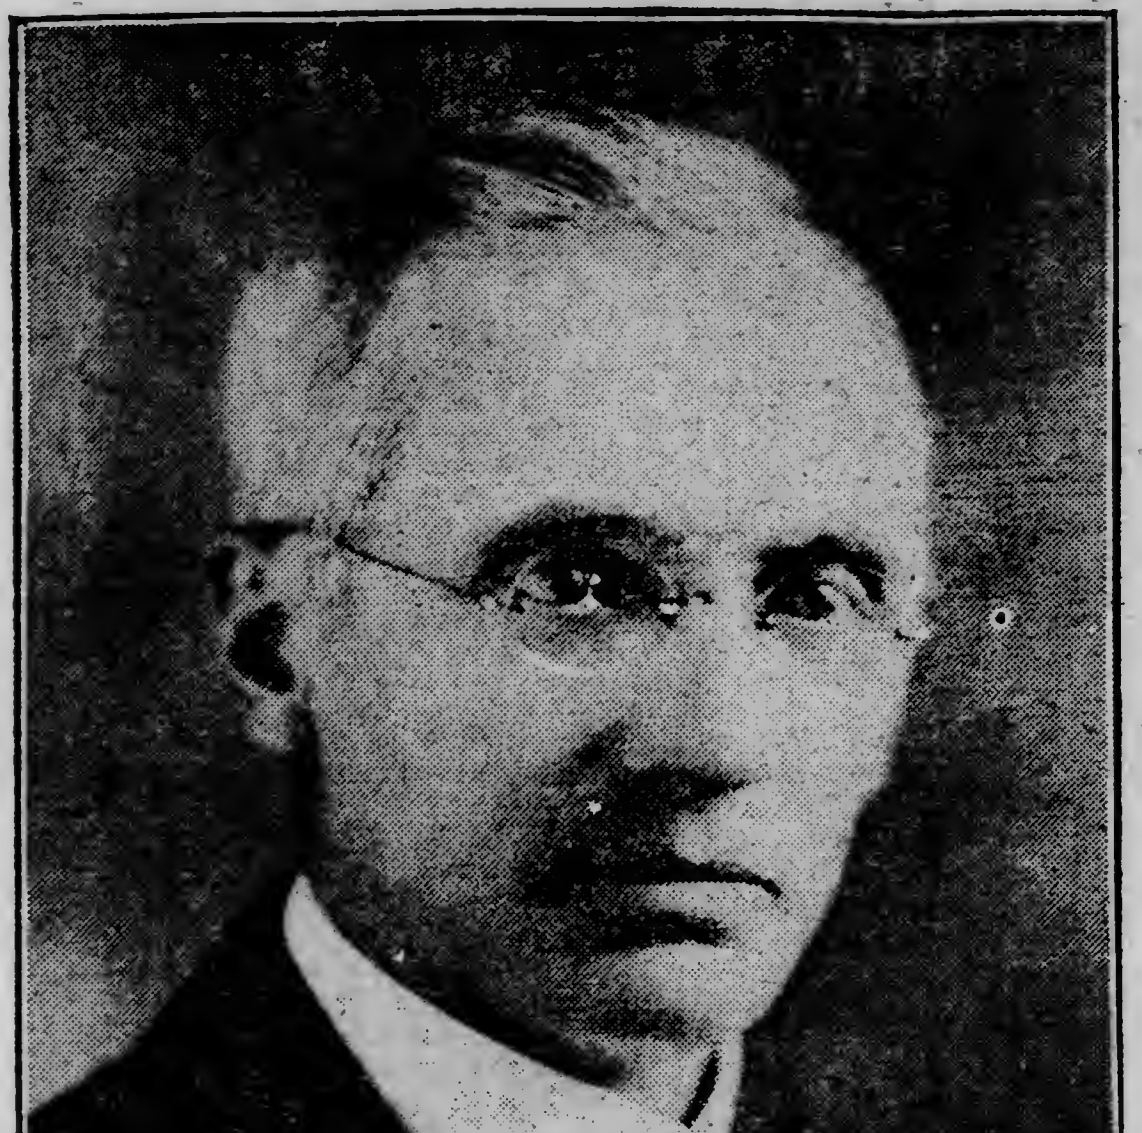

The same conditions apply at the two ends, for, by purchasing the through ticket from Hudson which is in Wisconsin, the lower rate can be obtained. The handling of baggage would be the chief problem, but one traveling light would not be inconvenienced.

NEW PRESIDENT OF DULUTH BOARD HAS BEEN A GRAIN TRADER TWENTY YEARS

W. C. Mitchell, who was yesterday elected president of the Duluth board of trade for a second term, is one of the best known operators in the grain trade in the Northwest.

He became a member of the local board twenty years ago, removing here from Big Rapids, Mich., and for a number of years he traded under the firm title of W. C. Mitchell & Co. Later, as the business operations of his house were extended, other interests were taken in and the company was incorporated as the Randall, Gee & Mitchell.

Optimistic views are entertained by Mr. Mitchell regarding the outlook for the development of operations in the grain trade at Duluth. With the readjustments of freight rates, brought about as a result of rulings by the interstate commerce commission, he is sanguine that a steadily increasing proportion of grain from over the Northwest will be routed to the Head of the Lakes.

FINE OUTLOOK FOR BUILDERS

More Plans Going Out From Local Exchange Than in Years.

Duluth contractors and building material supply men are sanguine that the coming season will prove the most satisfactory in years in the trade in this country, for example, is said to be reaching a bumper wheat crop.

It is regarded as gratifying too that the work is coming to hand so early, being usually well into March before proposals begin to definitely develop to any extent.

The changed condition of affairs in the building trade is reflected in the activity shown in materials jobbing circles. The production of plate glass in this country, for example, is said to be the largest in the history of the industry. The monthly output of glass is estimated to be reaching an aggregate of 6,000,000 square feet at present, and in place of heavy losses after the middle of September they are reported to have their four requirements for only three or four months ahead on the average.

As a result of the bumper wheat crop in this country and Canada, the trade then, as a rule, looked forward to a lower range of prices prevailing in the winter months. The price of wheat, however, has been steadily extending. In that connection it is mentioned that its mill has not been closed down for more than two years on account of lack of orders, a record that Mr. Goodman believes will be broken.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
By local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional medicine. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane of the middle ear. When this is the case, the inflamed membrane is swollen, and the sound waves cannot pass through it. The only way to cure deafness is by using a medicine that will reach the diseased portion of the ear and cure the inflammation. This can be done by using a medicine that will reach the diseased portion of the ear and cure the inflammation.

LIGHTS AND SHADOWS OF POLICE COURT

SOLILQUY RUDELY BROKEN.

Mr. Hamlet Gets Drunk and Is Fined By Court.

"To plead or not to plead, that is the question." A tall, dark man, with melancholy mien, was standing in municipal court this morning, and disregarding the judge and court officers, he was soliloquizing to himself.

"To plead or not to plead." "Mr. Hamlet," the court interrupted, "I must ask you to enter a plea. You were drunk, weren't you?"

"Yes, but--" "Five dollars and costs or seven days," cut in the judge. "Sit down," Mr. Hamlet said down and thus ended the soliloquy.

Hamlet came here from Bremer, Minn. yesterday with a friend who was called as a district court case witness.

While court was in session Hamlet wandered into the byways, and lost himself in a reverie which was broken rudely by Special Officer Anderson of the Northern Pacific railway.

Police said Hamlet didn't stop to figure out whether it was nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune or to take up arms--

Hamlet, busied himself looking for the Bremer friend, so that he could pay the $7 and gain his freedom.

ANYWAY HIS JAW WAS BROKEN.

Judge Refuses to Consider Whether Fist or Bottle Did It.

What is the difference between a fist and a beer bottle? Judge W. H. Smallwood in municipal court today ruled that there were no differences when the difference was negligible.

John Kobron was on trial for assaulting John Rosko. Rosko, in his complaint, alleged that Kobron had struck him with the heavy end of a bottle and had broken his jaw.

Kobron admitted hitting him, but said that he didn't use a beer bottle. Witnesses didn't see the bottle, and they thought Kobron had used his fist.

Dr. E. E. Wunder testified that Rosko had a shattered jaw, and that he would lose several teeth, and that he was in a serious condition generally.

Kobron's attorney moved for dismissal on the ground that the complaint didn't say anything about a fist. Judge Smallwood took a look at Rosko's head, which was covered with bandages, and bound Kobron over to await grand jury action. Bail was fixed at $250.

HAVE "MYSTERY MAN."
Police Trying to Learn Something About Segert Nordlie.

A "mystery" man who claimed to have walked from Clouet to Duluth, after going without meals for two days, was found near a Northern Pacific railway track at Twenty-first avenue west last night by a switching crew.

Members of the crew said the man had been bumped by a freight car and knocked down, but Police Surgeon Harry K. Jones said he didn't think so. He said the man had a slight bruise on his back after he had been taken to St. Luke's hospital.

After considerable cross-examination Dr. Klein said the man's name probably was Segert Nordlie. He is believed to be 25 years old and unmarried.

Except that he once was in Cusson, Minn., the man knows nothing about himself. He doesn't remember anything of what he has done for three days, or where he has been.

Police believe he has relatives at Cusson. From scraps of conversation they have concluded that he is the son of some other near relative works in the Virginia & Italy Lake mill near Cusson.

They have communicated with the mill, acting on that theory.

BUSINESS AFFAIRS COULD BE IMPROVED
Education Dominant Feature at University of Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 20.--(Special to The Herald.)--Interrogating Public Examiner Fritz as to conditions at the state university, the new efficiency and economy commission forced from Mr. Fritz the opinion that the business and economy of the university could be improved by the adoption of certain reforms.

Judge Asks Board of Parole to Deal Lightly With Charles Anderson.

With a recommendation to the state board of parole to the effect that he be released as soon as possible, Judge Charles Anderson, 37, confessed forger, to a term of not more than ten years in the state penitentiary.

Anderson celebrated last New Year's day by "singing" and "dancing" in the streets of Duluth. He was the favorite of the crowd. Five dollars was the favorite amount used. The first one was passed in the street by Carl Jensen, 1205 West Michigan street, was another victim.

While engaged in the pastime of estimating Oscar Lindstrom, 519 West Michigan street, to take some of his paper in exchange for a "V-spot," Anderson was arrested.

Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, conferred with the court in recommending leniency.

"MOTHER" JONES BRINGS PEACE
Smooths Over Disagreement Among Delegates to Miners' Convention.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 20.--After a bitter debate over a resolution to investigate the financial affairs of the United Mine Workers of America, administration forces won a sweeping victory in the convention today when the delegates, with comparatively few dissenting votes, voted down the resolution.

The result came with a sudden climax when "Mother" Mary Jones, more than 80 years of age, stepped on the platform and demanded that the belligerent delegates bury the hatchet, and that Duncan McDonald and Adolph Gerner of Illinois, who had been leaders of the organization, come to the platform and shake hands.

And tumultuous enthusiasm the two men went upon the stage and, without exchanging any greeting with each other, shook hands.

EXPECT BIG ATTENDANCE AT BURNS CELEBRATION
Clan Stewart members have practically completed their preparations for the Burns night festivities at the Spaulding hotel Jan. 25.

At the regular meeting of the order last night P. T. McDonald, chairman of the amusement committee, reported that from all indications the celebration would be probably the most elaborate ever staged by the Duluth Burns club.

Jan. 25 will be the 15th anniversary of the great Scotch poet's birth. The Burns night celebration is one of the Northern Wisconsin recently died here, aged 48. Her husband survives.

Big Bank Clearings.
Duluth bank clearings made a good showing again this week, an increase of $418,625.55 over last year being reported. Total clearings for the week ended today were $1,837,456, compared with $4,585,617.43 a year ago. The showing is regarded as gratifying by bank officials in view of the light grain movement and business being retarded in many lines through the unfavorable weather conditions.

WHEAT AGAIN SELLS DOWN

Market Lower With Fresh Selling to Reduce Operators' Lines.

Flaxseed Bulges at Start But Breaks in Late Trading.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 20.—The market was easy, with close with traders showing inclination to close up their commitments. May wheat closed 1/2c off and July 1/4c off. May durum closed 1/4c off and July 1/4c off.

After showing weakness around the opening, with a continuance of the liquidation that had been evident yesterday, the wheat market became strong late in the session today. The upturn was attributed to a renewal of export buying on an extended scale at the seaboard and at Winnipeg. The underlying strength at the latter place was indicated in the absorption there of a large offering of Minneapolis wheat. It was further intimated that cash wheat was picked up there for export shipment through the Canadian lake ports.

Flaxseed was strong at the opening, but broke in late trading. It was picked up there for export shipment through the Canadian lake ports.

At St. Louis, May wheat closed at $1.25 and July at $1.19. At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.20 and July at $1.15. At Minneapolis, May wheat closed at $1.20 and July at $1.15.

Broomfield cable from Liverpool: "Wheat market pressure at the opening. Winters and Manitobas were 3d to 1/2d lower. Corn was dull."

French authorities state that Great Britain has purchased from Roumania about 20,000 bu of wheat.

Allowing 500,000,000 bu wheat for consumption, 80,000,000 bu for seed and 115,000,000 bu exported to date, according to the Daily Trade Journal. This leaves 1,320,000,000 bu for export and for supplies on hand July 1, 1916, about 335,000,000 bu. Exports from Jan. 1 to July 1, last year, were 142,000,000 bu.

Estimated Argentine shipments: Wheat, 150,000 bu; last week, 370,000 bu; and 313,000 bu; last week, 1,700,000 bu; and last year, 2,400,000 bu.

Russell's News, New York, said: Private English cables on wheat are much maintained in view of advancing ocean freight rates. Equal to 48c a bushel was reported from New York to the United Kingdom. Ship brokers are that industry's chartering was up in spite of the stiff freight situation. Argentine wheat shipments showed improvement this week, being estimated at 180,000 bu against 213,000 bu last year.

May wheat opened 1/4c off at $1.25, sold off 1/4c, then moved up 1/4c.

Flax Tapers Strong. Flaxseed trading showed a market reversal of form. In spite of lower cables, buyers were tight under the market and prices were readily advanced 3c during the session. Cable quotations were 1/4c higher than the market and the bulge was nearly all lost.

It is strong statistical condition of the market is the controlling factor. It is estimated that importations all the way up to 17,000,000 bu from Argentina will be required to meet the needs of the United States, of that only 1,000,000 bu so far have been brought in.

Clearance reported: Wheat, 1,320,000 bu; flour, 103,000 bu; total, 1,423,000 bu; corn, 1,000 bu; oats, 400,000 bu.

Primary markets report the following receipts and shipments today: Wheat—Receipts, 1,127,000 bu; last year, 800,000 bu; shipments, 620,000 bu; last year, 771,000 bu.

Corn—Receipts, 25,000 bu; last year, 17,000 bu; shipments, 460,000 bu; last year, 510,000 bu.

Oats—Receipts, 1,000 bu; last year, 1,000 bu; shipments, 62,000 bu; last year, 54,000 bu.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 20.—The principal grain crops of Canada during 1915 showed the most abundant yield in the history of the dominion, according to the statement of the census and statistics officers here yesterday. The increased yield of wheat and oats is said to be due to the expansion of the acreage by special efforts resulting from the war, as well as an exceptional favorable season.

The total value of field crops in 1915 amounted to approximately $900,000,000, comprising grain, $568,161,800; potatoes and sugar beets, $35,739,000; and other crops, $96,100,000.

Total yields in bushels for 1915 as compared with 1914 were as follows: Wheat, 2,630,000,000 as against 1,612,000,000; oats, 520,000,000 as against 313,000,000; peas, 348,500 as against 232,000; beans, 729,400 as against 797,500; buckwheat, 7,565,000 as against 17,175,000; mixed grain, 17,523,000 as against 16,392,500; and corn for husk, 4,988,000 as against 13,224,000.

The quality of the crops, it was said, was superior to 1914 and also superior to the average of the last five years. Total values were: Wheat, $312,565,000.

WAR OF GREAT FLOOD

UNPREPAREDNESS OF
ARMY AND NAVY SHOWN
BY VARIOUS SPEAKERSForeign Policy of Administration Arraigned By Henry A. Wood.Advocates Armed Force
Superior to Any Foreign Country.Addresses Made By Meyer and Others Before Security League.Washington, Jan. 21.—Attacks on the administration's foreign policies and pointed references to "the utter state of unpreparedness of the army and navy" and the awakening of public opinion on the subject of adequate defense were features of addresses by prominent speakers today before the National Security League.

An arraignment of the foreign policies of the administration was made by Henry A. Wood, chairman of the conference, committee on national defense, New York.

"It may be said with accuracy that we have no foreign policy at the moment," he said. "With the destruction of our citizens, while upon foreign merchant ships, or upon our merchant ships, we offer no armed interference, nor do we offer armed interference when our citizens upon foreign soil are destroyed, their wives and children outtraged, their property confiscated.
Furthermore, it is to be doubted whether at the moment we are willing to enforce by armed intervention such of our domestic policies as are inimical to the interests of foreign nations.
Therefore, to discuss a naval policy for the United States at this time would seem a mere academic question were it not for certain indications that we

ANOTHER STATEMENT
IN VON PAPPEN'S CASESays Papers Will Show He Never Made Payment to Horn.Berlin, Jan. 21, wireless to Sayville.—
Another statement in defense of Capt.
Franz von Pappen, former German military attache at Washington, was made today by the Overseas News agency, as follows:

"A wireless dispatch from England says that the letters, checks and vouchers which were taken from Capt.
von Pappen by the British at Falmouth in violation of international law, are to be published. It is to be hoped that they will be reproduced in fac-simile, because it will then be evident that Capt. von Pappen never made a payment to Werner Horn, who is accused of having attempted to blow up a Canadian railway bridge.

"But in case the British publish anything of this kind, it may be asserted in advance that it will be a forgery.

"It is interesting to note that in the British wireless reports the accusation that Capt. Pappen was connected with any plots to blow up ammunition works in the United States apparently has been dropped. The case of Horn is singled out.

"It is solemnly stated in the British wireless dispatches that the letters and other documents taken from Capt. von Pappen were seized because they were personal belongings which were not protected by the safe conduct guaranteed to him. If this is really the British idea, everybody in Germany will regret that it was not known before, for in that case the archives of the German embassy might have been searched after the beginning of the war.
No doubt they would have brought to light interesting information concerning the policy carried on for years against Germany.

FIVE NEGROES TAKEN FROM GEORGIA JAIL AND KILLEDFound Hanging to Limb of Tree in Outskirts of Stakville.Held as Suspects in Killing of Sheriff of Lee County.Albany, Ga., Jan. 21.—Five negroes taken from the Worth county jail at Sylvester last night, were hanged to one limb of a tree on the outskirts of Stakville, some time during the night.
The bodies, containing many bullet holes, were found this morning.

Forty or fifty men, acting with precision indicative of carefully laid plans, took the five negroes from the jail and sped away in automobiles. They were being held in connection with the killing of Sheriff Moreland of Lee county,

TEUTONIC ALLIESLondon, Jan. 21.—An Amsterdam dispatch to the Central News says that the total booty of the Teutonic allies during seventeen months of war is summed up in Vienna as follows: Nearly 3,000,000 prisoners, 10,000 guns and 400,000 machine guns, while 400,000 square kilometers of enemy territory

CAPTUREDNo Foundation for Story That Rebel Leader Was Caught.Rumors Positively Denied
By Gen. Herrera at Chihuahua City.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 21.—Reports that Francisco Villa had been captured at San Gerónimo, Chihuahua, by Gen.
Cavazos of the Carranza forces, were denied early today by Gen. Luis Herrera at Chihuahua City. Herrera is in command at Chihuahua City, Gen. Jacinto Trevino having left for Torreon last night.

The report of the capture came to the border from sources which were thought to be reliable and were given credit by the authorities.

The absence of Gen. Trevino and Gen.
Ignacio Enriquez, governor of the state, from Chihuahua City, telegrams asking confirmation of the capture were unanswered.

No News at Washington.

Washington, Jan. 21.—The state department's only information early today on the reported capture of Gen.
Villa was in delayed dispatches from agents at El Paso conveying last night's unconfirmed reports that he was a prisoner.

Another dispatch repeated the report from Chihuahua that eighteen bandits, alleged to have been among those who killed the Americans at Santa Ysabel, had been brought there and would be executed today.

CORONATION OF KAI
OF CHINA POSTPONEDUprisings in Various Provinces Cause Emperor to Change Plans.Peking, Jan. 21.—The coronation of Yuan Shi Kai, as emperor of China, has been postponed indefinitely. The reason given officially is the uprising in Southern China.

The foreign office notified the various legations today that the emperor's coronation would take place early in February, but that Yuan Shi Kai had issued an order cancelling the arrangements, in view of the disturbances in Yunnan province. No intimation was given when the enthronement will take place.

Government officials estimate that not more than six months will be required to quiet the disturbances in the South.

TEUTON TROOPS BURNED

LISTENING FOR A VOICE IN THE DESERT.

AUSTRIANS ARE WITHIN FIFTEEN MILES OF NEW MONTENEGRIN CAPITALBegin Rapid Operations as Soon as Peace Negotiations Are Broken.Little Further Light Thrown on the Situation in Greece.Only Minor Operations Reported From the Russian Front.

London, Jan. 21.—Newspaper dispatches from Vienna report the renewal of active operations by Austrians against Montenegro. Detachments of the Austrian forces are said to be within fifteen miles of Scutari itself.
Recent dispatches stated that the seat of the Montenegrin government had been established at Scutari.

The declaration in a Vienna dispatch today denied reports that the peace negotiations between Austria and Montenegro had been broken off, may be explained by the fact that the dispatch was a belated one, filed yesterday. All the advices from the Montenegrin side continue to indicate the contrary.

Little further light has been thrown on the situation in Greece, where the Entente Powers were said in recent German reports to be applying further coercive measures.

"A Vienna estimate of the captured by the Teutonic allies during the seventeen months of war puts the number of prisoners at nearly 2,000,000, with 10,000 guns and 40,000 machine guns, while 470,000 square kilometers of hostile territory are in their possession.

Berlin, Jan. 21, wireless to Sayville.—

by army headquarters today. The statement reports merely the easy re-

PREMIER SALANDRA.

Florence, Italy, Jan. 21.—In an address delivered here, Antonio Salandra, the Italian premier, said:

"We thought this would be a short and easy war, but it has become a long and a hard one. We had thought that all the hardships would be of a military character, but we find it difficult even behind the front to keep on fighting. However, we are going to do it, and we shall persevere until victory is won."

THWART PLANS OF BOMB CARRIERNew York Police Arrest Man
With Can of High Explosives.

New York, Jan. 21.—The police announced today that with the arrest last night of Michael Grasianno, while carrying a suitcase containing a bomb, they believed they had thwarted a plan to blow up the Brooklyn bridge or the new municipal building. The bomb was constructed so as to explode with tremendous force. It consisted of an agate can four inches in diameter and four feet long, into which an agate cover had been tightly driven, with a fuse connecting with the explosive.

Members of the bomb squad had been watching Grasianno for three months, having learned, they said, that an attempt was to be made to blow up "a big building." They also arrested Leonardo Di Nisco in connection with the case.

ILLINOIS CITIES IN DANGER FROM RAPID RISING OF RIVERSTelephone and Telegraph Wires Convey Information of Peril Which Threatens the People.Torrential Rains Have Already Done Great Damage in Chicago, Joliet and Other Places.Aurora, Ill., Jan. 21.—Warning of a probable great flood, liable to sweep away thousands of homes and buildings and cripple water supplies along the Fox river was flashed by telephone and telegraph through the Fox river valley today.

Rivers Rapidly Rising.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Rivers throughout Northern Illinois, swollen by rains which fell almost continually throughout the night, today overflowed their banks and inundated a score of cities and villages. No loss of life was reported but property damage was estimated at several hundred thousand dollars.

All through the valley of the Des Plaines, the water spread far over the lowlands, reaching its height in the neighborhood of Joliet, where a large section of the city was inundated and surrounding villages flooded with five to six feet of water.

Sheets of water spread over the western suburbs and boats and hastily constructed rafts were utilized.

Aurora and Elgin on the Fox river and intermediate towns of St. Charles, Batavia and Geneva reported high water and much damage.

The rain swept over the two northern tiers of Illinois counties from Chicago to Davenport.

LETTER FROM GERMAN SPYLincoln, Who Escaped, Will Return If Granted Immunity.New York Department of Justice Receives Message
From Him.

New York, Jan. 21.—Capt. Office of the department of justice yesterday received a letter from Ignatius T. Lincoln, the confessed German spy, who escaped from a United States deputy marshal last Saturday, in which the writer offered to surrender at once if guaranteed immunity from prosecution on the forgery charge which caused his arrest last August.

The forgery charge was preferred by the department of justice here, and he was being held in a Brooklyn jail pending extradition to England.

Lincoln, a Hungarian by birth, but a naturalized Englishman and former member of the British parliament, contended that the British authorities did not wish to try him on the forgery charge but to execute him for espionage work.

In view of this, it is expected his offer of surrender is conditioned upon a guarantee from the United States government that the recent order for his extradition would be revoked.

LONDON NEWSPAPER
PRAISES PRESIDENTSays Public Should Become Better Acquainted With Executive's Difficulties.

London, Jan. 21.—The Daily News devotes the most prominent positions on its editorial page to a defense of President Wilson and his foreign policy.
The News declares that Mr. Wilson occupies a position of exceptional difficulty, adding that "if British press and public took a little more trouble to understand him and were more conscious of the absurdity of lecturing a great republic on what its president ought to do, it would be much to the advantage of the Anglo-American future."

Discussing the English attitude towards the United States, it says:

"There is a section of the British press that is not treating the United States strictly as a neutral power. They have treated the United States as if they were one of the family."

"A recent number of an American magazine contains a symposium giving the reasons of English writers why America should come into the war.
This is a piece of gratuitous imperi-ence. We have no business to advise Americans what line of policy they should pursue."

PRESIDENT'S TOUR
TO BEGIN JAN. 29Will Formally Open His Fight for Preparedness at Pittsburgh.

Washington, Jan. 21.—President Wilson formally will open his fight for national preparedness with a speech in Pittsburgh Jan. 29. The first tour will include, besides Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Des Moines and Davenport. The second tour will probably start about Feb. 15 and is expected to extend as far west as Denver, with probable stops in the South on the return trip.

WOULD LIMIT
IMMIGRATIONOnly Way to Maintain High Standard of American Workingmen.So Secretary Morrison of
A. F. of L. Tells House Committee.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Only by limiting immigration can high standards of living and good wages be maintained among American workingmen, Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, declared in advocating the literacy test bill today before the house immigration committee.

Chairman Burnett, introducer of the bill, declared that of 2,500,000 foreigners in the United States, only 25-300 were attempting to learn English.
Ignorant and unambitious, he declared, they work cheaply, live in squalor and create conditions that drive American workingmen from a community. To such ends, he insisted, were due the recent Youngstown riots.

A workingman told me he left Youngstown for no other reason than the contaminating influences that these foreign laborers had created there," Mr. Burnett said. "And what decent, self-respecting American, Irishman or German would tolerate such conditions?"

NO SALARY RAISES YET

Teachers Must Await Action By the State Legislature.

Board Favors Higher Maximum Salary and Automatic Increases.

Salary raises for public school teachers are out of the question until the legislature increases the money-raising power of the board of education, board directors declared today.

Although not opposed to a higher maximum salary and automatic increases, requested by teachers in recent petitions and the basis of a campaign which they have started, board directors say the instructors' wishes cannot be met.

"It is hard to spend more money than you have," said C. Francis Colman, chairman of the board's committee on finance. "That is the long and short of it."

"Teachers' salaries must be paid out of the general fund. The limit for the general fund, according to state law, now is eight mills on the city's assessed valuation of approximately $55,000,000. This brings us about $440,000, and of that total we now are paying more than $400,000 in teachers' and janitors' salaries."

According to our rule, however, regular bills at the various schools also must be paid out of the general fund, so it is obvious that we will not be able to raise salaries until the legislature allows a levy of more than eight mills for the general fund, or until the city's assessed valuation becomes much larger.

The general fund is exhausted before the end of the year, as it is, and we overdraw on the general account frequently. Board members are anxious to do all they can for teachers, but they are unable to see how any provision can be made for salary advances."

In 1913 the salary maximum for teachers in the first six grades was raised from $300 to $350. For seventh and eighth grade teachers the maximum was made $300 instead of $250. In March, 1914, the minimum salary for grade teachers was raised from $150 to $160 annually, or for the ten months. At the same time, the board approved a plan for raising the maximum for junior high school teachers to $1,000.

Last year salaries of more than half of the teachers on the district's payroll were raised. The increases granted amounted to between $12,000 and $15,000, according to statistics available at Central high school.

Two hundred and nine grade and high school teachers were given $30 raises; twenty were given $25 advances; five were advanced $100; one was advanced $150, and one was advanced $100. The last named is J. R. Adair, an instructor at the R. E. Denfeld high school.

The list shows that about 170 instructors and principals were not given raises. This includes the twenty-seven principals whose income remained the same. Principals at $850 and had in many cases reached the salary maximum.

Definite action on a petition from the teachers' association, asking that the board inaugurate an automatic annual advance, and raise the salary maximum and minimum, is expected at the next meeting of the board of education.

It is perfectly legitimate to advertise bargains if they are honestly represented, but such false statements and gross misrepresentations as have appeared in our daily papers lately do not conform with our ideas of honest business methods.

MISTOOK EVANGELIST FOR BARTENDERS' SECRETARY

FRED B. FISHER.

"Well, old chap, what are you going to pull off tonight?" was the familiar remark made to Rev. Fred B. Fisher, leader of the Laymen's Missionary team now holding a convention in Duluth. Rev. Mr. Fisher was somewhat surprised to find a stranger approach him in such a familiar way, and rather expected to be "touched," except for the prosperous appearance of the stranger.

"Nothing special that I know of," answered Rev. Mr. Fisher. "The meetings are proceeding in the usual way." "Aw, come on now," insisted the stranger; "you're wise to that little stunt we're going to pull off, ain't you?"

"I guess you've got the wrong man," suggested the clerical gentleman. "Perhaps I have. Ain't you the secretary of the bartenders' union?"

The stranger now admits that the drinks are "on him," but hasn't had the nerve to suggest "buying" for the laymen leader. Dr. Fisher is a Methodist.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT

Y. M. C. A. ACTIVITIES

The meeting of the first aid class at the boys' department last night was well attended and got a lot of interest being taken in the course. The club meets every Wednesday at 5:30, following a life-saving club which meets at the swimming pool.

The high school club met at 6:15, with a large attendance, to talk over plans for the entertainment of the girls' club.

Willard Thorp and Norman Duffy, the committee in charge, asked for suggestion.

Friday the intermediate club will meet for dinner at 6 o'clock. After the dinner there is a short period for Bible study. This will be followed by club meetings at 7:30. The electrical club will be in charge of Alice Simpson; the camera club, L. P. Gallagher; the mouth organ club, N. D. Gallagher; the stunt club, Stanley Lamb. A Morse club will also organize tonight, if enough boys are interested. At 7:45 the regular Friday night social will be held. It will be in charge of Percy Bevis and John Hoxie of the social committee.

Saturday afternoon the outing committee will feature a bobbing party. Big boats have been secured and a good afternoon of sliding has been arranged for. The party will leave the boys' building at 2 o'clock. At 7:30 there will be a basketball game between the three presidents' boys' basketball teams and the Culver club at the Y. M. C. A. Following this, all boys taking the citizenship test will have an opportunity of trying any of the physical tests. Sunday the boys' department members will be guests at the laymen's convention. Special seats will be reserved. The boys will meet at 3 and go over in a body.

Duncan McDougall Dies.

Duncan McDougall, for many years a Duluth resident, died yesterday afternoon at the residence of his brother, Neil McDougall, of a long illness. He was 51 years old.

Neil McDougall is superintendent of the Duluth isolation hospital, and resides at the institution. Duncan McDougall formerly was employed by Knutson Fruit company, and up to the time of his illness, roomed at 121 West Second street.

Funeral services will be held from Stewart's chapel, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. A. McLaughlin will officiate. The body will be taken to the old family home at Princeton, Ont., and interment will be at that city.

DENTISTS EXPECT BIG CONVENTION

About Seventy-Five Will Attend Duluth District Meeting.

Between sixty and seventy-five dentists are expected to attend the third annual meeting and clinic of the Duluth District Dental society, which will be held tomorrow at the Holland hotel.

Dr. J. A. Maker will be the presiding officer. Among those who will make addresses at the afternoon clinic will be: Dr. H. A. Maves, who will talk on "Dental Impressions," Dr. T. E. Hartzell, who will talk on "Prosthodontics," and Dr. E. E. House, who will offer demonstrations and exhibits. A business meeting will be held at 6 o'clock and an hour later dinner will be served.

The evening program will consist of an address by C. H. Mackintosh on "What Your Patients Think," and a paper by Dr. S. R. Holden on "The Business Side of Dentistry." Dr. Hartzell will give a stereopticon lecture on the treatment of secondary infection.

CLANDESTINE MAIL ORDERS UNCLE SAM

Flirtations by mail must cease, according to instructions just received by Postmaster McEwen from the authorities at Washington.

This means that persons using the general delivery window for the purpose of receiving love letters, although they live in Duluth and have permanent addresses, will be rudely awakened in the very near future.

Up to the present time there has been no general abuse of the general delivery and box systems, but a number of Duluthians are using the mail for questionable purposes, and we are watching these carefully," said Postmaster McEwen. "The postal clerks keep an accurate record of all letters and mail is sent to the homes whenever an adequate address is obtainable. Some time ago the post office department forwarded instructions to curb the unwarranted use of the general delivery and we have been weeding out those who abuse the system."

WILL ADDRESS AGGIES.

Thompson and Hostetter to Talk to Classes in Nashua and Keewatin.

Mark J. Thompson, superintendent of the Northeast demonstration farm, and A. B. Hostetter, district supervisor of agricultural agents, will attend meetings at Nashua and Keewatin next month at which they will deliver addresses before agricultural school classes.

"Feeding the Dairy Cow" will be the subject of Mr. Thompson's lecture, and Mr. Hostetter will talk on "Home Gardens." The exact dates of the lectures have not been announced.

NEW COURSE ADDED.

Y. M. C. A. Auto School Will Hear Talk and See Demonstration on Magnetos.

Ralph Beckwith, magneto expert, will give a lecture and demonstration this evening at 7:30 before the Y. M. C. A. automobile school, which is conducted in the Healy garage. Mr. Beckwith, president of the Wisconsin Auto company of Minneapolis and has made a specialty of magneto work.

This is one of the new features which is being introduced into the Y. M. C. A. automobile school, to add to the instruction of Mr. Healy, who has had charge of the work for several years.

The school has been very popular this year and a large number of new men have been enrolling during the present week so that a new group may be formed within the next few days.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

EX-OFFICER HAPPY NOW

Retired Member of Police Force in Minneapolis Makes Discovery.

Finds Relief From His Sufferings After a Long Search.

Thousands of Minneapolis people know and admire Paul Nast, one of the oldest members of the Minneapolis police force, who has retired after serving faithfully for twenty-three years. Mr. Nast, who resides at 2615 Twenty-third avenue, is now engaged in the carpenter business.

While performing his duties Mr. Nast contracted a severe case of catarrh of the stomach.

Mr. Nast's story of how he suffered and how he found relief can best be told in his own words.

"I suffered untold agonies with catarrh of the stomach for the next three years," he explained. "I had a continual feeling of depression during those weary years. I would toss and roll right at night. I would toss and roll when I got up in the morning. I felt more tired than when I went to bed. Every damp morning I would get up with a choking sensation in my throat and a fullness in my head. I coughed up mucus and sniffed, almost continually.

"I tried one medicine after another without finding any relief. I tried to fight it off but I couldn't. I had become discouraged when I heard of Tan-lac and what wonderful things it had done for Minneapolis people, who were suffering as I did. I bought a bottle.

"To say that I am satisfied with what Tan-lac has done for me, would be putting it mildly. I am overjoyed and can't say too much for this wonderful tonic. It did for me just what was necessary.

"That dull, drowsy feeling has left me and I feel bright when I arise in the morning, and stay that way all day. I sleep well and am able to eat practically everything I relish.

"I want to recommend Tan-lac to all who suffer as I did. I have experienced with a good many medicines and not until I found Tan-lac have I been willing to endorse any one of them.

"Tan-lac, the great reconstructive, may be procured at the drug store of William A. Abbott, 'the careful druggist,' 219 West Superior street.

INCOME MUST BE DECLARED

Statement Required By Uncle Sam Not Later
Than March 1.

Leeway Until June 1 Given to Make Payments.

If you are unmarried and earning more than $3,000 a year, or if you are married and earning more than $4,000, the time has arrived for thinking about making your annual contribution to Uncle Sam. In other words, the time has arrived to make your income tax declaration; the payment of the tax has a leeway up to the end of June, but the declarations must be in by March 1.

Last year was the first that the income tax law was in force, and while the government aimed to get everybody affected by it to make declarations on time, and income tax in the way of education, much was forgiven when slips were made. However, it will be different this year, for those affected are supposed to know, and the old rule "ignorance of the law excuses no man" will be fully in force.

Concerning the requirements of the income tax law, J. J. Robinson, Duluth attorney, who has made a specialty of the law, said to the Herald today:

"Now that the time has arrived for making income tax reports it is well to keep in mind that all individuals, married or single, who have earned $3,000 or more during the year 1915, must make and file their income tax returns and claim their exemptions. The exemptions are $2,000 for single and $4,000 for married persons.

"The only exception to this rule is where the income is derived from dividends of a corporation. The reason for the exception is that the corporation pays the tax on such dividend. However, if a person's income from dividends amounts to $20,000 or over he must make a return for the purpose of the surtax.

"In case of corporations the rule differs from that of individuals. All corporations, regardless of what their income has been, having existed during the year 1915 or any part thereof, must make and file their returns with the government.

"HIRED GIRLS" KNOW LITTLE ABOUT DUTIES

Mill City Survey Shows Few Domestics Familiar With Work.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The average "hired girl" does not care for technical training in household duties and the average housewife employer could not afford to pay the higher wages due skilled workers, according to a report made here today by the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education by Miss M. Rowe of the agricultural division of the University of Minnesota. The report was one of the results of the "Minneapolis Survey" which subject engaged the exclusive attention of the convention this morning.

The report on homeworkers said the investigation was conducted by undergraduates of the university belonging to the Phi Upsilon Omicron society, a professional home economics society.

After disposing of the "hired girl" question the report said of the second type of home that "most home workers are performing their own daily tasks have gained whatever technical knowledge they possess from their own experiences or from the experiences of their mothers and their friends." It was said that "while fifty-one such housekeepers expressed a desire for a practical and experienced teacher, only eleven spoke of the necessity of technical training."

The investigators thought this "emphasized that the women with training but lacking actual experience in housework find it difficult to gain the confidence of their employers."

Very Few Had Training.

In its general conclusion the report stated, in part:

"Only one out of every five home workers have had training in any of the household arts except what they got 'on the job' a condition which renders them tolerated in any other profession with an equal amount of skill and technical requirements.

"The great average American home makes the largest demand for training; the type of home in which the work is done by the homemaker herself."

SUPT. C. G. SELVIG ON "HOME PROJECTS"

Crookston Farm School
Head Speaks at Mill City Gathering.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The relation of the "home project" and agricultural instruction were discussed here today before a sectional meeting of the convention of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, by C. G. Selvig, superintendent of the Northwest School of Agriculture of the University of Minnesota, at Crookston. Mr. Selvig said in part:

"The home project as the center of agricultural instruction secures the interest of students; insures definite, purposeful preparation for the definite project, and such supporting principles as are directly involved, and gives the student a financial interest in his particular project.

Is Likely to be Narrow.

"Considered from a pedagogical viewpoint this form of home project work is likely to be narrow. Fundamental principles, even, may be entirely lacking in some projects. There is danger also of spending too much time on mechanics and non-educational labor which is not justified from an educational point of view. This form of project work carried to an extreme results in no definite course of training in agriculture, as usually such phases as appeal to the student or are a means of immediate money return, may be neglected. The absence of all class work where projects are selected by individuals and not by groups, the extreme amount of supervision and central direction required, take from this home project plan much of its educative value. In cases where no rigid state direction prevails, phases of agricultural instruction to become merely a conglomeration of hit-and-miss, incidental phases of agricultural principles and practices.

"Students electing agriculture should have a complete course as organized

MOTOR SUBMARINE CHASERS DESCRIBED

London, Jan. 21.—"Motor submarine chasers" shipped to Archangel are described in Yachting. The boats are designed for use in all weather. They are of the V bottom type, with floor flattening out aft, like a giant motor plane 60 feet long and 10 feet beam and have a draft of 2 feet 10 inches.

ARMY OF BATS TO BE TURNED LOOSE SOON

San Antonio Expects to Be Rid of Mosquitoes This Summer.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 21.—An army of mosquito-eating bats, several thousand in all, will be turned loose in San Antonio next month. If, as has been predicted for it, the army succeeds in crippling seriously the activities of the germ-laden mosquito population, many other cities may follow San Antonio's example and establish their "municipal bat roosts."

Dr. C. A. R. Campbell, who has made a special study of bats, is responsible for San Antonio's bat roost. The institution came into existence last spring. It was not a success in its first year, owing to the fact that it was established late in the spring, and its population was not numerous enough. This spring there is a large army of bats on hand and it is expected to get an early start.

Dr. Campbell says that one bat in the course of a single day will eat 1,000 mosquitoes. He expects hordes of mosquitoes to perish daily, and that by the end of the summer the pestiferous insects will be almost, if not entirely, missing from this locality.

The flight of the bats will begin about Feb. 15 and from then until April 30, they will fly about all night.

AMERICAN AVIATOR PLEASES JAPANESE

Hundreds of Thousands Witness Exhibition Flights of Charles Niles.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Tokio, Jan. 5.—Rarely has an event excited the Japanese people as did the flight of Charles Niles, the American aviator, who gave two exhibitions before some of the largest crowds ever witnessed in Japan. The first day's crowd was estimated at 200,000, and the second at 300,000. The house-tops and other points of vantage about the Aoyama parade, where Mr. Niles maneuvered in the air were black with people and many arrived hours before the time of flying in order to get a good position. Prince Higashi Kuni, who is deeply interested in aviation, was present on both occasions, as were several of the junior princes of the imperial Japanese house.

Mr. Niles did his flying under the auspices of the Aero Club of Japan, of which the president is Gen. Gaishi Nagaoaka.

This was the first time that the people of Japan had seen an aviation feat in midair and the maneuvers of Mr. Niles, who flew upside down, looped the loop and gave an exhibition of what is called "falling leaves," caused wonder. The great crowd became frantic with cheering and became so unmanageable that it broke loose and rushed to the place where Mr. Niles had landed. It was only after some desperate struggling that the air man's assistants were able to force their way through and rescue the machine as well as the air man from the enthusiastic and somewhat embarrassing acclamations of the crowd.

LOOKING FOR WORK

Everywhere men complain about work; even boys and girls in school or business find work tedious and irksome, but it isn't the work half so much as their own lack of physical strength that makes it hard.

Rich blood, strong lungs and healthy digestion make work pleasurable in business, in school or even housework, and if those who are easily tired—who are not sick, but weak and nervous—would just take Scott's Emulsion for one month and let its pure concentrated food create richer blood to pulsate through every artery and vein—let it build a structure of healthy tissue and give you vigorous strength—you would find work easy and would look for more. Insist on Scott's.

WILL ABOLISH FOUR OFFICES

Farrell Plans to Save
$5,000 Yearly in Inspectors' Salaries.

Police and Street Commissioners Will Do the Work.

Abolition of the office of sanitation inspector in the collection of garbage is the aim of Commissioner Farrell, head of the public works, who took over the operation of the city incinerator plant on Jan. 1 of this year.

The works head announced this morning that he will introduce a resolution at the council meeting Monday afternoon directing the commissioners of safety and works to instruct their employees to watch the sanitary conditions of the city. The police and street commissioners can do this work just as well, he explained, while out on their regular duties. Establishment of such a program means the saving of $5,000 a month in salaries for sanitary inspectors, he said.

"There is no need of paying $5,000 a year for inspectors," said Commissioner Farrell this morning, in explaining his proposed measure, "when the policemen and street commissioners, who cover every section of the city in doing their regular duties, might just as well make inspections of sanitary conditions. The work will be done more effectively by these 100 men than by the four special inspectors, who have to cover the entire city themselves."

As soon as the works head has completed the details of his proposed system and the plan is operating effectively, he plans to take a trip to Chicago for the purpose of studying the recently completed incinerator. In all probability the proposed plan for Duluth will be modeled after the one in the Windy City.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATION ONE NIGHT AHEAD

St. Patrick should have a grievance. Members of the Irish Fellowship club of Duluth, at a meeting last night, voted to hold their annual banquet in honor of the patron saint of the Emerald Isle on March 16, instead of March 17.

President J. Frank Dacey was authorized to appoint a committee which will complete arrangements for the affair. Preliminary plans indicate that it will be large and elaborate.

Officers for the coming year will be nominated by club members at the meeting, and the annual election will be held during the meeting which next follows.

There was a large attendance at last night's gathering in the Owl hall, 422 West Superior street.

OBITUARY

Alonso A. Jones, 65, said to have been the oldest member of the G. A. R., died today at his home at Elgin, Ill. He was a member of Elgin Post 48, G. A. R., and served in the Forty-eighth Wisconsin volunteers.

Col. Levi B. Duff, 79 years old, who gained distinction in the Civil war, died of apoplexy at Lansing, Mich., Jan. 21. In 1862 he ran for lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania on an independent ticket and was defeated.

Alfred J. Woodcock, formerly a broker in Minneapolis and more recently selling agent for a baking powder company at Milwaukee, died at Chicago, Jan. 21. He came to Chicago yesterday for medical treatment and was awaiting his physician at a South side hotel, when he collapsed. Heart disease was given as the cause of death.

Brig.-Gen. Isaac S. Catlin, U. S. A., retired, died tonight of heart failure at his home in Brooklyn. He was 81 years old.

Julius Levy, aged 113, died at Pittsburgh Jan. 21. He never required glasses and until last October had never been sick.

BUSTED MARRIAGE "TRUST" IN INDIA

Dr. Fred B. Fisher, leader of the Laymen's Missionary team now meeting in Duluth, is responsible for a new marriage custom established by Lord Curzon throughout India and affecting more than 300,000,000 people.

When Dr. Fisher got through college, his friends say, he was full of "pep" and wanted to make his influence felt in a big way. He was alert to his opportunities, and probably that is one reason he is considered one of the foremost leaders of the whole Methodist Episcopal denomination.

"When I went to India," he said today, "I was not yet an ordained minister, but later became one. Being a Methodist, not of the established church of India, which is an English possession and therefore is to perform the marriage ceremony. A couple asked me to marry them and as I was a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church, I performed the ceremony for this couple and many more."

"The authorities in India soon 'got wise' and declared all the couples I had married to be living together illegally and also that their children would be illegitimate. Furthermore I was to be deported."

"The subject was current in the conversation of the streets, and one day I overheard an Englishman make this remark:

"That's just like these Americans; always butting in."

"I knew at once that I could win my case because of this remark, which showed prejudice against me. I had the American minister take the matter up with Lord Curzon, then viceroy of India, and the viceroy issued a decree making it legal for Methodist Episcopal as well as ministers of other denominations to perform the ceremony."

MUCH IN THIS NAME.

Los Angeles Times: At a certain Welsh railway station which rejoices in the name of "Llanfairpwllgwyngyll"—and about two yards more of it—a new porter was engaged.

He was only an Englishman, but meant to do his duty.

The first train came in. He tackled the name of the station, but failed miserably to pronounce more than about the first inch.

But he was a man of brains. Running along the platform he pointed to the board which bore the lengthy name and yelled out:

"If there's anybody there for here, this is it!"

"Chicago North Shore Society Service Brought to Duluth!"
Summed up, that's what the new Glass Block Beauty Shop means to Duluth women! Something new, a subtle perfection in appointments, service, all that is "chic." (Marked "waiting a specialty.") (Third Floor)

JURY SELECTED IN PERSONAL INJURY SUIT

Selection of a jury to try a personal injury suit which Mrs. Hattie Ryckman has filed in district court against Richard C. Sloan was made in Judge Feiler's court this morning and the jurors ordered to report before Judge Ensign for further proceedings on Monday morning.

Mrs. Ryckman on March 17, 1914, was a tenant in second-story rooms at 1332 West Michigan street, premises owned and managed by the defendant. She claims that while walking on a board walk from the rear to the front of the house she slipped and fell, severely injuring her left ankle and receiving other grievous injuries. For this she asks $5,200 damages.

Wharton & Wharton are attorneys for Mrs. Ryckman and Charles E. Adams appears for the defendant.

Used Duffy's In Pneumonia

D. H. Armstrong, Stricken with pneumonia on big job, takes Duffy's on doctor's advice and recovers.

"I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the past 14 years as a stimulant and tonic. I was first advised to take it by my family physician, recovering from pneumonia, contracted when in charge of the electric construction work of the Mutual Life Co.'s building, N. Y. City. For the three years I was Business Agent for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 3, N. Y. City, I had no colds, which I had formerly been subject to when not taking Duffy's as directed."

D. H. Armstrong, 96 E. 8th St., Flatbush, N. Y.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Helps keep the body in good general health because it is a predigested liquid food requiring little effort of the digestive organs, palatable and of pleasing odor. It is acceptable to the most delicate stomach when other foods are rejected. Taken as directed, it aids digestion, helps repair wasted tissues of the body, and adds to the power of endurance. That's why it invariably gives the body power to throw off and resist severe colds, coughs, grip, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles.

G. O. P. LEADERS WANT HUGHES "YES" OR "NO"

Plan to "Smoke Out" Justice on Presidency Question.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Justice Hughes of the United States supreme court is to be asked within the next few weeks to say whether or not he will accept the nomination of the Republican party for president if the nomination is offered him by the unanimous vote of the convention and without solicitation on his part.

It is stated by one of the foremost Republican leaders in congress that a movement is now on foot to make the offer in behalf of both the Republican and Progressive parties.

The leaders who will attempt to "smoke out" Justice Hughes realize they have an extremely difficult task on their hands, inasmuch as the justice is understood to have told intimate friends at the time his name was placed on the Nebraska primary ballot that he would regard it as nothing short of a scandal for a member of the United States supreme court to become an active candidate for a presidential nomination.

Notwithstanding this fact, however, it is the intention of these men to go ahead with their plans.

AITKIN PROPERTY IS DISPOSED OF IN WILL

Mankato, Minn., Jan. 21.—Foreign missionary work will benefit by the will of I. A. Pelton, which was filed in the probate court here. The estate consists of personal property amounting to $17,827, and real estate in Blue Earth and Aitkin counties and in the state of Texas valued at $12,000. Small sums are left to two brothers, nine nephews and four nieces, residing in New York. The remainder of the property will go to the Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, to be used in missionary work in the Philippines. I. A. Pelton, the namesake of the deceased, who receives $2,000 by the will, was appointed executor of the will.

Wisconsin December Fires. Madison, Wis., Jan. 21.—State Insurance Commissioner M. J. Cleary announced that the total number of fires reported to him for the month of December was 290. This was eleven less than for the corresponding month of 1915. The total losses caused by 280 fires in December were $536,175, as against $415,175 in December, 1914. The largest fire at Neenah on Dec. 14, caused a loss of $125,150.

NOSTRILS AND HEAD STUFFY FROM A COLD OR CATARRH?

My Cleansing, Healing Balm Instantly Clears Nose, Head and Throat—Stops Nasal Catarrh Discharges. Dull Headache Goes.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone. End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heats the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasal discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous drooping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Advertisement.

JUST A TRACE OF SENTIMENT

Capt. McDougall Would Have Shipyard Where "Old 101" Was Built.

Builder of First Whaleback Withholds Plans "Until Complete."

There may be a touch of sentiment in the planning that Capt. Alex McDougall is doing in connection with his nearly completed scheme of establishing a shipyard in Duluth and building a boat of Welland canal size next summer. Capt. McDougall will not talk about the project as yet, for he says, it is not ready to be talked about and won't be until all plans are made.

"Where will the yard be?" he was asked.

"Down where old 101 was built," was his instant reply.

Therein lies the trace of sentiment. "Old 101" was the first whaleback built. It will be remembered that the whaleback was the invention of Capt. McDougall. It has nearly vanished from the lakes now, for it served its mission, for it revolutionized the construction of bulk freighters. Before the day of the whaleback, freighters were constructed on much different lines from now, and the captain sought an improvement. That improvement came, and while the whaleback is practically gone, its mark remains.

The first whaleback was numbered "101," and she was built on the slip just east of the upper end of Garfield avenue, north of the Consolidated wharves. Later the yard was moved to Superior, where it is still in operation, and many ships will be constructed there during the coming summer.

The property that was the old yard, is still owned by Capt. McDougall, and it is there that the new shipyard will be installed, when the captain and his associates get ready to have the work done.

The boat to be built will be of Welland canal size, so that trading may go on between the Head of the Lakes and Montreal, and perhaps the boat may enter the ocean trade. The captain says that he has been thinking of the idea for some time, but that the lack of a good opportunity for craft of the Welland canal type.

On Wednesday evening, January 19th, chairman of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club, introduced Capt. McDougall to the members of the club.

"It may be that Mr. McDougall is the general belief that his simple announcement that a boat will be built at the shipyard, means much more for Duluth than appears on the surface."

MUST BE READY TO MEET ATTACK

War Comes Suddenly, Says Gen. Carter to Military Committee.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Any military policy adequate to the nation's needs must recognize the fact that war can come suddenly and there must be instant readiness to meet the attack, said Maj.-Gen. William H. Carter before the military committee of the House of Representatives.

"War is a condition which may be forced upon us any day, through diplomatic notes," he said, "without action by congress."

Great Britain's declaration of war against Germany and the Japanese attack upon Russia were cited as illustrating the possibilities. The committee report submitted by him to the secretary of war last April, before the retirement, and while he was commander of the department at Hawaii, it was prepared at the secret war school for his views as to a proper military policy for the United States and seemed evident, he said, that it formed the basis for the continental army now contemplated, even to the name, which Mr. Garrison has proposed.

Increased Army. Gen. Carter recommended increasing the standing army to such an extent that a mobile force of 131,000 men would be available in the United States; that Federal volunteers be organized and trained on the basis of an infantry regiment to each congressional district and the additional appropriations be made for the National Guard. He did not believe, however, that a period of intensive training for the volunteers could be accomplished. Instead he proposed that a colonel for each regiment be appointed from the regular army and also a non-commissioned staff; that the troops be enlisted for two years and trained in such ways as might be found practicable in each district. In that time he said, about the same amount of instruction should be given as would be the case in six months of intensive training.

Like all other regular army officers who have appeared before the military committee, Gen. Carter thought compulsory military service was the only means of fully insuring the nation against attack, though he believed it unwise to attempt to enact such a measure at present, saying that the young men of the country should be given an opportunity to come forward as volunteers.

RURAL SCHOOL OFFICERS TO MEET

Annual Meeting Will Be Held in Virginia on Feb. 25.

School officers in the rural districts of St. Louis county will hold their annual meeting in Virginia on Feb. 25, according to announcement made from the office of N. A. Young, county superintendent. It is expected that about 100 school board members of the county districts will be in attendance. Board of education members representing communities having high and graded schools will hold their annual meeting later in the year, the time and place to be announced later.

The meeting at Virginia next month will be given over to a discussion of state aid to rural and semi-rural schools, the teachers' retirement fund and matters of general interest in connection with the management and administration in the schools of the country districts.

JACK TAR MAY RETIRE AT AGE OF 37 WITH AN INCOME FOR REST OF HIS LIFE

A youth who enters the navy may retire at 37 years of age, and have an income to maintain him the remainder of his life, according to Turret Capt. E. A. Nippa, officer in charge of the Duluth naval recruiting station. The new program of the secretary of the navy puts this country in line for a large number of recruits and the advantages offered are better than ever before.

After Desirable Men.

Officer Nippa is doing much to bring the navy to the attention of the desirable young men of this city, who desire to serve their country in the naval arm of defense. Uncle Sam needs many additional officers and men to man the new ships now building and to be built in the next five years as outlined in the secretary of the navy's report to congress. The Duluth office is doing its part to obtain these men. Last year exactly 286 men were enlisted from the local district, and many of these young men are now learning trades in the navy.

"It might be of interest to state," said Mr. Nippa yesterday, "that the average pay of the enlisted man in the navy is about $38 per month clear of all expenses. In addition to that, the first outfit, valued at $50, has been drawn. Medical attendance and railroad fare, meals, etc., are all free. The naval reserve pay as it now stands on the books is $48 per month for a man without unusual education and ability at the early age of 37 years, with many other advantages to spend in civil life before him."

Officer Nippa states that scores of young men from Duluth and this part of the state, who have good positions, but who are attracted to the life of the sea, have sorrowfully turned away from the recruiting station when they were told that Uncle Sam did not want them.

London, Jan. 21.—Whatever change is made in the British orders of council it is certain the grip of British sea power on Germany will be tightened rather than loosened.

This is the opinion expressed in a high quarter of the British government, which is not yet convinced the naval council are not the best methods for bringing economic pressure to bear on the Central powers.

It is clear now that the foreign office will not come to any decision until it lays a complete defense of the present operation of the orders in council before the house of commons, and this will not be done until the compulsion debate is ended.

At that time the recently published figures showing exports to neutral countries having access to Germany will be attacked. Most of these figures, according to statements made in official circles here, apply to months preceding the actual adoption and enforcement of the orders in council, and also ignore the fact that millions of bushels of wheat which formerly found their way to those countries from Russia now must be replaced from the United States and Argentina.

Signs exist that the orders in council are being enforced more rigidly than ever before. While the average seaman or business house in fact, they are better in many ways.

CHANCE FOR ADVANCEMENT.

"The sober, industrious lad will get to the top," said the turret captain. Many of the navy men own bonds and mortgages, and others support their aged fathers and mothers, and still others stand the expense of assisting in the expenses necessary in educating sisters and brothers. They are, as a rule, clean cut, ambitious, healthy youths, with whom it is a pleasure to serve in the United States navy. Compulsory service is not needed in this country; education will solve the problem. As soon as the plain citizens of this country realize the opportunities and advantages of the United States navy, which will be through education and publicity, it will be necessary to have a sort of civil service examination to select those most desirable for a life in the navy."

Orders in Council Considered Sufficient for Economic Pressure.

London, Jan. 21.—Whatever change is made in the British orders of council it is certain the grip of British sea power on Germany will be tightened rather than loosened.

This is the opinion expressed in a high quarter of the British government, which is not yet convinced the naval council are not the best methods for bringing economic pressure to bear on the Central powers.

It is clear now that the foreign office will not come to any decision until it lays a complete defense of the present operation of the orders in council before the house of commons, and this will not be done until the compulsion debate is ended.

At that time the recently published figures showing exports to neutral countries having access to Germany will be attacked. Most of these figures, according to statements made in official circles here, apply to months preceding the actual adoption and enforcement of the orders in council, and also ignore the fact that millions of bushels of wheat which formerly found their way to those countries from Russia now must be replaced from the United States and Argentina.

Signs exist that the orders in council are being enforced more rigidly than ever before. While the average seaman or business house in fact, they are better in many ways.

THRILLING STORIES OF HARDSHIPS OF MISSIONARIES WILL BE TOLD

DR. CORNELIUS P. PATTON.

DR. JAMES P. McNAUGHTON.

Dr. James P. McNaughton, who will be one of the chief speakers at the Laymen's Missionary convention at the First M. E. church, tonight, has a reason for having snow-white hair. Dr. McNaughton, a Canadian by birth, paid a terrible price for his adherence to the Christian faith undergoing persecution and imprisonment in Turkey, and narrowly escaping death itself. He will tell an interesting story tonight. His story of his escape through the passport gates, his sleeping in vermin-infested cells, and how he was finally released through the efforts of the American minister to Turkey, will form interesting features of his story.

Educator in Turkey.
For more than twenty-eight years Dr. McNaughton was founder of schools and missions throughout Turkey. Among his acquaintances were the highest officials of the Ottoman empire, but friendship was forgotten, he says, when the war broke out. He with a large number of other Christian missionaries were seized and taken to the interior of Turkey where he says he would have been put to death but for the timely intervention of Ambassador Morgenthau.

Tortures of Turks.
In speaking of the tortures inflicted on the Turks, he said today: "One professor, a close friend of mine, and one of the most brilliant of men, was seized by the authorities. His daughter was given over to the licentious soldiers. He was thrown into prison, and beaten terribly, that he might be forced to sign papers in which he admitted many crimes against the empire. This he refused to do, so he was strung up by the wrists for twenty-four hours. Still he refused. "He was brought before one of the major prison officials and his hair, eye brows, lashes and whiskers torn out in bunches. Still he would not sign his name to the incriminating document. Then the most painful form of torture was inflicted. His finger and toe nails were torn off with pliers. After two days, during which he even refused to respond by word or action to their continued torture, they led him out and killed him. A Turkish soldier afterwards brought in word he was killed like a dog, meaning he was either beaten to death or dismembered while still alive, or something similarly atrocious."

Saved By Famous Scientist.
"Alaska Days With John Muir" will be the topic of Dr. S. Hall Young, who has been a pioneer missionary in the gold fields for many years. John Muir, the famous scientist, saved his life in a thrilling adventure, and is characteristic of the events of the early gold fields days.

"I was crossing a glacier and slipped on some loose ice," he said. "A moment later I was dangling over a 1,000-foot abyss, with a point of rock, caught in my clothing, the only thing between me and bottom. John Muir was in the party."

"Hand over hand, he made his way to me, and reached out for my hand. But I was powerless. Both my shoulders had been dislocated in the last terrible effort I made to save myself. Muir grabbed me by the slack of my clothing, and swung me out of the abyss. I could look straight down to the bottom."

"Then, dragging me with his teeth, he made his way up the side of the cliff to sound land. Even then we were 8,000 feet above sea level. It took him the rest of that day and all night to get me down."

Former Duluthian to Speak.
Dr. Cornelius H. Patton, former pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church of Duluth, will speak on "Critical Elements in the Missionary Situation."

At 8:16 p. m. there will be two-minute reports on the policies adopted at the denominational conferences. The denominational conferences will be held from 8 to 9 p. m. and will include the holding of a policy for every church represented. In the laymen's movement.

At the Commercial club this noon the Duluth committee gave a dinner to the visiting laymen. W. J. McCabe, chairman of the committee, presided.

No Interest in Investigation.
The state railroad and warehouse commission will hold a hearing at its offices in the state capitol on Feb. 9 to investigate the reasonableness of the rates charged by the express companies for handling ice cream, laundry and newspaper "patent" mail. All of the companies doing business in the state are involved. Unless local interest of the Duluth Commercial club will take no part in the investigation. So far, there has been no interest, vineed, and nobody here seems to feel abused.

Released on $3,000 Bond.
Upon furnishing a surety bond in the amount of $3,000, Henry E. Krantz, butcher, arrested Wednesday evening on a charge of rape, was ordered released from custody today by District Judge Fessler. The surety bond was signed by the accused man's wife, Charles P. Meyers and Louis D. Goldberg.

Will Resume Case.

COMPENSATION NO BAR TO ACTION

Injured Workman May Still Bring Suit for Malpractice.

That the workmen's compensation act does not bar an action against a physician designated by an employer to give medical treatment to his employees is the gist of a decision handed down by the Minnesota supreme court today, which upholds the $1,000 verdict which Fleming of Cloquet in the Carlton county court awarded to him.

Vita's employers settled with him under the workmen's compensation act for injury which he received and subsequently Vita sued the physician who treated him, charging malpractice. This is the first time that this principle of law has been laid down by the Minnesota supreme court.

Andrew Nelson of this city appeared as attorney for Vita and Abbott, McPherran, Lewis & Miller represented the defendant against whom the verdict was returned. The high court held that the damages were not excessive.

WILL CLOSE UNTIL SUNDAY

Laymen Will Rest After Night Program; Luncheon for Visitors.

"Putting the Church on a War Footing" was the theme of the morning session of Laymen's Missionary meeting at the First M. E. church today. Morris W. Ehms gave an address on "Enlisting and Training," and J. B. Trimble spoke on "The Sinews of War." Hugh L. Burleson's topic was "The Test of Discipleship." With tonight's program the convention meetings come to an end until Sunday afternoon. Visiting speakers will give addresses in Duluth churches Sunday.

That the laymen's movement will be the chief factor in bringing back the warring nations to real Christianity was the theme of the address given this noon by Fred B. Fisher at a luncheon at the Commercial club, given by the local committee to the visitors and others connected with the Duluth meetings.

"The feeling of national prejudice will prevent the denominations from bringing out this result," he said, "and it will take some force higher and more comprehensive than any denomination to carry out the proposed program in all the warring countries."

Plans are now under way to make the Laymen's Missionary Movement, in the whole world instead of just the United States and Canada.

W. J. McCabe, chairman of the Duluth committee, acted as toastmaster and gave a brief talk expressing his great satisfaction over the results of the meetings so far. There were about fifty at the dinner.

Picture Sale.

Alkali Makes Soap Bad for Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulistated coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely grassless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

SAVE MONEY FOR OWNERS

Grand Avenue Dirt Will Be Used for Filling Ravines.

At a special meeting of the city council this morning, Commissioner Farrell, works head, announced a plan whereby Grand avenue property owners will be saved a large share of their paving cost.

According to the works head, the owners will be paid 20 cents a yard for all dirt taken out of the street in paving the roadway next summer, as the regular charge of 60 or 65 cents a yard would be paid.

Just what the saving will be to the property owners will be determined in a few days and will be submitted to the commissioners. By making this arrangement, the city will not be compelled to dump the excess dirt into privately owned ravines in the neighborhood, but instead will place it in city dump cars for distribution. Special provision for this purpose has been made in the paving contracts before they are signed, Commissioner Farrell said.

Commissioner Farrell announced his plan after City Clerk Dargatz read the petition protesting against the paving of Grand avenue next summer. The improvement has already been ordered and bids on the pavement were opened this morning.

The council passed the payroll for the first half of this month and the measures appropriating for the adding machine for the city assessor's office and $298 for a set of tires to be used by the fire department. The payroll will be paid by the city treasurer.

The ordinance appropriating for the water and light department was given its second reading.

FALLS INTO TRAP SET BY POLICE
Writer of Threatening Note Believed to Be Long Wanted Man.

Writing a note which the police claim is of a blackmailing character to a girl whom he is alleged to have attempted to assault early last fall proved the downfall of a Longfellow school man, aged 32, last night. He was arrested near the Longfellow school, where he had stated in his note that he would meet the young woman.

This morning Sergeant Andree claims that the man has admitted writing the note, using a message box to deliver it to the place where the girl is employed. The police are now seeking the messenger in order to fully identify the man.

The note stated that the writer was the man who had accosted the young woman and her escort as they were going home late one night in September. It threatened to make some certain exposures unless the girl would meet the writer at the Longfellow school at 11:30 p. m.

At the time the assault took place the girl and her escort were returning home and a man accosted them, claiming to be an officer. He ordered the girl's escort to leave, saying that he would take her home himself. The escort reported the matter to the police shortly afterward and the police started looking for him, but were unsuccessful in their search.

The girl believes that the man under arrest is the same one who accosted her and her escort last fall. Hanne-man will be given an examination in police court, probably this afternoon. The police after a conference with the county attorney will swear out a formal complaint against Hanne-man.

Hanne-man is said to be employed by a local dentist. He claims to be born in South Africa and came to this country several years ago.

HEAR OF RED CROSS WORK IN CANADA

Miss Jessie Douglas Tells of System of Forwarding Supplies.

Divers ways of raising $100 will be used by ten committees of the West Duluth W. C. T. U. during the present year. The committees were named yesterday afternoon at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. H. H. Phelps, 1396 North Fifty-seventh avenue west.

Mrs. John Rockwell was leader at the session. "The Red Cross" was the subject taken up. The features of the subject were an address given by Miss Jessie Douglas, a member of the Red Cross society of Montreal, Can. Miss Douglas stated that at present every town in Canada has its Red Cross organization where supplies are being made and immediately forwarded to the front. Soldiers' kits, pillows, sheets, bandages and hundreds of other useful articles are being made by members of the society in their homes.

The ten committees to have charge of raising the sum of $100 each to make up the fund for the W. C. T. U. are:

NO DANGER OF HASTY ACTION ON FRANCHISE

Members of the city commission this morning reaffirmed the assurance made early in the week that the city will be protected in every possible respect before a franchise is granted the Western Terminal Railway company.

"I am not the person to be alarmed at this time," said Mayor Prince this morning. "The commission is supposed to make an exhaustive study of the franchise before it is passed. In addition, the public will take action upon the subject if the public sentiment is in favor of the project. Unless the city is absolutely protected, the council will vote against the measure."

"I am not the person to be alarmed at this time," said Mayor Prince this morning. "The commission is supposed to make an exhaustive study of the franchise before it is passed. In addition, the public will take action upon the subject if the public sentiment is in favor of the project. Unless the city is absolutely protected, the council will vote against the measure."

Commissioners Voss and Farrell are both of the opinion that the franchise is illegal in its present form and that it will have to be changed considerably before they will consider it for action.

WATCH FOR MEASLES FIFTY CASES IN CITY

If you find a rash on the children or discover that they are coughing, call a doctor at once.

This is the warning given the public today by Health Director Fahney, as the result of the light epidemic of measles reported throughout the city. About fifty cases are now on record at the city hall, he said.

In addition, the health director urges parents to keep the children away from the school if they show the slightest symptoms of being ill.

Picture Sale.
Annual picture sale now going on. Special on picture framing. Engels Art store, First avenue west.

FARMER KILLS WOLF HUNTERS HAD CHASED

Barron, Wis., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald).—There was considerable excitement here yesterday over the appearance of a wolf in the main part of town. William Brown, a farmer, secured a gun and killed it. But it soon developed that the animal had been chased all day and badly wounded by William Patrick, Ralph Ross, Charles Post and Fred Guther, who had been on its trail with two hounds. They arrived upon the scene soon after Brown killed it. The hounds that had been followed as to who was entitled to the bounty.

The bounty was finally decided that it belonged to the hunters who had chased it and rendered it helpless by wounding it twice during the day.

Widow of English Nobleman Back Again on Old Broadway

CAMILLE CLIFFORD (MRS. H. LYNDHURST BRUCE).

It was a long time that Camille Clifford was absent from Broadway. Month after month she had been in London, where she had been married into a noble family and had entered on a career in English society. Those who had known her during her stage career, who met her later in London, said she had been little spoiled by her good fortune. Then her run of luck was broken when her husband, her title of Baroness, went to the war and was killed. Now Mrs. Bruce is back in New York and glad to be here, she says. And it is she is sufficiently persuaded she may go into what she calls the "cinemas," known to us as the "movies."

MILLIONAIRE BUSY AS GOVERNMENT CLERK

Stevens T. Mather, Former Newspaper Reporter and Later Successful in Business, Hires Out to Uncle Sam.

As shown in the Washington Star, Give a millionaire a place in the senate or the cabinet of the United States and his friends straightway tell you what tremendous sacrifices he is making in order to gratify his passion for serving the people. You, being cynical, come to the conclusion that it is not so much of a sacrifice after all, since the millionaire gets what is more to him than monetary compensation—distinction, honor and power.

But when you notice a millionaire in a subordinate public position, where there is nothing to do but work and where the credit for his work goes to the man higher up, it occurs to you that maybe some sacrifice is involved here.

Stephen T. Mather is one of the very few men in the United States who would not agree with you. Being a forthright person, with a thorough command of the American language, he says that it is "all bunk." Mr. Mather should be an authority on the subject. He has a theory that there is a lot of fun in doing things for other people when one has done all that is necessary for himself, and that no particular credit should flow to him for it.

He is Stephen T. Mather, millionaire, is a $2,500,000 employee of Uncle Sam. He likes his job, even if it does not show up as very large in the public eye. All of which confirms the theory of many observers that some of the most interesting personalities in national public life are found in the subordinate ranks of the government service. Mr. Mather is a man who, becoming tired of newspaper work after five hard years as a reporter in New York, turned into business life and made his million or so as a manufacturer. Having become money-mad, he thereupon became very active in trying to improve social conditions in his home city of Chicago. In that group of Chicagoans who are called "social reformers," Mr. Mather is now working is a very much more important job than the salary attached to it would indicate. Every one of the ten executive departments of the government has one or more "assistant secretaries." The department of the interior is the only that has an "assistant to the secretary." There is no law specifying exactly what an assistant to the secretary shall do. When the position was created by the language of an appropriation bill, it was to provide the secretary with what would amount to an additional private secretary. Hence the low salary of $2,500, for "assistant secretaries" draw $2,500 and $3,000.

Secretary Lane, however, on taking over the department, realized the possibilities in the position. He could put any duties he wanted to on it, provided he could get the right kind of a man to work for the money. He could make the work rank in importance with that of an assistant secretary.

Adolph C. Miller, professor of political economy at the University of California, a man of large private fortune and of intellectual distinction, was his first appointee. As adviser, assistant and representative of the secretary in large matters, Mr. Miller attracted so much attention in the administration that President Wilson selected him for membership on the Federal reserve board.

When upon Secretary Lane reached out for Mr. Mather, who had been a student in the University of California, the secretary also was a student there, and offered him the position. The secretary could not offer high rank, but he could offer a chance to do good work in public service.

Considerations there were none, for Mr. Mather was not known as a Democrat or as a politician.

"Exactly the sort of work you should take up," said Charles R. Crane, when Mr. Mather consulted him about it. Julius Rosenwald and others of the group had had long talks with Mr. Mather about the social conditions in Chicago, gave similar counsel. And so Mr. Mather came to Washington.

By this time Secretary Lane's plans for a comprehensive and scientific treatment of the national parks of the country had been made. An immense amount of work was required in dealing with the new problems constantly presenting themselves. Mark Daniels, a highly capable engineer and an administrative expert, was appointed general superintendent of parks, but he was to be in the field. An administrative expert was needed, but no money was available to pay for one. Mr. Mather happened to know all about national parks, scenery, the mountains and the wilds. His scheme of life has been this: Chicago has been his home and the scene of his business and municipal labors. New York is a place to visit frequently for business and social purposes; California and the whole Pacific coast his playground for a considerable period each year, and his farm in the Pacific coast for rest, meditation and study.

It would appear on the face of this schedule that he would have to spend himself out pretty thin, but you must not forget that Mr. Mather is an extremely active, typical American. One thing he never neglected was his health in the Pacific coast mountains. The majority of the 1,500,000 acres embraced in the national park system are in those mountains.

He knows every glacier, creek, mountain and valley in those national parks by its first name. So Secretary Lane gave him the job of administrative management of the national parks. And now he is boss of them all.

One thing he did give light on the methods of the man. It is the matter of the Tioga road. This is fifty-six miles of an asphalt road connecting the summit of the Sierras. It was built years ago by private capital to reach a noted winter resort. Secretary Lane saw it was abandoned and overgrown, and yet the title remained in the original owners. They wanted $100,000 for it.

Open the road, and it will furnish a sensational mountain highway motor entrance into Yosemite National park from California from the good roads to the east, and will connect with those to the west. It is a needed link in the trans-continental chain of roads. It would make new and marvellously beautiful portions of Yosemite park available to tourists.

Great Increase in Earnings.
New York, Jan. 21.—The half yearly report for the last six months of 1915 shows an increase in gross earnings of $2,023,333 for the six months ending Dec. 31, 1915, as compared with the corresponding period in 1914. The total for the last six months of 1915 was $14,338,859. The statement also shows that in 1915, unutilized orders amounting to $52,240,000.

CAN YOU TELL?
Philadelphia Ledger: Why is it that you can always tell a story written by a man from one written by a woman? I saw the thing put to a rather severe test within the last month, with results that were startling.

Ten men and women, all of whom do considerable novel reading, had had dinner together. One of the men asked the question if he at the top of the paragraphs. He was in his own home, and went to some trouble to prove that the sex of authors is an easy thing to determine.

Giving to each of the nine others a pencil and piece of paper, the host proceeded to read extracts from twenty different books and magazines, selecting parts in which proper names would not identify the story. As he read each paragraph he wrote down his guess as to whether the author was a man or a woman.

Of the 180 answers made by the nine persons to the twenty tests all but eight were correct. As he kept the books from which he read concealed, it was impossible to get aid with the eye. But although everybody guessed right almost every time, no one could still give a good definition of the conundrum: Why does a woman write differently from a man?

BUILDING TILE TESTED.
United States Commerce Reports: A very interesting test of hollow building tile has been made by the United States bureau of standards. A floor slab six feet wide and thirty feet long, continued over three piers fifteen feet apart, was made of this class of material. This tile is of a special type, the bottom surface is about two inches wider than the top. In laying the tile in the form of a slab, the pieces touch on the bottom, but are spaced two inches apart at the top. This space continues throughout the length of the slab, and is filled with a mortar of cement and sand, in which are placed several reinforcing rods bent up at the ends of the slab and continued through the concrete beam into the next adjacent slab.

In the present case the two slabs were allowed to age for one month. Tests were made of these loaded uniformly with pig lead, numerous different readings being made. The different loads were applied. One of the slabs failed at about 600 pounds per square foot. The other was able to withstand a slightly greater load, 650 pounds per square foot. Failure occurred in the mortar beams, due largely to the inferior grade of reinforcement used. The concrete supporting piers also failed near its base. While the load carried was not up to the expectations of the manufacturers of the tile, yet it was considerably in excess of that demanded by most building laws.

MOTHER! LOOK AT YOUR CHILD'S TONGUE

Give "California Syrup of Figs" If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Constipated--They love it

Watch Children Now! Guard Against Colds, Grippe, Sore Throat and Sickness by Keeping Liver and Bowels Free from Poisons

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has the grippe or a sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be a first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. See that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't merely ask for Syrup of Figs, but ask for "California Syrup of Figs." Remember, "California" is advertisement.

NEW ROAD TO RUSSIAN CAPITAL TO BE OPENED

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)
Christiania, Norway, Jan. 16.—When the new railway connecting Petrograd with the Arctic port of Alexandrovsk is completed it will be possible to transport goods from Tromsø in Norway to the Russian capital in five days' time. A new steamship line has already been organized to take advantage of the new route, and it is expected that the railway will be available for use within a month or so.

Archangel on the White sea, which is already connected with Petrograd by the narrow-gauge railway, the new line will be a roundabout way via Archangel, is closed to navigation for six months of the year.

One of the difficulties of the Archangel route has been the tremendous expense of the line, which is now a problem for some time as the new railway from Alexandrovsk will at first be in a roundabout way via Archangel. But a direct line from Alexandrovsk to Petrograd is to be completed as soon as possible.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUNBAR, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KISSLING, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

PRESIDENT'S POLICIES ARE WORLD-WIDE

Big International Politics Is Determining Foreign Relations.

Insistence on Rights Is Not to Forfeit Friendliness.

Mexican Matters Are Involved With Other Complexities.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—John Callan O'Laughlin, Washington correspondent of the Chicago Herald, says in a dispatch from Washington:

Big international politics, designed to regain and conserve foreign friendship and yet assure protection of American rights, are behind the recent moves of the administration in connection with European war questions and the situation in Mexico.

It is not the purpose of the president to leave this country without a friend in the world, he believes as a result of the settlement of the submarine controversy a better feeling will develop in Germany and Austria-Hungary toward the United States.

It is now his purpose to adjust the differences with the allies regarding their operations against neutral trade and to do so in the same direct way he has succeeded in the case of the Central powers; to get them, by plainly asserting American views, to respect neutral rights under international law.

Justice to Be Admitted.

When this task has been accomplished, he believes, the fundamental justice of his course will be recognized by all the thinking people of Europe and Russia, and, in the meantime, he expects there will be outbursts of indignation by allied public men and allied powers, but this will disappear, he anticipates, in the cold light of reason, which he proposes to throw on the subject of maritime restrictions upon neutral commerce.

As to Mexico, the president does not intend to surrender the advantage he considers he has gained through the recognition of the Carranza government and through the co-operation he sought with the Central and South American republics.

around them; they, alone, have not learned how to bring their case before the world, while their neighbors, most of them, have learned to tell their wrongs through the press everywhere.

There is no Albanian nationality, Bismarck roughly exclaimed at the Congress of Berlin. More properly speaking, there was no Albanian nationality, but just the remnants of the ancient Shkypetar race, forced further into a fringe of unproductive mountains which formerly bordered their broad homeland in the Balkans.

Defamed by their blunders.

"Between the Slav and the Shkypetar there have been centuries of blood-feud. Brigand and plunderer, the Slav has called the Albanian, and the Albanian has called the Slav a robber. The Slav accepted this verdict, though it is the Slav and the Slav who have never shown an enemy his back or broken his faith to a guest. The Albanians have given him nothing but a sad reputation. Even the mission schools have passed him by."

TRAINING FOR CITIZENSHIP

Great Need of Americans Born in This Country as Well as Aliens.

Roosevelt and Others Speak at National Americanization Meeting.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 20.—The necessity of training Americans born in this country as well as aliens who have come here or will come in the future, in the highest ideals of American citizenship was dwelt upon by speakers at an all day conference under the auspices of the National Americanization committee.

Officials of the Federal bureau of education and immigration, state officials, sociologists and others interested in the problem, and the immigrants who are among the speakers at the conference which was brought to a close by a mass meeting last night at which President Roosevelt was the principal speaker. Every seat in the opera house where the meeting was held was occupied when Alva B. Johnson, president of the Baldwin-Locomotive works introduced Col. Roosevelt, who denounced what he termed Germany's "cynical disregard of the obligations of international humanity" on the one hand and with high praise for German national efficiency and care of its workers on the other.

Under "Theater, God and Take Your Own Part," Col. Roosevelt touched a wide range of discussion. He appealed to America to fulfill her promises of liberty and equal opportunity to the people who come from foreign lands, declaring that to be the first essential in transforming them into desirable citizens Germany had, he said, proved that an autocratic government can take care of its working classes and its business interests at the same time and the aim of the United States should be to demonstrate that a democracy could accomplish the same thing.

Military training starting in the high schools of the country, greater governmental control over corporations and likewise lessened state control, together with Federal supervision and encouragement of the manufacture of munitions were other questions urged by the speaker.

President Wilson, in a telegram to Judge Harlan of the United States supreme appellate court, who was appointed chairman of a committee to formulate a plan for the national council which would facilitate work of Americanization of immigrants told of sympathy with the objects of the conference and his willingness to receive representation from the committee, however, decided to postpone its visit to the president until such time as its plans had been more definitely formulated.

In addition to the committee, authorized to plan for the national council to eliminate duplication of effort, the committee was urged to engage in the work of Americanizing immigrants, resolute in the belief that the government of the country to be used as standard in the instruction of aliens.

Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of the United States department of labor who presided at the afternoon meeting, declared his belief that Americanization is needed quite as much by those born in this country as by aliens.

VOICELESS WARRIORS OF AN UNCONQUERED RACE ARE DOOMED

"Sons of the Mountain Eagle," Whose History Should Thrill the World, Are About to Be Swallowed Up in the Conflict So Tremendous That Their Passing Is Hardly Likely to Be Serious.

Washington, Jan. 21.—"With a longer, braver, more terribly fought struggle to their credit for preservation in their native land than even the Montenegrins, the Albanians, or Shkypetars are they properly called—the oldest race in Europe to survive upon the land where the morning light of history found it—are today staring starvation and final submergence of their nation in the face, swallowed up in the maelstrom of a world war that seems to bode ill for them whichever way it veers," says a bulletin just issued by the National Geographic society, which sketches the heroic story of the Balkan people who have fought with their backs to the wall, and who, voiceless through the centuries, have been restored to history and are found in their praise of this remedy it acts like a tonic to good health.

DOES YOUR STOMACH TROUBLE YOU?

MAY'S Wonderful Stomach Remedy will change that Long Face!

And One Dose Has Often Dispelled Years of Suffering.

New Village Elects.

Little Falls, Minn., Jan. 21.—The new village of New Village, in Iron county, before its incorporation known as Swan River, elected its first officers Tuesday.

Whereas, I have received from the senate of the United States a resolution, passed Jan. 6, 1916, reading as follows:

Whereas, As in the various countries now engaged in war there are 9,000,000 Jews, the great majority of whom are destitute of food, shelter and clothing, and

Whereas, Millions of them have been driven from their homes without warning, deprived of an opportunity to make provision for their most elementary wants, causing starvation, disease and untold suffering; and

Whereas, The people of the United States of America have learned with sorrow of this terrible plight of millions of human beings and have most generously responded to the cry for help wherever such an appeal has reached them; therefore be it enacted by the senate and house of the United States that the president of the United States be and he is hereby authorized to designate a day on which the great majority of the Jews may give expression to the funds now being raised for the relief of the Jews.

And, whereas, I feel confident that the people of the United States will be moved to aid the war-stricken people of a race which has given to the United States so many brave sons.

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, in compliance with the resolution of the senate thereof, do appoint and proclaim Jan. 27, 1916, as a day upon which the people of the United States may make such contributions as they feel disposed for the aid of the stricken Jews.

Contributions may be addressed to the American Red Cross, Washington.

WANT AVENUES SET ASIDE FOR COASTERS

To the Editor of The Herald: Now that the coasting season is here again, we also have its dangers, consisting mostly of running into street cars on West Third street. Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth avenues west are used the most by the big, twenty-foot bob-sleds. When one of these bob-sleds is loaded the weight is very close to one ton, and as they gather momentum it is very difficult to steer out of the way of the small children, who do not move as fast as the bobs and are often steering right in the path of the latter.

If one of the avenues were set aside just for the big bobs—for instance Twenty-fourth avenue—the danger would be greatly reduced. This avenue is not used much during the evening or on Sunday afternoon, and this would not hinder traffic in the least. The law forbidding the crossing of the tracks should be enforced. If the safety commissioner looked into the matter and created a safety zone on this avenue, Twenty-fourth, we are of the opinion that it will be a safe sport for all interested. Yours truly, N. J. AND A. M. Duluth, Jan. 18, 1916.

HURRY THE DAY WHEN THE BIG GAME IS GONE

To the Editor of The Herald: In view of the discussion in the state about wolf bounties, I am sure many readers would be interested in the enclosed clipping from the Tower, Minn. Weekly News of Jan. 17. I would appreciate it if you would use it in the Open Court.

Tower, Minn., Jan. 20, 1916. THE WOLF BOUNTY QUESTION. Much discussion is heard over the statement of State Forester Cox relative to a $25 bounty on timber wolves only.

How many can tell the difference between a brush and a timber wolf? Who shall say that only timber wolves slay deer? The coyotes and brush variety eat just the same. They hunt in packs and are as deadly to big game as are their bigger brothers. Not long since a trapper at Trout lake saw where seventeen wolves had rested in the snow. They are growing more and more numerous and are deadly to be protected, and not the farmers. Let the state study the situation a trifle. Perhaps the appropriation is spent wrong for results. Here is a game preserve and a mile on each side of it must not be entered with a gun. Wolves soon learn this and are along and under the protected conditions. Better pay a game warden for the wolf packs he brings in off the preserve rather than reward him for dragging some farmer over the county and producing a criminal out of the same laws.

The sooner the game is wiped off the map the sooner peace will come to Northern Minnesota. Is our idea of the game question? When the last moose gets into Canada, the better we will all be off. And despite the activities of all the warden the game is going down the same. When the last pair of horns are gathered in then the last criminal must go to work and do some thing for himself and his country. A shotgun must be in the house and a mighty poor state to live in. Turn the guns loose and let us have peace. When the last horn is on the wall the 16-inch plow come in and we shall have a country to be proud of and of accessible value, which is not under present conditions.

WANTS WORKINGMAN FOR FACTORY INSPECTOR

To the Editor of The Herald: With your permission I would like to mention through this column a workingman in the state of Minnesota. The other day I had a chance to see a copy of the factory inspection laws, and from what I could decipher between the grease spots on it I could see at least two violations of it from where the notice was posted.

Now in my seventeen years off and on, in different occupations about Duluth, I have seen the factory inspector once, and then he was conducted about the place by the superintendent, so that if a man would want to call said inspector's attention to a dangerous part of a machine he would have to see him on election day. Let's hear from other fellow workingmen.

Yours for a workingman as an inspector, JOHN SON.

Minn. In regard to wolf bounties, I would say I heartily agree with Mr. Cook in all he said. Also as to the destruction caused by the brush wolf, would say he put it very mildly. First, the brush wolf is the main cause of the scarcity of partridges lately, as they destroy the birds and eggs at nesting time by the hundreds.

Second, at times when the snow gets deep, in March or the latter part of February, there sometimes comes a period of warm weather, followed by a cold wave, causing a crust on the top of say two or three feet of snow. The deer sink through the crust, while the light brush wolf runs on top. The rest is easy to imagine.

Besides, the deer most preyed upon at this time of year are the heavy does, being the least able to run. The brush wolf at this time of year seldom eats the deer all up, but seems to prefer a fresh one for his next meal.

By all means keep the bounty on the brush wolf, as in my mind they are more destructive than the timber wolf, being more plentiful in settled districts. I have trapped wolves for eight years in this locality, and am pretty well acquainted with their habits, and know pretty well what I am talking about.

Enough to cause some men to quit trapping them altogether. This is my opinion. Hoping you may think this worth publishing in the Open Court, I remain,

S. H. STEVENS, Saginaw, Minn., Jan. 20, 1916.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It endeavors, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to leave all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice in legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person writing it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

"His Nobs." Bruno, Minn.: Can double, triple and quadruple "runs" in cribbage be scored only from hands or "cribs" or can such "runs" also be scored during the play. For instance, A plays a 4; B, 4, announcing "8 with a 4." A calls "go." B then plays Jack; B plays queen.

Answer—Only the latter count is correct, as the first five intervenes to stop the second and third runs claimed in the first count. The run must be consecutive, though the numbers need not be in sequence. There can be no double runs in playing the hands—only single runs.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the song "Christine Le Roy," from Mrs. Ben R. Unson of Iron River, Wis.

"Only a Message From Home, Sweet Home," "Mother Old and Gray Who Needs Me Now," and "Symphony" from Laura A. Lacoss of Detroit, Minn.

"Two Brothers," beginning "Twas early dawn beneath an Indian sky," from Emily Wallis of Eveleth.

"Silver Threads Among the Gold," "A Wee Doc and Doris" and "The Dying Cowboy," from W. D. Miller of Duluth.

"The Dying Cowboy" was published in this column on the 13th of this month; it is too early to repeat it.

"The Gypsy's Warning" and "The Reply to the Gypsy's Warning," from Mrs. Thomas White of Duluth.

"The Gypsy's Warning" appeared in this column Dec. 30, 1915, and "The Reply" repeated them.

"On the Shores of Loch Lomond," from Robt. D. Jewell of Duluth.

"A Voice From the Porch," "I'll Paint You a Sign, Runseller," and one of the title of which may be "It's Only a Game and a Drink," are asked for by Edna Henderson of Westboro, Wis.

The last named of these begins as follows: He stood with his foot on the threshold.

HEALTH TALKS

Where the Health Department Is Important

A dozen waiters and kitchen helpers in restaurants were recently found to be suffering with tuberculosis. Three waiters were found to be suffering with phthisis.

Four had chronic ear suppuration (discharging ear), and many were victims of an all too prevalent disease, sometimes immorally, sometimes innocently contracted. These cases were found by Doctors Barlow and Bram in Philadelphia, but beyond the shadow of a doubt every other similar record.

Curiously enough, handlers and purveyors of food are frequently the most uncleanly persons on sea.

The personal habits of many waiters and kitchen helpers are abominable, and out of the very many typhoid fever epidemics which have been positively traced to "carriers," contaminating food by their uncleanly habits, there are on record authentic instances of such diseases as referred to above, for instance, being spread by waiters.

If the average city health department would devote one-half of the energy and money now expended in the silly rite of fumigating to the business of inspecting persons who handle food, a good deal of illness might be prevented. We have "pure food" laws, but we need also protection against the unclean handlers of food. "Pure food" is no longer pure after a dirty waiter or a filthy cook handles it.

And let it be said at once that mere white enamel, bathroom style restaurants and lunchrooms are not any cleaner than plain wooden ones. A beautiful marble slab or a bit of plate glass highly polished may be reeking with disease germs, whereas an unpainted wooden table may be absolutely sanitary.

The popular notion that a thing is sanitary because it is white or clean looking is wrong. There is no reason whatever for such a belief, except the commercialization of that overworked term, "sanitary."

A great railroad system some time ago inaugurated medical inspection of food is not included in the functions of the city health department? The answer is easy: It is the politicians' wish that business shall not be disturbed. Public health is all very well, but it is of no concern at all when business is inconvenienced.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. The Removal of Hair. I have watched your column for months in hope of seeing something about removing superfluous hair. Can't you suggest a safe, efficient depilatory remedy?

Answer—Gladly. There is but one in the world—but one that destroys hair—and that is the electric needle. All other depilatories are mere solvents of surface hair—they never destroy the roots, and the hair returns thicker and more noticeable than ever after a few weeks.

If your question is of general interest it will be answered through this column; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will be glad to write for individuals. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people reading in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated. way. "Your money or life?" the thief cried. Then he took with his knife his own side. 'Twas a picture from life's other side.

Chorus. They will be sorry That They Picked on Me. When I was born my ma and pa they looked at me and said "Oh, pshaw."

Oh, I'm so very lonesome, awfully sad; I know what I'd do by and by—I'll eat. And when I'm gone, you wait and see; they'll be sorry they picked on me.

This morning, just at 4 o'clock, some-one tried to pick our lock. I knew it "twas pa as sure as sin, and I got up to let him in.

My ma asked pa what time it was and pa told me 'twas 12 o'clock. Just then the cuckoo clock struck 4, and pa made me cuckoo eight times more.

Jim Blake. "Jim Blake, your wife is dying," came over the wires that night. 'Twas brought in by a boy who seemed half dead with fright.

Came rushing in with pale face and no pale and white. "Send this to my dad on his engine, for mother is dying tonight."

Jim Blake was our oldest driver. He had charge of the midnight express. He has folded the lever over the most of his life, I guess.

And when I saw this message was to our comrade, I hurried. You may bet I sent in a hurry this mighty dispatch to him.

In scarce a half an hour the answer came back from Cur. "Tell wife I'll meet her at midnight; tell her I'll pray for her."

I left Jim's boy in the office, took this message to Jim's wife. Found there a dying 12 o'clock, with scarce a breath of life.

And when I entered her chamber, she took me first for Jim. And fell back, high exhausted when she saw it was not him.

She raised her eyes to Heaven, with lips so deathly white. And said in a dying whisper, "God speed the Express tonight."

O'er hills and dales and valleys, there dashes a midnight train. With its screeching, rumbling thunder;

but amidst its awful strain Jim Blake hangs on the lever. He's guiding a dangerous flight. When a voice speaks out in the darkness, "God speed the Express tonight!"

It tells of the awful disaster—the train The engineer is dying—derailed by an open switch.

And then there comes another, from the engineer, I guess: "Tell wife I'll meet her in Heaven; don't wait for the midnight Express."

Christine Le Roy. I was dreamin' again of our bridal. One year ago only tonight. As I blundered through the gaslights above me.

In my jewels and garments so white. How I came to an end. And she wished me a lifetime of joy. And I knew 'twas the will of a demon.

Beneath the beautiful face of a saint. So at last one bright evening I found them.

It was a sight all my life to destroy. Hand in hand, with her head on his shoulder. Sat my Harry and Christine Le Roy. So brother, be kind to my darling.

For her poor heart is stricken and faint. Neath the beautiful face of a saint. When I sleep 'neath the snow drifts of winter.

Where no pain or no sin can destroy. You can't get them they murdered me, brother. God forgive him and Christine Le Roy.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY LAKE CARRIERS

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 21.—Officers of the Lake Carriers' association were re-elected at a business meeting yesterday afternoon.

William Livingston of Detroit is president. Four members of the board of directors, who have disposed of their marine interests were re-elected. They are William M. Mills of North Tonawanda, N. Y.; Carl C. Joyce, Milwaukee; W. H. Hawgood, Cleveland and John Craig, Toledo.

The other members of the board were re-elected and C. L. Hutchinson and E. C. Collins, both of Cleveland, were named as new members. The afternoon session was devoted to routine matters.

Henry D. Estabrook of New York and C. F. Marvin, chief of the United States coast guard, were the principal speakers at the annual banquet last night. The guests included W. P. Anderson, chief engineer of the department of marine and fisheries of Canada.

UPDIKE BOYS ARE INDICTED

Charged With Conspiring to Murder Parents and Sister.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Irving and Herbert Updike are said by State Attorney MacLay Hoyne to have told him, in separate interviews that each was watching the other and preparing to fall in with a plan of murdering their parents. Both said, according to Mr. Hoyne, they had no idea of consummating the plot.

Indictments charging them with conspiring to murder their father, Frank and lumberman, their mother and their sisters, Florence, were returned yesterday. They were placed in the county jail in default of bonds of $30,000 each.

The elder Updike remained unchanged in his assertion that the law must take its course, while Herbert said he and his brother were content to remain in jail until their father's attitude changed.

Herbert confirmed reports of his marriage in the fall of 1915, when he met a girl at Crown Point, Ind., on Jan. 8.

CLOSE FIRING BY FRENCH BATTERY

Shells Explode in German Trenches Only Seven Yards From French Post.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) Paris, Jan. 5.—A French artillery captain tells the following story of operations in Alsace:

"We had decided to get rid of a machine gun shelter that had been annoying us as a great deal and while we were about it to knock the front line of German trenches to pieces. The lines were so close that the colonel ordered all the front trenches to be evacuated except for my lieutenant, who had volunteered to stay there and direct the fire."

"My battery opened fire and after a few rounds my lieutenant telephoned that we were doing well, but that if we shortened our range twenty yards it would be still better. As the range was over 500 yards, I asked him if he was sure I could shorten it without danger to him. He answered that it was quite safe. After a number of rounds he telephoned me again to shorten the range, this time by ten yards. Then he said, your shells will be falling right on the front line of German trenches. I told him I would do it, but that he would be of course retire to the second line."

"I put out a patrol of 10 men, and then began again. Ten minutes later, to my amazement, the telephone rang again. My lieutenant had stayed at his post, although a perfect hail of French shells was bursting about him. He said, your shells will be falling right on the front line of German trenches just seven yards away from him. We measured the distance. It was something for our colonel that only one shell had burst in the French trenches."

CASUALTIES AMONG TEUTON DOCTORS IN WAR

Budapest, Jan. 21.—During a recent debate in the Hungarian parliament, it was officially stated that from the beginning of the war to the first of November, 1915, 373 German doctors have been wounded, 36 have been killed on battlefields, 767 have died from infectious diseases, and 215 have been taken prisoners. Among Austrian medical officers, the wounded number 373, and 331 have been taken prisoners. The deaths from infectious diseases is due to the epidemics of cholera and spotted typhus.

MAY PASS BILL FOR MORATORIUM OF RENT

London, Jan. 21.—Sir Alfred Mond's bill for a moratorium of rent for men entering the army, which would prevent landlords not only from raising rents on soldiers' dependents, but from putting them for arrears in payment, is now under the consideration of the war office. France passed such legislation on the outbreak of war, as a matter of course. But England, as a volunteer country, has not until lately considered such a measure necessary. The general opinion is that the domestic situation is such that passage of the measure cannot be long deferred.

Weather forecast for the Commercial club tonight—"Much colder with heavy snow and unusual formation of icicles—no 'probably' about it."

By the time the guests assembly for the dinner-dance at the Commercial club tonight the temperature of the dining room will have gone down from the balmy spring point to the ball of the thermometer, and maybe lower. The slush through which they have been wading will be forgotten and they will wonder if they have ever been uncomfortably warm. Huge beams of silver light will mingle with the sunlight which will decorate the chandeliers, and even holly leaves and poinsettias on the wall brackets will be so coated with frost that they will be perfectly white. Evening gowns, especially the gauzy ones, will look decidedly chilly and a hypnotist would have no difficulty in persuading the dancers to put on fur coats and mackinaws and in getting them in rapport for a sleigh ride.

The Commercial club is a true weather prophet for the forecaster has announced that the mercury will stand about zero tomorrow morning and that he will not be responsible for their slump it will take later in the day. The Commercial club members who turned up their coat collars every time they went into the dining room today got good practice for what they will have to do when the cold wave strikes Duluth tomorrow.

EVENTS OF TONIGHT AND TOMORROW.

The Commercial club will have a request dinner-dance tonight. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock and dancing will begin at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Stella Prince Stocker will speak on "The Woman Chief" before the Duluth Women's Suffrage association at 8 o'clock tonight at the home of Dr. Mary McCoy, 2127 East Fifth street.

The Washburn School Neighborhood club will meet at a reading party tonight. The coasts will meet at the school at 8 o'clock.

The Junior-Senior club will give a vaudeville program at 8 o'clock tonight at the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A.

The German-Austro-Hungarian Relief association will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at St. Paul's Evangelical church.

The Saturday club will meet in the library clubroom at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Jessie MacKenzie of 416 North Eighteenth avenue east will entertain the teachers of the Bryant school tomorrow afternoon in compliment to Miss Katherine King.

Ticknor-Geoltz Wedding at First Presbyterian

Miss Ida Ticknor of Port William and Walter Geoltz of Ashland, Wis., were married yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church by the pastor, Rev. George Brewer. Paul Geoltz of Ashland, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and Ted Jones of Port William was an out-of-town guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Geoltz left yesterday afternoon for a trip to the Twin Cities. They will make their home in Ashland.

"The Woman Chief" Will Be Theme of Lecture

Mrs. Stella Prince Stocker, who will speak on "The Woman Chief" before the members of the Duluth Women's Suffrage association tonight at the home of Dr. Mary McCoy, 2127 East Fifth street, traces her interest in Indian lore to her acquaintance with a noble and courageous woman, closely connected with American history, although her name is not to be found in ordinary books on the subject. She deserves to be mentioned in the same breath as the name of Pocahontas.

Mrs. Stocker will give a program of Indian music tonight as a setting for her talk.

Sounding Board Will Improve Armory Acoustics

The armory is in readiness for the series of concerts to be given by the Duluth orchestra. The new sounding board has been added to the acoustics of the auditorium and no difficulty should be experienced in hearing distinctly the most delicate number.

Charles Helmer has been added as a soloist at the first concert, which will be given Sunday afternoon, and will play Tosti's "Good-Bye," which is especially well adapted for the trumpet.

Mrs. Arabel Merrifield of Minneapolis is to sing a group of songs in addition to her principal solo number, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice."

The seating arrangement has been worked out so that 3,500 people can be accommodated. Two thousand seats will be reserved for the 44 subscriptions, the others will be for those having general admission subscriptions and admission tickets bought at the door.

Belle of Army Set Much Entertained in the Hub City

A belle of the army set in Washington is Miss Vivienne Conline. She is the daughter of Maj. John Conline, who is on the retired list, and she lives with her parents on H street, near Eighteenth street. She has been a visitor in Boston recently and was much entertained while there.

The plan of the auditorium will be found at Boyce's drug store. The start made last season in providing Duluth with a series of high-class orchestral concerts is being reflected daily in the many inquiries that are coming to the office of the association. The association has been working on the plans incident to the present series for many weeks, but unusual interest, seems to have been aroused within the last few days, probably due to a realization of the efforts that are being put forth.

In view of the success achieved by the orchestra last season it is only natural that it should be improved this season and this has been accomplished by the strengthening of the various sections by providing additional and unusual instrumentation, which had to be sought elsewhere, and which has resulted in the engagement of several musicians who have been connected with many famous bands and orchestras.

Church Meetings.

Rev. Burleson of New York will address the Women's Auxiliary of the Episcopal diocese of Duluth at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the guild hall of Trinity cathedral.

The following entertainment will be given by the R. Y. P. U. of Central Baptist church at the church tomorrow night:

Chorus.....Choir.....
Lullaby solo.....
Miss Muriel Churchill.....
Violin obbligato.....
Miss Ruby Lowe.....
Illustrated lecture—"Astrology and Astronomy," J. H. Darling.....
Vocal duet.....
Mr. and Mrs. Myron Griesberg.....
Chorus—"Blessed Be the Lord".....
Violin and piano duet.....
Miss Elsie Matthews and Miss Ruby Lowe.....

The Sunday-Society of Trinity English Lutheran church will meet tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. F. Brightest, 1805 West Second street.

Woodland Mothers' Club Plans Child Welfare Work

The following officers were elected by the Woodland Mothers' club at the meeting that was held yesterday afternoon at the E. D. Cobb school: President, Mrs. D. E. Giffin; first vice president, Mrs. D. Sherman; second vice president, Mrs. Clem Bush; secretary, Mrs. G. A. Pearce; and treasurer, Mrs. E. R. Cobb.

Miss Lydia Nelson, Y. W. C. A. secretary, spoke of the work the W. C. A. is doing for girls. The next meeting will be held Feb. 17 at the school.

The club is planning to have a infant welfare work that will be carried on with the co-operation of the school nurses and the school physician. The babies will be weighed at intervals and a chart will be kept regarding weight, feeding, clothing, amount of time spent outdoors, and whether or not they sleep in rooms in which there is a sufficient circulation of fresh air. The charts will be kept at the school and after the child starts to school his health and capacity for learning will be studied and compared with the earlier ones.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Money and Love Affairs

"I FRANCE," says a visitor to these shores, "it is considered impossible to speak about money or social position, while in the United States most everyone discusses money and social position and it is almost impossible to talk of love."

I don't know that it is modesty that keeps us from discussing our love affairs in the manner of the Latin races. I should say it was that we were cold and less demonstrative, and as a whole considered a love affair the distinct business of the most concerned. It is temperance that keeps the American from going into raptures over the charms and virtues of his lady fair.

I suppose temperance is partly responsible for the fact that we do freely talk about money and social position. Either temperance or environment and now that I think it over I believe that it is mostly environment. Money on all sides, and also "class" in this country, that one cannot blame the stranger for believing it to be characteristic of all of us.

"How much did it cost?" is heard on the lips of children and those of mature age. You can scarcely make a trip on a street car without hearing someone mention money. "Have they any money?" Now isn't that a common question? You can't escape hearing money mentioned in this country. As accustomed as I am to hearing this conversation and while it makes me feel a bit of a snob, I can't deny that we do go as a nation talk, talk about money and how much we have or how much we want or how much we need. I wish we had or of what someone else has or has not in our own community. And as for social position—that too, is discussed very broadly and by all. And as for social position—that too, is discussed very broadly and by all. And as for social position—that too, is discussed very broadly and by all.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Henrietta D. Grauel

Health depends upon good bread more than upon any other food; fortunately there is an innumerable variety of wholesome, strength-giving breads, so that there is no excuse for serving the same kind at every meal. Yesterday we talked a bit regarding serving flour, and today's recipes are selected to illustrate the use of entire wheat, Graham and other cereal flours.

Hotton Brown Bread—Scald two cups of white corn meal with one cup of boiling water; cover until cool, then add one-half cup of New Orleans molasses, and two cups each of Graham flour and white flour. Add two teaspoons of baking powder and one teaspoon of salt. Moisten, until the dough is stiff, with water; steam two hours and bake one hour.

Butter Wheat Bread—Dissolve a cake of compressed yeast in a little warm water, add a teaspoon of salt, a tablespoon of sugar, one quart of flour, one and one-half cups of water, and three pounds of flour. Mix and knead a little and set to rise where it is well covered with draughts.

When this is light, knead about twenty minutes and put in a shallow tin. Let it rise again, but not too long; it will not double its bulk. Bake as usual. To use all the milk in the entire wheat bread, and a wise precaution is to add a tiny bit of soda with the flour, the milk sometimes sours during the prolonged rising.

Hominy Bread—Scald a pint of white corn meal with a pint of boiling water, beat well and add a pint of cold milk, a cup of cold cooked hominy.

Two tablespoons of shortening, two well-beaten eggs, salt to taste, and two teaspoons of baking powder sifted with a scant cup of flour. Bake in a round pan thirty minutes and serve from this pan. It should be so moist and tender as to need a spoon for serving. Cold cooked oatmeal, cold boiled rice, or farina may be added in place of hominy.

Miss Parlo's Graham Muffins—Mix a pint of Graham flour and a pint of white flour with a teaspoon of soda and a generous pint of sour milk. Add two tablespoons of melted shortening and two well-beaten eggs. Mix well and bake in hot buttered muffin pans in quick oven twenty minutes.

Salt-Rising Bread—Thicken one-half pint of milk with corn meal and place where it will keep warm enough to start the yeast. This is the loaf-making for this bread. In the morning add one teaspoon of yeast, one cup of warm water, one mashed potato and flour to make a stiff batter. Let this rise quickly in a warm place and add one tablespoon of sugar and one of lard. Knead well, adding more flour as necessary, until it is smooth and elastic. Let it rise in pans and bake.

Oatmeal Bread—Mix a cup and a half of oatmeal with one pint of cold milk, mix in slowly one and a half cups of sifted flour, two teaspoons of baking powder and a teaspoon of salt. Grease a bread pan well and bake a moderate oven. Eat hot with syrup.

hygienic standpoint; for instance: Lemon juice remove stains from the hands.

Lemon juice in plain water is an excellent tooth wash; it not only removes the tartar, but sweetens the mouth.

Lemon juice applications will allay irritation caused by the bites of insects.

The juice of a lemon taken in hot water on awakening is an excellent cure for colds, and for stout people it is better than any "anti-fat" medicine ever invented.

Glycerine and lemon juice, half and half, on a bit of absorbent cotton, is an excellent remedy for chapped lips. Moistened the lips of a fever-parched patient.

Lemon juice and salt will remove rust stains.

Chirpy's Narrow Escape

The same snowfall that made it possible for Tommy Thymouse to escape such fun in the covered-up garden brought very bad luck to poor little Chirpy. Instead of getting his usual more chance for food, the snow covered up what he had been waiting for in the cold winter time; and if it had not been for crumbs thrown out from the scraps Chirpy had been starved to death.

Even with the help of the crumbs, he was not able to keep himself warm and comfortable, and he was more than glad when he could pick up something out of the ground. Of course, there was no food in the snow, but he was so hungry that he would eat anything that he could get his beak on.

Drama League Plays.

The Drama league will present two one-act plays at its little theater on Monday evening, Jan. 21. The plays chosen are: "The Swan Song," a serious piece by Anton Tchekoff, and "The Lost Silk Hat," a light comedy, by Lord Dunsany, two plays proving a striking contrast and affording most diversified opportunities for the players. The program will be given for members and their guests. Application for membership may be made to Mrs. M. B. Cullum.

bridge, if the women winners expected to receive silver bon-bon dishes, powder puff boxes or vanity cases they were not disappointed. The prizes were when they received the stock, endorsed in blank. The stock drawn dividends of 7 per cent. The names of the winners are not known.

Mrs. Gary, who is chairman of the United States Steel corporation, confirmed the report yesterday of the nature of the prizes at Mrs. Gary's bridge party, but declined to comment on it in any way, saying that it was a private affair. Mrs. Gary entertained frequently in the winter season at her home, and she gives a bridge party once a year.

Events of Interest

Mrs. George Brown of 1003 East Second street entertained the dinner bee of J. B. Culver corps yesterday afternoon. Miss Violet Lind gave two vocal numbers and Miss Marielette Willis two readings. Mrs. M. N. Willis won the favors. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. H. Sullivan, Mrs. Margaret Pier and Mrs. Morgan.

Mrs. M. W. McCabe, 2328 Roslyn avenue, entertained at tea yesterday in honor of Mrs. James McCabe of Glasgow, N. D. Mr. and Mrs. James McCabe have taken the winter and will leave today for a six weeks' trip to Pasadena, Cal. Mrs. McCabe is accompanied by their daughters, Miss Jessie McCabe and Mrs. Olin W. Rowe of 2334 Woodland avenue.

Mrs. Joseph C. Barton, 1819 East Second street, will entertain at bridge next Wednesday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. E. Richardson, 2525 East Second street.

Miss Esther Coffin, 1829 Woodland avenue, entertained informally at the tea hour Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Maxiner, 625 East Fourth street, entertained several guests at luncheon yesterday at her home. The decorations were narcissus and pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Friss, 413 First avenue west, entertained last evening at a dance in honor of Mrs. Sara Miller of Eau Claire, Wis., and her fiancé, Harry J. Kiltner of Augusta, Wis.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Frank Gilbert of Portland, Or., is the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Carol Graft, 1601 East First street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams have taken Mrs. J. B. Culver's apartment in the Berkshire apartment building for the winter.

Mrs. Fred C. Elston and son will leave next week for Hot Springs, Ark., to be gone a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fee, 2605 East Third street, will leave soon for Hot Springs, later going to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Henry, 4218 Cambridge street, left last night for a three weeks' visit in Penn Yan and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Dinham, 112 Sixth avenue east, will leave tomorrow afternoon for a six weeks' tour through Southern California.

ROOSTER ACT AT GRAND.

Trained Birds Amuse Large Crowds at Popular Playhouse.

An act without a duplicate in vaudeville headlined the new show at the Grand theater last night, and was received with great applause by the audience. The act was a large number of trained roosters, which were put through an unusual act.

The roosters appeared in their own act. At the end of the game, there was considerable speculation as to the nature of the prize, as it was being talked about on the stock exchange.

The stock given out in prizes, in the aggregate, was worth about $62. It is quoted at $1.50 a share. Prizes were given to the winners of the game, and the value has been awarded at society bridge parties, but the prizes were given to the winners of the game.

The Wedding Present

Find Out What Pattern the Bride Has Chosen.

In buying silver, no matter if it is only one piece, a courteous recognition of the fact that one is buying to suit the taste of the recipient is to inquire of the bride's mother what pattern has been chosen, and buy accordingly.

Pictures are a favorite wedding present, but I think one should be very careful in choosing. The pictures on our walls ought to express our personality, and it is rather too bad that they often express only the conglomerate tastes (or lack of taste) of our friends.

Worth-while books—dictionaries, encyclopedias, reference books of all sorts, and the like—make a safe and a desirable gift to me, but I may be prejudiced.

Why Not Lump Several Little Gifts Into One Big One?

Many brides would be very happy if they might only lump a dozen of their smaller gifts together and exchange them for one good, solid, much-needed piece of furniture. A crowd of young people in our neighborhood recognized that when one of the number was about to be married, instead of giving individual gifts, they clubbed together and gave a chair that would be a lifelong reminder of their thoughtful generosity.

Of course, this is often done in clubs, offices, etc., but I wish it could be done among neighbors and social groups more than it is.

The giver who makes a genuine effort to find out the bride's tastes and desires to get something genuinely useful will be very likely to get genuine gratitude in return.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Decisions were handed down in the following cases by the Minnesota supreme court here today:

HENNEPIN COUNTY.

Writ Discharged.
State of Minnesota, ex rel. Anton Hemza and Sophia Hemza, relators, vs. Daniel Fish, judge of district court, Hennepin county, and Joseph Chervy, respondents.
The respondent, a judge of the district court, having considered and denied, on its merits, an application to "settle" a case after the lapse of the statutory period, this court cannot afford relief, especially since there was no abuse of judicial discretion.
Writ discharged. Per Curiam.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.

Evidence Supports Findings.
Mrs. R. F. Nicholson, appellant, vs. H. F. Dodge, et al. defendants, National Manufacturing & Supply company, respondent.
More than a year after its maturity, plaintiff received a promissory note executed by defendant Dodge for a personal loan to him. Dodge, before delivery, wrote the name of the defendant corporation on the back of the note. It is conceded that the law is that respondent (corporation) had no authority or power to become an indorser. Held, that the finding of the trial court that a plaintiff is not a purchaser for value before maturity is supported by the evidence.
Order affirmed. SCHALLER, J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.

On Inheritance Tax.
State of Minnesota, ex rel. Theophilus Bastin, et al. petitioners, vs. Probate Court, Hennepin county, et al. respondents.
Under laws 1905, c. 288, prior to the amendments made by laws 1911, c. 209, a tax upon an inheritance was computed upon the value at the time of the decedent's death of the right to receive the amount actually paid at the date of its payment; and it became due when the beneficiary took into his possession and enjoyment of any part exceeding the statutory exemption.
Order affirmed. DIBELL, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.

Inspection Law Valid.
State of Minnesota, respondent, vs. Bartles Oil company, appellant.
1. The prevention of fraud and imposition upon the purchasing public in the sale of a commodity the quality of which is not readily ascertainable is a proper subject of police regulation as well as the protection of public safety; and laws 1909, c. 602, G. S. 1913, sections 2619-2622, providing for the testing of gasoline for gravity, requiring it to be branded "unsafe" for illuminating purposes, and requiring the word "gasoline" to be stenciled on every barrel or package, is a proper police measure and is not in contravention of the Constitution.
2. Where a commodity is shipped from one state into another, its identity not preserved, mingled with property of like character, held there for sale and not designed for any particular purchaser, reshipment to any particular place, it becomes a part of the general mass of the property of the state and is not longer the subject of interstate commerce; and the statute cited operates in furtherance of the public safety and the revenue law and was not intended to operate upon property the subject of interstate commerce.
3. Such a commodity, whether the subject of interstate commerce or a part of the general mass of the property of the state is not longer the subject of interstate commerce; and the charges must be reasonable and intended for the purpose of covering expenses of inspection and not for the purpose of revenue; and it is held that the statute cited is a revenue law clothed in the guise of an inspection law.
4. Constitution of United States, article 1, section 10, clause 2, prohibits a state from laying duties on imports except such as are necessary in the execution of the laws which refer to imports from foreign countries and not to shipments from state to state.
Order affirmed. DIBELL, J.

CARLTON COUNTY.

Malpractice Claim Upheld.
Gust Witt, respondent, vs. William G. Dolan et al. defendant, James Fleming, appellant.
Assuming that the relation of plaintiff and physician existed between plaintiff and defendant, the evidence was sufficient to justify the jury in finding that the physician failed to exercise the degree of care and skill which the law requires.
2. Plaintiff's employer had an arrangement with defendant, physicians, which the employer deducted a certain sum each month from the pay of each employee, over and above the sum deducted to defendants, who agreed, for such compensation, to care for and treat all injured employees which the employer should send to them. Plaintiff was injured and taken to defendant's hospital and treated by them under this arrangement. It is held that plaintiff's duty to exercise ordinary care and skill in treating him.
3. A settlement between plaintiff and his employer under the workmen's compensation act, by which the employee was released from all claims on account of the injury to plaintiff, did not operate as a settlement or release of any claim for malpractice which plaintiff might have against the physicians who treated him.
4. The damages awarded are not excessive.
5. Certain rulings of the trial court on the admission of evidence held not erroneous.
6. The trial court refused to instruct the jury as requested that defendant was bound to possess and exercise only the reasonable degree of care and skill possessed and exercised by physicians and surgeons in similar localities to that in which defendant practiced, and is protected from the charge of negligence if he adopts and uses in performing an operation the methods in use among competent surgeons in the locality in which the operation takes place. In its general charge the court instructed the jury the defendant was required to exercise such reasonable care and skill as an ordinary physician or surgeon in good practice would exercise under like circumstances, and that among the circumstances to be considered was the location of the physician in Cloquet rather than in Duluth, St. Paul or some other place. It is held that the court refused to give the requested instructions and giving instead the instructions quoted, committed no reversible error.
7. While the jury was being selected defendant's attorney testified that a certain company was interested in the defense of the case. Defendant was then sworn and asked if this was true. Held, that it was not prejudicial error to overrule an objection to this question, but the conduct of plaintiff's counsel in asking the question is disapproved.
Affirmed. BUNN, J.

DAKOTA COUNTY.

On Freight Train.
Alma Block, respondent, vs. Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, appellant.
The care required of a railroad company carrying passengers on a freight train is the highest degree of care consistent with the practical operation of such a train. Plaintiff, a passenger on a freight train, was injured while on the front platform of a caboose by catching her toe in the coupling as the train started backward as an incident to switching at a station. The train started with no unusual suddenness and at no unusual time. The evidence shows no negligence on the part of directors. There was no obligation to give notice to passengers of movements of the train during switching operations at a station. The evidence is insufficient to establish a custom to give such warning.
The plaintiff, in sitting or standing with her toe upon or about the bumpers or coupling between cars, was herself negligent as a matter of law. Order reversed and judgment ordered for defendant. HALLAM, J.

DAKOTA COUNTY.

Lower Court Affirmed.
Ellen Holland, appellant, vs. B. K. Ousby, et al. defendants, B. K. Ousby, respondent.
The evidence sustains a finding that plaintiff and defendant in 1913 entered into a verbal agreement for the sale by the former to the latter of her interest in a farm, and that defendant fully performed his part of the agreement. The evidence sustains a finding that defendant was in adverse possession of the land for the statutory time. While the possession of defendant was in the beginning that of a tenant in common, and not hostile or adverse to plaintiff, the evidence sustains a finding that defendant asserted a hostile claim, brought to the notice of plaintiff, denoting his intention to hold adversely, and the statutory time has elapsed since the assertion of such claim.
Affirmed. BUNN, J.

BLUE EARTH COUNTY.

New Trial Denied.
C. J. Lausich, respondent, vs. M. St. P. R. & D. Elec. Traction company, appellant, and Louis L. Lausich, respondent, vs. M. St. P. R. & D. Elec. Traction company, appellant.
The evidence was sufficient to sustain a verdict finding defendant guilty of negligence and plaintiffs free from negligence.
In denying a motion for a new trial, made on the ground of newly discovered evidence, the court committed no error.
There was no error in a remark of the court made in denying a request to send the jury to view the place of the accident.
There was no reversible error in the charges to the jury; the refusal to give an instruction requested by defendant, or in certain rulings on the admission of evidence assigned as error.
Affirmed. BUNN, J.

MAHONWOOD COUNTY.

Procedure Denied.
Luck Land company, appellant, vs. Emma Dixon, respondent.
1. Where title to real estate is in controversy, a finding that one party is the owner thereof is a finding of the ultimate issue, and a finding of the evidentiary facts which result in such conclusion is unnecessary.
2. Spear vs. Noonan, 131 Minn. 165 N. W. 107, followed, and the notice on the part of the plaintiff for redemption from the tax sale held invalid for failure to conform to the requirements of section 415, chapter 2, Laws of 1902, as required by chapter 270, Laws of 1905.
Affirmed. TAYLOR, C.

COTTONWOOD COUNTY.

Suit Properly Dismissed.
George O. Collier, appellant, vs. Birmingham Lake Rural Telephone company, respondent.
1. Moving a house along a village street is not using the street for the purpose of ordinary travel; and the statutory requirement that a telephone company shall locate its lines so as not to interfere with the safety and convenience of ordinary travel does not make it the duty of the company to remove its wires from the street to permit the passage of a house along the street.
2. Where a house-mover, with the consent of the company, removes such wires to permit the passage of the house, he is acting in furtherance of his own business, and the maintenance of the business of the company, and is not the servant of the company, but a licensee.
3. A suit for damages against the company brought by such house-mover, on the ground that he was the servant of the company and was injured by the breaking of a telephone wire which he had climbed from which he had cut the supporting wires, the defect in the pole being unknown to the company, was properly dismissed for the reason that he was only a licensee and not a servant of the company.
Affirmed.

WASECA COUNTY.

Trial Court Reversed.
James Joyce, appellant, vs. Village of Janesville, et al. respondents.
In an action to enjoin the defendant village and its officers from discharging sewage upon plaintiff's land, the plaintiff claimed that the sewage, retained by the village for surface drainage, collected on the overflow from the village, discharged the same together with surface waters upon and over plaintiff's land to its detriment and injury. It was also found that the village officers had no knowledge of the discharge of sewage into the ditch and that the village was not responsible therefor. It is held:
The invasion of plaintiff's land as found by the court constituted a nuisance entitling plaintiff to an injunction against its continuance by the village.
That if notice was necessary before suit, the officers of the village had knowledge and notice thereof, and the finding of the court is not sustained by the evidence, nor was the defense of want of due care maintained.
If a municipality invades private property and creates a nuisance thereon, the injured party is entitled to relief and it is immaterial how or by what means the municipality or its officers caused the injury.
When the main purpose of the suit is to enjoin the city or village from maintaining a private nuisance, the written notice prescribed by section 178, G. S. 1913, need not be served before suit. Such action is not predicated upon negligence of the municipality or its officers.
For a continuing nuisance there is no adequate remedy at law.
Reversed. HOLT, J.

Parents Should Know this Splendid Remedy

Simple Laxative Compound Helps to Correct Constipation in Children.

With all children there are times when the bowels fail to act naturally and it becomes necessary for the parents to administer a remedy. Cathartics and purgatives should never be used as these agents afford only temporary relief while their violent action shocks the system unduly. Mrs. Eva F. Caffi, 517 10th St., Washington, D. C., says that her little girl, Marie, had been subject to constipation, and that she found Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the best remedy because of its mildness, and now always keeps a bottle of it in the house.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of simple laxative herbs, free from opiates or narcotic drugs of any kind, and is an ideal remedy for children because of its mild action and positive effect. Its use tends to strengthen the impaired bowel action and restore normal regularity.

It is important that parents should know of a dependable remedy with no unpleasant after effects; griping or strain. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin costs only fifty cents a bottle and can be procured at any drug store. To obtain a trial bottle, free of charge, write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

L. K. Daugherty Invites Carpenters to Call

L. K. DAUGHERTY.
In his section, where he is most generally known, L. K. Daugherty, head of the hardware company that bears his name at 216 East Fourth street, is recognized as a merchant with whom one may deal with pleasure and profit.

Mr. Daugherty is thorough and fair. He buys the best goods on the market and sells them at very moderate prices, a system which appeals strongly to people who are close buyers of high-grade hardware. This system is particularly popular with carpenters in regard to their tools, which naturally need to be the very best. For instance, Simonds Saws are sold here at a price which is very low for the quality. Satisfied customers bring other customers. There is no question as to the quality of the goods sold by Mr. Daugherty. He extends an invitation to all carpenters to call and inspect his complete line of Simonds Saws.

BORN IN CALUMET.

Claim Made for Copper Country Man Held on British Ship.
Calumet, Mich., Jan. 21.—The family of John Maytham Dolkie, who was born in Calumet on Jan. 27, 1892, his father being Olaf Dolkie, a naturalized citizen of Finnish origin, has been notified by cable that Dolkie is held aboard the British ship, Stuart Prince, at Manchester, England, the English authorities claiming him as a subject of Great Britain.

Proof of Dolkie's parents being American citizens and of his birth in Calumet in a Calumet church when but a few weeks old and also sworn statements regarding his birth here are being forwarded to United States Senator Alden Smith at Washington with a request that he should take the matter with the state department and ask for immediate action. It is urged because the Stuart Prince will sail under orders of the British admiralty from Manchester on Jan. 20, and Dolkie will be forced to remain in service aboard the ship unless his release can be procured by that time.

COLD WAVE ON THE WAY

Snow, Northwest Gale and Below Zero Weather Coming.

Another cold wave is to use the parlance of Weather Forecaster Richardson, coming in fast. Late this afternoon it is due to make itself felt and tomorrow and Saturday night are promised to be the real thing in cold. The temperature at 7 o'clock this morning was 23 deg. above zero, but by the same time tomorrow morning it will have reached the vicinity of the zero mark—either above or below—and will continue to get colder during the day.

Tomorrow night, Mr. Richardson says, will be severe. The cold wave will have as accompaniments snow and a northwest gale. Mr. Richardson expects the wind to shift to northwest this afternoon, and when it does that will be a signal to get into warm clothing if that detail has not already been attended to. The cold wave has already developed in the extreme Northwest and the temperature there has dropped many degrees in the last few hours. It will embrace that territory and also most of Minnesota, Western Wisconsin and the Dakotas. About when it is due to break in, as yet, unknown.

UNPREPAREDNESS OF ARMY AND NAVY SHOWN

are about to experience a nation-wide reaction of public opinion which cannot fail to crystallize into a national spirit, finding expression in a definite code of policies dealing with foreign affairs in order to sustain which the United States, if need be, will declare war.

Others Fight in Packs.
In pointing out that "other nations fight in packs and we singly," Mr. Wood said, "The United States should formulate a naval policy that will bear the full brunt, if necessary, of a coalition of powers." He advocated a naval policy that would "maintain at all times in the Atlantic ocean a fleet superior to that of Germany; in the Pacific a force superior to Japan; protect the Panama canal against capture or destruction by land or by sea, or injury by air."

"The present machinery of our government is utterly unfitted to deal with our naval problems," declared Charles G. Curtis of New York, a prominent manufacturer of ship turbines.

"Congress should follow the advice of the general board and adopt its program without delay. The co-operation of the shipbuilders should be enlisted, and both private and government yards should be put in condition to build all the warships necessary with the greatest possible rapidity."

George von L. Meyer, former secretary of the navy, declared "the fundamental defect of the navy department is that it has no brain," no competent military organization charged with the preparation of the fleet for war, and with their conduct in war, and in consequence the navy is being built and administered on a peace basis, and is not being efficiently prepared for the future.

The leading officers of our navy have for years continuously advocated this essential organization, but congress has always refused to grant it.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC IN RECORD VOLUME
Shipments By Manufacturers and Jobbers Make Heavy Gains.

Freight traffic is being maintained in record volume for the season, according to local railroad officials. Shipments of general merchandise by Duluth jobbers and manufacturing establishments are said to be showing remarkable gains, and heavy commodities are also moving more freely.

On account of cold weather conditions shipments of coal from the docks at the Head of the Lakes to dealers at interior points have increased materially. The movement of grain from the West has fallen off considerably, but shipments of both Canadian bonded and domestic wheat all-rail to the seaboard are expected to attain good volume in coming up, and it is hoped that more Eastern cars will soon be available for grain shipments from this point.

TO TRANSFER AMERICAN CONSUL FROM GERMANY
Washington, Jan. 21.—Arrangements to transfer American Consul Edward Higgins from Stuttgart, Germany, to some other country were reported today by the state department. Higgins will not be recalled or granted a leave of absence. He has become ill with pneumonia, were almost swept away by a torrent which flowed about the holds, but finally got the physician to the door.

Mrs. Michael Scannon fell from a raft and was rescued, it is reported, by a squad of men worked desperately today to prevent the bursting of a dam, a mile long. The lake is above the school, but the buildings are protected in a measure by an intervening ravine.

HUNDREDS ARE TURNED AWAY

Laymen Speakers Tell Fascinating Stories of Foreign Lands.
War Brings Many New Problems, According to Missionaries.

With hundreds unable to get into the First M. E. church, Third street and Third avenue west, last night, the Laymen's Missionary speakers addressed an audience that listened with keen interest to the fascinating stories told by the men on the program, some of whom have had remarkable as well as thrilling experiences in strange places throughout the uncivilized world.

Herbert S. Johnson, the millionaire preacher of Boston; Ernest W. Nafziger, the John McCormack of evangelism; and S. Hall Young, the "pioneer preacher of the gold fields," and Fred B. Fisher, one of the most noted leaders of the M. E. church and a missionary in India for many years, were among those on the program.

Millionaire Preacher Speaks.
Dr. Johnson, who opened the program, said he had been referred to as the "richest preacher in the world," but he said that his aim was not to be advertised as such. "Shall America lose Christ?" was his topic, and he said in answer that there was some danger that America would lose Christ, if men here allowed opportunity to make purses out of dead men's skins. Dr. Johnson was listened to with marked interest. He said in part:

"Whenever man, woman or nation listens to a spiritual appeal or opportunity, it is impossible that they be unaffected. The danger is that the themes of the speakers be treated in the same spirit one would treat goods in a bazaar or department store. That is, you feel that you can take them or leave them."

"But the psychology of the human heart is such that whoever is false in the presence of the great truth becomes harmed. Men and women who live in the greatest danger of losing Christ will become better from this hour or will grow worse. It is impossible that any one of you leave this meeting unaffected."

Danger of Losing Christ.
"There is a danger that the United States will lose Christ, as we face the greatest crisis in its history. If America uses the war as an opportunity to make purses out of dead men's skins, she is in the greatest danger of losing Christ, that is the real Christ."

with a solo by Mr. Nafziger and benediction by Pastor Herbert Johnson.

During the afternoon Dr. Young spoke in a fascinating manner of his experiences in the gold fields of Alaska. He said:

"When I first went to Alaska in 1878 there were not 200 whites in the territory and no mines, only one salmon cannery and but one or two small sawmills. There were but few Christian missions. In 1879 it was my privilege to build and organize the first American Protestant church in Alaska, at Fort Wrangell. For ten years I was explorer and founder of missions for that board among the foreign tribes."

"The progress of all these missions has been very encouraging and it is doubtful whether the same amount of money, time and labor expended has brought a larger return to Christian civilization in any other part of the world than in the territory of Alaska."

Dr. Fred B. Fisher, leader of the laymen's team now in Duluth, spoke on "India's Silent Revolution," and he discussed the remarkable condition prevailing in that land. "In the north of India the United Presbyterian church turned away last year 140,000 who requested baptism," he said. "The import of this may be realized when I say that this is practically as many members as the United Presbyterian church has in the whole United States. The Methodist Episcopal refused baptism to more than 100,000 who were baptized in that land."

In view of the fact that the convention is a large one and attended by some of the leading textile manufacturers and drygoods merchants in the United States, the selection of Mr. Patrick to the office is deemed as a high honor.

FLOODWOOD MAN DIES WHILE BUILDING FIRE

Floodwood, Minn., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Oscar L. Bouley, 47 years of age, for twelve years past a resident of Floodwood, was suddenly stricken with what is believed to have been an acute attack of heart disease while about to kindle the morning fires. He sank to the floor, where he was found an hour or later by members of the family, lying face downward, hands clasped to his sides, dead.

The entire plant of a Pennsylvania asphalt block manufacturing concern is mounted on freight cars, so that it can be taken wherever there is work for it to do.

CARIBOU NOT ALL EXTINCT

Game Warden Bailey Finds Herd in Swamp West of Big Falls.

Official Also Reports That Rabbit Tick Is Killing Off Bunnies.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the last herds in America of caribou has been found in the swamps west of Big Falls along the Sturgeon river, near the Beltrami county line.

This and other interesting facts are made known by Game Warden S. C. Bailey of this city, for Carlos Avery, executive agent of the game and fish commission.

Mr. Bailey also calls attention to the scarcity of rabbits this year which makes the wolves hunt other kinds of food, one method being to kill deer. The game warden, however, says that reports that the wolves are "blatantly" killing the deer are incorrect and that only infrequently is a deer killed by wolves.

The decrease in the number of rabbits is attributed to the tick which attacks the rabbits and causes the death of the animal. The tick is a small, round, brown, oval-shaped insect, about the size of a pinhead, which attaches itself to the rabbit and sucks its blood.

Four of these cases are for killing moose. Three of the moose were cows, which cannot be legally killed at any time and the other was a bull. The moose were killed by the ticks.

Two of the animals were killed near Blackduck and the other near Big Falls.

Mr. Bailey has made eighteen seizures of fish, game, and furs, and has issued 143 licenses for the season. He has also issued 143 licenses for the season.

In a recent visit to Bemidji, Carlos Avery, state game warden, said an effort would be made to increase the capacity of the Bemidji hatchery to 600 cases a year.

The cost of operating the hatchery to the state this year was about $30 in actual expense.

Deer, in an effort to get away from the wolves, are crowding to the settlements and stay close to the homes of the settlers. The wolves, on account of the scarcity of rabbits, are hungry, and few reports of deer being killed have reached Mr. Bailey.

Mr. Bailey says that the settlers protect the deer as if they were their own cattle and it is through the settlers that he receives much of his information.

NEW VALLEY CITY, N. D., CHURCH

SWEDISH EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH.
Valley City, N. D., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Swedish Evangelical Lutheran church of Valley City is occupying their new church which was recently completed and is one of the best built by the denomination in North Dakota.

The church is equipped with a large auditorium, dining room, kitchen, parlors and is well furnished. The building is faced with plaster stucco and has a prominent steeple.

Pastors of the North Dakota district of the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran church will hold their annual meeting in the new church Jan. 25 to 27. Rev. Ernest Martell is pastor.

Formation that leads to the arrest of same violators.

In Northern Beltrami county, Mr. Bailey secured evidence against a man for setting a trap for moose. Mr. Bailey visited the man's place and found moose meat in his possession.

The man then told Mr. Bailey about the guns he had in his possession and Mr. Bailey suspected that the man might have traps set. He took an inventory, finding that one gun was a .30-06, a .30-03, and a .30-06.

In every case the accused men have pleaded guilty and during his eight years of service as a game warden only one man has pleaded not guilty and fought a case, and this fellow eventually was convicted.

This winter 125 whitefish licenses have been issued and 150 persons have applied for fishhouse licenses.

Got Fishing License.
Last summer fifty-six non-residents of the state secured fishing licenses from Mr. Bailey, 143 large game licenses were issued by the county auditor and 537 small game licenses were issued. Fourteen retaining tags, which permit hunters to keep deer meat for the season, were issued.

Mr. Bailey shows that 290 cases of pike fry were hatched at the Bemidji hatchery, which was built by local business men last spring at a cost of $150. Of the 290 cases, 100 cases were dumped in Lake Bemidji, while the remainder were shipped to stations in this vicinity.

In a recent visit to Bemidji, Carlos Avery, state game warden, said an effort would be made to increase the capacity of the Bemidji hatchery to 600 cases a year.

The cost of operating the hatchery to the state this year was about $30 in actual expense.

Deer, in an effort to get away from the wolves, are crowding to the settlements and stay close to the homes of the settlers. The wolves, on account of the scarcity of rabbits, are hungry, and few reports of deer being killed have reached Mr. Bailey.

Mr. Bailey says that the settlers protect the deer as if they were their own cattle and it is through the settlers that he receives much of his information.

WALKER MEN WILL SEEK GOOD ROADS

Walker, Minn., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The auto club this week named the following delegates to go to St. Paul and appear before the State highway commission on road matters: Dan DeLury, F. A. Dore, P. H. McGarry, Ed. E. Stadel, R. Gaylord, J. S. Scribner and Dr. F. L. Wilcox.

ROSEAU FARMERS IMPROVE STOCK

Carload of Registered Heifers Has Just Been Bought.

Roseau, Minn., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Roseau County Holstein Breeders' association has purchased a carload of registered heifers of the Arden farms of St. Paul. These animals are of fair production record, coming from the highest production herd in the state.

The Danish Cow Testing association, which is in the work of this association and a community bull, second to none in the state, will soon be purchased.

An individual product advertising campaign is being conducted by the Roseau county dairymen. The object is to improve the quality of the dairy industry in Roseau county.

Buy Some Shorthorns.
Olat Hiltah, president of the Citizens' bank, has purchased a carload of beef Shorthorns, headed by a sire of great individual excellence, the milking type of Shorthorn was eliminated in this shipment as being unsuited to the highest grade of either beef or dairy production. No local attempt is being made to build up one industry at the expense of another.

Nervous Periodical Headaches
This trouble commonly called "tick headache," is said to be due to the retention of urea in the system. Often it is stated that a poor condition of the blood is a cause of the headache, or that it is a nervous condition; and in certain cases, no doubt this is true.

When treatment is demanded, it is more for the pain than anything else, and Dr. F. Schellbach of Louisville, has found anti-kamnia tablets to give prompt and satisfactory relief. Rest should be insisted upon," he says, "and the patient should go to bed, darken the room, and all lights should be excluded. The patient may take as much as five or six tablets, but should not take more than five or six tablets when the first signs appear, will prevent the attack. During an attack, one tablet every hour or two will shorten the attack and relieve the usual nausea and vomiting. These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also useful for nervous headaches, neuralgia and all pains.

ROWE MCMANUS.
Brookston, Minn., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The attention of Mrs. C. A. Duff, postmistress of Brookston, was attracted by a letter from Rowe McManus, who recently resigned.

McManus has held the office since September, 1907, but he did his other duties too numerous to give the post-office the attention it demands. The post-office department will call an examination at an early date, after which the vacancy will be filled.

ONE MURDER CASE TO BE TRIED IN ASHLAND

Ashland, Wis., Jan. 21.—Jury Commissioners John Berg of Ashland, George Derringer of Glidden and C. A. Poundstone of Melton have selected the jurors for the February term of circuit court which opens here Monday.

The February term of court promises to be interesting with one murder case and one attempt at murder to be tried. The former is that of Jake Carbon of the Milwaukee street car company, charged with the shooting of two men at Marquette.

The Milwaukee street car company has been connected with the Standard Oil company here, left Wednesday for Chicago, where he goes to assume the duties of sales manager over the La Crosse division. Mr. Levy will be succeeded by George R. Hartson of this city.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS
Manitowoc—A gang of boys, breaking into St. Mary's Polish Catholic church on Marshall street, broke out several of the lead pipes in the $2,000 pipe organ in the church and cut away the wood supports in order to procure the lead to melt and sell.

Madison—Joe Roemer, formerly a member of the Wisconsin railroad commission, recently sustained a compound fracture of his left leg when he fell from a horse near his home at Evanston, Ill., where he now resides.

Grand Rapids—William Hahn, 4 years old, died as a result of falling into a well at his home here. His mother was badly burned while attempting to save him from the well.

Stevens Point—Sheriff H. R. Furest of Waupaca county has suffered a slight stroke of paralysis. It is believed he will fully recover.

Deer River—At the annual meeting of the Dodge County Fair association the following officers were elected: President, J. E. Malone, Beaver Dam; vice president, Martin Lucke, Juneau; secretary, C. W. Harvey, Beaver Dam; treasurer, H. E. Drake, Beaver Dam; marshal, E. F. Hopkins, Beaver Dam; clerk of the department, C. Miller, Beaver Dam; directors for three years, C. S. Porter, Fox Lake; Charles Hawkins, Horton; F. Soper, Ripon.

Fond du Lac—W. H. Stoddard has retired from the management of the Henry Doyle theater and was succeeded by A. E. Livingston, formerly of Spotted Waish. The theater was purchased the playhouse. Mr. Stoddard has been a theatrical manager for twenty-three years at Janesville, Fond du Lac and Sheboygan.

Grand Rapids—Emuel R. Kromer is dead at the age of 81 years. Mr. Kromer moved to this city in 1845. He was a prominent citizen and died at the Sacred Heart hospital here Jan. 19. Mr. Williamson lived at Polk, Wis., and was brought to the Sacred Heart.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK
If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Evenly That It Cannot Be Discovered.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Weyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Weyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark, and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.—Advertisement.

POSTMASTER DESIRES TO QUIT AT BROOKSTON
Brookston, Minn., Jan. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The attention of Mrs. C. A. Duff, postmistress of Brookston, was attracted by a letter from Rowe McManus, who recently resigned.

McManus has held the office since September, 1907, but he did his other duties too numerous to give the post-office the attention it demands. The post-office department will call an examination at an early date, after which the vacancy will be filled.

PARAGRAPHIC COMMENT OF THE SPORTING WORLD

BY BRUCE.

OPINION of sporting writers regarding Gibbons-Alcarn fight: Jawn Ritchie, Minneapolis Journal: "In my opinion Gibbons won in decisive fashion."

Fred Coburn, Minneapolis Tribune: "I am inclined to favor Gibbons. I think he had the better of it."

George Barton, Minneapolis Daily News: "I give the shade to Gibbons. E. K. Hosking, St. Paul Dispatch: "While there may be some who will disagree with me, I think Gibbons is entitled to the decision."

Ed L. Shave, St. Paul Daily News: "While I naturally favor Gibbons, because of the fact that he is a St. Paul boy, still I think in all fairness the Phantom should be given the better of the contest."

Frank McNerny, Minneapolis Journal: "It was too close for me. It was a great fight, however."

Correct at Last.

Fred Coburn of the Minneapolis Tribune gave the fight to Gibbons. This is the first time he has rendered a correct newspaper decision since the morning he declared Johnny Tillman earned a draw with Leach Cross.

Fred, you've redeemed yourself.

Wants More Time to Train.

YESTERDAY Cub La Joy received a letter from George A. Barton, Minneapolis sporting writer, in which it was declared that Joe Carr wanted more time in which to train for Waino Ketonen.

"Joe won't wrestle unless he is absolutely right," said Barton. "He has asked me to tell you this. He wants to beat the Finn so badly this time that he will not have the nerve to tackle him again or even ask for a match. Joe is going to put that Finn in the hospital. Carr will be trained to the minute when he steps into the ring."

This will be glad news to little Waino. The Finn wants Carr to be right. His beating will be all the worse.

"Why," asks a woman educator, "do men persist in making brutes of themselves by playing football?"

Why, dear lady, do members of your sex insist upon wearing pink and purple plumes in their hats?

Men have compromised by cutting out the flying V; now let the women folks speak harshly to some misguided milliners.

The more we see of curling the less we cease to wonder at insanity.

Ed Rhenack accompanied big brother Hank to the fight in St. Paul. Just after the men had started fighting some one, maybe some fresh member of the last legislature, leaned over, patted Ed on the back and asked him a question. Ed turned around and answered the fellow. When he looked at the ring the fight was over. The police prevented hostilities.

We dread to think of what will become of the Capital City Athletic club after the retirement of Mike Gibbons.

Like Julius Caesar, Jake Alcarn came and then he saw. And unlike the gentle Julius, he took one on the jaw.

That's Very Easy. One lamblike sporting editor asks how Jake Alcarn can hold up his head after that beating.

He's got $5,000 in his jeans. It's easy to hold up your head under those cirks.

Waiter, bring us another. Maybe Mike Is Right. Mike Gibbons declares he doesn't like to fight. The way he ended the Alcarn bout rather convinces one of the truth of his statement.

Society Notes. Mr. Jacob Alcarn was given a surprise party last Tuesday evening. Among those present was Mr. Mike Gibbons.

One of the best high school basketball teams in the Northwest is scheduled to make its appearance at the Washington gymnasium this evening when the local Central high quint takes on the crack Virginia five.

Coch Blake has been working hard with his men all week in the hope of giving the rangers a good battle. The Central quint is composed entirely of green players, all of the veteran "P" men being ineligible because of low standings in their studies. The Red and White players do not entertain much hope of winning but they declare that the rangers will know that they have been in a game.

The visiting quint is an aggregation of stars, having been together for some time. Local fans will watch the playing of big Bill Rooney, all-state center last year, and one of the best

LEADERS MEET DEFEAT AFTER LONG RUN OF WINS

Reedal of Phillips Bows Before George Labatt of Minneapolis and Brewer of Duluth Is Put Out of St. Paul Jobbers' Event By Hudson of Kenora—Labatt's Playing Features the Day.

Gordon Hudson's Kenora rink broke the winning streak of the Brewer-Whyte yesterday afternoon in the St. Paul Jobbers' event, a five head enabling the Canadian crowd to finish the contest a winner by the score of 14 to 12.

Hudson is known as one of the best and nerviest skips in all of Canada. Last year he won the Tuckett prize at the Manitoba Curling association spiel, and the year previous his rink won the grand aggregate prize at the same bonspiel. The Brewers were due for a beating, and there is consolation in the knowledge that the defeat was registered by a skip who is considered one of the best in the land.

Yesterday was indeed a bad day for the leaders. Reedal shared the same fate as Brewer, George La Batt staking the Phillips rink skip to a beating in the semi-finals of the Duluth Curling club, while in the morning draw W. B. Dunlop of Duluth was put out of Minneapolis event.

George La Batt became a decidedly dangerous factor for the grand aggregate prize by winning three games yesterday. In the early morning draw the Minneapolis skip won from D. B. McDonald in the Minneapolis event, came back in the noon draw and defeated Reedal in the Duluth and then continued victoriously on his way in the 3 o'clock draw, beating Clarence Grace of Superior in the Western.

Brewer and Reedal may meet today in the Minneapolis Curling club event, providing the Phillips skip wins from West of Duluth and then overcomes Grace.

One event may be completed today, the Duluth Curling club, which is almost down to the finals. La Batt is out in the finals, awaiting the winner of the Brewer-Phillips contest. It may be decided to hold the finals over for the last day of the bonspiel.

La Batt Shows Strength. La Batt's decisive defeat of Reedal in the semi-finals of the Duluth curling club event came as a surprise. Reedal had been going like a house ablaze and was generally held as the choice. La Batt's spurt of the last two days has stood out as one of the features of the spiel.

W. B. Dunlop of Duluth retrieved himself somewhat for the defeat at the hands of Dunlop of St. Paul, giving Clough Gates of Superior a real beating in the St. Paul event.

Hudson and La Batt will engage in one of the feature contests of today. The Canadian is liable to take a fall.

SIX CLUBS IS LEAGUE PLAN

Northern Baseball Circuit May Include Superior; Refuses Michigan Towns.

Unglaub May Manage Virginia—Two Mentioned for Fort William.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 21.—Proposals to place teams of the Northern Baseball league at Houghton and Calumet, Mich., were rejected at a meeting of the league managers here late last night, and a six-club organization was formed for the 1916 season, with teams at Duluth, Wintipeg, Superior, Fargo, Fort William and Virginia.

A schedule committee was appointed to draw up a 120-game schedule, the season to open the first week in May. A thirteen-player limit was agreed upon with a salary limit of $1,400 and a provision prohibiting any club to have more than four players from a league of higher classification.

It was decided to try to arrange for the transfer of Sunday games from the Canadian cities to Calumet and Houghton. Both Houghton and Calumet are anxious to join the league, but owners said that attendance prospects in those towns were not promising. Superior May Land.

Mull has a deal pending for the transfer of St. Boniface franchise to Superior, but if the deal falls, it is likely that Mull will go to Winnipeg. In any event, a franchise will go to Superior, which was dropped from the league in the middle of the disastrous season of 1915.

The schedule committee consist of Mull, Dr. Mitchell of Fort William and F. Finch of Virginia. They expect to meet within a short time to draw up the schedule.

Bob Unglaub, it was rumored, might go from the management of the Fargo club to Virginia in a similar capacity, but there was no confirmation to this report.

For the management of the Fort William team, both Reynolds and Bragan, are said to be under consideration.

VAUDEVILLE IS REAL SUCCESS

Curlers Have Good Time at Bonspiel Show Held in Orpheum Theater.

The curlers' vaudeville entertainment at the Orpheum theater was an emphatic success. The show was well attended. The program was arranged by Prof. A. F. Cushman was far ahead of the show last year.

Mayor W. L. Prince spoke for the city and told the visiting curlers how much Duluth appreciated their presence.

Daisy MacKaskill made one of the bits of the evening with her Highland fling dances. The sword dance was encored several times.

Frank Miller, called the curlers' Harry Lauder, was another hit. The Scottish Rite quartet scored heavily. Mrs. Donna Roberts Piantan sang several songs in a delightful manner.

Led by Jimmy Myron, the curlers' group sang the crowd roaring with their topical song hits. The songs were written by Prof. Cushman and took off some of the visiting and local curlers. The one relating to Johnny Oldham's hair took the house by storm.

Myrtle Hobbs and Otto Dignus were among the good numbers on the bill.

Lewis Shades Britton.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 21.—Ted Lewis of England and Jack Britton of Chicago fought a fast 10-round draw here last night. Britton shaded his opponent in the early rounds, but Lewis more than evened up honors in the last three rounds. Lewis weighed 142 pounds and Britton 144.

BITS OF GOSSIP FROM THE OLD CURLER'S DIARY

McMillan Did Not Know Johnny Oldham and Wild Bill Shaver Thinks Doc Catterson Is a Mere Boy; Hudson Comes From the Only Town in the World That Has But One Ford.

(Notes From the Old Curler's Diary.)

Duluth, Jan. 20.—They curlers two games held up today in the bonspiel, and I will tell you what was the cause of the delay. It was hot today, just like January in South America, and most of the boys were standing around with their coats off and feeling the effects of the heat.

Well, Bill McMillan of Duluth was to play Johnny Oldham of Valparaiso, and most of the boys were standing around with their coats off and feeling the effects of the heat.

"I wonder what's keepin' Oldham," Mac says, and he said it sort of fretful and peevish.

"Why here I am," said John: "I've been here for the last five minutes talkin' to the boys."

How did it happen that Mac overlooked the leadin' citizen of Valparaiso, Ind.?

It was so warm that Johnny had his white cap off and fannin' his self with it, and McMillan never knewed John with his hat off.

After the incident was reported to John Macgregor, he went and ordered Johnny to get his hat on or he would tie up the bonspiel.

Boy, Pace Doc Catterson.

There was another delay in the noon draw. Wild Bill Shaver was going to play Doc Catterson, and as Bill was out late the night before, he was feelin' kind of nervous and lookin' all round the rink and lookin' at his watch, cause he had a date down in the St. Louis.

After Bill looks around two or three times, he turns to a little bit of a fellow and says, "Here boy, is a dime, so see if you can find Doc Catterson."

Then the little bit of a fellow looks up from under his hat and says, "What I'm Doctor Catterson, and I'll give you all five you want, you big, overgrown rummy. Just for that, doc goes in and puts Wild Bill out of the consolation."

You can't never tell from the size of a fellow how he can curl. Now, there's Tom McGillivray.

Hudson in Great Form.

I sed Hudson struck his top form today and went in and got the Brewers-Whites a beatin'. Sum of the boys on Hudson's district was tellin' me what it was they thought was the cause of this Canuck comin' back to his best form.

Comin' down on the train from their resignations as president and secretary, respectively.

The actual business of the stock was witnessed by President Tener of the National league club to George Schmaus, a personal representative of Mr. Taft and the directors of the old Chicago Federal league club and the officials of the old Cubs.

Immediately after the transfer, Roger Bresnahan, who holds a contract which has two years to run, and who has been succeeded by Joe Tinker as manager, was asked what he would do. He refused to discuss his plans.

Walter Pochler, who has been comin' to Duluth, says he is most thoroughly enjoyed the one that is the cause of Jimmy Myron claims he lost his voice.

MACGREGOR IS HONORED

Duluth Man Is Elected President of Northwestern Curling Association.

John E. MacGregor, one of the most popular curlers and curling officials that the Northwestern curling association has ever had, was elected a life member and a curler, was last evening unanimously chosen as president of the Northwestern Curling association for the coming season.

The business session of the association delegates and officers was held in the clubhouse.

MANY WOULD MARRY JAPANESE VIRGINS

Tokio, Jan. 21.—The Japanese virgins, who planted the sacred rice used during the recent coronation of Emperor Yoshihito, have received countless offers of marriage from all parts in the empire and the young men who tended the sacred rice have been invited by prominent families to become adopted sons in the holy rites of the coronation is supposed to be accompanied by marriage and the young women and men who had to do with the sacred rice are very greatly respected. Many of the girls have already been wedded.

Kenora, which is the only town in the world that has only one Ford automobile, Hudson gets acquainted with a swell local dame. Today when he started the game with them Brewers-Whites he looks around and through the window he sees this girl a lookin' at him and watchin' the game as if she wanted to know somethin' of it. Hudson "told" some what has been expected from him but today he went in and giv' the Brewers-Whites a lickin'.

Kenora is a piece of land entirely surrounded by water. Every fool that has been there say the water has never contaminated the inhabitants cause they use antidotes whatever them is. They is but one automobile in the hull town and just as luck would have it that darn machine is a Ford.

The fellow who owns it got it by accident. Some fellow had owed him two or three dollars for several years. Finally the fellow who owed the Kenora fellow the money owed the Kenora fellow and says I can't pay you that money but I will give you a Ford if you will call the debt square.

The Kenora fellow hated to do it and he says at there no way that you can raise the five dollars and the other fellow declared there was no way to get the money. The Kenora fellow then took a Ford and the Kenora fellow then took a Ford and the Kenora fellow then took a Ford.

Just the other day I was walkin' around chuin' the rag with the Ford and lookin' at some shots and tryin' to get a cigar from Steve Jones, when I noticed that the fellow, Dick Wade, a link was all standin' together. Then one raises his hand and then another raises his hand and then the next don't and then Wade he raised his hand. I edged over to see whether they le re-citin' curfew or restorin' circulatin' in their wrists. But it wasn't nothin' like that. These fellows always vote when it comes to a close shot.

The Scotch Race Wins.

Sandy MacLeod and Steve Jones was sittin' on the satten in the reception room a talkin' when Sandy remarks on the closeness of the game for the aggregate prize and asks Steve if he evened a close game.

"Just one," says Steve.

"What was that one?" says Sandy.

"The one where I lost," says Steve.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST EVERY MORNING

Hopes every man and woman here will adopt this splendid health habit.

Says a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it washes poisons from system, and makes one feel clean, sweet and fresh.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days head-achy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice the drinking of phosphated hot water before breakfast, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons in the bowels which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, sick headaches, rheumatism, lumbago, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning-inside bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

PERSHABLES NOW COME IN

Fruits and Greenstuffs Begin to Move as Weather Changes.

Potatoes Drop 15 Cents; Egg Prices Will Be Lower.

PETITION HAS 900 SIGNATURES

Only 422 More Needed for Referendum, Says McEwen.

Postmaster McEwen's armory referendum petition now has 900 signatures, according to a statement he gave out last evening.

"The showing is exceptional and encouraging, when it is considered we need only 422 more signatures to give the referendum petition the required 10 per cent of the total vote cast at the last municipal election," said Postmaster McEwen. "A total of 1,322 signatures is necessary, and there are thirty-one petitions now in circulation."

Drop in Potatoes.

Minnesota potatoes are cheaper to the extent of 15 cents, being now quoted at $1.15 a bu. The decline is reported to be due to receipts from outside points. Southern dealers are buying their supplies largely in Minnesota and the crops in these states being relatively larger last fall than in any other part of the country.

Consumers will be pleased at the extent of the decline, being now quoted at $1.15 a bu. The decline is reported to be due to receipts from outside points. as last week at 23¢24 cents a dozen. Supplies of storage eggs in the associated warehouses are rapidly reduced. They were at the start considerably larger than last year, but consumption the country over is said to be showing remarkable expansion.

Butter Market Easier.

While the natural trend of the butter market will be downward from now on dealers do not look for any material decline before a month. Production of dairy products in Duluth district is reported by the Bridgman-Russell company and the Victor Produce company to be steadily increasing and substantial shipments are being made from here to the Eastern markets.

Quotations in poultry are unchanged. Receipts of live poultry are limited at present to a few coops daily, so that frozen stock is being largely drawn upon to meet current consumption.

Signers of the petition have until Feb. 5 to file it with the city clerk, in order to suspend the operation of the ordinance authorizing the sale of the armory.

MISS SJØSELIUS SAFE, SAYS CABLE

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Robinson Did Not Sail on Ryndam.

Alice Sjöselius is safe in London. "This was confirmed yesterday afternoon in a cablegram received by Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Sjöselius, 1016 West First street, from their daughter in London. The cable contained the following brief message: "All safe, Alice."

In addition, it was definitely learned yesterday that Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Robinson did not sail on the Ryndam, which struck a mine near the English coast last Tuesday. Mrs. Marie Erd and Miss Santa Erd, who, it was believed, had also taken passage on the Ryndam, sailed on the New Amsterdam Wednesday morning.

Dr. N. H. Gillespie, who is handling Dr. Robinson's affairs during his absence, said yesterday that Dr. and Mrs. Robinson were not on the Ryndam, but had sailed from New York a week ago Saturday on the liner St. Louis.

THE WARM BATH.

Youth's Companion: Smythe's mistake, which is described in an English contemporary, must have been disconcerting, to say the least. "You'll find your bath in the out-house." Thus he had been directed the night before at the little inn where he was stopping, and that is why he is now, in his dressing gown, pushing open the outhouse door. It was dark, but there was a tub, and it would do. He hopped in the middle of his ablutions the red-faced landlord thrust his head in at the door. "In the dim light he failed to see the man in the tub. "Water quite nicely warm, thanks," observed Smythe, "but it's a trifle muddy." "Muddy be hanged!" roared the landlord, bursting in suddenly. "Your tub's in the next place. Get out of it, you blithering idiot! Not a word of this in the house, mind! Not a word of this in the house! That's my 'ome-brewed ale you're a-washin' in!"

LIGHTS AND SHADOWS OF POLICE COURT

JUNIOR MEMBER OF FIRM CONVICTED

Miss Clara Moe, Restaurant
Owner, Is Fined
$100.

Miss Clara Moe, junior member of Bennett, Moe & Co., "with prices to suit the time," was convicted in municipal court today before Judge W. H. Smallwood on a charge of disposing of liquor illegally.

Miss Moe, or Moe, was arrested at the Bennett-Moe restaurant hotel on lower Lake avenue last Saturday night when detectives entered the place and found partially filled glasses and bottles of beer hidden in a closet.

Court attendants and spectators were convicted with laughter when Judge Smallwood, through a misunderstanding, rendered his verdict before O. J. Larson, representing the defendant, had an opportunity to present an argument in behalf of his client.

"I regret that my eloquence has been bottled up in this way," laughingly interrupted the attorney when the court offered to withdraw his verdict and listen to the argument. "But I feel that it would be too stupendous a task to influence the court's mind at this stage, since he already has given his ruling."

An appeal will be taken to the district court, Mr. Larson said, and a stay of twenty days was granted him. The sentence imposed was a fine of $100 and costs, or eighty-five days in jail.

Detective John Roberts, despite repeated objections from the defendant's attorney, was allowed to testify that the Bennett-Moe place had a reputation as a "blind pig and house of ill-fame."

It has been operated as a restaurant and hotel since November. Business cards of the firm bearing Miss Moe's picture, and that of her associate, Lawrence Bennett, and the inscription "prices to suit the time," were introduced in evidence.

AFTER TWO "BAD" MEN.

Victim of Robbery Fails to Return to Describe Crooks.

When Sam Garber, 59, a laborer, recently arrived from Bulgaria, was held up and robbed of $20 by two masked men about noon yesterday, detectives began a search for "the baddest of the baddest crooks in recent years."

Today, with clues which they think

KICKS FATHER TO SAVE BABE'S LIFE

Salvation Army Worker Explains Actions, But Is Fined Anyway.

"Right in the stomach she kicked me. Can you imagine it?" wailed Charles Reuban.

And worst of all, he pointed his accusing finger at Mrs. Carrie Williams, 38, 222 West Second street, when he said it.

"She beat me up," Reuban went on, "and then right into my house she walks, and from the baby's crib, the blanket she grabs. Can you imagine that?"

Police Capt. A. G. Fiskett said he was unable to "imagine" any such direct assault, and referred Mr. Reuban to City Prosecutor Walter Gonaka, who helped him with a warrant charging petit larceny.

A few minutes later an irate Mrs. Williams stalked into Judge Smallwood's court.

"Sure I took the blanket," she said, "and why not? It was so dirty you never saw the bent, and I was afraid the baby would catch some sickness and die."

"Sure I took it, and I burned it up in the stove. Then I goes out to the store and buys a new blanket. A dollar blanket I got for 50 cents, and I give it to the baby."

"Why should they get sore?" Police were unable to understand why Mr. Reuban should "get sore" except that he had been "kicked in the stomach," as he said, Judge Smallwood qued Mrs. Carrie, who is a Salvation Army worker, $10 and costs. She was still in jail this morning, and an anxious husband, who had been searching the town for her, claimed his spouse late today. They went home arm in arm, but Mrs. Williams swears vengeance.

FINED FOR SELLING HAY.

Superior Merchants Held for Failing to Secure License.

Superior hay merchants, York Bros. company, paid a $25 fine in Judge W. H. Smallwood's division of municipal court yesterday for selling hay without a transient license.

J. C. Gude, warehouse commissioner, swore to a complaint alleging that York Bros. had sold a quantity of hay to Tessman Bros., 32 East Michigan street.

Although the defendants maintained that the violation was unintentional, a plea of guilty was entered.

REVERSING THE CHUCKLES.

Health Department "Gets" Garbage Collector Who Laughed at Officials.

"He who laughs last laughs best," say the health department inspectors. They are referring to the case of H. B. Keedy, garbage collector, who has been arrested for violation of the health ordinance.

Keedy was brought before Judge W. H. Smallwood yesterday and later released on his own recognizance. He will be tried next week.

Recently, say inspectors, Keedy was brought in for a similar ordinance violation, and through some oversight, was allowed to plead guilty before the city could introduce evidence showing the extent of the violation.

"He was fined $5 and then came in and gave up the laugh," one of the inspectors said.

Now they are waiting to hear from Mr. Keedy again.

Clough, $42,066.75; creosote blocks, E. A. Dahl, $49,365.80; Olson & Johnson, $49,373; D. H. Clough, $46,872.15; one-course concrete, with trap rock surface, Olson & Johnson, $38,220.50 and D. H. Clough, $38,383.45; one-course concrete with sandstone surfacing, D. H. Clough, $38,680.25; one-course concrete with gravel surfacing, Olson & Johnson, $36,607.50, and D. H. Clough, $38,025.25.

IN GLASGOW

Philadelphia North American: In Glasgow, Scotland, if you ride on a trolley, you pay 1 cent for any ordinary distance, while even the longest rides cost but 2 cents.

If you use gas for lighting or cooking, the charge is 80 cents for 1,000 feet. The municipality owns the trolleys and the gas plant. Also, the electric light plant, the markets and the harbor ferries.

All street cleaning is done at night. The city's sewage is treated chemically and the solid precipitate utilized at the city's "farm" for fertilizing. Which is raised fodder for the city's horses.

Glasgow has no slums, no tenement houses, where the poor may get good, clean accommodation for 7 or 8 cents a night. Also, no "family homes" to accommodate families of widows or widowers who are obliged to be away from their children during the day. The public baths accommodate an average of 1,500 persons a day the year round, and there are a number of public washhouses where any woman may have the use of every modern laundry appliance at a cost of 4 cents an hour.

Back of it All. To many readers this brief and incomplete resume of Glasgow's progressiveness will not be "news," but after fifty years the world has been aware of this city's social and municipal advance. Wherever men discuss municipal betterment Glasgow is known and admired.

Back of it all its achievements in this line is a phase of the work which is not generally known. And this particular feature of Glasgow's plan for progress explains a question often asked:

"Why is it that 'reform' hasn't petered out in Glasgow?" for in nearly every other city "reform" does seem to lose its grip after the first flush of change.

The best answer to this question will be found in the following statement, recently made by a widely known engineer who visited Glasgow on a tour of inspection:

"I went out to the water works one day. There I found a class of perhaps 200 boys from 10 to 12 years old standing in line. Another day I went to the sewage purification plant. I found another big class of boys standing in line. One day I asked a little fellow about a transfer on the street car line, and he told me everything one could know about the whole transfer system. I couldn't understand how he happened to know so much about it, and suggested that he write the history of the city. But he explained that his class was required to pass an examination on the subject."

What is the result of this early training in the details of the public utilities? Why, the result is that when these boys become a rolling sea they are experts on these civic problems; they know the needs of the public utilities, and the city goes what it needs."

Of course, this is the biggest thing Glasgow has done. Nearly any city could make some radical changes in ownership of public utilities and in performance of public service under the spell of the moment. Under just such circumstances more than one city has made certain changes of this very sort.

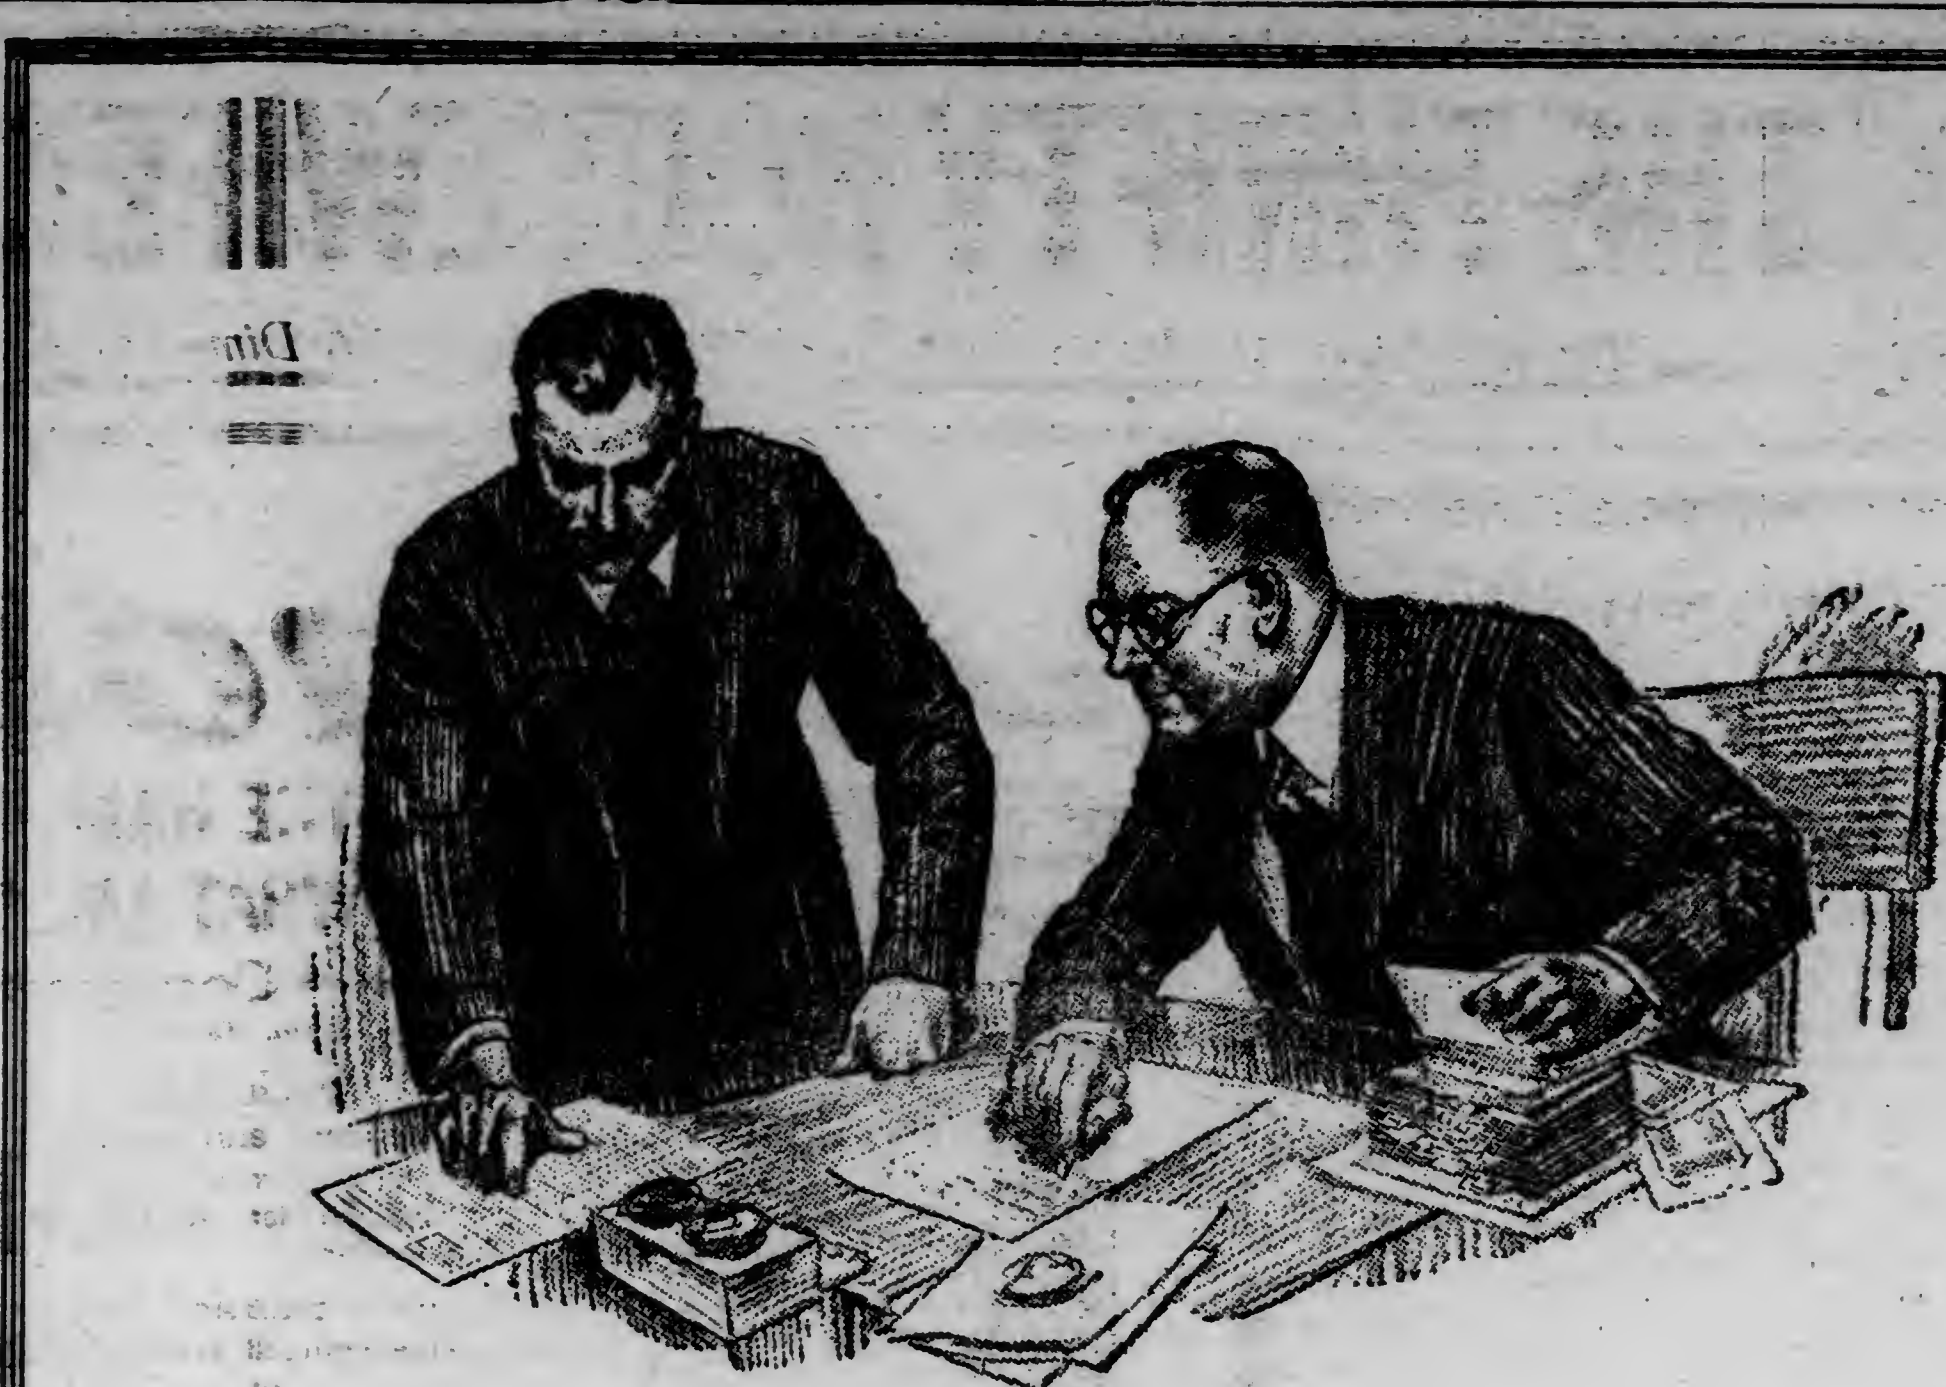

But within a few years, in most instances, the pendulum has swung back. But in Glasgow nothing is left to chance. It is not enough to show the grownups that municipal ownership is advantageous; to give them convincing pocketbook proof of this! These grownups will grow old and drop off; so to prepare for this inevitable change in the population the boys and girls are educated in municipal betterment.

They are shown why certain things are best as they are—taught in a practical manner the benefits of good government.

And being thus well informed in regard to the actual order and control of civic matters, no glib-tongued gangster can come along and pull the wool over their eyes or buy their votes away from real betterment. It is a plan that would work in this or any other American city. For today ignorance is the chief obstacle to the kind of municipal government we should have.

DRAWING FOR COALS. St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Alfred Boyd, the silk expert, on a recent trip in the Ozark region, says he saw rather unusual advertisement in one of the village papers as follows:

Breaking into the conference around the stove in the rear of the general store where the villagers were settling the European war with oratory and the dust with tobacco juice, Boyd asked one of his old friends about the ad.

"Well, you see, it's this way. Old Rekop is a conserved old shark when it comes to playing his name spelled backward, and he calculates he could do better either with four jacks or four of a kind in horses."

BUT WHERE TO PUT IT.

Everybody's Magazine: A new regulation in a certain coal mine required that each man mark with chalk the number of every cart of coal mined.

One man named Rudolph, having filled the eleventh cart marked it as No. 1 and, after pondering a while, let it go at that.

Another miner, happening to notice what he thought was a mistake, called Rudolph's attention to the fact that he had marked the cart No. 1 instead of 11.

"Yes, I know," said Rudolph; "but I can't think which side de odder wan go on."

SQUELCHING A BORE.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: Richard Harding Davis is much troubled by bores. He has a short way with them, however.

Mr. Davis, for example, sat in the smoking room of a Bar Harbor hotel one evening with a cigar and a novel when a bore said to him from across: "Well, sir, is Wilson too proud to fight or not?"

Mr. Davis looked up calmly from his novel, blew a cloud into the air, and said:

"Wilson? What Wilson?"

"Why, Woodrow Wilson, of course," said the astonished bore. "President Woodrow Wilson? Did you never hear of him?"

"No," said Mr. Davis. "I never did," and he yawned and took up his novel again.

The bore regarded him darkly for ten minutes. Then he attacked him again.

"Liking kind of black for Bernstorff—I guess he'll get his walking papers, hey?" he said.

"Bernstorff?" said Mr. Davis. "Who the deuce is Bernstorff?"

"What? You never heard of him, either?" shouted the bore.

"No," said Mr. Davis. "Never."

Five minutes of silence. Then the bore took a long pull at his glass and said bitterly:

"I guess you never heard of Adam, did you?"

Mr. Davis frowned as if in intent thought.

"Adam? Adam?" he said. "What's his last name?"

ABSENT-MINDED ABNER—If There's Anything He Dreads It's a Panic at a Smoker!

By Walt McDougall

THE BOY WHO WOULD NOT TELL A LIE

Kansas City Star: Col. Sidney was a Royalist colonel of seventeenth century England, brave, handsome, gay and so kind that every peasant adored him. To his little son, this splendid cavalier was something like a god.

When his father had to hide from the Roundheads and his mother expected every moment to have these Puritans searching her castle, the little boy knew that he must say nothing of his father's hiding place. When the Puritans came and searched everywhere for Col. Sidney, the boy knew that he must not tell them where his father was. The Puritans gave up the search and retired to the great hall, to which they summoned the women.

The boy listened to the questions and to the answers of his mother. He heard her tell a lie to save his father's life. Presently one of the Puritans whispered to another behind his hand and one rose and spoke to the chief. The chief glanced at the handsome boy and said:

"Yes, it is good counsel. We will question the little lad at once."

The mother was told to stand on one side, and the boy was summoned to one side. He stood before his judges, upright, strong and handsome, the image of his father. He looked quite calm, but his heart was hammering at his ribs and the palms of his hands were clammy with fear. He had a giant's task on his young soul—not to betray his father and not to lie.

One of the Puritans, leaning towards him, said in a slow and menacing voice:

"The Lord God consumes with everlasting fire those who tell falsehoods and all those who are punished whom the Lord casts away in his indignation and wrath. Now, listen to me, young sir, I ask you, in the name of the Lord God, this question: When did you last see your father?"

The boy replied in a voice that was steady and firm:

"I saw Col. Sidney last night."

"Last night?" he exclaimed.

"And he told me that the boy was a liar, and that he had honor the king and love my country."

"Last night?" cried one of the judges.

"Then it was in the castle."

"What part of the castle?"

"It is mine."

"And your father came to you here last night?"

"Yes, he did."

"Where did he go afterwards?"

"I do not know. I was asleep when he came, and I was still sleeping when he went."

"What meant you by that?"

"He last night saw my father," replied the boy, "was in a dream."

"Exciting, wasn't it?" continued the judge.

"Well," said the man judicially. "It was then, it was then, it was then."
